- 21 Ye gods, it doth amaze me,
A man of such a feeble temper should
So get the start of the majestic world,
And bear the palm alone Ib 128
- 22 Why, man, he doth bestride the narrow world
Like a Colossus, and we petty men
Walk under his huge legs, and peep about
To find ourselves dishonourable graves
Men at some time are masters of their fates
The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars,
But in ourselves, that we are underlings
Julius Caesar, 1. 11 135
- 23 'Brutus' will start a spirit as soon as 'Caesar'.
Now in the names of all the gods at once,
Upon what meat doth this our Caesar feed,
That he is grown so great? Ib 146
- 24 Now is it Rome indeed and room enough Ib 155
- 25 But, look you, Cassius,
The angry spot doth glow on Caesar's brow Ib 181
- 26 Let me have men about me that are fat,
Sleek-headed men and such as sleep o' nights,
Yond Cassius has a lean and hungry look,
He thinks too much such men are dangerous Ib 191
- 27 Would he were fatter! but I fear him not Yet if my name were liable to fear,
I do not know the man I should avoid
So soon as that spare Cassius He reads much,
He is a great observer, and he looks
Quite through the deeds of men, he loves no plays,
As thou dost, Antony, he hears no music,
Seldom he smiles, and smiles in such a sort
As if he mock'd himself, and scorn'd his spirit,
That could be mov'd to smile at anything
Such men as he be never at heart's ease,
Whiles they behold a greater than themselves,
And therefore are they very dangerous
I rather tell thee what is to be fear'd
Than what I fear, for always I am Caesar Ib 197
- 28 'Tis very like he hath the falling sickness. Ib [255]
- 29 If Caesar had stabbed their mothers, they would have done no less Ib [277]
- 30 For mine own part, it was Greek to me Ib [288]
- 31 Therefore 'tis meet
That noble minds keep ever with their likes,
For who so firm that cannot be seduc'd? Ib [315]
- 32 Besides—I have not since put up my sword,—
Against the Capitol I met a lion,
Who glar'd upon me, and went surly by,
Without annoying me Ib 111 19
- 33 Yesterday the bird of night did sit,
Even at noon day, upon the market-place,
Hooting and shrieking Ib 26
- 34 But men may construe things after their own fashion,
Clean from the purpose of the things themselves Ib 34
- 35 Cassius from bondage will deliver Cassius Ib 90
- 36 Nor stony tower, nor walls of beaten brass,
Nor airless dungeon, nor strong links of iron,
Can be retentive to the strength of spirit,
But life, being weary of these worldly bars,
Never lacks power to dismiss itself Ib 93
- 37 So every bondman in his own hand bears
The power to cancel his captivity Ib 101
- 38 I will set this foot of mine as far
As who goes furthest Ib 118

- 1 O! he sits high in all the people's hearts:
And that which would appear offence in us,
His countenance, like richest alchemy,
Will change to virtue and to worthiness.
Julius Caesar, I. iii. 157
- 2 It is the bright day that brings forth the adder;
And that craves wary walking. Ib. II. i. 14
- 3 'Tis a common proof,
That lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Whereto the climber-upward turns his face;
But when he once attains the upmost round,
He then unto the ladder turns his back,
Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees
By which he did ascend. Ib. 21
- 4 Therefore think him as a serpent's egg
Which, hatch'd, would, as his kind, grow mischievous,
And kill him in the shell. Ib. 32
- 5 Between the acting of a dreadful thing
And the first motion, all the interim is Like a phantasma, or a hideous dream:
The genius and the mortal instruments
Are then in council; and the state of man,
Like to a little kingdom, suffers then
The nature of an insurrection. Ib. 63
- 6 O conspiracy!
Sham'st thou to show thy dangerous brow by night,
When evils are most free? Ib. 77
- 7 For if thou path, thy native semblance on,
Not Erebus itself were dim enough
To hide thee from prevention. Ib. 83
- 8 For he will never follow anything
That other men begin. Ib. 151
- 9 Let us be sacrificers, but not butchers, Caius.
Ib. 166
- 10 Let's carve him as a dish fit for the gods,
Not hew him as a carcass fit for hounds. Ib. 173
- 11 For he is superstitious grown of late,
Quite from the main opinion he held once
Of fantasy, of dreams, and ceremonies. Ib. 195
- 12 But when I tell him he hates flatterers,
He says he does, being then most flattered. Ib. 207
- 13 Enjoy the honey-heavy dew of slumber. Ib. 230
- 14 With an angry wafture of your hand,
Gave sign for me to leave you. Ib. 246
- 15 What! is Brutus sick,
And will he steal out of his wholesome bed
To dare the vile contagion of the night? Ib. 263
- 16 That great vow
Which did incorporate and make us one. Ib. 272
- 17 PORTIA:
Dwell I but in the suburbs
Of your good pleasure? If it be no more,
Portia is Brutus' harlot, not his wife.
BRUTUS:
You are my true and honourable wife,
As dear to me as are the ruddy drops
That visit my sad heart. Ib. 285
- 18 I grant I am a woman, but, withal,
A woman that Lord Brutus took to wife;
I grant I am a woman, but, withal,
A woman well-reputed, Cato's daughter.
Think you I am no stronger than my sex,
Being so fathered and so husbanded? Ib. 292
- 19 Enter Cæsar, in his night-gown.
Julius Caesar, II. ii. Stage Direction
- 20 Nor heaven nor earth have been at peace to-night.
Ib. 1
- 21 CALPHURNIA:
These things are beyond all use,
And I do fear them.
CÆSAR:
What can be avoided
Whose end is purpos'd by the mighty gods? Ib. 25
- 22 CALPHURNIA:
When beggars die, there are no comets seen;
The heavens themselves blaze forth the death of princes.
CÆSAR:
Cowards die many times before their deaths;
The valiant never taste of death but once.
Of all the wonders that I yet have heard,
It seems to me most strange that men should fear;
Seeing that death, a necessary end,
Will come when it will come. Ib. 30
- 23 Danger knows full well
That Cæsar is more dangerous than he:
We are two lions litter'd in one day,
And I the elder and more terrible:
And Cæsar shall go forth. Ib. 44
- 24 The cause is in my will: I will not come. Ib. 71
- 25 See! Antony, that revels long o' nights,
Is notwithstanding up. Ib. 116
- 26 My heart laments that virtue cannot live
Out of the teeth of emulation. Ib. iii. [13]
- 27 O constancy! be strong upon my side;
Set a huge mountain 'tween my heart and tongue;
I have a man's mind, but a woman's might.
How hard it is for women to keep counsel! Ib. iv. 6
- 28 CÆSAR:
The ides of March are come.
SOOTHSAYER:
Ay, Cæsar; but not gone. Ib. III. i. 1
- 29 Sweet words,
Low-crooked curtsies, and base spaniel fawning. Ib. 42
- 30 If I could pray to move, prayers would move me;
But I am constant as the northern star,
Of whose true-fix'd and resting quality
There is no fellow in the firmament.
The skies are painted with unnumber'd sparks,
They are all fire and every one doth shine,
But there's but one in all doth hold his place:
So, in the world; 'tis furnish'd well with men,
And men are flesh and blood, and apprehensive;
Yet in the number I do know but one
That unassailable holds on his rank,
Unshak'd of motion: and that I am he,
Let me a little show it, even in this,
That I was constant Cimber should be banish'd,
And constant do remain to keep him so. Ib. 59
- 31 Et tu, Brutel! Ib. 77
- 32 Ambition's debt is paid. Ib. 83
- 33 That we shall die, we know; 'tis but the time
And drawing days out, that men stand upon. Ib. 99
- 34 He that cuts off twenty years of life
Cuts off so many years of fearing death. Ib. 101

1 CASSIUS

How many ages hence

Shall this our lofty scene be acted o'er,
In states unborn, and accents yet unknown!

BRUTUS

How many times shall Cæsar bleed in sport

Julius Cæsar, III 1 111

2 O mighty Cæsar! dost thou lie so low?

Are all thy conquests, glories, triumphs, spoils,
Shrunk to this little measure? Ib 148

3 Your swords, made rich

With the most noble blood of all this world Ib 155

4 Live a thousand years,

I shall not find myself so apt to die Ib 1595 The choice and master spirits of this age Ib 163

6 Let each man render me his bloody hand

First, Marcus Brutus will I shake with you Ib 1847 Though last, not least in love Ib 189

8 My credit now stands on such slippery ground,

That one of two bad ways you must conceit me,

Either a coward or a flatterer Ib 191

9 Here wast thou bay'd, brave hart,

Here didst thou fall, and here thy hunters stand,

Sign'd in thy spoil and crimson'd in thy leth

O world! thou wast the forest to this hart,

And this, indeed, O world! the heart of thee Ib 204

10 The enemies of Cæsar shall say this,

Then, in a friend, it is cold modesty. Ib 212

11 O! pardon me, thou bleeding piece of earth,

That I am meek and gentle with these butchers,

Thou art the ruins of the noblest man

That ever lived in the tide of times Ib 254

12 Cæsar's spirit, ranging for revenge,

With Ate by his side, come hot from hell,

Shall in these confines, with a monarch's voice

Cry, 'Havoc!' and let slip the dogs of war Ib 27013 Passion, I see, is catching Ib 283

14 Not that I loved Cæsar less, but that I loved Rome

more Ib 11 [22]

15 As he was valiant, I honour him but, as he was ambitious, I slew him Ib [27]

16 Who is here so base that would be a bondman? If any, speak, for him have I offended Who is here so rude that would not be a Roman? If any, speak, for him have I offended Who is here so vile that will not love his country? If any, speak, for him have I offended I pause for a reply Ib [31]

17 Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears,

I come to bury Cæsar, not to praise him

The evil that men do lives after them,

The good is oft interred with their bones,

So let it be with Cæsar The noble Brutus

Hath told you Cæsar was ambitious,

If it were so, it was a grievous fault,

And grievously hath Cæsar answer'd it Ib [79]

18 For Brutus is an honourable man,

So are they all, all honourable men Ib [88]

19 He was my friend, faithful and just to me

But Brutus says he was ambitious,

And Brutus is an honourable man Ib [91]20 When that the poor have cried, Cæsar hath wept,
Ambition should be made of sterner stuff*Julius Cæsar*, III 11 [97]

21 You all did love him once, not without cause

Ib [108]

22 O judgment! thou art fled to brutish beasts,

And men have lost their reason. Ib [110]

23 But yesterday the word of Cæsar might

Have stood against the world; now lies he there,

And none so poor to do him reverence Ib [124]

24 Let but the commons hear this testament—

Which, pardon me, I do not mean to read—

And they would go and kiss dead Cæsar's wounds

And dip their nkins in his sacred blood,

Yea, beg a hair of him for memory,

And, dying, mention it within their wills,

Bequeathing it as a rich legacy

Unto their issue Ib [136]

25 The will, the will we will hear Cæsar's will

Ib [145]

26 You are not wood, you are not stones, but men

Ib [148]

27 If you have tears, prepare to shed them now.

You all do know this mantle I remember

The first time ever Cæsar put it on.

'Twas on a summer's evening, in his tent,

That day he overcame the Nervii Ib [174]28 See what a rent the envious Casca made. Ib [180]

29 For Brutus, as you know, was Cæsar's angel

Ib [186]30 This was the most unkindest cut of all Ib [188]

31 Ingratitude, more strong than traitors' arms,

Quite vanquish'd him then burst his mighty heart,

And, in his mantle muffling up his face,

Even at the base of Pompey's statue,

Which all the while ran blood, great Cæsar fell

O! what a fall was there, my countrymen,

Then I, and you, and all of us fell down,

Whilst bloody treason flourish'd over us

O! now you weep, and I perceive you feel

The dint of pity, these are gracious drops. Ib [190]

32 Good friends, sweet friends, let me not stir you up

To such a sudden flood of mutiny

They that have done this deed are honourable

What private griefs they have, alas! I know not,

That made them do it, they are wise and honourable,

And will no doubt with reasons answer you

I come not, friends, to steal away your hearts

I am no orator, as Brutus is,

But, as you know me all, a plain, blunt man,

That love my friend Ib [214]

33 For I have neither wit, nor words, nor worth,

Action nor utterance, nor power of speech,

To stir men's blood, I only speak right on,

I tell you that which you yourselves do know Ib [225]

34 But were I Brutus,

And Brutus Antony, there were an Antony

Would ruffle up your spirits, and put a tongue

In every wound of Cæsar, that should move

The stones of Rome to rise and mutiny. Ib [230]

35 Here was a Cæsar! when comes such another?

Ib [257]

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 Now let it work; mischief, thou art afoot,
Take thou what course thou wilt!
Julius Cæsar, III. ii. [265]
- 2 Fortune is merry,
And in this mood will give us anything. Ib. [271]
- 3 Tear him for his bad verses, tear him for his bad verses. Ib. iii. [34]
- 4 He shall not live; look, with a spot I damn him.
Ib. iv. i. 6
- 5 This is a slight unmeritable man,
Meet to be sent on errands. Ib. 12
- 6 OCTAVIUS:
He's a tried and valiant soldier.
ANTONY:
So is my horse, Octavius; and for that I do appoint him store of provender. Ib. 28
- 7 We are at the stake,
And bay'd about with many enemies;
And some that smile have in their hearts, I fear,
Millions of mischiefs. Ib. 48
- 8 Not with such familiar instances,
Nor with such free and friendly conference,
As he hath us'd of old. Ib. ii. 16
- 9 When love begins to sicken and decay,
It useth an enforced ceremony.
There are no tricks in plain and simple faith. Ib. 20
- 10 CASSIUS:
In such a time as this it is not meet
That every nice offence should bear his comment.
BRUTUS:
Let me tell you, Cassius, you yourself
Are much condemn'd to have an itching palm.
Ib. iii. 7
- 11 Remember March, the ides of March remember.
Ib. 18
- 12 Shall we now
Contaminate our fingers with base bribes? Ib. 23
- 13 I had rather be a dog, and bay the moon,
Than such a Roman. Ib. 27
- 14 Away, slight man! Ib. 37
- 15 I'll use you for my mirth, yea, for my laughter,
When you are waspish. Ib. 49
- 16 For mine own part,
I shall be glad to learn of noble men. Ib. 53
- 17 You wrong me every way; you wrong me, Brutus;
I said an elder soldier, not a better:
Did I say 'better'? Ib. 55
- 18 Do not presume too much upon my love;
I may do that I shall be sorry for. Ib. 63
- 19 There is no terror, Cassius, in your threats;
For I am arm'd so strong in honesty
That they pass by me as the idle wind,
Which I respect not. Ib. 66
- 20 By heaven, I had rather coin my heart,
And drop my blood for drachmas, than to wring
From the hard hands of peasants their vile trash
By any indirection. Ib. 72
- 21 Should I have answer'd Caius Cassius so?
When Marcus Brutus grows so covetous,
To lock such rascal counters from his friends,
Be ready, gods, with all your thunderbolts;
Dash him to pieces! Ib. 78
- 22 A friend should bear his friend's infirmities,
But Brutus makes mine greater than they are.
Julius Cæsar, IV. iii. 85
- 23 A friendly eye could never see such faults. Ib. 89
- 24 All his faults observ'd,
Set in a note-book, learn'd, and conn'd by rote,
To cast into my teeth. Ib. 96
- 25 O Cassius! you are yoked with a lamb
That carries anger as the flint bears fire;
Who, much enforced, shows a hasty spark,
And straight is cold again. Ib. 109
- 26 O Cassius! I am sick of many griefs. Ib. 143
- 27 I have as much of this in art as you,
But yet my nature could not bear it so. Ib. 193
- 28 Good reasons must, of force, give place to better.
Ib. 202
- 29 There is a tide in the affairs of men,
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is bound in shallows and in miseries.
On such a full sea are we now afloat,
And we must take the current when it serves,
Or lose our ventures. Ib. 217
- 30 The deep of night is crept upon our talk,
And nature must obey necessity. Ib. 225
- 31 This was an ill beginning of the night:
Never come such division 'tween our souls! Ib. 233
- 32 BRUTUS:
Then I shall see thee again?
GHOST:
Ay, at Philippi.
BRUTUS:
Why, I will see thee at Philippi, then. Ib. 283
- 33 But for your words, they rob the Hybla bees,
And leave them honeyless. Ib. v. i. 34
- 34 You know that I held Epicurus strong,
And his opinion; now I change my mind,
And partly credit things that do presage. Ib. 77
- 35 The gods to-day stand friendly, that we may,
Lovers in peace, lead on our days to age! Ib. 94
- 36 I know not how,
But I do find it cowardly and vile,
For fear of what might fall, so to prevent
The time of life. Ib. 103
- 37 Think not, thou noble Roman,
That ever Brutus will go bound to Rome;
He bears too great a mind: but this same day
Must end that work the ides of March begun;
And whether we shall meet again, I know not.
Therefore our everlasting farewell take:
For ever, and for ever, farewell, Cassius!
If we do meet again, why, we shall smile!
If not, why then, this parting was well made. Ib. 111
- 38 O! that a man might know
The end of this day's business, ere it come;
But it sufficeth that the day will end,
And then the end is known. Ib. 123
- 39 This day I breathed first: time is come round,
And where I did begin, there shall I end;
My life is run his compass. Ib. iii. 23
- 40 O hateful error, melancholy's child!
Why dost thou show, to the apt thoughts of men,
The things that are not? Ib. 67

- 1 O Julius Cæsar! thou art mighty yet!
Thy spirit walks abroad, and turns our swords
In our own proper entrails. Julius Cæsar, v. iii. 94
- 2 Are yet two Romans living such as these?
The last of all the Romans, fare thee well!
It is impossible that ever Rome
Should breed thy fellow. Friends, I owe more tears
To this dead man than you shall see me pay.—
I shall find time, Cassius, I shall find time. Ib. 98
- 3 When you do find him, or alive or dead,
He will be found like Brutus, like himself. Ib. iv. 24
- 4 I had rather have Such men my friends than enemies. Ib. 28
- 5 Thou seest the world, Volumnius, how it goes;
Our enemies have beat us to the pit
It is more worthy to leap in ourselves,
Than tarry till they push us. Ib. v. 22
- 6 Thou art a fellow of a good respect;
Thy life hath had some smatch of honour in it Ib. 45
- 7 Cæsar, now be still,
I kill'd not thee with half so good a will. Ib. 50
- 8 This was the noblest Roman of them all. Ib. 68
- 9 He, only, in a general honest thought
And common good to all, made one of them.
His life was gentle, and the elements
So mix'd in him that Nature might stand up
And say to all the world, 'This was a man!' Ib. 71
- 10 LEAR:
So young, and so untender?
CORDELIA
So young, my lord, and true. King Lear, i. i [108]
- 11 A still-soliciting eye. Ib. [234]
- 12 Love is not love
When it is mingled with regards that stand
Aloof from the entire point. Ib. [241]
- 13 Fairest Cordelia, that art most rich, being poor,
Most choice, forsaken; and most lov'd, despis'd!
Ib. [253]
- 14 Who in the lusty stealth of nature take
More composition and fierce quality
Than doth, within a dull, stale, tired bed,
Go to the creating a whole tribe of fops. Ib. ii. 11
- 15 These late eclipses in the sun and moon portend no good to us. Ib. [115]
- 16 We have seen the best of our time: machinations, hollowness, treachery, and all ruinous disorders,
follow us disquietly to our graves. Ib. [125]
- 17 This is the excellent foppery of the world. Ib. [132]
- 18 We make guilty of our disasters the sun, the moon,
and the stars, as if we were villains by necessity, fools by heavenly compulsion. Ib. [134]
- 19 An admirable evasion of whoremaster man, to lay his goatish disposition to the charge of a star!
Ib. [141]
- 20 My nativity was under Ursa Major, so that it follows
I am rough and lecherous. Ib. [145]
- 21 Pat he comes, like the catastrophe of the old comedy, my cue is villainous melancholy, with a sigh like
'Tom o' Bedlam.' Ib. [150]
- 22 KENT:
You have that in your countenance which I would fain call master.
LEAR:
What's that?
KENT:
Authority. King Lear, i. iv. [29]
- 23 Not so young, sir, to love a woman for singing, nor so old to dote on her for any thing. Ib. [40]
- 24 Lady the brach may stand by the fire and stunk Ib. [125]
- 25 Have more than thou showest,
Speak less than thou knowest,
Lend less than thou owest. Ib. [132]
- 26 LEAR:
Dost thou call me fool, boy?
FOOL:
All thy other titles thou hast given away; that thou wast born with. Ib. [163]
- 27 The hedge-sparrow fed the cuckoo so long,
That it had it head bit off by it young. Ib. [235]
- 28 Ingratitude, thou marble-hearted fiend,
More hideous, when thou show'st thee in a child,
Than the sea-monster. Ib. [253]
- 29 Into her womb convey sterility!
Dry up in her the organs of increase. Ib. [302]
- 30 How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is To have a thankless child! Ib. [312]
- 31 How far your eyes may pierce I cannot tell;
Striving to better, oft we mar what's well. Ib. [370]
- 32 A knave, a rascal, an eater of broken meats. Ib. ii. ii. [15]
- 33 Thou whoreson zed! thou unnecessary letter!
Ib. [68]
- 34 I'd drive ye cackling home to Camelot. Ib. [89]
- 35 I have seen better faces in my time
Than stands on any shoulder that I see
Before me at this instant. Ib. [99]
- 36 Winter's not gone yet, if the wild-geese fly that way Ib. v. [46]
- 37 Down, thou clumby sorrow!
Thy element's below. Ib. [57]
- 38 That sir which serves and seeks for gain,
And follows but for form,
Will pack when it begins to rain,
And leave thee in the storm. Ib. [79]
- 39 O, sir! you are old;
Nature in you stands on the very verge
Of her confine. Ib. [148]
- 40 But I'll not chide thee;
Let shame come when it will, I do not call it:
I do not bid the thunder-bearer shoot,
Nor tell tales of thee to high-judging Jove. Ib. [228]
- 41 Our basest beggars
Are in the poorest thing superfluous:
Allow not nature more than nature needs,
Man's life is cheap as beast's. Ib. [267]
- 42 You see me here, you gods, a poor old man,
As full of grief as age, wretched in both! Ib. [275]

- 1 I will have such revenges on you both
That all the world shall—I will do such things,—
What they are yet I know not,—but they shall be
The terrors of the earth. King Lear, II. iv. [282]
- 2 To wilful men,
The injuries that they themselves procure
Must be their schoolmasters. Ib. [305]
- 3 Contending with the fretful elements;
Bids the wind blow the earth into the sea,
Or swell the curled waters 'bove the main.
Ib. III. i. 4
- 4 Strives in his little world of man to out-scorn
The to-and-fro conficting wind and rain.
This night, wherein the cub-drawn bear would couch,
The lion and the belly-pinched wolf
Keep their fur dry. Ib. 10
- 5 Blow, winds, and crack your cheeks! rage! blow!
You cataracts and hurricanoes, spout
Till you have drench'd our steeples, drown'd the cocks!
You sulphurous and thought-executing fires,
Vaunt-couriers to oak-cleaving thunderbolts,
Singe my white head! And thou, all-shaking thunder,
Strike flat the thick rotundity o' the world!
Crack nature's moulds, all germens spill at once
That make ingrateful man! Ib. II. i
- 6 I tax not you, you elements, with unkindness;
I never gave you kingdom, call'd you children,
You owe me no subscription: then, let fall
Your horrible pleasure; here I stand, your slave,
A poor, infirm, weak, and despis'd old man.
But yet I call you servile ministers,
That have with two pernicious daughters join'd
Your high-engender'd battles 'gainst a head
So old and white as this. Ib. [16]
- 7 There was never yet fair woman but she made mouths in a glass. Ib. [35]
- 8 Things that love night
Love not such nights as these. Ib. [42]
- 9 Let the great gods,
That keep this dreadful pother o'er our heads,
Find out their enemies now. Tremble, thou wretch,
That hast within thee undivulged crimes,
Unwhipp'd of justice. Ib. [49]
- 10 Close pent-up guilts,
Rive your concealing continents, and cry
These dreadful summoners grace. I am a man
More sinned against than sinning. Ib. [57]
- 11 The art of our necessities is strange,
That can make vile things precious. Ib. [70]
- 12 When the mind's free,
The body's delicate. Ib. IV. 11
- 13 O! that way madness lies; let me shun that. Ib. 21
- 14 Poor naked wretches, wheresoe'er you are,
That bide the pelting of this pitiless storm,
How shall your houseless heads and unfed sides,
Your looped and window'd raggedness, defend you
From seasons such as these? Ib. 28
- 15 Take physic, pomp;
Expose thyself to feel what wretches feel. Ib. 33
- 16 Tom's a-cold. Ib. [57]
- 17 Pillicock sat on Pillicock-hill:
Halloo, halloo, loo, loo! Ib. [75]
- 18 Take heed o' the foul fiend! King Lear, III. iv. [79]
- 19 A serving-man, proud in heart and mind: that curled my hair, wore gloves in my cap, served the lust of my mistress's heart, and did the act of darkness with her; swore as many oaths as I spake words, and broke them in the sweet face of heaven; one that slept in the contriving of lust, and waked to do it. Ib. [84]
- 20 Keep thy foot out of brothels, thy hand out of plackets, thy pen from lenders' books, and defy the foul fiend. Ib. [96]
- 21 Thou art the thing itself; unaccommodated man is no more but such a poor, bare, forked animal as thou art. Ib. [109]
- 22 'Tis a naughty night to swim in. Ib. [113]
- 23 Drinks the green mantle of the standing pool.
Ib. [136]
- 24 But mice and rats and such small deer
Have been Tom's food for seven long year. Ib. [142]
- 25 The prince of darkness is a gentleman. Ib. [148]
- 26 I'll talk a word with this same learned Theban.
Ib. [161]
- 27 Child Roland to the dark tower came,
His word was still, Fie, foh, and fum,
I smell the blood of a British man. Ib. [185]
- 28 Nero is an angler in the lake of darkness. Ib. VI. [8]
- 29 The little dogs and all,
Tray, Blanch, and Sweet-heart, see, they bark at me.
Ib. [65]
- 30 Mastiff, greyhound, mongrel grim,
Hound or spaniel, brach or lym,
Or bobtail tike, or trundle-tail. Ib. [71]
- 31 You, sir, I entertain for one of my hundred; only I do not like the fashion of your garments: you will say, they are Persian attire; but let them be changed. Ib. [83]
- 32 'Tis most ignobly done
To pluck me by the beard. Ib. VII. [35]
- 33 I am tied to the stake, and I must stand the course.
Ib. [54]
- 34 The sea, with such a storm as his bare head
In hell-black night endur'd, would have buoy'd up,
And quench'd the stelled fires. Ib. [59]
- 35 Out, vile jelly! Ib. [83]
- 36 The lowest and most dejected thing of fortune.
Ib. IV. i. 3
- 37 The lamentable change is from the best;
The worst returns to laughter. Ib. 5
- 38 I have no way, and therefore want no eyes;
I stumbled when I saw. Ib. 18
- 39 The worst is not,
So long as we can say, 'This is the worst.' Ib. 27
- 40 As flies to wanton boys, are we to the gods;
They kill us for their sport. Ib. 36
- 41 You are not worth the dust which the rude wind
Blows in your face. Ib. II. 30
- 42 She that herself will sliver and disbranch
From her material sap, perforce must wither
And come to deadly use. Ib. 34

- 1 Wisdom and goodness to the vile seem vile;
Filth's savour but themselves King Lear, iv 11 38
- 2 Crown'd with rank sumpter and furrow weeds,
With burdocks, hemlock, nettles, cuckoo flowers,
Darnel, and all the idle weeds that grow
In our sustaining corn Ib 11 3
- 3 How fearful
And dizzy 'tis to cast one's eyes so low!
The crows and choughs that wing the midway air
Show scarce so gross as beetles, half-way down
Hangs one that gathers samphire, dreadful trade!
Methinks he seems no bigger than his head
The fishermen that walk upon the beach
Appear like mice, and yond tall anchoring bark
Diminish'd to her cock, her cock a buoy
Almost too small for sight The murmuring surge,
That on the unnumber'd idle pebbles chafes,
Cannot be heard so high Ib vi 12
- 4 The shrill gorg'd lark so far
Cannot be seen or heard Ib 59
- 5 Think that the clearest gods, who make them honours
Of men's impossibilities, have preserv'd thee Ib 74
- 6 They told me I was every thing, 'tis a lie, I am not ague proof Ib [107]
- 7 GLOUCESTER
Is't not the king?
LEAR
Ay, every inch a king Ib [110]
- 8 The wren goes to 't, and the small gilded fly
Does lecher in my sight Ib [115]
- 9 Give me an ounce of civet, good apothecary, to sweeten my imagination Ib [133]
- 10 A man may see how this world goes with no eyes
Look with thine ears see how yond justice rails upon yond simple thief Hark, in thine ear change places, and, handy dandy, which is the justice which is the thief? Ib [154]
- 11 Get thee glass eyes,
And, like a scurvy politician, seem
To see the things thou dost not Ib [175]
- 12 When we are born we cry that we are come
To this great stage of fools Ib [187]
- 13 Mine enemy's dog
Though he had bit me, should have stood that night
Against my fire Ib vii 36
- 14 Thou art a soul in bliss, but I am bound
Upon a wheel of fire, that mine own tears
Do scald like molten lead Ib 46
- 15 I am a very foolish, fond old man,
Fourscore and upward, not an hour more or less,
And to deal plainly,
I fear I am not in my perfect mind Ib 60
- 16 For, as I am a man, I think this lady
To be my child Cordelia Ib 69
- 17 Pray you now, forget and forgive Ib [85]
- 18 Men must endure
Their going hence, even as their coming hither
Ripeness is all Ib v 11 9
- 19 Come, let's away to prison,
We two alone will sing like birds in the cage
When thou dost ask me blessing, I'll kneel down,
And ask of thee forgiveness and we'll live,
And pray, and sing, and tell old tales, and laugh
At gilded butterflies, and hear poor rogues
Talk of court news, and we'll talk with them too,
Who loses, and who wins, who's in, who's out,
And take upon 's the mystery of things,
As if we were God's spies, and we'll hear out
In a wall d prison, packs and sets of great ones
That ebb and flow by the moon King Lear, v 11 8
- 20 Upon such sacrifices my Cordelia,
The gods themselves throw incense Ib 20
- 21 The gods are just and of our pleasant vices
Make instruments to plague us Ib [172]
- 22 The wheel is come full circle Ib [176]
- 23 His slow'd heart,—
Alack! too weak the conflict to support,
'Twixt two extremes of passion, joy and grief,
Burst smilingly Ib [198]
- 24 Her voice was ever soft,
Gentle and low, an excellent thing in woman Ib [274]
- 25 I have seen the day, with my good biting falchion
I would have made them skip Ib [278]
- 26 And my poor fool is hang'd! No, no, no life!
Why should a dog, a horse, a rat, have life,
And thou no breath at all? Thou it come no more,
Never, never, never, never!
Pray you undo this button Ib [307]
- 27 Vex not his ghost! O! let him pass, he hates him
That would upon the rack of this tough world
Stretch him out longer Ib [314]
- 28 The weight of this sad time we must obey,
Speak what we feel, not what we ought to say
The oldest hath borne most: we that are young Shall never see so much nor live so long Ib [322]
- 29 Let fame that all hunt after in their lives,
Live register'd upon our brazen tombs
Let's a Labour's Lost, i 1 1
- 30 Spite of cormorant devouring Time Ib 4
- 31 Why, all delights are vain, but that most vain,
Which, with pain purchas'd, doth inherit pain Ib 72
- 32 Study is like the heaven's glorious sun,
That will not be deep search'd with saucy looks
Small hive continual plodders ever won,
Save base authority from others' books
These earthly godfathers of Heaven's lights
That give a name to every fixed star,
Have no more profit of their shining nights
Than those that walk and wot not what they are Ib 84
- 33 At Christmas I no more desire a rose
Than wish a snow in May's new fangled mirth,
But like of each thing that in season grows Ib 105
- 34 So study evermore is overshoot Ib [141]
- 35 If I break faith this word shall speak for me—
I am forsworn 'on mere necessity' Ib [152]
- 36 A child of our grandmother Eve, a female, or, for thy more sweet understanding a woman Ib [263]
- 37 The world was very guilty of such a ballad some three ages since, but, I think, now 'tis not to be found
Ib ii [117]

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 Devise, with write, pen! for I am for whole volumes in folio! Love's Labour's Lost, I. ii. [194]
- 2 Beauty is bought by judgment of the eye,
Not utter'd by base sale of chapmen's tongues.
Ib. II. i. 15
- 3 A merrier man,
Within the limit of becoming mirth,
I never spent an hour's talk withal. Ib. 66
- 4 Your wit's too hot, it speeds too fast, 'twill tire.
Ib. [119]
- 5 Thy own wish wish I thee in every place! Ib. [178]
- 6 Warble, child; make passionate my sense of hearing.
Ib. III. i. 1
- 7 A very beadle to a humorous sigh. Ib. [185]
- 8 This wimpled, whining, purblind, wayward boy,
This senior-junior, giant-dwarf, Dan Cupid;
Regent of love rhymes, lord of folded arms,
The anointed sovereign of sighs and groans,
Liege of all loiterers and malcontents. Ib. [189]
- 9 With two pitch balls stuck in her face for eyes.
Ib. [207]
- 10 Some men must love my lady, and some Joan.
Ib. [215]
- 11 He hath not fed of the dainties that are bred in a book; he hath not eat paper, as it were; he hath not drunk ink. Ib. IV. ii. [25]
- 12 These are begot in the ventricle of memory, nourished in the womb of pia mater, and delivered upon the mellowing of occasion. Ib. [70]
- 13 Old Mantuan! old Mantuan! Who understandeth thee not, loves thee not. Ib. [102]
- 14 The elegancy, facility, and golden cadence of poesy.
Ib. [126]
- 15 By heaven, I do love, and it hath taught me to rhyme, and to be melancholy. Ib. III. [13]
- 16 The heavenly rhetoric of thine eye. Ib. [60]
- 17 Love, whose month is ever May,
Spied a blossom passing fair,
Playing in the wanton air;
Through the velvet leaves the wind,
All unseen, 'gan passage find;
That the lover, sick to death,
Wish'd himself the heaven's breath. Ib. [102]
- 18 Thou for whom e'en Jove would swear
Juno but an Ethiop were;
And deny himself for Jove,
Turning mortal for thy love. Ib. [117]
- 19 Now step I forth to whip hypocrisy. Ib. [151]
- 20 From women's eyes this doctrine I derive:
They are the ground, the books, the academes,
From whence doth spring the true Promethean fire.
Ib. [302]
- 21 For where is any author in the world
Teaches such beauty as a woman's eye?
Learning is but an adjunct to ourself. Ib. [312]
- 22 But love, first learned in a lady's eyes,
Lives not alone immured in the brain,
But, with the motion of all elements,
Courses as swift as thought in every power,
And gives to every power a double power,
Above their functions and their offices.
- It adds a precious seeing to the eye;
A lover's eyes will gaze an eagle blind;
A lover's ears will hear the lowest sound,
When the suspicious head of theft is stopp'd:
Love's feeling is more soft and sensible
Than are the tender horns of cockled snails:
Love's tongue proves dainty Bacchus gross in taste.
For valour, is not love a Hercules,
Still climbing trees in the Hesperides?
Subtle as Sphinx; as sweet and musical
As bright Apollo's lute, strung with his hair;
And when Love speaks, the voice of all the gods
Makes heaven drowsy with the harmony.
Never durst poet touch a pen to write
Until his ink were temper'd with Love's sighs.
Love's Labour's Lost, IV. iii. [327]
- 23 From women's eyes this doctrine I derive:
They sparkle still the right Promethean fire;
They are the books, the arts, the academes,
That show, contain, and nourish all the world.
Ib. [350]
- 24 He draweth out the thread of his verbosity finer than the staple of his argument. Ib. V. i. [18]
- 25 Priscian a little scratched; 'twill serve. Ib. [31]
- 26 MOTH:
They have been at a great feast of languages, and stolen the scraps.
COSTARD:
O! they have lived long on the alms-basket of words.
I marvel thy master hath not eaten thee for a word; for thou art not so long by the head as honorificabilitudinitatibus: thou art easier swallowed than a flap-dragon. Ib. [39]
- 27 In the posteriors of this day; which the rude multitude call the afternoon. Ib. [96]
- 28 Had she been light, like you,
Of such a merry, nimble, stirring spirit,
She might ha' been a grandam ere she died;
And so may you; for a light heart lives long.
Ib. II. 15
- 29 Taffeta phrases, silken terms precise,
Three-pil'd hyperboles, spruce affectation,
Figures pedantical. Ib. 407
- 30 In russet yeas and honest kersey noes. Ib. 414
- 31 When in the world I liv'd, I was the world's commander;
By east, west, north, and south, I spread my conquering might:
My scutcheon plain declares that I am Alisander.
Ib. [563]
- 32 Let me take you a button-hole lower. Ib. [705]
- 33 A world-without-end bargain. Ib. [797]
- 34 A jest's prosperity lies in the ear
Of him that hears it, never in the tongue
Of him that makes it. Ib. [869]
- 35 When daisies pied and violets blue
And lady-smocks all silver-white
And cuckoo-buds of yellow hue
Do paint the meadows with delight,
The cuckoo then, on every tree,
Mocks married men; for thus sings he,
Cuckoo;
Cuckoo, cuckoo; O, word of fear,
Unpleasing to a married ear! Ib. [902]

- 1 When icicles hang by the wall,
And Dick, the shepherd, blows his nail,
And Tom bears logs into the hall,
And milk comes frozen home in pail,
When blood is nipp'd and ways be foul,
Then nightly sings the staring owl,
    'Tu-whoo,
Tu-whit, tu-who—a merry note,
While greasy Joan doth keel the pot
When all aloud the wind doth blow,
And coughing drowns the parson's saw,
And birds sit brooding in the snow,
And Marion's nose looks red and raw,
When roasted crabs hiss in the bowl
    Lot's Labour's Lost, v 11 [920]
- 2 The words of Mercury are harsh after the songs of Apollo
    Ib [938]
- 3 FIRST WITCH
When shall we three meet again
In thunder, lightning, or in rain?
SECOND WITCH
When the hurly burly's done,
When the battle's lost and won
THIRD WITCH
That will be ere the set of sun
FIRST WITCH
Where the place?
SECOND WITCH
    Upon the heath
THIRD WITCH
There to meet with Macbeth
FIRST WITCH
I come, Graymalkin!
SECOND WITCH
    Paddock calls
THIRD WITCH
Anon!
ALL
Fair is foul, and foul is fair
Hover through the fog and filthy air
    Macbeth, I 1 1
- 4 DUNCAN
What bloody man is that? . . .
MALCOLM
    This is the sergeant Ib 11 1
- 5 Disdaining fortune, with his brandish'd steel,
Which smok'd with bloody execution,
Like valour's minion carv'd out his passage Ib 17
- 6 Memorize another Golgotha Ib 41
- 7 So well thy words become thee as thy wounds,
They smack of honour both Ib 44
- 8 Banners flout the sky Ib 50
- 9 'Till that Bellona's bridegroom, lapp'd in proof,
Confronted him with self comparisons,
Point against point rebellious arm 'gainst arm,
Curbing his lavish spirit Ib 55
- 10 A sailor's wife had chestnuts in her lap,
And munch'd, and munch'd, and munch'd 'Give me,' quoth I
'Aroint thee, witch! the rump fed ronyon or es
Her husband's to Aleppo gone, master o' the Tiger
But in a sieve I'll tuther sail,
And like a rat without a tail,
I'll do, I'll do, and I'll do Ib 111 4
- 11 Sleep shall neither night nor day
Hang upon his pent-house lid
He shall live a man forbid
Weary se'nights nine times nine
Shall he dwindle, peak, and pine
Though his bark cannot be lost,
Yet it shall be tempest-tost Macbeth, I 11 19
- 12 So foul and fair a day I have not seen. Ib 38
- 13 What are these,
So withered, and so wild in their attire,
That look not like th' inhabitants o' the earth,
And yet are on 't? Ib 39
- 14 You should be women,
And yet your beards forbid me to interpret
That you are so Ib 43
- 15 If you can look into the seeds of time,
And say which grain will grow and which will not. Ib 58
- 16 Stay, you imperfect speakers, tell me more Ib 70
- 17 The Thane of Cawdor lives,
A prosperous gentleman, and to be king
Stands not within the prospect of belief,
No more than to be Cawdor. Say, from whence
You owe this strange intelligence? or why
Upon this blasted heath you stop our way
With such prophetic greeting? Ib 72
- 18 The earth hath bubbles, as the water has,
And these are of them Ib 79
- 19 Were such things here as we do speak about?
Or have we eaten on the insane root
That takes the reason prisoner? Ib 83
- 20 Strange images of death Ib 97
- 21 What! can the devil speak true? Ib 107
- 22 And oftentimes, to win us to our harm,
The instruments of darkness tell us truths,
Win us with honest trifles, to betray's
In deepest consequence Ib 123
- 23 Two truths are told,
As happy prologues to the swelling act
Of the imperial theme Ib 127
- 24 This supernatural soliciting
Cannot be ill, cannot be good, if ill,
Why hath it given me earnest of success
Commencing in a truth? I am Thane of Cawdor
If good, why do I yield to that suggestion
Whose horrid image doth unfix my hair
And make my seated heart knock at my ribs,
Against the use of nature? Present fears
Are less than horrible imaginings,
My thought, whose murder yet is but fantastical,
Shakes so my single state of man that function
Is smother'd in surmise, and nothing is
But what is not Ib 130
- 25 If chance will have me king, why, chance may crown
    me Ib 143
- 26 Come what come may,
Time and the hour runs through the roughest day Ib 146
- 27 MALCOLM
    Nothing in his life
Became him like the leaving it, he died
As one that had been studied in his death
'To throw away the dearest thing he owed
As 'twere a careless trifle

DUNCAN:

There's no art
To find the mind's construction in the face;
He was a gentleman on whom I built
An absolute trust. Macbeth, I. iv. 7

- 1 Glamis thou art, and Cawdor; and shalt be What thou art promis'd. Yet do I fear thy nature;
It is too full o' the milk of human kindness
To catch the nearest way; thou wouldst be great,
Art not without ambition; but without
The illness should attend it; what thou wouldst highly,
That thou wouldst holily; wouldst not play false,
And yet wouldst wrongly win; thou'dst have, great Glamis,
That which cries, 'Thus thou must do, if thou have
it';
And that which rather thou dost fear to do
Than wishest should be undone. Ib. v. [16]

- 2 The golden round,
Which fate and metaphysical aid doth seem
To have thee crown'd withal. Ib. [29]

- 3 The raven himself is hoarse
That croaks the fatal entrance of Duncan
Under my battlements. Come, you spirits
That tend on mortal thoughts! unsex me here,
And fill me from the crown to the toe top full
Of direst cruelty; make thick my blood,
Stop up the access and passage to remorse,
That no compunctious visitings of nature
Shake my fell purpose, nor keep peace between
The effect and it! Come to my woman's breasts,
And take my milk for gall, you murdering ministers,
Wherever in your sightless substances
You wait on nature's mischief! Come, thick night,
And pall thee in the dunnest smoke of hell,
That my keen knife see not the wound it makes,
Nor heaven peep through the blanket of the dark,
To cry 'Hold, hold!' Ib. [38]

- 4 Greater than both, by the all-hail hereafter! Ib. [56]

- 5 Your face, my thane, is as a book where men
May read strange matters. To beguile the time,
Look like the time; bear welcome in your eye,
Your hand, your tongue: look like the innocent flower,
But be the serpent under't. Ib. [63]

- 6 DUNCAN:
This castle hath a pleasant seat; the air
Nimbly and sweetly recommends itself
Unto our gentle senses.

BANQUO:

This guest of summer,
The temple-haunting martlet, does approve
By his lov'd mansionry that the heaven's breath
Smells wooingly here: no jutty, frieze,
Buttress, nor coign of vantage, but this bird
Hath made his pendent bed and procreant cradle:
Where they most breed and haunt, I have observ'd,
The air is delicate. Ib. vi. 1

- 7 If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well
It were done quickly: if the assassination
Could trammel up the consequence, and catch
With his surcease success; that but this blow
Might be the be-all and the end-all here,
But here, upon this bank and shoal of time,
We'd jump the life to come. Ib. vii. 1

- 8 This even-handed justice. Macbeth, I. vii. 10

- 9 Besides, this Duncan
Hath borne his faculties so meek, hath been
So clear in his great office, that his virtues
Will plead like angels trumpet-tongu'd, against
The deep damnation of his taking-off;
And pity, like a naked new-born babe,
Striding the blast, or heaven's cherubim, hors'd
Upon the sightless couriers of the air,
Shall blow the horrid deed in every eye,
That tears shall drown the wind. I have no spur
To prick the sides of my intent, but only
Vaulting ambition, which o'erleaps itself,
And falls on the other. Ib. 16

- 10 We will proceed no further in this business:
He hath honour'd me of late; and I have bought
Golden opinions from all sorts of people. Ib. 31

- 11 Was the hope drunk,
Wherein you dress'd yourself? hath it slept since,
And wakes it now, to look so green and pale
At what it did so freely? From this time
Such I account thy love. Art thou afraid
To be the same in thine own act and valour
As thou art in desire? Wouldst thou have that
Which thou esteem'st the ornament of life,
And live a coward in thine own esteem,
Letting 'I dare not' wait upon 'I would,'
Like the poor cat i' the adage. Ib. 35

- 12 I dare do all that may become a man;
Who dares do more is none. Ib. 46

- 13 LADY MACBETH:

I have given suck, and know
How tender 'tis to love the babe that milks me:
I would, while it was smiling in my face,
Have pluck'd my nipple from his boneless gums,
And dash'd the brains out, had I so sworn as you Have done to this.

MACBETH:

If we should fail,—

LADY MACBETH:

We fail!

But screw your courage to the sticking-place,
And we'll not fail. Ib. 54

- 14 That memory, the warder of the brain,
Shall be a fume. Ib. 65

- 15 Bring forth men-children only;
For thy undaunted mettle should compose
Nothing but males. Ib. 72

- 16 Away, and mock the time with fairest show:
False face must hide what the false heart doth know.
Ib. 81

- 17 There's husbandry in heaven;
Their candles are all out. Ib. II. i. 4

- 18 Merciful powers!
Restrain in me the cursed thoughts that nature
Gives way to in repose. Ib. 7

- 19 Shut up
In measureless content. Ib. 16

- 20 Is this a dagger which I see before me,
The handle toward my hand? Come, let me clutch thee:
I have thee not, and yet I see thee still.
Art thou not, fatal vision, sensible
To feeling as to sight? or art thou but
A dagger of the mind, a false creation,
Proceeding from the heat-oppress'd brain? Ib. 33

- 1 Now o'er the one half-world
Nature seems dead, and wicked dreams abuse
The curtain'd sleep, witchcraft celebrates
Pale Hecate's offerings, and wither'd murder,
Alarum'd by his sentinel, the wolf,
Whose howl's his watch, thus with his stealthy pace,
With Tarquin's ravishing strides, toward his design
Moves like a ghost: Thou sure and firm set earth,
Hear not my steps, which way they walk, for fear
The very stones prate of my whereabouts,
And take the present horror from the time,
Which now suits with it: Whiles I threat he lives.
Words to the heat of deeds too cold breath gives
I go, and it is done, the bell invites me.
Hear it not, Duncan, for it is a knell
That summons thee to heaven or to hell
Macbeth, II 1 49
- 2 That which hath made them drunk hath made me
bold,
What hath quenched them hath given me fire
Ib 11 1
- 3 It was the owl that shriek'd, the fatal bellman,
Which gives the stern'st good-night
Ib 4
- 4 The attempt and not the deed,
Confounds us
Ib 12
- 5 Had he not resembled
My father as he slept I had done 't
Ib 14
- 6 I have done the deed: Didst thou not hear a noise?
Ib 16
- 7 As they had seen me with these hangman's hands
Ib 29
- 8 Consider it not so deeply
Ib 31
- 9 I had most need of blessing, and 'Amen'
Stuck in my throat
Ib 33
- 10 These deeds must not be thought
After these ways, so, it will make us mad
Ib 34
- 11 Methought I heard a voice cry, 'Sleep no more!
Macbeth does murder sleep,' the innocent sleep,
Sleep that knits up the ravell'd sleeve of care,
The death of each day's life, sore labour's bath,
Balm of hurt minds, great nature's second course,
Chief nourisher in life's feast
Ib 36
- 12 Glamis hath murder'd sleep, and therefore Cawdor
Shall sleep no more, Macbeth shall sleep no more!
Ib 43
- 13 You do unbend your noble strength to think
So brainsickly of things
Ib. 46
- 14 MACBETH
I am afraid to think what I have done,
Look on't again I dare not
LADY MACBETH
Infirm of purpose!
Give me the daggers: The sleeping and the dead
Are but as pictures, 'tis the eye of childhood
That fears a painted devil
Ib 52
- 15 Will all great Neptune's ocean wash this blood Clean from my hand? No, this my hand will rather
The multitudinous seas incarnadine,
Making the green one red
Ib 61
- 16 A little water clears us of this deed
Ib 68
- 17 Here's a farmer that hanged himself on the expectation of plenty
Ib III 51
- 18 Faith, here's an equivocator
Ib 91
- 19 The primrose way to the everlasting bonfire
Macbeth, III III 122
- 20 The labour we delight in physics pain
Ib 156
- 21 The night has been unruly: where we lay
Our chimneys were blown down, and, as they say, Lamentings heard i' the air, strange screams of death,
And prophesying with accents terrible
Of dire combustion and confus'd events
New-hatch'd to the woeful time. The obscure bird
Clamour'd the live-long night: some say the earth
Was feverous and did shake
Ib 160
- 22 Confusion now hath made his masterpiece!
Most sacrilegious murder hath broke ope
The Lord's anointed temple, and stole thence
The life o' the building!
Ib 172
- 23 Shake off this downy sleep, death's counterfeit,
And look on death itself up, up, and see
The great doom's image!
Ib 183
- 24 Had I but died an hour before this chance,
I had liv'd a blessed time, for, from this instant,
There's nothing serious in mortality:
All is but toys, renown and grace is dead,
The wine of life is drawn, and the mere lees
Is left this vault to brag of
Ib 198
- 25 Who can be wise, amazed, temperate, and furious,
Loyal and neutral, in a moment? No man
Ib 1115
- 26 In the great hand of God I stand, and thence Against the undivulg'd pretence I fight
Of treasonous malice
Ib 1137
- 27 There's daggers in men's smiles.
Ib 1147
- 28 A falcon, towering in her pride of place,
Was by a mousing owl hawk'd at and kill'd
Ib III 12
- 29 Thriftless ambition, that wilt rav'n up
Thine own life's means!
Ib 28
- 30 Thou hast it now: King, Cawdor, Glamis, all,
As the weird women promis'd, and, I fear,
Thou play'st most foully for 't: yet it was said
It should not stand in thy posterity,
But that myself should be the root and father
Of many kings
Ib III 11
- 31 I must become a borrower of the night
For a dark hour or twain
Ib 27
- 32 To be thus is nothing,
But to be safely thus
Ib 48
- 33 There is none but he
Whose being I do fear, and, under him
My genius is rebuk'd: as, it is said,
Mark Antony's was by Cæsar
Ib 54
- 34 Mine eternal jewel
Given to the common enemy of man
Ib 68
- 35 FIRST MURDERER
We are men, my liege
MACBETH
Ay, in the catalogue ye go for men
Ib 91
- 36 SECOND MURDERER
I am one, my liege,
Whom the vile blows and buffets of the world
Have so incens'd, that I am reckless what I do to spite the world

- FIRST MURDERER:
 I another,
 So weary with disasters, tugg'd with fortune,
 That I would set my life on any chance,
 To mend it or be rid on 't. Macbeth, III. i. 108
- 1 Leave no rubs nor botches in the work. Ib. 134
- 2 Thy soul's flight,
 If it find heaven, must find it out to-night. Ib. 141
- 3 Nought's had, all's spent,
 Where our desire is got without content:
 'Tis safer to be that which we destroy,
 Than, by destruction, dwell in doubtful joy. Ib. ii. 4
- 4 LADY MACBETH:
 Things without all remedy
 Should be without regard: what's done is done.
 MACBETH:
 We have scotch'd the snake, not killed it:
 She'll close and be herself, whilst our poor malice
 Remains in danger of her former tooth
 But let the frame of things disjoint, both the worlds suffer,
 Ere we will eat our meal in fear, and sleep
 In the affliction of these terrible dreams
 That shake us nightly. Better be with the dead,
 Whom we, to gain our peace, have sent to peace,
 Than on the torture of the mind to lie
 In restless ecstasy. Duncan is in his grave;
 After life's fitful fever he sleeps well;
 Treason has done his worst: nor steel, nor poison,
 Malice domestic, foreign levy, nothing,
 Can touch him further. Ib. 11
- 5 Make our faces vizards to our hearts,
 Disguising what they are. Ib. 34
- 6 But in them nature's copy's not eterne. Ib. 38
- 7 A deed of dreadful note. Ib. 44
- 8 Be innocent of the knowledge, dearest chuck,
 Till thou applaud the deed. Come, seeling night,
 Scarf up the tender eye of pitiful day,
 And with thy bloody and invisible hand,
 Cancel and tear to pieces that great bond
 Which keeps me pale! Light thickens, and the crow
 Makes wing to the rooky wood;
 Good things of day begin to droop and drowse,
 Whiles night's black agents to their preys do rouse. Ib. 45
- 9 Things bad begun make strong themselves by ill. Ib. 55
- 10 Now spurs the lated traveller apace
 To gain the timely inn. Ib. iii. 6
- 11 Ourself will mingle with society
 And play the humble host. Ib. iv. 3
- 12 But now I am cabin'd, cribb'd, confin'd, bound in
 To saucy doubts and fears. Ib. 24
- 13 Now good digestion wait on appetite,
 And health on both! Ib. 38
- 14 Which of you have done this? Ib. 49
- 15 Thou canst not say I did it: never shake
 Thy gory locks at me. Ib. 50
- 16 The air-drawn dagger. Ib. 62
- 17 The times have been,
 That, when the brains were out, the man would die,
 And there an end; but now they rise again,
 With twenty mortal murders on their crowns,
 And push us from our stools: this is more strange
 Than such a murder is. Macbeth, III. iv. 78
- 18 I drink to the general joy of the whole table. Ib. 89
- 19 Thy bones are marrowless, thy blood is cold;
 Thou hast no speculation in those eyes
 Which thou dost glare with. Ib. 94
- 20 What man dare, I dare;
 Approach thou like the rugged Russian bear,
 The arm'd rhinoceros or the Hyrcan tiger,
 Take any shape but that, and my firm nerves
 Shall never tremble. Ib. 99
- 21 Hence, horrible shadow!
 Unreal mockery, hence! Ib. 106
- 22 LADY MACBETH:
 You have displaced the mirth, broke the good meeting,
 With most admir'd disorder.
 MACBETH:
 Can such things be,
 And overcome us like a summer's cloud,
 Without our special wonder? Ib. 109
- 23 Stand not upon the order of your going,
 But go at once. Ib. 119
- 24 MACBETH:
 It will have blood, they say; blood will have blood:
 Stones have been known to move and trees to speak;
 Augurs and understood relations have
 By maggot-pies and choughs and rooks brought forth
 The secret'st man of blood. What is the night?
 LADY MACBETH:
 Almost at odds with morning, which is which. Ib. 122
- 25 I am in blood
 Stepp'd in so far that, should I wade no more,
 Returning were as tedious as go o'er. Ib. 136
- 26 You lack the season of all natures, sleep. Ib. 141
- 27 Upon the corner of the moon
 There hangs a vaporous drop profound;
 I'll catch it ere it come to ground. Ib. v. 23
- 28 And you all know, security
 Is mortals' chiefest enemy. Ib. 32
- 29 Round about the cauldron go;
 In the poison'd entrails throw. Ib. iv. i. 4
- 30 Double, double toil and trouble;
 Fire burn, and cauldron bubble. Ib. 10
- 31 Eye of newt and toe of frog,
 Wool of bat and tongue of dog. Ib. 14
- 32 Sliver'd in the moon's eclipse. Ib. 27
- 33 Finger of birth-strangled babe,
 Ditch-deliver'd by a drab,
 Make the gruel thick and slab. Ib. 30
- 34 *Black spirits and white,
 Red spirits and grey,
 Mingle, mingle, mingle,
 You that mingle may.*
Ib. 44. Stage direction. Davenant's version of
Macbeth

- 1 By the pricking of my thumbs,
Something wicked this way comes
Open, locks,
Whoever knocks Macbeth, I 1 44
- 2 How now, you secret, black, and midnight hags!
Ib 48
- 3 A deed without a name
Ib 49
- 4 Though you untie the winds and let them fight Against the churches, though the yesty waves
Confound and swallow navigation up
Ib 52
- 5 Be bloody, bold, and resolute, laugh to scorn
The power of man, for none of woman born
Shall harm Macbeth
Ib 79
- 6 But yet I'll make assurance double sure,
And take a bond of fate
Ib 83
- 7 That I may tell pale hearted fear it lies,
And sleep in spite of thunder
Ib 85
- 8 Wears upon his baby brow the round
And top of sovereignty
Ib 88
- 9 Take no care
Who chafes, who frets or where conspirers are Macbeth shall never vanquish'd be until Great Birnam wood to high Dunsinane hill
Shall come against him
Ib 90
- 10 Show his eyes and grieve his heart,
Come like shadows, so depart
Ib 110
- 11 What! will the line stretch out to the crack of doom?
Ib 117
- 12 For the blood bolter'd Banquo smiles upon me
Ib 123
- 13 The weird sisters
Ib 136
- 14 The flighty purpose never is o'ertook,
Unless the deed go with it
Ib 145
- 15 The very firstlings of my heart shall be
The firstlings of my hand
Ib 147
- 16 His flight was madness when our actions do not,
Our fears do make us traitors
Ib 11 3
- 17 He wants the natural touch, for the poor wren,
The most diminutive of birds, will fight—
Her young ones in her nest—against the owl
Ib 9
- 18 Angels are bright still, though the brightest fell
Ib 111 22
- 19 MACDUFF
Stands Scotland where it did?
ROSS
Alas! poor country,
Almost afraid to know itself It cannot
Be call'd our mother, but our grave
Ib 164
- 20 What! man, ne'er pull your hat upon your brows,
Give sorrow words the grief that does not speak
Whispers the o'er-fraught heart, and bids it break
Ib 208
- 21 All my pretty ones?
Did you say all? O hell kites! All?
What! all my pretty chickens and their dam,
At one fell swoop?
Ib 216
- 22 MALCOLM
Dispute it like a man
MACDUFF
I shall do so,
But I must also feel it as a man,
- I cannot but remember such things were,
That were most precious to me Macbeth, IV 111 219
- 23 DOCTOR
You see her eyes are open
GENTLEWOMAN
Ay, but their sense is shut.
Ib 1 1 27
- 24 Out, damned spot! out, I say! One, two why then,
'tis time to do't! Hell is murky! I see, my lord, feel a soldier, and afraid? What need we fear who knows it, when none can call our power to account?
Yet who would have thought the old man to have had so much blood in him?
Ib 35
- 25 The Thane of Fife had a wife where is she now?
What! will these hands ne'er be clean?
Ib 45
- 26 She has spoke what she should not, I am sure of that Heaven knows what she has known
Ib 52
- 27 All the perfumes of Arabia will not sweeten this little hand
Ib 56
- 28 I would not have such a heart in my bosom for the dignity of the whole body
Ib 60
- 29 Foul whisperings are abroad
Ib 65
- 30 More needs she the divine than the physician
Ib 81
- 31 Those he commands move only in command,
Nothing in love, now does he feel his title
Hang loose about him, like a giant's robe
Upon a dwarfish thief
Ib 11 19
- 32 All that is within him does condemn
Itself for being there
Ib 24
- 33 Bring me no more reports, let them fly all
Till Birnam wood remove to Dunsinane
I cannot taint with fear
Ib 111
- 34 The spirits that know
All mortal consequences have pronounced me thus
Ib
- 35 The devil damn thee black, thou cream-faced loon!
Where gott'st thou that goose look?
Ib 1
- 36 This push
Will cheer me ever or dissect me now
I have lived long enough my way of life
Is fall'n into the sear, the yellow leaf,
And that which should accompany old age,
As honour, love, obedience, troops of friends,
I must not look to have, but, in their stead
Curses, not loud but deep, mouth honour, breath
Which the poor heart would fain deny, and dare not
Ib 2
- 37 DOCTOR
Not so sick, my lord,
As she is troubled with thick coming fancies,
That keep her from her rest
MACBETH
Cure her of that
Canst thou not minister to a mind diseas'd,
Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
Raze out the written troubles of the brain,
And with some sweet oblivious antidote
Cleanse the stuff'd bosom of that perilous stuff
Which weighs upon the heart?
DOCTOR
Must minister to himself
MACBETH
Throw physic to the dogs, I'll none of it
Ib 5

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 If thou couldst, doctor, cast
The water of my land, find her disease,
And purge it to a sound and pristine health,
I would applaud thee to the very echo,
That should applaud again. Macbeth, v. iii. 50
- 2 Hang out our banners on the outward walls;
The cry is still, 'They come;' our castle's strength
Will laugh a siege to scorn. Ib. v. 1
- 3 I have almost forgot the taste of fears.
The time has been my senses would have cool'd
To hear a night-shriek, and my fell of hair
Would at a dismal treatise rouse and stir
As life were in't. I have supp'd full with horrors;
Direness, familiar to my slaughterous thoughts,
Cannot once start me. Ib. 9
- 4 SEYTON:
The queen, my lord, is dead.
MACBETH:
She should have died hereafter;
There would have been a time for such a word.
To-morrow, and to-morrow, and to-morrow,
Creeps in this petty pace from day to day,
To the last syllable of recorded time;
And all our yesterdays have lighted fools
The way to dusty death. Out, out, brief candle!
Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player,
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage,
And then is heard no more; it is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,
Signifying nothing. Ib. 16
- 5 I pull in resolution, and begin
To doubt the equivocation of the fiend
That lies like truth: 'Fear not, till Birnam wood
Do come to Dunsinane.' Ib. 42
- 6 I 'gin to be aweary of the sun,
And wish the estate o' the world were now undone. Ib. 49
- 7 Blow, wind! come, wrack!
At least we'll die with harness on our back. Ib. 51
- 8 They have tied me to a stake; I cannot fly.
But bear-like I must fight the course. Ib. vii. 1
- 9 Why should I play the Roman fool, and die
On mine own sword? Ib. 30
- 10 I bear a charmed life. Ib. 41
- 11 And let the angel whom thou still hast served Tell thee, Macduff was from his mother's womb
Untimely ripp'd. Ib. 43
- 12 And be these juggling fiends no more believ'd,
That palter with us in a double sense;
That keep the word of promise to our ear,
And break it to our hope. Ib. 48
- 13 Live to be the show and gaze o' the time. Ib. 53
- 14 Lay on, Macduff;
And damn'd be him that first cries, 'Hold, enough!' Ib. 62
- 15 SIWARD:
Had he his hurts before?
ROSS:
Ay, on the front.
SIWARD:
Why, then, God's soldier be he!
Had I as many sons as I have hairs,
I would not wish them to a fairer death. Ib. 75
- 16 For if our virtues
Did not go forth of us, 'twere all alike
As if we had them not. Spirits are not finely touch'd
But to fine issues. Measure for Measure, i. i. 33
- 17 The sanctimonious pirate, that went to sea with the Ten Commandments, but scraped one out of the table. Ib. ii. [7]
- 18 And liberty plucks justice by the nose. Ib. iii. 29
- 19 I hold you as a thing ensky'd and sainted. Ib. iv. 34
- 20 A man whose blood
Is very snow-broth; one who never feels
The wanton stings and motions of the sense. Ib. 57
- 21 Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win,
By fearing to attempt. Ib. 77
- 22 We must not make a scarecrow of the law,
Setting it up to fear the birds of prey,
And let it keep one shape, till custom make it
Their perch and not their terror. Ib. ii. i. 1
- 23 'Tis one thing to be tempted, Escalus,
Another thing to fall. I not deny,
The jury, passing on the prisoner's life,
May in the sworn twelve have a thief or two Guiltier than him they try. Ib. 17
- 24 Some rise by sin, and some by virtue fall. Ib. 38
- 25 This will last out a night in Russia,
When nights are longest there. Ib. [144]
- 26 I am
At war 'twixt will and will not. Ib. ii. 32
- 27 Condemn the fault and not the actor of it? Ib. 37
- 28 No ceremony that to great ones 'longs,
Not the king's crown, nor the deputed sword,
The marshal's truncheon, nor the judge's robe,
Become them with one half so good a grace
As mercy does. Ib. 59
- 29 Why, all the souls that were were forfeit once;
And He that might the vantage best have took,
Found out the remedy. How would you be,
If He, which is the top of judgment, should
But judge you as you are? Ib. 73
- 30 O! it is excellent
To have a giant's strength, but it is tyrannous
To use it like a giant. Ib. 107
- 31 Merciful Heaven!
Thou rather with thy sharp and sulphurous bolt
Split'st the unwedgeable and gnarled oak
Than the soft myrtle; but man, proud man,
Drest in a little brief authority,
Most ignorant of what he's most assur'd,
His glassy essence, like an angry ape,
Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven,
As make the angels weep. Ib. 114
- 32 Great men may jest with saints; 'tis wit in them,
But, in the less foul profanation. Ib. 127
- 33 That in the captain's but a choleric word,
Which in the soldier is flat blasphemy. Ib. 130
- 34 I am that way going to temptation,
Where prayers cross. Ib. 158
- 35 Having waste ground enough,
Shall we desire to raze the sanctuary
And pitch our evils there? Ib. 170

- 1 O cunning enemy, that, to catch a saint,
With saints dost bait thy hook! Most dangerous
Is that temptation that doth good us on
To sin in loving virtue. Measure for Measure, II. ii. 180
- 2 When I would pray and think, I think and pray
To several subjects: Heaven hath my empty words.
Ib. iv. 1
- 3 CLAUDIO:
The miserable have no other medicine
But only hope:
I have hope to live, and am prepar'd to die.
DUKE:
Be absolute for death; either death or life
Shall thereby be the sweeter. Reason thus with life:
If I do lose thee, I do lose a thing
That none but fools would keep: a breath thou art
Servile to all the sky's influences. Ib. III. 1. 2
- 4 If thou art rich, thou'rt poor;
For, like an ass whose back with ingots bows,
Thou bear'st thy heavy riches but a journey,
And death unloads thee. Ib. 25
- 5 Thou hast nor youth nor age;
But, as it were, an after-dinner's sleep,
Dreaming on both. Ib. 32
- 6 Palsied old. Ib. 35
- 7 Dar'st thou die?
The sense of death is most in apprehension,
And the poor beetle, that we tread upon,
In corporal sufferance finds a pang as great
As when a giant dies. Ib. 75
- 8 If I must die,
I will encounter darkness as a bride,
And hug it in mine arms. Ib. 81
- 9 CLAUDIO:
Death is a fearful thing.
ISABELLA:
And shamed life a hateful.
CLAUDIO:
Ay, but to die, and go we know not where;
To lie in cold obstruction and to rot;
This sensible warm motion to become
A kneaded clod; and the delighted spirit
To bathe in fiery floods, or to reside
In thrilling region of thick-ribb'd ice;
To be imprisoned in the viewless winds,
And blown with restless violence round about
The pendant world! Ib. 114
- 10 The weariest and most loathed worldly life
That age, ache, penury, and imprisonment
Can lay on nature, is a paradise
To what we fear of death. Ib. 127
- 11 O, fie, fie, fie!
Thy sin's not accidental, but a trade. Ib. 146
- 12 The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good
Ib. [182]
- 13 Virtue is bold, and goodness never fearful. Ib. [214]
- 14 There, at the moated grange, resides this dejected
Mariana. Ib. [279]
- 15 A very superficial, ignorant, unweighing fellow.
Ib. II. [151]
- But my lisses bring again, bring again;
Seals of love, but seal'd in vain, seal'd in vain.
Measure for Measure, IV. i. 1
- 17 Though music oft hath such a charm
To make bad good, and good provoke to harm. Ib. 16
- 18 He will discredit our mystery. Ib. II. [29]
- 19 Every true man's apparel fits your thief. Ib. [46]
- 20 Look, here's the warrant, Claudio, for thy death:
'Tis now dead midnight, and by eight to-morrow
Thou must be made immortal. Ib. [66]
- 21 A man that apprehends death no more dreadfully
but as a drunken sleep. Ib. [145]
- 22 Look, the unfolding star calls up the shepherd. Ib. [219]
- 23 I am a kind of burr, I shall stick. Ib. III. [193]
- 24 A fortified residence 'gainst the tooth of time,
And razure of oblivion. Ib. V. i. 12
- 25 Let the devil
Be sometime honour'd for his burning throne. Ib. [259]
- 26 Haste still pays haste, and leisure answers leisure,
Like doth quit like, and Measure still for Measure.
Ib. [411]
- 27 They say best men are moulded out of faults,
And, for the most, become much more the better
For being a little bad Ib. [440]
- 28 In sooth I know not why I am so sad:
It wearies me, you say it wearies you;
But how I caught it, found it, or came by it,
What stuff 'tis made of, whereof it is born,
I am to learn The Merchant of Venice, I. i. 1
- 29 There, where your argosies with portly sail,—
Like signiors and rich burghers on the flood,
Or, as it were, the pageants of the sea,—
Do overpeer the petty traffickers. Ib. 9
- 30 Nature hath fram'd strange fellows in her time:
Some that will evermore peep through their eyes
And laugh like parrots at a bagpiper:
And other of such vinegar aspect
That they'll not show their teeth in way of smile,
Though Nestor swear the jest be laughable. Ib. 51
- 31 I hold the world but as the world, Gratiano;
A stage where every man must play a part,
And mine a sad one. Ib. 77
- 32 Why should a man, whose blood is warm within,
Sit like his grandsire cut in alabaster? Ib. 83
- 33 There are a sort of men whose visages
Do cream and mantle like a standing pond. Ib. 88
- 34 As who should say, 'I am Sir Oracle,
And when I ope my lips let no dog bark!'
O, my Antonio, I do know of these,
That therefore only are reputed wise,
For saying nothing. Ib. 93
- 35 Fish not, with this melancholy bait,
For this fool gudgeon, this opinion. Ib. 101
- 36 Silence is only commendable
In a neat's tongue dried and a maid not vendible.
Ib. 111

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 Gratiano speaks an infinite deal of nothing, more than any man in all Venice. His reasons are as two grains of wheat, hid in two bushels of chaff: you shall seek all day ere you find them; and, when you have them, they are not worth the search.
The Merchant of Venice, I. i. 114
- 2 My purse, my person, my extremest means
Lie all unlock'd to your occasions. Ib. [139]
- 3 Sometimes from her eyes
I did receive fair speechless messages. Ib. [164]
- 4 By my troth, Nerissa, my little body is aweary of this great world. Ib. ii. 1
- 5 They are as sick that surfeit with too much, as they that starve with nothing. Ib. [5]
- 6 Superfluity comes sooner by white hairs, but competency lives longer. Ib. [9]
- 7 If to do were as easy as to know what were good to do, chapels had been churches, and poor men's cottages princes' palaces. Ib. [13]
- 8 It is a good divine that follows his own instructions; I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done, than be one of the twenty to follow mine own teaching. Ib. [15]
- 9 He doth nothing but talk of his horse. Ib. [43]
- 10 God made him, and therefore let him pass for a man. Ib. [59]
- 11 If I should marry him, I should marry twenty husbands. Ib. [66]
- 12 I think he bought his doublet in Italy, his round hose in France, his bonnet in Germany, and his behaviour everywhere. Ib. [78]
- 13 I will do anything, Nerissa, ere I will be married to a sponge. Ib. [105]
- 14 I dote on his very absence. Ib. [118]
- 15 Ships are but boards, sailors but men; there be land-rats and water-rats, land-thieves and water-thieves. Ib. iii. [22]
- 16 I will buy with you, sell with you, talk with you, walk with you, and so following; but I will not eat with you, drink with you, nor pray with you. What news on the Rialto? Ib. [36]
- 17 How like a fawning publican he looks!
I hate him for he is a Christian;
But more for that in low simplicity
He lends out money gratis, and brings down
The rate of usance here with us in Venice.
If I can catch him once upon the hip,
I will feed fat the ancient grudge I bear him.
He hates our sacred nation, and he rails,
Even there where merchants most do congregate,
On me, my bargains, and my well-won thrift.
Ib. [42]
- 18 The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose. Ib. [99]
- 19 A goodly apple rotten at the heart.
O, what a goodly outside falsehood hath! Ib. [102]
- 20 Signior Antonio, many a time and oft
In the Rialto you have rated me. Ib. [107]
- 21 For sufferance is the badge of all our tribe. Ib. [111]
- 22 'Hath a dog money? Is it possible
A cur can lend three thousand ducats?' or Shall I bend low, and in a bondman's key,
With bated breath, and whispering humbleness,
Say this:—
'Fair sir, you spet on me on Wednesday last;
You spurn'd me such a day; another time
You call'd me dog; and for these courtesies
I'll lend you thus much moneys?'
The Merchant of Venice, I. iii. [122]
- 23 For when did friendship take
A breed for barren metal of his friend? Ib. [134]
- 24 O father Abram! what these Christians are,
Whose own hard dealing teaches them suspect
The thoughts of others! Ib. [161]
- 25 I like not fair terms and a villain's mind. Ib. [180]
- 26 Mislike me not for my complexion,
The shadow'd livery of the burnished sun.
Ib. ii. i. 1
- 27 An honest man's son,—or rather an honest woman's son;—for, indeed, my father did something smack, something grow to, he had a kind of taste;—well, my conscience says, 'Launcelot, budge not.' 'Budge,' says the fiend. 'Budge not,' says my conscience. 'Conscience,' say I, 'you counsel well;' 'fiend,' say I, 'you counsel well.' Ib. ii. [16]
- 28 O heavens! this is my true-begotten father. Ib. [36]
- 29 An honest exceeding poor man. Ib. [54]
- 30 The very staff of my age, my very prop. Ib. [71]
- 31 It is a wise father that knows his own child. Ib. [83]
- 32 Truth will come to light; murder cannot be hid long. Ib. [86]
- 33 Lord worshipped might he be! What a beard hast thou got! Ib. [101]
- 34 There is some ill a-brewing towards my rest,
For I did dream of money-bags to-night. Ib. v. 17
- 35 Then it was not for nothing that my nose fell a-bleeding on Black Monday. Ib. [24]
- 36 And the vile squealing of the wry-neck'd fife. Ib. [30]
- 37 But love is blind, and lovers cannot see
The pretty follies that themselves commit. Ib. vi. 36
- 38 What! must I hold a candle to my shames? Ib. 41
- 39 Men that hazard all
Do it in hope of fair advantages:
A golden mind stoops not to shows of dross.
Ib. vii. 18
- 40 Pause there, Morocco. Ib. 24
- 41 Young in limbs, in judgment old. Ib. 71
- 42 My daughter! O my ducats! O my daughter!
Fled with a Christian! O my Christian ducats!
Ib. viii. 15
- 43 The fool multitude, that choose by show. Ib. ix. 26
- 44 Like the martlet,
Builds in the weather on the outward wall,
Even in the force and road of casualty.
I will not choose what many men desire,
Because I will not jump with common spirits
And rank me with the barbarous multitude. Ib. 28

- 1 Let none presume
To wear an undeserved dignity
Of that estates, degrees, and offices
Were not deriv'd corruptly, and that clear honour
Were purchased by the merit of the wearer!
The Merchant of Venice, II 1 39
- 2 The portrait of a blinking idiot
Ib 54
- 3 The fire seven times tried this Seven times tried that judgment is
That did never choose amiss
Some there be that shadows kiss,
Such have but a shadow's bliss
Ib 63
- 4 Thus hath the candle sing'd the moth
O, these deliberate fools!
Ib 79
- 5 The ancient saying is no heresy
'Hanging and wiving goes by destiny'
Ib 82
- 6 The Goodwins, I think they call the place, a very dangerous flat and fatal where the carcasses of many a tall ship lie buried as they say, if my gossip Report be an honest woman of her word
Ib III 1 [4]
- 7 Let him look to his bond
Ib [51, 52, 54]
- 8 Hath not a Jew eyes? hath not a Jew hands, organs, dimensions, senses, affections, passions? fed with the same food, hurt with the same weapons, subject to the same diseases, healed by the same means, warmed and cooled by the same winter and summer, as a Christian is? If you prick us, do we not bleed? if you tickle us, do we not laugh?
if you poison us, do we not die? and if you wrong
us, shall we not revenge?
Ib [63]
- 9 The villany you teach me I will execute, and it shall go hard but I will better the instruction
Ib [76]
- 10 Thou stick'st a dagger in me
Ib [118]
- 11 TUBAL
One of them showed me a ring that he had of your daughter for a monkey
SHYLOCK
I would not have given it for a wilderness of monkeys
Ib [126]
- 12 He makes a swan like end
Fading in music
Ib II 44
- 13 Tell me where is fancy bred,
Or in the heart or in the head?
How begot how nourished?
Reply
It is engender'd in the eyes,
With gazing fed, and fancy dies
In the cradle where it lies
Let us all ring fancy's knell
I'll begin it,—Ding, dong, bell
Ib 63
- 14 So may the outward shows be least themselves
The world is still deceived with ornament
In law, what plea so tainted and corrupt
But being season'd with a gracious voice,
Obscures the show of evil? In religion,
What damned error, but some sober brow
Will bless it and approve it with a text,
Hiding the grossness with fair ornament?
Ib 73
- 15 Ornament is but the guiled shore
To a most dangerous sea, the beauteous scarf
Veiling an Indian beauty, in a word
The seeming truth which cunning times put on
To entrap the wisest
The Merchant of Venice, III II 97
- 16 Thou pale and common drudge
'Tween man and man
Ib 103
- 17 Rash embrac'd despair,
And shuddering fear, and green-eyed jealousy
Ib 109
- 18 What demi-god
Hath come so near creation?
Ib 113
- 19 An unlesson'd girl, unschooled, unpractis'd,
Happy in this, she is not yet so old
But she may learn, happier than this,
She is not bred so dull but she can learn
Ib 160
- 20 I wish you all the joy that you can wish
Ib 191
- 21 My eyes, my lord, can look as swift as yours
You saw the mistress, I beheld the maid
Ib 198
- 22 Here are a few of the unpleasant at words
That ever blotted paper!
Ib 252
- 23 I will have my bond
Ib III 17
- 24 This comes too near the praising of myself
Ib IV 22
- 25 How every fool can play upon the word!
Ib V [48]
- 26 Wilt thou show the whole wealth of thy wit in an instant? I pray thee, understand a plain man in his plain meaning
Ib [62]
- 27 I'll not answer that
But say it is my humour
Ib IV 1 42
- 28 A harmless necessary cat
Ib 55
- 29 I am not bound to please thee with my answer
Ib 65
- 30 What judgment shall I dread, doing no wrong?
Ib 69
- 31 I am a tainted wether of the flock,
Meetest for death the weakest kind of fruit
Drops earliest to the ground
Ib 114
- 32 I never knew so young a body with so old a head
Ib [163]
- 33 FORTIA
Then must the Jew be merciful
SHYLOCK
On what compulsion must I? tell me that.
FORTIA
The quality of mercy is not strain'd,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath: it is twice bless'd,
It bleaseth him that gives and him that takes
'Tis mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes
The throned monarch better than his crown,
His sceptre shows the force of temporal power,
The attribute to awe and majesty,
Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings,
But mercy is above this sceptred sway,
It is enthroned in the hearts of kings,
It is an attribute to God himself,
And earthly power doth then show likest God's
When mercy seasons justice: Therefore, Jew,
Though justice be thy plea, consider this,
That in the course of justice none of us
Should see salvation: we do pray for mercy,
And that same prayer doth teach us all to render
The deeds of mercy.
Ib [182]

SHAKESPEARE

- 1 My deeds upon my head! I crave the law.
The Merchant of Venice, iv. i. [206]
- 2 Wrest once the law to your authority:
To do a great right, do a little wrong. Ib. [215]
- 3 'Twill be recorded for a precedent,
And many an error by the same example
Will rush into the state. Ib. [220]
- 4 A Daniel come to judgment! yea, a Daniel!
O wise young judge, how I do honour thee!
Ib. [223]
- 5 An oath, an oath, I have an oath in heaven:
Shall I lay perjury upon my soul?
No, not for Venice. Ib. [228]
- 6 I charge you by the law,
Whereof you are a well-deserving pillar,
Proceed to judgment. Ib. [238]
- 7 Is it so nominated in the bond?
Ib. [260]
- 8 'Tis not in the bond. Ib. [263]
- 9 For herein Fortune shows herself more kind
Than is her custom: it is still her use
To let the wretched man outlive his wealth,
To view with hollow eye and wrinkled brow
An age of poverty. Ib. [268]
- 10 The court awards it, and the law doth give it.
Ib. [301]
- 11 Thyself shalt see the act;
For, as thou urgest justice, be assur'd
Thou shalt have justice, more than thou desir'st.
Ib. [315]
- 12 A second Daniel, a Daniel, Jew!
Now, infidel, I have thee on the hip. Ib. [334]
- 13 I thank thee, Jew, for teaching me that word.
Ib. [342]
- 14 You take my house when you do take the prop
That doth sustain my house; you take my life
When you do take the means whereby I live. Ib. [376]
- 15 He is well paid that is well satisfied. Ib. [416]
- 16 You taught me first to beg, and now methinks
You teach me how a beggar should be answer'd.
Ib. [440]
- 17 LORENZO:
In such a night
Troilus methinks mounted the Trojan walls,
And sigh'd his soul toward the Grecian tents,
Where Cressid lay that night.
JESSICA:
In such a night
Did Thisbe fearfully o'ertrip the dew,
And saw the lion's shadow ere himself,
And ran dismay'd away.
LORENZO:
In such a night
Stood Dido with a willow in her hand
Upon the wild sea-banks, and waft her love
To come again to Carthage.
JESSICA:
In such a night
Medea gather'd the enchanted herbs
That did renew old Æson. Ib. v. i. 3
- 18 How sweet the moonlight sleeps upon this bank!
Here will we sit, and let the sounds of music
Creep in our ears: soft stillness and the night
Become the touches of sweet harmony.
Sit, Jessica: look, how the floor of heaven
- Is thick inlaid with patines of bright gold:
There's not the smallest orb which thou behold'st
But in his motion like an angel sings,
Still quiring to the young-eyed cherubins;
Such harmony is in immortal souls;
But, whilst this muddy vesture of decay
Doth grossly close it in, we cannot hear it.
The Merchant of Venice, v. i. 54
- 19 I am never merry when I hear sweet music. Ib. 69
- 20 Therefore the poet
Did feign that Orpheus drew trees, stones, and floods;
Since nought so stockish, hard, and full of rage,
But music for the time doth change his nature.
The man that hath no music in himself,
Nor is not mov'd with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems, and spoils;
The motions of his spirit are dull as night,
And his affections dark as Erebus:
Let no such man be trusted. Ib. 79
- 21 PORTIA:
How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world.
NERISSA:
When the moon shone, we did not see the candle.
PORTIA:
So doth the greater glory dim the less:
A substitute shines brightly as a king
Until a king be by, and then his state
Empties itself, as doth an inland brook
Into the main of waters. Ib. 90
- 22 The crow doth sing as sweetly as the lark
When neither is attended, and I think
The nightingale, if she should sing by day,
When every goose is cackling, would be thought
No better a musician than the wren.
How many things by season season'd are
To their right praise and true perfection!
Peace, ho! the moon sleeps with Endymion,
And would not be awak'd! Ib. 102
- 23 This night methinks is but the daylight sick. Ib. 124
- 24 For a light wife doth make a heavy husband. Ib. 130
- 25 These blessed candles of the night. Ib. 220
- 26 I will make a Star-Chamber matter of it.
The Merry Wives of Windsor, i. i. 1
- 27 She has brown hair, and speaks small like a woman.
Ib. [48]
- 28 Pribbles and prabbles. Ib. [56]
- 29 Drink down all unkindness. Ib. [203]
- 30 I had rather than forty shillings I had my Book of Songs and Sonnets here. Ib. [205]
- 31 I will make an end of my dinner; there's pippins and seese to come. Ib. ii. [12]
- 32 'Convey,' the wise it call. 'Steal!' foh! a fico for the phrase! Ib. iii. [30]
- 33 Here will be an old abusing of God's patience, and the king's English. Ib. iv. [5]
- 34 We burn daylight. Ib. ii. i. [54]
- 35 There's the humour of it. Ib. [139]
- 36 Faith, thou hast some crotchets in thy head now.
Ib. [158]
- 37 Why, then the world's mine oyster,
Which I with sword will open. Ib. ii. 2

- 1 Marry, this is the short and the long of it
The Merry Wives of Windsor, II ii [62]
- 2 Like a fair house built upon another man's ground
Ib [229]
- 3 Ah, sweet Anne Page!
Ib III i [40]
- 4 I cannot tell what the dickens his name is
Ib II [20]
- 5 He capers, he dances, he has eyes of youth, he writes verses, he speaks holiday, he smells April and May
Ib [71]
- 6 O, what a world of vile ill-favour'd faults
Looks handsome in three hundred pounds a year!
Ib II. [32]
- 7 If it be my luck, so, if not, happy man be his dole!
Ib [67]
- 8 If I be served such another trick, I'll have my brains ta'en out, and buttered, and give them to a dog for a new year's gift
Ib V. [7]
- 9 I have a kind of alacrity in sinking
Ib [13]
- 10 As good luck would have it.
Ib [86]
- 11 A man of my kidney
Ib [119]
- 12 Vengeance of Jenny's case!
Ib IV i [65]
- 13 So curses all Eve's daughters, of what complexion soever
Ib II [24]
- 14 This is the third time, I hope good luck lies in odd numbers. There is divinity in odd numbers, either in nativity, chance or death
Ib V i 2
- 15 Fairies, black, grey, green, and white,
You moonshine revellers, and shades of night
Ib V [43]
- 16 To live a barren sister all your life,
Chanting faint hymns to the cold fruitless moon
A Midsummer Night's Dream, I i 72
- 17 But earthlier happy is the rose distill'd,
Than that which withering on the virgin thorn
Grows, lives, and dies, in single blessedness
Ib 76
- 18 Ay me! for aught that ever I could read,
Could ever hear by tale or history,
The course of true love never did run smooth
Ib 132
- 19 O hell! to choose love by another's eye
Ib 140
- 20 If there were a sympathy in choice,
War, death, or sickness did lay siege to it,
Making it momentary as a sound,
Swift as a shadow, short as any dream,
Brief as the lightning in the collied night,
That, in a splen, unfolds both heaven and earth,
And ere a man hath power to say, 'Behold!'
The jaws of darkness do devour it up
So quick bright things come to confusion
Ib 141
- 21 Your tongue's sweet air
More tuneable than lark to shepherd's ear,
When wheat is green, when hawthorn buds appear
Ib 183
- 22 Love looks not with the eyes but with the mind,
And therefore is wing'd Cupid painted blind
Ib 234
- 23 The most lamentable comedy, and most cruel death of Pyramus and Thisby
Ib II [11]
- 24 Masters, spread yourselves
Ib [16]
- 25 A part to tear a cat in, to make all split
A Midsummer Night's Dream, I. II. [32]
- 26 'This is Ercole's vein
Ib [43]
- 27 I'll speak in a monstrous little voice.
Ib [55]
- 28 I am slow of study
Ib [70]
- 29 I will roar, that I will do any man's heart good to hear me.
Ib [73]
- 30 I will aggravate my voice so that I will roar you as gently as any sucking dove; I will roar you as
'twere any nightingale
Ib [84]
- 31 A proper man, as one shall see in a summer's day
Ib [89]
- 32 Hold, or cut bow-strings
Ib [115]
- 33 Over hill, over dale,
Thorough bush, thorough brier,
Over park, over pale,
Thorough flood, thorough fire
Ib II. i 2
- 34 The cowslips tall her pensioners be;
In their gold coats spots you see,
'Those be rubies, fairy favours,
In those freckles live their savours
Ib 10
- 35 I must go seek some dew-drops here,
And hang a pearl in every cowslip's ear.
Ib 14
- 36 The middle summer's spring
Ib 82
- 37 Therefore the moon, the governess of floods,
Pale in her anger, washes all the air,
That rheumatic diseases do abound
And thorough this distemperature we see
The seasons alter hoary-headed frosts
I all in the fresh lap of the crimson rose.
Ib 103
- 38 Since once I sat upon a promontory,
And heard a mermaid on a dolphin's back
Uttering such dulcet and harmonious breath,
That the rude sea grew civil at her song,
And certain stars shot madly from their spheres,
To hear the sea-maid's music
Ib 149
- 39 But I might see young Cupid's fiery shaft
Quench'd in the chaste beams of the wat'ry moon,
And the imperial votaress passed on,
In maiden meditation, fancy-free
Yet mark'd I where the bolt of Cupid fell
It fell upon a little western flower,
Before milk-white, now purple with love's wound,
And maidens call it, Love-in-idleness
Ib 161
- 40 I'll put a girdle round about the earth
In forty minutes
Ib 175
- 41 I know a bank whereon the wild thyme blows,
Where oxlips and the nodding violet grows,
Quite over-canopied with luscious woodbine,
With sweet musk-roses, and with eglantine
There sleeps Titania some time of the night,
Lull'd in these flowers with dances and delight,
And there the snake throws her enamell'd skin,
Weed wide enough to wrap a fairy in
Ib 249
- 42 Some to kill cankers in the musk-rose buds,
Some war with rere mice for their leathern wings,
To make my small elves coats
Ib II 3
- 43 The clamorous owl, that nightly hoots, and wonders
At our quaint spirits
Ib 6
- 44 You spotted snakes with double tongue,
Thorny hedge hogs, be not seen,
Newts, and blind-worms, do no wrong,
Come not near our fairy queen
Ib 9

- 1 Weaving spiders come not here;
Hence, you long-legg'd spinners, hence!
Beetles black, approach not near;
Worm nor snail, do no offence.
A Midsummer Night's Dream, II. ii. 20
- 2 This green plot shall be our stage, this hawthornbrake our tiring-house. Ib. III. i. [3]
- 3 God shield us!—a lion among ladies, is a most dreadful thing; for there is not a more fearful wild-fowl than your lion living. Ib. [32]
- 4 What hempen home-spuns have we swaggering here,
So near the cradle of the fairy queen? Ib. [82]
- 5 Bless thee, Bottom! bless thee! thou art translated.
Ib. [124]
- 6 The throstle with his note so true,
The wren with little quill. Ib. [133]
- 7 As wild geese that the creeping fowler eye,
Or russet-pated choughs, many in sort,
Rising and cawing at the gun's report,
Sever themselves, and madly sweep the sky.
Ib. II. 20
- 8 Lord, what fools these mortals be! Ib. 115
- 9 So we grew together,
Like to a double cherry, seeming parted,
But yet an union in partition,
Two lovely berries moulded on one stem. Ib. 208
- 10 For night's swift dragons cut the clouds full fast,
And yonder shines Aurora's harbinger;
At whose approach, ghosts, wandering here and there,
Troop home to churchyards. Ib. 379
- 11 Cupid is a knavish lad,
Thus to make poor females mad. Ib. 440
- 12 Jack shall have Jill;
Nought shall go ill;
The man shall have his mare again,
And all shall be well. Ib. 461
- 13 I must to the barber's, mounsieur, for methinks I am marvellous hairy about the face. Ib. IV. i. [25]
- 14 I have a reasonable good ear in music: let us have the tongs and the bones. Ib. [32]
- 15 Methinks I have a great desire to a bottle of hay:
good hay, sweet hay, hath no fellow. Ib. [37]
- 16 But, I pray you, let none of your people stir me: I have an exposition of sleep come upon me. Ib. [43]
- 17 But as the fierce vexation of a dream. Ib. [75]
- 18 My Oberon! what visions have I seen!
Methought I was enamour'd of an ass. Ib. [82]
- 19 Then, my queen, in silence sad,
Trip we after the night's shade;
We the globe can compass soon,
Swifter than the wandering moon. Ib. [101]
- 20 HIPPOLYTA:
I was with Hercules and Cadmus once,
When in a wood of Crete they bay'd the bear
With hounds of Sparta: never did I hear . . .
So musical a discord, such sweet thunder.
THESEUS:
My hounds are bred out of the Spartan kind,
So flew'd, so sanded; and their heads are hung
With ears that sweep away the morning dew;
Crook-knee'd, and dew-lapp'd like Thessalian bulls;
Slow in pursuit, but match'd in mouth like bells.
Ib. [118]
- 21 Saint Valentine is past:
Begin these wood-birds but to couple now?
A Midsummer Night's Dream, IV. i. [145]
- 22 I have had a dream, past the wit of man to say what dream it was. Ib. [211]
- 23 The eye of man hath not heard, the ear of man hath not seen, man's hand is not able to taste, his tongue to conceive, nor his heart to report, what my dream was. Ib. [218]
- 24 The lunatic, the lover, and the poet,
Are of imagination all compact:
One sees more devils than vast hell can hold,
That is, the madman; the lover, all as frantic,
Sees Helen's beauty in a brow of Egypt:
The poet's eye, in a fine frenzy rolling,
Doth glance from heaven to earth, from earth to heaven;
And, as imagination bodies forth
The forms of things unknown, the poet's pen
Turns them to shapes, and gives to airy nothing
A local habitation and a name.
Such tricks hath strong imagination,
That, if it would but apprehend some joy,
It comprehends some bringer of that joy;
Or in the night, imagining some fear,
How easy is a bush suppos'd a bear! Ib. V. i. 7
- 25 What revels are in hand? Is there no play,
To ease the anguish of a torturing hour? Ib. 36
- 26 Very tragical mirth. Ib. [57]
- 27 For never anything can be amiss,
When simpleness and duty tender it. Ib. [82]
- 28 That is the true beginning of our end.
Consider then we come but in despite.
We do not come as minding to content you,
Our true intent is. All for your delight,
We are not here. Ib. [111]
- 29 Whereat, with blade, with bloody blameful blade,
He bravely broach'd his boiling bloody breast. Ib. [148]
- 30 The best in this kind are but shadows, and the worst are no worse, if imagination amend them. Ib. [215]
- 31 A very gentle beast, and of a good conscience. Ib. [233]
- 32 Well roared, Lion. Ib. [272]
- 33 This passion, and the death of a dear friend, would go near to make a man look sad. Ib. [295]
- 34 The iron tongue of midnight hath told twelve;
Lovers, to bed; 'tis almost fairy time. Ib. [372]
- 35 Now the hungry lion roars,
And the wolf howls the moon;
Whilst the heavy ploughman snores,
All with weary task fordone. Ib. II. 1
- 36 Not a mouse
Shall disturb this hallow'd house:
I am sent with broom before,
To sweep the dust behind the door. Ib. 17
- 37 A victory is twice itself when the achiever brings home full numbers.
Much Ado About Nothing, I. i. [8]
- 38 He hath indeed better bettered expectation than you must expect of me to tell you how. Ib. [15]
- 39 He is a very valiant trencher-man. Ib. [52]

- 1 I see, lady, the gentleman is not in your books
Much Ado About Nothing, I i [79]
- 2 BEATRICE
I wonder that you will still be talking, Signior
Benedick nobody marks you
BENEDICK
What! my dear Lady Disdain, are you yet living?
Ib [121]
- 3 Shall I never see a bachelor of three-score again?
Ib [209]
- 4 BENEDICK.
I will live a bachelor.
DON PEDRO.
I shall see thee, ere I die, look pale with love.
BENEDICK
With anger, with sickness, or with hunger, my lord, not with love Ib [256]
- 5 In time the savage bull doth bear the yoke Ib [271]
- 6 Benedick the married man Ib [278]
- 7 What need the bridge much broader than the flood?
Ib [326]
- 8 Would it not grieve a woman to be over-mastered with a piece of valiant dust? to make an account of her life to a clod of wayward marl? Ib II i [64]
- 9 Wooing, wedding, and repenting, is as a Scotch jig, a measure, and a cinque-pace Ib [77]
- 10 I have a good eye, uncle I can see a church by daylight Ib [86]
- 11 Speak low, if you speak love Ib [104]
- 12 Friendship is constant in all other things
Save in the office and affairs of love Ib [184]
- 13 She speaks poniards, and every word stabs if her breath were as terrible as her terminations, there were no living near her, she would infect to the north star Ib [257]
- 14 Silence is the perfectest herald of joy I were but little happy, if I could say how much Ib [319]
- 15 Speak, cousin, or, if you cannot, stop his mouth with a kiss Ib [322]
- 16 There was a star danced, and under that was I born
Ib [351]
- 17 Lie ten nights awake, carving the fashion of a new doublet Ib III [18]
- 18 Note this before my notes,
There's not a note of mine that's worth the noting
Ib [57]
- 19 Is it not strange that sheep's guts should hale souls out of men's bodies? Ib [62]
- 20 Sigh no more, ladies, sigh no more,
Men were deceivers ever,
One foot in sea, and one on shore,
To one thing constant never
Then sigh no more,
But let them go,
And be you blithe and bonny,
Converting all your sounds of woe
Into Hey nonny, nonny
Sing no more ditties, sing no mo
Of dumps so dull and heavy,
The fraud of men was ever so,
Since summer first was leavy. Ib [65]
- 21 Sits the wind in that corner? Much Ado, II iii [108]
- 22 Doth not the appetite alter? A man loves the meat in his youth that he cannot endure in his age
Ib [258]
- 23 Paper bullets of the brain Ib [261]
- 24 The world must be peopled When I said I would die a bachelor, I did not think I should live till I were married Ib [262]
- 25 Disdain and scorn ride sparkling in her eyes
Ib III i 51
- 26 One doth not know
How much an ill word may empoison liking Ib 85
- 27 Contempt, farewell! and maiden pride, adieu!
No glory lives behind the back of such
And, Benedick, love on, I will requite thee,
Taming my wild heart to thy loving hand Ib 109
- 28 He hath a heart as sound as a bell, and his tongue is the clapper, for what his heart thinks his tongue speaks Ib II [12]
- 29 BENEDICK
I have the toothache
- DON PEDRO
What! sigh for the toothache? Ib [21]
- 30 Well, every one can master a grief but he that has it.
Ib [28]
- 31 A' brushes his hat a mornings, what should that bode? Ib [41]
- 32 The barber's man hath been seen with him, and the old ornament of his cheek hath already stuffed tennis-balls Ib [45]
- 33 Are you good men and true? Ib III i
- 34 To be a well-favoured man is the gift of fortune, but to write and read comes by nature. Ib [14]
- 35 Well, for your favour, sir, why, give God thanks and make no boast of it, and for your writing and reading, let that appear when there is no need of such vanity You are thought here to be the most senseless and fit man for the constable of the watch
Ib [19]
- 36 You shall comprehend all vagrom men Ib [25]
- 37 SECOND WATCH
How, if a' will not stand?
DOGBERRY
Why, then, take no note of him, but let him go, and presently call the rest of the watch together, and thank God you are rid of a knave Ib [28]
- 38 For the watch to babble and to talk is most tolerable and not to be endured. Ib [36]
- 39 If they make you not then the better answer, you may say they are not the men you took them for
Ib [49]
- 40 The most peaceable way for you, if you do take a thief, is, to let him show himself what he is and steal out of your company Ib [61]
- 41 I know that Deformed Ib [132]
- 42 I thank God, I am as honest as any man living, that is an old man and no honestest than I Ib v [15]
- 43 Comparisons are odorous Ib [18]

- 1 If I were as tedious as a king, I could find in my heart to bestow it all of your worship.
Much Ado About Nothing, III. v. [23]
- 2 A good old man, sir; he will be talking: as they say,
'when the age is in, the wit is out.' Ib. [36]
- 3 Well, God's a good man. Ib. [39]
- 4 O! what men dare do! what men may do! what men daily do, not knowing what they do! Ib. IV. i. [19]
- 5 For it so falls out
That what we have we prize not to the worth
Whiles we enjoy it, but being lack'd and lost,
Why, then we rack the value, then we find
The virtue that possession would not show us
Whiles it was ours. Ib. [219]
- 6 The idea of her life shall sweetly creep
Into his study of imagination,
And every lovely organ of her life
Shall come apparell'd in more precious habit,
More moving-delicate, and full of life
Into the eye and prospect of his soul. Ib. [226]
- 7 Write down that they hope they serve God: and write God first; for God defend but God should go before such villains! Masters, it is proved already that you are little better than false knaves, and it will go near to be thought so shortly. Ib. II. [21]
- 8 Yea, marry, that's the efast way. Ib. [39]
- 9 Flat burglary as ever was committed. Ib. [54]
- 10 O that he were here to write me down an ass! but, masters, remember that I am an ass; though it be not written down, yet forget not that I am an ass.
Ib. [80]
- 11 A fellow that hath had losses; and one that hath two gowns, and everything handsome about him. Ib. [90]
- 12 Patch grief with proverbs. Ib. V. i. 17
- 13 For there was never yet philosopher
That could endure the toothache patiently. Ib. 35
- 14 In a false quarrel there is no true valour. Ib. [121]
- 15 What though care killed a cat, thou hast mettle enough in thee to kill care. Ib. [135]
- 16 No, I was not born under a riming planet.
Ib. II. [40]
- 17 The trumpet of his own virtues. Ib. [91]
- 18 Done to death by slanderous tongues. Ib. III. 3
- 19 The wolves have prey'd; and look, the gentle day,
Before the wheels of Phæbus, round about
Dapples the drowsy east with spots of grey. Ib. 25
- 20 Horribly stuff'd with epithets of war.
Othello, I. i. 14
- 21 A fellow almost damn'd in a fair wife. Ib. 21
- 22 The bookish theoric. Ib. 24
- 23 This counter-caster. Ib. 31
- 24 'Tis the curse of the service,
Preferment goes by letter and affection,
Not by the old gradation, where each second
Stood heir to the first. Ib. 35
- 25 I follow him to serve my turn upon him;
We cannot all be masters, nor all masters
Cannot be truly follow'd. Ib. 42
- 26 Wears out his time, much like his master's ass,
For nought but provender, and when he's old,
cashier'd;
Whip me such honest knaves. Othello, I. i. 47
- 27 In following him, I follow but myself. Ib. 58
- 28 But I will wear my heart upon my sleeve
For daws to peck at: I am not what I am. Ib. 64
- 29 An old black ram
Is tugging your white ewe. Ib. 88
- 30 'Zounds! sir, you are one of those that will not serve
God if the devil bid you. Ib. 108
- 31 Your daughter and the Moor are now making the beast with two backs. Ib. [117]
- 32 The gross clasps of a lascivious Moor. Ib. [127]
- 33 An extravagant and wheeling stranger
Of here and every where. Ib. [137]
- 34 I do hate him as I do hell-pains. Ib. [155]
- 35 I must show out a flag and sign of love,
Which is indeed but sign. Ib. [157]
- 36 Though in the trade of war I have slain men,
Yet do I hold it very stuff o' the conscience
To do no contriv'd murder: I lack iniquity Sometimes to do me service. Ib. II. 1
- 37 I fetch my life and being
From men of royal siege. Ib. 21
- 38 I would not my unhoused free condition
Put into circumscription and confine
For the sea's worth. Ib. 26
- 39 My parts, my title, and my perfect soul
Shall manifest me rightly. Ib. 31
- 40 Keep up your bright swords, for the dew will rust
them. Ib. 59
- 41 The wealthy curled darlings of our nation. Ib. 68
- 42 The sooty bosom
Of such a thing as thou. Ib. 70
- 43 My particular grief
Is of so flood-gate and o'erbearing nature
That it engulfs and swallows other sorrows
And it is still itself. Ib. III. 55
- 44 The bloody book of law
You shall yourself read in the bitter letter
After your own sense. Ib. 67
- 45 Most potent, grave, and reverend signiors,
My very noble and approv'd good masters,
That I have ta'en away this old man's daughter,
It is most true; true, I have married her:
The very head and front of my offending
Hath this extent, no more. Rude am I in my speech,
And little bless'd with the soft phrase of peace;
For since these arms of mine had seven years' pith,
Till now some nine moons wasted, they have us'd
Their dearest action in the tented field;
And little of this great world can I speak,
More than pertains to feats of broil and battle;
And therefore little shall I grace my cause
In speaking for myself. Yet, by your gracious patience,
I will a round unvarnish'd tale deliver
Of my whole course of love; what drugs, what charms,
What conjuration, and what mighty magic,
For such proceeding I am charg'd withal,
I won his daughter. Ib. 76

- 1 A maiden never bold;
Of spirit so still and quiet, that her motion
Blush'd at herself Othello, I. iii 94
- 2 Her father lov'd me, oft invited me,
Still question'd me the story of my life
From year to year, the battles, sieges, fortunes
That I have pass'd
I ran it through, even from my boyish days
To the very moment that he bade me tell it,
Wherein I spake of most disastrous chances,
Of moving accidents by flood and field
Of hair-breadth 'scapes i' the imminent deadly breach,
Of being taken by the insolent foe
And sold to slavery, of my redemption thence
And portance in my travel's history,
Wherein of antres vast and deserts idle,
Rough quarries, rocks and hills whose heads touch
heaven,
It was my hunt to speak, such was the process,
And of the Cannibals that each other eat,
The Anthropophagi, and men whose heads
Do grow beneath their shoulders This to hear
Would Desdemona seriously incline Ib. 128
- 3 And often did beguile her of her tears,
When I did speak of some distressful stroke
That my youth suffer'd My story being done,
She gave me for my pains a world of sighs
She swore, in faith, 'twas strange, 'twas passing strange,
'Twas pitiful, 'twas wondrous pitiful
She wish'd she had not heard it, yet she wish'd
That heaven had made her such a man, she thank'd me,
And bade me, if I had a friend that lov'd her,
I should but teach him how to tell my story,
And that would woo her Upon this hint I spake
She lov'd me for the dangers I had pass'd,
And I lov'd her that she did pity them
'This only is the witchcraft I have us'd' Ib 156
- 4 I do perceive here a divided duty. Ib 181
- 5 To mourn a mischief that is past and gone
Is the next way to draw new mischief on Ib 204
- 6 The robb'd that smiles steals something from the thief Ib 208
- 7 But words are words, I never yet did hear
That the bruised heart was pierced through the ear Ib 218
- 8 The tyrant custom, most grave senators,
Hath made the sluty and steel couch of war
My thrice driven bed of down Ib [230]
- 9 My heart's subdu'd
Even to the very quality of my lord Ib [252]
- 10 I saw Othello's visage in his mind Ib [254]
- 11 A moth of peace Ib [258]
- 12 DRABANTIO
She has deceiv'd her father, and may thee
OTHELLO
My life upon her faith! Ib [295]
- 13 I will incontinently drown myself Ib [307]
- 14 It is silliness to live when to live is torment, and then have we a prescription to die when death is our physician Ib [310]
- 15 Virtue! a fig! 'tis in ourselves that we are thus, or thus.
Our bodies are our gardens, to the which our wills are gardeners Othello, I. iii [323]
- 16 Put money in thy purse Ib [343]
- 17 The food that to him now is as luscious as locusts, shall be to him shortly as bitter as coloquintida. Ib [354]
- 18 There are many events in the womb of time which will be delivered Ib [377]
- 19 Thus do I ever make my fool my purse. Ib [379]
- 20 He holds me well;
The better shall my purpose work on him Ib [396]
- 21 Framed to make women false Ib [404]
- 22 The Moor is of a free and open nature,
That thinks men honest that but seem to be so Ib [405]
- 23 I have 't, it is engender'd, hell and night
Must bring this monstrous birth to the world's light. Ib [409]
- 24 Our great captain's captain Ib II. i 74
- 25 You are pictures out of doors,
Bells in your parlours, wild cats in your kitchens,
Saints in your injuries, devils being offended, Players in your housewifery, and housewives in your beds Ib 109
- 26 Do not put me to 't,
For I am nothing if not critical Ib 118
- 27 I am not merry, but I do beguile
The thing I am by seeming otherwise Ib 122
- 28 IAGO
She never yet was foolish that was fair,
I or even her folly help'd her to an heir.
DESDMONA
These are old fond paradoxes to make fools laugh i'
the alehouse Ib 136
- 29 IAGO
She that was ever fair and never proud,
Had tongue at will and yet was never loud,
Never lack'd gold and yet went never gay,
Fled from her wish and yet said 'Now I may,'
She that being anger'd, her revenge being nigh,
Bade her wrong stay and her displeasure fly,
She that in wisdom never was so frail
To change the cod's head for the salmon's tail,
She that could think and ne'er disclose her mind,
See suitors following and not look behind,
She was a wight, if ever such wight were,— DESDMONA
To do what?
IAGO
To suckle fools and chronicle small beer.
DESDMONA
O most lame and impotent conclusion! Ib 148
- 30 With as little a web as this will I ensnare as great a fly
as Cassio Ib [169]
- 31 OTHELLO
If it were now to die,
'Twere now to be most happy, for I fear
My soul hath her content so absolute
That not another comfort like to this Succeeds in unknown fate

- DESDEMONA:
 The heavens forbid
 But that our loves and comforts should increase
 Even as our days do grow! Othello, II. i. [192]
- 1 A slipper and subtle knave, a finder-out of occasions.
Ib. [247]
- 2 A pestilent complete knave! and the woman hath found him already. Ib. [253]
- 3 This poor trash of Venice. Ib. [315]
- 4 Make the Moor thank me, love me, and reward me
 For making him egregiously an ass. Ib. [320]
- 5 Let's teach ourselves that honourable stop,
 Not to outsport discretion. Ib. iii. 2
- 6 She is sport for Jove. Ib. [17]
- 7 I have very poor and unhappy brains for drinking:
 I could well wish courtesy would invent some other custom of entertainment. Ib. [34]
- 8 My boat sails freely, both with wind and stream.
Ib. [66]
- 9 And let me the canakin clink:
 A soldier's a man;
 A life's but a span;
 Why then let a soldier drink. Ib. [73]
- 10 England, where indeed they are most potent in potting. Ib. [79]
- 11 King Stephen was a worthy peer,
 His breeches cost him but a crown;
 He held them sixpence all too dear,
 With that he call'd the tailor lown. Ib. [93]
- 12 'Tis pride that pulls the country down. Ib. [99]
- 13 Well, God's above all; and there be souls must be saved, and there be souls must not be saved.
Ib. [106]
- 14 The lieutenant is to be saved before the ancient.
Ib. [115]
- 15 He is a soldier fit to stand by Cæsar
 And give direction. Ib. [128]
- 16 Silence that dreadful bell! it frights the isle
 From her propriety. Ib. [177]
- 17 But men are men; the best sometimes forget. Ib. [243]
- 18 Thy honesty and love doth mince this matter.
Ib. [249]
- 19 Cassio, I love thee;
 But never more be officer of mine. Ib. [250]
- 20 Reputation, reputation, reputation! O! I have lost my reputation. I have lost the immortal part of myself, and what remains is bestial. My reputation, Iago, my reputation! Ib. [264]
- 21 O thou invisible spirit of wine! if thou hast no name to be known by, let us call thee devil! Ib. [285]
- 22 O God! that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains; that we should,
 with joy, pleasance, revel, and applause, transform ourselves into beasts. Ib. [293]
- 23 CASSIO:
 Every inordinate cup is unblessed, and the ingredient is a devil.
- IAGO:
 Come, come; good wine is a good familiar creature if it be well used; exclaim no more against it.
Ib. [312]
- 24 How poor are they that have not patience!
 What wound did ever heal but by degrees?
Othello, II. iii. [379]
- 25 O! thereby hangs a tail. Ib. III. i. [8]
- 26 Talk him out of patience. Ib. III. 23
- 27 Excellent wretch! Perdition catch my soul
 But I do love thee! and when I love thee not,
 Chaos is come again. Ib. 90
- 28 By heaven, he echoes me,
 As if there were some monster in his thought
 Too hideous to be shown. Ib. 106
- 29 Men should be what they seem;
 Or those that be not, would they might seem none!
Ib. 126
- 30 Good name in man and woman, dear my lord,
 Is the immediate jewel of their souls;
 Who steals my purse steals trash; 'tis something,
 nothing;
 'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
 But he that filches from me my good name
 Robs me of that which not enriches him,
 And makes me poor indeed. Ib. 155
- 31 O! beware, my lord, of jealousy;
 It is the green-ey'd monster which doth mock
 The meat it feeds on. Ib. 165
- 32 But, O! what damned minutes tells he o'er
 Who dotes, yet doubts; suspects, yet soundly loves!
Ib. 169
- 33 Poor and content is rich, and rich enough. Ib. 172
- 34 Think'st thou I'd make a life of jealousy,
 To follow still the changes of the moon
 With fresh suspicions? No; to be once in doubt
 Is once to be resolved. Ib. 177
- 35 In Venice they do let heaven see the pranks
 They dare not show their husbands; their best conscience
 Is not to leave 't undone, but keep 't unknown.
Ib. 202
- 36 I humbly do beseech you of your pardon
 For too much loving you. Ib. 212
- 37 This fellow's of exceeding honesty. Ib. 258
- 38 If I do prove her haggard,
 Though that her jesses were my dear heart-strings,
 I'd whistle her off and let her down the wind,
 To prey at fortune. Ib. 260
- 39 For I am declin'd
 Into the vale of years. Ib. 265
- 40 O curse of marriage!
 That we can call these delicate creatures ours,
 And not their appetites. I had rather be a toad,
 And live upon the vapour of a dungeon,
 Than keep a corner in the thing I love
 For others' uses. Ib. 268
- 41 If she be false, O! then heaven mocks itself.
 I'll not believe it. Ib. 278
- 42 Trifles light as air
 Are to the jealous confirmations strong
 As proofs of holy writ. Ib. 323
- 43 Not poppy, nor mandragora,
 Nor all the drowsy syrups of the world,
 Shall ever medicine thee to that sweet sleep
 Which thou ow'dst yesterday. Ib. 331

- 1 Avunt! be gone! thou hast set me on the rack,
I swear 'tis better to be much abus'd
Than but to know 't a little Othello, III III 336
- 2 He that is robb'd, not wanting what is stol'n,
Let him not know 't and he's not robb'd at all Ib 343
- 3 I had been happy, if the general camp,
Pioners and all, had tasted her sweet body,
So I had nothing known O! now, for ever
Farewell the tranquil mind, farewell content!
Farewell the plumed troop and the big wars
That make ambition virtue! O, farewell!
I farewell the neighing steed and the shrill trumpet,
The spirit stirring drum, the ear piercing fife,
The royal banner, and all quality,
Pride, pomp, and circumstance of glorious war!
And, O you mortal engines, whose rude throats
The immortal Jove's dread clamours counterfeit, Farewell! Othello's occupation's gone! Ib 346
- 4 Be sure of it, give me the ocular proof Ib 361
- 5 Never pray more abandon all remorse,
On horror's head horrors accumulate Ib 370
- 6 O wretched fool!
That liv'st to make thee honesty a vice
O monstrous world! Take note, take note, O world!
To be direct and honest is not safe Ib 376
- 7 By the world,
I think my wife be honest and think she is not,
I think that thou art just and think thou art not Ib 384
- 8 There are a kind of men so loose of soul
That in their sleeps will mutter their affairs Ib 417
- 9 But this denoted a foregone conclusion Ib 429
- 10 Swell bosom, with thy fraught,
For 'tis of aspics' tongues! Ib 450
- 11 O! blood, blood, blood! Ib 452
- 12 Like to the Pontick sea
Whose icy current and compulsive course
Ne'er feels retiring ebb but keeps due on
To the Propontic and the Hellespont,
Even so my bloody thoughts, with violent pace,
Shall ne'er look back, ne'er ebb to humble love,
Till that a capable and wide revenge
Swallow them up Ib 454
- 13 For here's a young and sweating devil here,
That commonly rebels Ib IV 43
- 14 The hearts of old gave hands,
But our new heraldry is hands not hearts Ib 47
- 15 That handkerchief
Did an Egyptian to my mother give Ib 56
- 16 'Tis true, there's magic in the web of it,
A sibyl, that had number'd in the world
The sun to course two hundred compasses,
In her prophetic fury sew'd the work,
The worms were hallow'd that did breed the silk,
And it was dy'd in mummy which the skilful Conserv'd of maidens' hearts Ib 70
- 17 But jealous souls will not be answer'd so,
They are not ever jealous for the cause,
But jealous for they are jealous Ib 158
- 18 What! keep a week away? seven days and nights?
Light score eight hours? and lovers' absent hours,
More tedious than the dial eight score times?
O, weary reckoning! Othello, III IV 172
- 19 I do attend here on the general,
And think it no addition nor my wish
To have him see me woman'd Ib 191
- 20 O! it comes o'er my memory,
As doth the raven o'er the infected house,
Boding to all Ib IV 1 20
- 21 Many worthy and chaste dames even thus,
All guiltless, meet reproach Ib 47
- 22 To beguile many and be beguiled by one Ib 93
- 23 They laugh that win Ib [123]
- 24 I would have him nine years a killing Ib [186]
- 25 My heart is turned to stone, I strike it, and it hurts
my hand Ib [190]
- 26 O! the world hath not a sweeter creature, she might lie by an emperor's side and command him tasks Ib [192]
- 27 O, she will sing the savageness out of a bear Ib [195]
- 28 But yet the pity of it, Iago! O! Iago, the pity of it
Iago! Ib [205]
- 29 The justice of it pleases Ib [221]
- 30 O well painted passion! Ib [265]
- 31 Goats and monkeys! Ib [274]
- 32 Whose solid virtue
The shot of accident nor dart of chance Could neither graze nor pierce? Ib [277]
- 33 Your mystery, your mystery, nay, dispatch Ib II 29
- 34 Had it pleas'd heaven
To try me with affliction had he rain'd
All kinds of sores, and shames, on my bare head,
Steep'd me in poverty to the very lips
Given to captivity me and my utmost hopes
I should have found in some part of my soul
A drop of patience, but, alas! to make me
The fixed figure for the time of scorn
To point his slow and moving finger at,
Yet could I bear that too, well, very well
But there, where I have garner'd up my heart,
Where either I must live or bear no life,
The fountain from the which my current runs
Or else dries up, to be discarded thence!
Or keep it as a cistern for foul toads
To knot and gender in! Turn thy complexion there,
Patience, thou young and rose lipp'd cherubin,
Ay, there, look grim as hell! Ib 46
- 35 O thou weed!
Who art so lovely fair and smell'st so sweet
That the sense aches at thee, would thou hadst ne'er been born! Ib 66
- 36 Heaven stops the nose at it and the moon winks Ib 76
- 37 I took you for that cunning whore of Venice
That married with Othello You, mistress,
That have the office opposite to Saint Peter,
And I keep the gate of hell! Ib 88

- 1 I will be hang'd, if some eternal villain,
Some busy and insinuating rogue,
Some cogging cozening slave, to get some office,
Have not devis'd this slander. Othello, iv. ii. 130
- 2 O heaven! that such companions thou'dst unfold,
And put in every honest hand a whip
To lash the rascals naked through the world,
Even from the east to the west! Ib. 141
- 3 Unkindness may do much;
And his unkindness may defeat my life,
But never taint my love. Ib. 159
- 4 Why, now I see there's mettle in thee, and even from this instant do build on thee a better opinion than ever before. Ib. [207]
- 5 EMILIA:
I would you had never seen him.
DESDEMONA:
So would not I; my love doth so approve him.
Ib. iii. 18
- 6 The poor soul sat sighing by a sycamore tree,
Sing all a green willow;
Her hand on her bosom, her head on her knee,
Sing willow, willow, willow:
The fresh streams ran by her, and murmur'd her moans;
Sing willow, willow, willow:
Her salt tears fell from her, and soften'd the stones;—
Sing willow, willow, willow:
Sing all a green willow must be my garland. Ib. [41]
- 7 DESDEMONA:
Mine eyes do itch;
Doth that bode weeping?
EMILIA:
'Tis neither here nor there. Ib. [59]
- 8 Who would not make her husband a cuckold to make him a monarch? Ib. [76]
- 9 He hath a daily beauty in his life
That makes me ugly. Ib. v. i. 19
- 10 This is the night
That either makes me or fordoes me quite. Ib. 128
- 11 It is the cause, it is the cause, my soul;
Let me not name it to you, you chaste stars!
It is the cause. Yet I'll not shed her blood,
Nor scar that whiter skin of hers than snow,
And smooth as monumental alabaster.
Yet she must die, else she'll betray more men.
Put out the light, and then put out the light:
If I quench thee, thou flaming minister,
I can again thy former light restore,
Should I repent me; but once put out thy light,
Thou cunning'st pattern of excelling nature,
I know not where is that Promethean heat
That can thy light relume. When I have pluck'd the rose,
I cannot give it vital growth again,
It needs must wither: I'll smell it on the tree.
O balmy breath, that dost almost persuade Justice to break her sword! One more, one more.
Be thus when thou art dead, and I will kill thee,
And love thee after. One more, and this the last:
So sweet was ne'er so fatal. I must weep,
But they are cruel tears; this sorrow's heavenly,
It strikes where it doth love. Ib. ii. 1
- 12 If you bethink yourself of any crime
Unreconcil'd as yet to heaven and grace,
Solicit for it straight. Othello, v. ii. 26
- 13 Alas! why gnaw you so your nether lip?
Some bloody passion shakes your very frame;
These are portents, but yet, I hope, I hope
They do not point on me. Ib. 43
- 14 For to deny each article with oath
Cannot remove nor choke the strong conception
That I do groan withal. Ib. 54
- 15 Had all his hairs been lives, my great revenge
Had stomach for them all. Ib. 74
- 16 It is the very error of the moon;
She comes more near the earth than she was wont,
And makes men mad. Ib. 107
- 17 Not Cassio kill'd! then murder's out of tune,
And sweet revenge grows harsh. Ib. 113
- 18 A guiltless death I die. Ib. 120
- 19 Nobody; I myself; farewell. Ib. 122
- 20 OTHELLO:
She's like a liar gone to burning hell;
'Twas I that kill'd her.
EMILIA:
O! the more angel she,
And you the blacker devil. Ib. 127
- 21 Nay, had she been true,
If heaven would make me such another world
Of one entire and perfect chrysolite,
I'd not have sold her for it. Ib. 141
- 22 She was too fond of her most filthy bargain. Ib. 155
- 23 Thou hast not half the power to do me harm
As I have to be hurt. Ib. 160
- 24 You told a lie, an odious damned lie;
Upon my soul, a lie, a wicked lie. Ib. 178
- 25 Curse his better angel from his side,
And fall to reprobation. Ib. 206
- 26 With that recognizance and pledge of love. Ib. 212
- 27 Are there no stones in heaven
But what serve for the thunder? Ib. 232
- 28 Every puny whipster gets my sword. Ib. 242
- 29 I will play the swan,
And die in music. Ib. 245
- 30 Who can control his fate? Ib. 264
- 31 Here is my journey's end, here is my butt,
And very sea-mark of my utmost sail. Ib. 266
- 32 O ill-starr'd wench!
Pale as thy smock! when we shall meet at compt,
This look of thine will hurl my soul from heaven,
And fiends will snatch at it. Cold, cold, my girl!
Even like thy chastity.
O! cursed, cursed slave. Whip me, ye devils,
From the possession of this heavenly sight!
Blow me about in winds! roast me in sulphur!
Wash me in steep-down gulfs of liquid fire!
O Desdemona! Desdemona! dead! Ib. 271
- 33 I look down towards his feet; but that's a fable.
If that thou be'st a devil, I cannot kill thee. Ib. 285
- 34 An honourable murderer, if you will;
For nought did I in hate, but all in honour. Ib. 293

1 OTHELLO

Will you, I pray, demand that demi-devil
Why he hath thus ensnar'd my soul and body?

IAGO

Demand me nothing what you know, you know
From this time forth I never will speak word

Othello, v 11 300

2 I have done the state some service, and they know 't,
No more of that I pray you in your letters,
When you shall these unlucky deeds relate,
Speak of me as I am, nothing extenuate
Nor set down ought in malice then must you speak
Of one that lov'd not wisely but too well,
Of one not easily jealous, but, being wrought,
Perplex'd in the extreme, of one whose hand,
Like the base Indian threw a pearl away
Richer than all his tribe, of one whose subdu'd eyes
Albeit unused to the melting mood
Drop tears as fast as the Arabian trees
Their med'cinable gum Set you down this,
And say besides, that in Aleppo once,
Where a malignant and a turban'd Turk
Beat a Venetian and traduc'd the state
I took by the throat the circumcised dog,
And smote him thus

Ib 338

3 All that's spoke is marred

Ib 356

4 I kiss'd thee ere I kill'd thee.

Ib 357

5 See, where she comes apparell'd like the spring
Pericles, I 1 12

6 Few love to hear the sins they love to act

Ib 92

7 O you gods!
Why do you make us love your goodly gifts,
And snatch them straight away?

Ib III 1 22

8 Old John of Gaunt, time honour'd Lancaster
King Richard II, I 1 1

9 Let's purge this choler without letting blood

Ib 153

10 The purest treasure mortal times afford
Is spotless reputation, that away,
Men are but gilded loam or painted clay
A jewel in a ten times barr'd up chest
Is a bold spirit in a loyal breast
Mine honour is my life, both grow in one,
Take honour from me, and my life is done

Ib 177

11 We were not born to sue, but to command

Ib 196

12 Stay, stay, the king hath thrown his warder down

Ib III 118

13 This must my comfort be,
That sun that warms you here shall shine on me

Ib 144

14 The language I have learn'd these forty years,
My native English, now I must forego,
And now my tongue's use is to me no more
Than an unstrung viol or a harp

Ib 159

15 I am too old to fawn upon a nurse,
Too far in years to be a pupil now

Ib 170

16 How long a time lies in one little word!
Four lagging winters and four wanton springs
End in a word, such is the breath of kings

Ib 213

17 Things sweet to taste prove in digestion sour

Ib 236

18 Boast of nothing else
But that I was a journeyman to grief?

Ib 273

19 All places that the eye of heaven visits
Are to a wise man ports and happy havens.
Teach thy necessity to reason thus,
There is no virtue like necessity

King Richard II, I III 275

20 O! who can hold a fire in his hand
By thinking on the frosty Caucasus?
Or cloy the hungry edge of appetite,
By bare imagination of a feast?
Or wallow naked in December snow
By thinking on fantastic summer's heat?
O, no! the apprehension of the good
Gives but the greater feeling to the worse.

Ib 294

21 Methinks I am a prophet new inspir'd,
And thus expiring do foretell of him
His rash fierce blaze of riot cannot last,
For violent fires soon burn out themselves,
Small showers last long but sudden storms are short
He tires betimes that spurs too fast betimes

Ib II 1 31

22 This royal throne of kings, this scepter'd isle,
This earth of majesty, this seat of Mars,
This other Eden, demi-paradise,
This fortress built by Nature for herself
Against infection and the hand of war,
This happy breed of men, this little world,
This precious stone set in the silver sea,
Which serves it in the office of a wall,
Or as a moat defensive to a house,
Against the envy of less happier lands,
This blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England,
This nurse, this teeming womb of royal kings,
Fear'd by their breed and famous by their birth,
Renowned for their deeds as far from home,—
For Christian service and true chivalry,—
As is the sepulchre in stubborn Jewry,
Of the world's ransom, blessed Mary's Son
This land of such dear souls, this dear, dear land

Ib 40

23 England, bound in with the triumphant sea

Ib 61

24 That England, that was wont to conquer others
Hath made a shameful conquest of itself

27 Believe me noble lord,
I am a stranger here in Gloucestershire
These high wild hills and rough uneven ways
Draw out our miles and make them wearisome

Ib III 2

28 I count myself in nothing else so happy
As in a soul remembering my good friends

- 1 Not all the water in the rough rude sea
Can wash the balm from an anointed king;
The breath of worldly men cannot depose
The deputy elected by the Lord.
For every man that Bolingbroke hath press'd
To lift shrewd steel against our golden crown,
God for his Richard hath in heavenly pay
A glorious angel; then, if angels fight, Weak men must fall, for heaven still guards the right. King Richard II, III. ii. 54
- 2 O! call back yesterday, bid time return. Ib. 69
- 3 Is not the king's name twenty thousand names?
Arm, arm, my name! A puny subject strikes
At thy great glory. Ib. 85
- 4 The worst is death, and death will have his day. Ib. 103
- 5 Sweet love, I see, changing his property,
Turns to the sourest and most deadly hate. Ib. 135
- 6 Of comfort no man speak:
Let's talk of graves, of worms, and epitaphs;
Make dust our paper, and with rainy eyes
Write sorrow on the bosom of the earth.
Let's choose executors, and talk of wills. Ib. 144
- 7 For God's sake, let us sit upon the ground
And tell sad stories of the death of kings:
How some have been depos'd, some slain in war,
Some haunted by the ghosts they have depos'd,
Some poison'd by their wives, some sleeping kill'd;
All murder'd: for within the hollow crown
That rounds the mortal temples of a king
Keeps Death his court, and there the antick sits,
Scoffing his state and grinning at his pomp;
Allowing him a breath, a little scene,
To monarchize, be fear'd, and kill with looks,
Infusing him with self and vain conceit
As if this flesh which walls about our life
Were brass impregnable; and humour'd thus Comes at the last, and with a little pin
Bores through his castle wall, and farewell king!
Ib. 155
- 8 See, see, King Richard doth himself appear,
As doth the blushing discontented sun
From out the fiery portal of the east. Ib. iii. 62
- 9 O! that I were as great
As is my grief, or lesser than my name,
Or that I could forget what I have been,
Or not remember what I must be now. Ib. 136
- 10 What must the king do now? Must he submit?
The king shall do it: must he be depos'd?
The king shall be contented: must he lose
The name of king? o' God's name, let it go.
I'll give my jewels for a set of beads,
My gorgeous palace for a hermitage,
My gay apparel for an almsman's gown,
My figur'd goblets for a dish of wood,
My sceptre for a palmer's walking staff,
My subjects for a pair of carved saints,
And my large kingdom for a little grave,
A little little grave, an obscure grave;
Or I'll be buried in the king's highway,
Some way of common trade, where subjects' feet
May hourly trample on their sovereign's head;
For on my heart they tread now whilst I live;
And buried once, why not upon my head? Ib. 143
- 11 You make a leg. Ib. 175
- 12 Go, bind thou up yon dangling apriocks,
Which, like unruly children, make their sire
Stoop with oppression of their prodigal weight.
King Richard II, III. iv. 29
- 13 Old Adam's likeness, set to dress this garden. Ib. 73
- 14 Here did she fall a tear; here, in this place,
I'll set a bank of rue, sour herb of grace;
Rue, even for ruth, here shortly shall be seen,
In the remembrance of a weeping queen. Ib. 104
- 15 If I dare eat, or drink, or breathe, or live,
I dare meet Surrey in a wilderness,
And spit upon him, whilst I say he lies,
And lies, and lies. Ib. iv. i. 73
- 16 And there at Venice gave
His body to that pleasant country's earth,
And his pure soul unto his captain Christ,
Under whose colours he had fought so long. Ib. 97
- 17 Peace shall go sleep with Turks and infidels. Ib. 139
- 18 God save the king! Will no man say, amen?
Am I both priest and clerk? Well then, amen. Ib. 172
- 19 Give me the crown. Here, cousin, seize the crown;
Here cousin,
On this side my hand and on that side thine.
Now is this golden crown like a deep well
That owes two buckets filling one another;
The emptier ever dancing in the air,
The other down, unseen, and full of water:
That bucket down and full of tears am I,
Drinking my griefs, whilst you mount up on high. Ib. 181
- 20 You may my glories and my state depose,
But not my griefs; still am I king of those. Ib. 192
- 21 Now mark me how I will undo myself. Ib. 203
- 22 With mine own tears I wash away my balm,
With mine own hands I give away my crown. Ib. 207
- 23 God pardon all oaths that are broke to me!
God keep all vows unbroke are made to thee! Ib. 214
- 24 A mockery king of snow. Ib. 260
- 25 An if my word be sterling yet in England. Ib. 264
- 26 Julius Cæsar's ill-erected tower. Ib. v. i. 2
- 27 I am sworn brother, sweet,
To grim Necessity, and he and I
Will keep a league till death. Ib. 20
- 28 That were some love but little policy. Ib. 84
- 29 As in a theatre, the eyes of men,
After a well-grac'd actor leaves the stage,
Are idly bent on him that enters next,
Thinking his prattle to be tedious. Ib. ii. 23
- 30 Who are the violets now
That strew the green lap of the new come spring?
Ib. 46
- 31 Give me my boots I say. Ib. 77 and 87
- 32 He prays but faintly and would be denied. Ib. iii. 103
- 33 I have been studying how I may compare
This prison where I live unto the world. Ib. v. 1
- 34 How sour sweet music is,
When time is broke, and no proportion kept!
So is it in the music of men's lives. Ib. 42

- 1 Mount, mount, my soul! thy seat is up on high,
Whilst my gross flesh sinks downwards here to die
King Richard II, v v 112
- 2 Now is the winter of our discontent
Made glorious summer by this sun of York
King Richard III, i 1 1
- 3 Our stern alarms changed to merry meetings,
Our dreadful marches to delightful measures Ib 7
- 4 He capers nimbly in a lady's chamber
To the lascivious pleasing of a lute Ib 12
- 5 This weak piping time of peace Ib 24
- 6 And therefore, since I cannot prove a lover,
I am determined to prove a villain Ib 28

- 11 Since every Jack became a gentleman
There's many a gentle person made a Jack Ib 72
- 12 And thus I clothe my naked villany
With odd old ends stol'n forth of holy writ,
And seem a saint when most I play the devil
Ib 336
- 13 O, I have pass'd a miserable night,
So full of ugly sights, of ghastly dreams,
That, as I am a Christian faithful man,
I would not spend another such a night,
Though 'twere to buy a world of happy days
So full of dismal terror was the time! Ib 14 2
- 14 Lord, Lord! methought what pain it was to drown
What dreadful noise of water in mine ears!
What sights of ugly death within mine eyes!
Methought I saw a thousand fearful wracks,
A thousand men that fishes gnaw'd upon,
Wedges of gold, great anchors, heaps of pearl,
Inestimable stones, unvalu'd jewels,
All scatter'd in the bottom of the sea
Some lay in dead men's skulls and in those holes
Where eyes did once inhabit there were crept
As twere in scorn of eyes, reflecting gems,
That woo'd the slumy bottom of the deep,
And mock'd the dead bones that lay scatter'd by
Ib 21

King Richard III, iv 11 115
- 25 The sons of Edward sleep in Abraham's bosom
Ib 111, 38
- 26 Let not the heavens hear these tell tale women
Rail on the Lord's anointed Ib 11 150
- 27 A grievous burthen was thy birth to me,
Tetchy and wayward was thy infancy Ib 168

Ib 359
- 29 Harp not on that string Ib 365
- 30 Relenting fool and shallow, changing woman! Ib 432
- 31 Is the chair empty? is the sword unsway'd?
Is the king dead? the empire unpossess'd? Ib 470
- 32 Thus far into the bowels of the land
Have we march'd on without impediment
Ib 11 3
- 33 True hope is swift and flies with swallow's wings,
Kings it makes gods, and meaner creatures kings
Ib 23
- 34 The king's name is a tower of strength Ib 111 12
- 35 Give me another horse! bind up my wounds!
Have mercy, Jesu! Soft! I did but dream
O coward conscience, how dost thou afflict me!
Ib 178
- 36 My conscience hath a thousand several tongues,
And every tongue brings in a several tale,
And every tale condemns me for a villain Ib 194
- 37 I shall despair. There is no creature loves me,
And if I die, no soul will pity me
Nay, wherefore should they, since that I myself
Find in myself no pity to myself? Ib 201
- 38 By the apostle Paul shadows to night
Have struck more terror to the soul of Richard
Than can the substance of ten thousand soldiers
Ib 217
- 39 Jockey of Norfolk, be not too bold,
For Dickon thy master is bought and sold Ib 305
- 40 A thing devised by the enemy Ib 307
- 41 Conscience is but a word that cowards use, Devis'd at first to keep the strong in awe Ib 310
- 42 A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse! Ib 14 7

Do you bite your thumb at us, sir?
SAMPSON
Is the law of our side if I say ay?
GREGORY
No
SAMPSON
No, sir, I do not bite my thumb at you, sir, but I bite
my thumb, sir Ib 11 1 [52]
- 47 Gregory, remember thy swashing blow Ib [68]
- 48 Saint seducing gold Ib [220]

- 1 And 'tis not hard, I think,
For men so old as we to keep the peace.
Romeo and Juliet, 1. ii. 2
- 2 PARIS:
Younger than she are happy mothers made.
CAPULET:
And too soon marr'd are those so early made. Ib. 12
- 3 And then my husband—God be with his soul!
A' was a merry man—took up the child:
'Yea,' quoth he, 'dost thou fall upon thy face?
Thou wilt fall backward when thou hast more wit;
Wilt thou not, Jule?' and, by my halidom,
The pretty wretch left crying, and said 'Ay.'
Ib. iii. 39
- 4 Pretty fool, it stinted and said 'Ay'. Ib. 48
- 5 I am proverb'd with a grandsire phrase;
I'll be a candle-holder, and look on. Ib. iv. 37
- 6 Come, we burn daylight, ho! Ib. 43
- 7 O! then, I see, Queen Mab hath been with you. . . .
She is the fairies' midwife, and she comes
In shape no bigger than an agate-stone
On the forefinger of an alderman,
Drawn with a team of little atomies
Athwart men's noses as they lie asleep:
Her waggon-spokes made of long spinners' legs;
The cover, of the wings of grasshoppers;
The traces, of the smallest spider's web;
The collars, of the moonshine's watery beams;
Her whip, of cricket's bone; the lash, of film;
Her waggoner, a small grey-coated gnat,
Not half so big as a round little worm
Prick'd from the lazy finger of a maid;
Her chariot is an empty hazel-nut,
Made by the joiner squirrel or old grub,
Time out o' mind the fairies' coach-makers.
And in this state she gallops night by night
Through lovers' brains, and then they dream of love;
O'er courtiers' knees, that dream on curtsies straight;
O'er lawyers' fingers, who straight dream on fees;
O'er ladies' lips, who straight on kisses dream;
Which oft the angry Mab with blisters plagues,
Because their breaths with sweetmeats tainted are.
Sometimes she gallops o'er a courtier's nose,
And then dreams he of smelling out a suit;
And sometimes comes she with a tithe-pig's tail,
Tickling a parson's nose as a' lies asleep,
Then dreams he of another benefice;
Sometimes she driveth o'er a soldier's neck,
And then dreams he of cutting foreign throats,
Of breaches, ambuscadoes, Spanish blades,
Of healths five fathom deep; and then anon
Drums in his ear, at which he starts and wakes;
And, being thus frightened, swears a prayer or two,
And sleeps again. This is that very Mab
That plats the manes of horses in the night;
And bakes the elf-locks in foul sluttish hairs,
Which once untangled much misfortune bodes;
This is the hag, when maids lie on their backs,
That presses them and learns them first to bear,
Making them women of good carriage. Ib. 53
- 8 For you and I are past our dancing days. Ib. v. [35]
- 9 O! she doth teach the torches to burn bright.
It seems she hangs upon the cheek of night
Like a rich jewel in an Ethiop's ear;
Beauty too rich for use, for earth too dear. Ib. [48]
- 10 We have a trifling foolish banquet towards. Ib. [126]
- 11 My only love sprung from my only hate!
Romeo and Juliet, 1. v. [142]
- 12 Young Adam Cupid, he that shot so trim
When King Cophetua lov'd the beggar-maid.
Ib. ii. i. 13
- 13 He jests at scars, that never felt a wound.
But, soft! what light through yonder window breaks?
It is the east, and Juliet is the sun. Ib. ii. 1
- 14 See! how she leans her cheek upon her hand:
O! that I were a glove upon that hand,
That I might touch that cheek. Ib. 23
- 15 O Romeo, Romeo! wherefore art thou Romeo?
Ib. 33
- 16 What's in a name? that which we call a rose
By any other name would smell as sweet. Ib. 43
- 17 For stony limits cannot hold love out. Ib. 67
- 18 Thou know'st the mask of night is on my face,
Else would a maiden blush bepaint my cheek.
Ib. 85
- 19 Fain would I dwell on form, fain, fain deny
What I have spoke: but farewell compliment! Ib. 88
- 20 At lovers' perjuries,
They say, Jove laughs. O gentle Romeo!
If thou dost love, pronounce it faithfully:
Or if thou think'st I am too quickly won,
I'll frown and be perverse and say thee nay,
So thou wilt woo; but else, not for the world.
In truth, fair Montague, I am too fond. Ib. 92
- 21 I'll prove more true
Than those that have more cunning to be strange.
Ib. 100
- 22 ROMEO:
Lady, by yonder blessed moon I swear
That tips with silver all these fruit-tree tops,— JULIET:
O! swear not by the moon, the inconstant moon,
That monthly changes in her circled orb,
Lest that thy love prove likewise variable. Ib. 107
- 23 Do not swear at all;
Or, if thou wilt, swear by thy gracious self,
Which is the god of my idolatry. Ib. 112
- 24 It is too rash, too unadvis'd, too sudden;
Too like the lightning, which doth cease to be Ere one can say it lightens. Sweet, good-night!
This bud of love, by summer's ripening breath,
May prove a beauteous flower when next we meet.
Ib. 118
- 25 Love goes toward love, as schoolboys from their books;
But love from love, toward school with heavy looks.
Ib. 156
- 26 O! for a falconer's voice,
To lure this tassel-gentle back again.
Bondage is hoarse, and may not speak aloud,
Else would I tear the cave where Echo lies. Ib. 158
- 27 It is my soul that calls upon my name:
How silver-sweet sound lovers' tongues by night,
Like softest music to attending ears! Ib. 164
- 28 'Tis almost morning; I would have thee gone;
And yet no further than a wanton's bird,
Who lets it hop a little from her hand,
Like a poor prisoner in his twisted gyves,
And with a silk thread plucks it back again,
So loving-jealous of his liberty. Ib. 176

- 1 JULIET
Yet I should kill thee with much cherishing
Good night, good night! parting is such sweet sorrow
That I shall say good night till it be morrow
ROMEO
Sleep dwell upon thine eyes, peace in thy breast!
Would I were sleep and peace, so sweet to rest!
Romeo and Juliet, 11 11 183
- 2 Wisely and slow, they stumble that run fast
Ib 111 94
- 3 One, two, and the third in your bosom
Ib 11 [24]
- 4 O flesh, flesh, how art thou fishified!
Ib [41]
- 5 I am the very pink of courtesies
Ib [63]
- 6 A gentleman nurse, that loves to hear himself talk, and will speak more in a minute than he will stand to in a month
Ib [156]
- 7 Two may keep counsel, putting one away
Ib [211]
- 8 These violent delights have violent ends,
And in their triumph die
Ib 11 9
- 9 Therefore love moderately, long love doth so,
Too swift arrives as tardy as too slow
Ib 14
- 10 O! so light a foot
Will ne'er wear out the everlasting flint
Ib 16
- 11 Thy head is as full of quarrels as an egg is full of meat
Ib 111 1 [23]
- 12 A word and a blow
Ib [43]
- 13 Men's eyes were made to look, and let them gaze,
I will not budge for no man's pleasure, I
Ib [59]
- 14 No 'tis not so deep as a well, nor so wide as a church door, but 'tis enough, 'twill serve ask for me tomorrow, and you shall find me a grave man I am peppered, I warrant, for this world
Ib [100]
- 15 A plague o' both your houses!
They have made worms' meat of me
Ib [112]

Thou sober suited matron, all in black
Ib 10
- 19 For thou wilt lie upon the wings of night,
Whiter than new snow on a raven's back
Ib 18
- 20 Give me my Romeo and, when he shall die,
Take him and cut him out in little stars
And he will make the face of heaven so fine
That all the world will be in love with night,
And pay no worship to the garish sun
Ib 21
- 21 He was not born to shame
Upon his brow shame is ashamed to sit
Ib 91
- 22 Romeo, come forth, come forth, thou fearful man
Affliction is enamour'd of thy parts,
And thou art wedded to calamity

- 26 Wilt thou be gone? it is not yet near day
It was the nightingale and not the lark
That pierc'd the fearful hollow of thine ear,
Nightly she sings on yon pomegranate tree
Believe me, love, it was the nightingale
Ib v 1
- 27 Night's candles are burnt out, and jocund day
Stands tip-toe on the misty mountain tops
Romeo and Juliet, 111 v 9
- 28 Villain and he be many miles asunder

- 33 All things that we ordained festival,
Turn from their office to black funeral,
Our instruments to melancholy bells,
Our wedding cheer to a sad burial feast,
Our solemn hymns to sullen dirges change,
Our bridal flowers serve for a buried corse,
And all things change them to the contrary
Ib v 84
- 34 My bosom's lord sits lightly in his throne

- 43 Beauty's ensign yet
Is crimson in thy lips and in thy cheeks,
And death's pale flag is not advanced there
Ib 94
- 44 Shall I believe
That unsubstantial Death is amorous
And that the lean abhorred monster keeps
Thee here in dark to be his paramour?
For fear of that I still will stay with thee,
And never from this palace of dim night
Depart again: here, here will I remain
With worms that are thy chambermaids, O! here
Will I set up my everlasting rest
And shake the yoke of unauspicious stars
From this world wearied flesh: Eyes look your last!
Arms take your last embrace! and, lips, O you
The doors of breath, seal with a righteous kiss
A dateless bargain to engrossing death!

Conqueror The Taming of the Shrew, Induction 1 [4]
- 46 As Stephen Sly, and old John Naps of Greece,
And Peter Turf, and Henry Pimpernell,
And twenty more such names and men as these
Which never were nor no man ever saw
Ib 11 [95]
- 47 No profit grows where is no pleasure ta'en,
In brief, sir, study what you most affect
Ib 1 1 39
- 48 There's small choice in rotten apples
Ib [137]

- 1 Nothing comes amiss, so money comes withal.
The Taming of the Shrew, i. ii. [82]
- 2 O! this learning, what a thing it is. Ib. [163]
- 3 She is your treasure, she must have a husband;
I must dance bare-foot on her wedding day,
And, for your love to her, lead apes in hell.
Ib. ii. i. 32
- 4 Say that she rail; why then I'll tell her plain
She sings as sweetly as a nightingale:
Say that she frown; I'll say she looks as clear
As morning roses newly wash'd with dew:
Say she be mute and will not speak a word;
Then I'll commend her volubility,
And say she uttereth piercing eloquence. Ib. 171
- 5 And thereby hangs a tale. Ib. iv. i. [59]
- 6 He kills her in her own humour. Ib. [183]
- 7 She shall watch all night:
And if she chance to nod I'll rail and brawl,
And with the clamour keep her still awake.
This is the way to kill a wife with kindness. Ib. [208]
- 8 What say you to a piece of beef and mustard?
Ib. iii. [23]
- 9 And as the sun breaks through the darkest clouds,
So honour peereth in the meanest habit. Ib. [175]
- 10 PETRUCHIO:
It shall be what o'clock I say it is.
HORTENSIO:
Why, so this gallant will command the sun. Ib. [197]
- 11 O vile,
Intolerable, not to be endur'd! Ib. v. ii. 93
- 12 A woman mov'd is like a fountain troubled,
Muddy, ill-seeming, thick, bereft of beauty. Ib. 143
- 13 Such duty as the subject owes the prince,
Even such a woman oweth to her husband. Ib. 156
- 14 I am asham'd that women are so simple
To offer war where they should kneel for peace.
Ib. 162
- 15 What cares these roarers for the name of king?
The Tempest, i. i. [18]
- 16 He hath no drowning mark upon him; his complexion is perfect gallows. Ib. [33]
- 17 Now would I give a thousand furlongs of sea for an acre of barren ground. Ib. [70]
- 18 The wills above be done! but I would fain die a dry death. Ib. [72]
- 19 O! I have suffer'd
With those that I saw suffer: a brave vessel,
Who had, no doubt, some noble creatures in her,
Dash'd all to pieces. O! the cry did knock Against my very heart. Poor souls, they perish'd.
Ib. ii. 5
- 20 What seest thou else
In the dark backward and abysm of time? Ib. 49
- 21 Your tale, sir, would cure deafness. Ib. 106
- 22 My library
Was dukedom large enough. Ib. 109
- 23 Knowing I lov'd my books, he furnish'd me,
From mine own library with volumes that
I prize above my dukedom. Ib. 166
- 24 From the still-vexed Bermoothes. Ib. 229
- 25 I will be correspondent to command
And do my spiriting gently. The Tempest, i. ii. 297
- 26 You taught me language; and my profit on't
Is, I know how to curse: the red plague rid you,
For learning me your language! Ib. 363
- 27 Fill all thy bones with aches. Ib. 370
- 28 Come unto these yellow sands,
And then take hands:
Curtstied when you have, and kiss'd,—
The wild waves whist,—
Foot it featly here and there;
And, sweet sprites, the burden bear.
Hark, hark!
Bow, wow,
The watch-dogs bark:
Bow, wow,
Hark, hark! I hear
The strain of strutting Chanticleer
Cock-a-diddle-dow. Ib. 375
- 29 This music crept by me upon the waters,
Allaying both their fury, and my passion,
With its sweet air. Ib. 389
- 30 Full fathom five thy father lies;
Of his bones are coral made:
Those are pearls that were his eyes:
Nothing of him that doth fade,
But doth suffer a sea-change
Into something rich and strange.
Sea-nymphs hourly ring his knell:
Ding-dong.
Hark! now I hear them,—ding-dong, bell. Ib. 394
- 31 The fringed curtains of thine eye advance,
And say what thou seest yond. Ib. 405
- 32 At the first sight
They have changed eyes. Ib. 437
- 33 There's nothing ill can dwell in such a temple:
If the ill spirit have so fair a house,
Good things will strive to dwell with 't. Ib. 454
- 34 Look, he's winding up the watch of his wit, by and by it will strike. Ib. ii. i. [12]
- 35 What's past is prologue. Ib. [261]
- 36 They'll take suggestion as a cat laps milk. Ib. [296]
- 37 Open-ey'd conspiracy
His time doth take. Ib. [309]
- 38 A very ancient and fish-like smell. Ib. ii. [27]
- 39 When they will not give a doit to relieve a lame beggar, they will lay out ten to see a dead Indian. Ib. [33]
- 40 Misery acquaints a man with strange bedfellows. Ib. [42]
- 41 Well, here's my comfort. [Drinks.] Ib. [48]
- 42 For she had a tongue with a tang. Ib. [53]
- 43 'Ban, 'Ban, Ca-Caliban,
Has a new master—Get a new man. Ib. [197]
- 44 For several virtues
Have I lik'd several women; never any
With so full soul but some defect in her
Did quarrel with the noblest grace she ow'd,
And put it to the foil. Ib. iii. i. 42

- 1 FERDINAND
Here's my hand
MIRANDA
And mine, with my heart in 't The Tempest, III i 89
- 2 Thou deboshed fish thou Ib II [30]
- 3 Flout 'em, and scout 'em, and scout 'em, and flout
'em,
Thought is free Ib [133]
- 4 He that dies pays all debts Ib [143]
- 5 The isle is full of noises
Sounds and sweet airs, that give delight, and hurt not Ib [147]
- 6 Spongy April Ib IV i 65
- 7 You sun burn'd sicklemen, of August weary Ib 134
- 8 Our revels now are ended These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits and
Are melted into air, into thin air
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded
Leave not a rack behind We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep Ib 148
- 9 I do begin to have bloody thoughts Ib [221]
- 10 With foreheads villanous low Ib [252]
- 11 Now does my project gather to a head Ib V i 1
- 12 Demetrius that
By moonshine did the green sour ringlets make Whereof the ewe not bites Ib 36
- 13 Deeper than did ever plummet sound,
I'll drown my book Ib 56
- 14 Where the bee sucks there suck I
In a cowslip's bell I lie,
There I couch when owls do cry
On the bat's back I do fly
After summer merrily
Merrily merrily shall I live now
Under the blossom that hangs on the bough Ib 88
- 15 O brave new world,
That has such people in 't Ib 183
- 16 Retire me to my Milan, where Every third thought shall be my grave Ib [310]
- 17 'Tis not enough to help the feeble up
But to support him after Timon of Athens, I i 108
- 18 He that loves to be flattered is worthy o' the flatterer
Ib [233]
- 19 The strain of man's bred out
Into baboon and monkey Ib [260]
- 20 I wonder men dare trust themselves with men
Ib II [45]
- 21 Immortal gods I crave no pelf,
I pray for no man but myself Ib [64]
- 22 Like madness is the glory of this life Ib [141]
- 23 Men shut their doors against a setting sun Ib [152]
- 24 Nothing emboldens sin so much as mercy
Ib III v 3
- 25 Uncover, dogs, and lap Ib VI [96]
- 26 You fools of fortune, trencher friends time's flies.
Timon of Athens, III vi [107]
- 27 We have seen better days Ib IV ii 27
- 28 O! the fierce wretchedness that glory brings us Ib 30
- 29 He has almost charmed me from my profession by persuading me to it Ib III [457]
- 30 My long sickness
Of health and living now begins to mend,
And nothing brings me all things Ib V i [191]
- 31 Life's uncertain voyage Ib [207]
- 32 Timon hath made his everlasting mansion
Upon the beached verge of the salt flood,
Who once a day with his embossed froth
The turbulent surge shall cover Ib [220]
- 33 She is a woman, therefore may be woo'd,
She is a woman therefore may be won,
She is Lavinia, therefore must be lov'd
What, man! more water glideth by the mill
Than wots the miller of, and easy it is
Of a cut loaf to steal a shive we know
Titus Andronicus, II i 82
- 34 Come, and take choice of all my library,
And so beguile thy sorrow Ib IV i 34
- 35 The eagle suffers little birds to sing
And is not careful what they mean thereby Ib IV [83]
- 36 If one good deed in all my life I did,
I do repent it from my very soul Ib V iii [189]
- 37 The ravish'd Helen Menelaus' queen,
With wanton Paris sleeps
Troilus and Cressida, Prologue, 9
- 38 PANDARUS
He that will have a cake out of the wheat must tarry
the grinding
TROILUS
Have I not tarried?
PANDARUS
Ay, the grinding, but you must tarry the bolting
TROILUS
Have I not tarried?
PANDARUS
Ay, the bolting, but you must tarry the leavening
TROILUS
Still have I tarried
PANDARUS
Ay, to the leavening, but here's yet in the word hereafter the kneading, the making of the cake
the heating of the oven, and the baking, nay, you must stay the cooling too, or you may chance to burn your lips Ib I i [15]
- 39 O! that her hand,
In whose comparison all whites are ink,
Writing their own reproach, to whose soft seizure
The cygnet's down is harsh and spirit of sense
Hard as the palm of ploughman Ib [57]
- 40 I have had my labour for my travail Ib [73]
- 41 Women are angels wooing
Things won are done, joy's soul lies in the doing
That she lov'd knows nought that knows not this Men prize the thing ungain'd more than it is
Ib II [310]

- 1 The sea being smooth
How many shallow bauble boats dare sail
Upon her patient breast.
Troilus and Cressida, I. iii. 34
- 2 The heavens themselves, the planets, and this centre
Observe degree, priority, and place,
Insisture, course, proportion, season, form,
Office, and custom, in all line of order. Ib. 85
- 3 O! when degree is shak'd,
Which is the ladder to all high designs,
The enterprise is sick. Ib. 101
- 4 Take but degree away, untune that string,
And, hark! what discord follows; each thing meets
In mere oppugnancy. Ib. 109
- 5 The general's disdain'd
By him one step below, he by the next,
That next by him beneath; so every step,
Exempl'd by the first pace that is sick
Of his superior, grows to an envious fever
Of pale and bloodless emulation. Ib. 129
- 6 Like a strutting player, whose conceit
Lies in his hamstring, and doth think it rich
To hear the wooden dialogue and sound
'Twixt his stretch'd footing and the scaffoldage. Ib. 153
- 7 But we are soldiers;
And may that soldier a mere recreant prove,
That means not, hath not, or is not in love! Ib. 286
- 8 And in such indexes, although small pricks
To their subsequent volumes, there is seen
The baby figure of the giant mass
Of things to come at large. Ib. 343
- 9 Mongrel beef-witted lord. Ib. II. i. [14]
- 10 Who wears his wit in his belly, and his guts in his head. Ib. [78]
- 11 The wound of peace is surety,
Surety secure. Ib. II. 14
- 12 TROILUS:
What is aught, but as 'tis valued?
HECTOR:
But value dwells not in particular will;
It holds his estimate and dignity
As well wherein 'tis precious of itself
As in the prizer. 'Tis mad idolatry
To make the service greater than the god. Ib. 52
- 13 Young men, whom Aristotle thought Unfit to hear moral philosophy. Ib. 166
- 14 Thus to persist
In doing wrong extenuates not wrong,
But makes it much more heavy. Ib. 186
- 15 I am giddy, expectation whirls me round.
The imaginary relish is so sweet
That it enchants my sense. Ib. III. ii. [17]
- 16 To be wise, and love,
Exceeds man's might. Ib. [163]
- 17 Time hath, my lord, a wallet at his back,
Wherein he puts alms for oblivion,
A great-siz'd monster of ingratitude:
Those scraps are good deeds past; which are devour'd
As fast as they are made, forgot as soon
As done. Ib. III. 145
- 18 Perseverance, dear my lord,
Keeps honour bright: to have done, is to hang Quite out of fashion, like a rusty mail
In monumental mockery.
Troilus and Cressida, III. iii. 150
- 19 For honour travels in a strait so narrow
Where one but goes abreast. Ib. 154
- 20 Time is like a fashionable host
That slightly shakes his parting guest by the hand,
And with his arms outstretch'd, as he would fly,
Grasps in the comer: welcome ever smiles,
And farewell goes out sighing. Ib. 165
- 21 Beauty, wit,
High birth, vigour of bone, desert in service,
Love, friendship, charity, are subjects all
To envious and calumniating time.
One touch of nature makes the whole world kin,
That all with one consent praise new-born gawds. Ib. 171
- 22 And give to dust that is a little gilt
More laud than gilt o'er-dusted. Ib. 178
- 23 A plague of opinion! a man may wear it on both sides, like a leather jerkin. Ib. [267]
- 24 How my achievements mock me! Ib. IV. ii. [72]
- 25 Sometimes we are devils to ourselves
When we will tempt the frailty of our powers,
Presuming on their changeful potency. Ib. IV. [95]
- 26 Fie, fie upon her!
There's language in her eye, her cheek, her lip,
Nay, her foot speaks; her wanton spirits look out
At every joint and motive of her body. Ib. V. 54
- 27 What's past, and what's to come, is strew'd with husks
And formless ruin of oblivion. Ib. 165
- 28 The end crowns all,
And that old common arbitrator, Time,
Will one day end it. Ib. 223
- 29 Words, words, mere words, no matter from the heart.
Ib. V. iii. [109]
- 30 If music be the food of love, play on;
Give me excess of it, that, surfeiting,
The appetite may sicken, and so die.
That strain again! it had a dying fall:
O! it came o'er my ear like the sweet sound
That breathes upon a bank of violets,
Stealing and giving odour! Enough! no more:
'Tis not so sweet now as it was before.
O spirit of love! how quick and fresh art thou,
That notwithstanding thy capacity
Receiveth as the sea, nought enters there,
Of what validity and pitch soe'er,
But falls into abatement and low price,
Even in a minute: so full of shapes is fancy,
That it alone is high fantastical. Twelfth Night, I. i. 1
- 31 O! when mine eyes did see Olivia first,
Methought she purg'd the air of pestilence.
That instant was I turn'd into a hart,
And my desires, like fell and cruel hounds,
E'er since pursue me. Ib. 19
- 32 The element itself, till seven years' heat,
Shall not behold her face at ample view;
But, like a cloistress, she will veiled walk,
And water once a day her chamber round
With eye-offending brine. Ib. 26

- 1 Away before me to sweet beds of flowers;
Love-thoughts lie rich when canopied with bowers
Twelfth Night, 1. 1. 40
- 2 And what should I do in Illyria?
My brother he is in Elysium. Ib. 11. 2
- 3 O my poor brother! Ib. 6
- 4 He's as tall a man as any's in Illyria. Ib. 111. [21]
- 5 Speaks three or four languages word for word without book. Ib. [28]
- 6 Methinks sometimes I have no more wit than a Christian or an ordinary man has, but I am a great eater of beef, and I believe that does harm to my wit. Ib. [90]
- 7 SIR ANDREW:
I would I had bestowed that time in the tongues that I have in fencing, dancing, and bear-baiting. O! had I but followed the arts!
- SIR TONY:
Then hadst thou had an excellent head of hair. Ib. [99]
- 8 Wherefore are these things hid? wherefore have these gifts a curtain before 'em? are they like to take dust, like Mistress Mall's picture? why dost thou not go to church in a galliard, and come home in a coranto? My very walk should be a jig. Ib. [135]
- 9 Is it a world to hide virtues in? Ib. [142]
- 10 Diana's lip
Is not more smooth and rubious; thy small pipe
Is as the maiden's organ, shrill and sound;
And all is semblative a woman's part Ib. 11. 31
- 11 Many a good hanging prevents a bad marriage. Ib. v. [20]
- 12 What says Quinapalus? 'Better a witty fool than a foolish wit.' Ib. [37]
- 13 Virtue that transgresses is but patched with sin, and sin that amends is but patched with virtue. Ib. [52]
- 14 Good my mouse of virtue, answer me. Ib. [68]
- 15 O! you are sick of self-love, Malvolio. Ib. [96]
- 16 A plague o' these pickle herring! Ib. [127]
- 17 Not yet old enough for a man, nor young enough for a boy, as a squash is before 'tis a peascod, or a codling when 'tis almost an apple: 'tis with him in standing water, between boy and man. He is very well-favoured, and he speaks very shrewishly: one would think his mother's milk were scarce out of him Ib. [166]
- 18 I would be loath to cast away my speech, for besides that it is excellently well penned, I have taken great pains to con it. Ib. [184]
- 19 I can say little more than I have studied, and that question's out of my part. Ib. [191]
- 20 OLIVIA
'Tis in grain, sir; 'twill endure wind and weather.
VIOLA
'Tis beauty truly blent, whose red and white
Nature's own sweet and cunning hand laid on:
Lady, you are the cruell'st she alive
If you will lead these graces to the grave
And leave the world no copy. Ib. [257]
- 21 Item, Two lips, indifferent red; Item, Two grey eye with lids to them; Item, One neck, one chin, and so forth. Twelfth Night, 1. v. [26]
- 22 Make me a willow cabin at your gate,
And call upon my soul within the house;
Write loyal cantons of contemned love,
And sing them loud even in the dead of night;
Hailoo your name to the reverberate hills,
And make the babbling gossip of the air
Cry out, 'Olivias'. Ib. [289]
- 23 Farewell, fair cruelty. Ib. [309]
- 24 'What is your parentage?'
'Above my fortune, yet my state is well:
I am a gentleman.' Ib. [310]
- 25 She is drowned already, sir, with salt water, though I seem to drown her remembrance again with more. Ib. 11. 1 [31]
- 26 I am yet so near the manners of my mother, that upon the least occasion more mine eyes will tell tales of me. Ib. [42]
- 27 Not to be a-bed after midnight is to be up betimes. . . To be up after midnight and to go to bed then, is early, so that to go to bed after midnight is to go to bed betimes Ib. 111. [1 and 7]
- 28 O mistress mine! where are you roaming?
O! stay and hear, your true love's coming.
'That can sing both high and low.
Trip no further, pretty sweetening;
Journeys end in lovers meeting,
Every wise man's son doth know.
What is love? 'tis not hereafter,
Present mirth hath present laughter;
What's to come is still unsure:
In delay there lies no plenty,
Then come kiss me, sweet and twenty,
Youth's a stuff will not endure. Ib. [42]
- 29 Am not I consanguineous? am I not of her blood? Tillyvally, lady! Ib. [85]
- 30 He does it with a better grace, but I do it more natural Ib. [91]
- 31 Is there no respect of place, persons, nor time, in you? Ib. [100]
- 32 SIR TONY:
Dost thou think, because thou art virtuous, there shall be no more cakes and ale?
CLOWN
Yes, by Saint Anne, and ginger shall be hot i' the mouth too. Ib. [124]
- 33 MARIA:
Marry, sir, sometimes he is a kind of puritan.
SIR ANDREW:
O, if I thought that, I'd beat him like a dog! Ib. [153]
- 34 I will drop in his way some obscure epistles of love, wherein by the colour of his beard, the shape of his leg, the manner of his gait, the expreasure of his eye, forehead, and complexion, he shall find himself most feelingly personated. Ib. [171]
- 35 My purpose is, indeed, a horse of that colour. Ib. [184]

- 1 Now, good Cesario, but that piece of song,
That old and antique song we heard last night;
Methought it did relieve my passion much,
More than light airs and recollected terms
Of these most brisk and giddy-paced times:
Come, but one verse. Twelfth Night, II. iv. 2
- 2 DUKE:
If ever thou shalt love,
In the sweet pangs of it remember me;
For such as I am all true lovers are:
Unstaid and skittish in all motions else,
Save in the constant image of the creature
That is belov'd. How dost thou like this tune?
VIOLA:
It gives a very echo to the seat
Where love is enthron'd. Ib. 15
- 3 Let still the woman take
An elder than herself, so wears she to him,
So sways she level in her husband's heart:
For, boy, however we do praise ourselves,
Our fancies are more giddy and unfirm,
More longing, wavering, sooner lost and worn,
Than women's are. Ib. 29
- 4 Then let thy love be younger than thyself,
Or thy affection cannot hold the bent. Ib. 36
- 5 Mark it, Cesario; it is old and plain.
The spinsters and the knitters in the sun
And the free maids that weave their thread with bones
Do use to chant it: it is silly sooth,
And dallies with the innocence of love,
Like the old age. Ib. 43
- 6 Come away, come away, death,
And in sad cypress let me be laid;
Fly away, fly away, breath:
I am slain by a fair cruel maid.
My shroud of white, stuck all with yew,
O! prepare it.
My part of death no one so true
Did share it.
Not a flower, not a flower sweet,
On my black coffin let there be strown;
Not a friend, not a friend greet
My poor corse, where my bones shall be thrown.
A thousand thousand sighs to save,
Lay me, O! where
Sad true lover never find my grave,
To weep there. Ib. 51
- 7 Now, the melancholy god protect thee, and the tailor make thy doublet of changeable taffeta, for thy mind is a very opal. Ib. [74]
- 8 Get thee to yond same sovereign cruelty:
Tell her, my love, more noble than the world,
Prizes not quantity of dirty lands. Ib. [82]
- 9 There is no woman's sides
Can bide the beating of so strong a passion
As love doth give my heart; no woman's heart
So big, to hold so much; they lack retention.
Alas! their love may be call'd appetite,
No motion of the liver, but the palate,
That suffer surfeit, cloyment, and revolt;
But mine is all as hungry as the sea,
And can digest so much. Ib. [95]
- 10 DUKE:
And what's her history?
- VIOLA:
A blank, my lord. She never told her love,
But let concealment, like a worm i' the bud,
Feed on her damask cheek: she pin'd in thought;
And with a green and yellow melancholy,
She sat like patience on a monument,
Smiling at grief. Was not this love indeed?
We men may say more, swear more; but, indeed,
Our shows are more than will; for still we prove
Much in our vows, but little in our love.

- 17 I may command where I adore. Ib. [116]
- 18 But be not afraid of greatness: some men are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them. Ib. [158]
- 19 Let thy tongue tang arguments of state; put thyself into the trick of singularity. She thus advises thee that sighs for thee. Remember who commended thy yellow stockings, and wished to see thee ever cross-gartered. Ib. [165]
- 20 Jove and my stars be praised! Here is yet a postscript.
Ib. [189]
- 21 He will come to her in yellow stockings, and 'tis a colour she abhors; and cross-gartered, a fashion
she detests. Ib. [220]
- 22 Now Jove, in his next commodity of hair, send thee
a beard. Ib. III. i. [51]
- 23 This fellow's wise enough to play the fool,
And to do that well craves a kind of wit. Ib. [68]
- 24 Taste your legs, sir; put them to motion. Ib. [88]
- 25 Most excellent accomplished lady, the heavens rain
odours on you! Ib. [96]
- 26 'Twas never merry world
Since lowly feigning was called compliment. Ib. [110]
- 27 O world! how apt the poor are to be proud. Ib. [141]
- 28 O! what a deal of scorn looks beautiful
In the contempt and anger of his lip. Ib. [159]

- 7 Why, this is very midsummer madness. Ib. [62]
- 8 What, man! defy the devil: consider, he's an enemy to mankind. Ib. [109]
- 9 Go, hang yourselves all! you are idle shallow things:
I am not of your element. Ib. [138]
- 10 If this were played upon a stage now, I could condemn it as an improbable fiction. Ib. [142]
- 11 More matter for a May morning. Ib. [158]
- 12 Still you keep o' the windy side of the law. Ib. [183]
- 13 Fare thee well; and God have mercy upon one of our souls! He may have mercy upon mine, but my hope is better; and so look to thyself. Ib. [185]
- 14 Nay, let me alone for swearing. Ib. [204]
- 15 He is knight dubbed with unhatched rapier, and on carpet consideration. Ib. [260] knight; I care not who knows so much of my mettle. Ib. [300]

- 17 Out of my lean and low ability
I'll lend you something. Ib. [380]
- 18 I hate ingratitude more in a man
Than lying, vainness, babbling drunkenness,
Or any taint of vice whose strong corruption
Inhabits our frail blood. Ib. [390]
- 19 In nature there's no blemish but the mind;
None can be call'd deform'd but the unkind.
Ib. [403]
- 20 Out, hyperbolical fiend! Ib. IV. II. [29]
- 21 For I am one of those gentle ones that will use the devil himself with courtesy. Ib. [37]
- 22 CLOWN:
What is the opinion of Pythagoras concerning wild fowl?
MALVOLIO:
That the soul of our grandam might haply inhabit a bird.
CLOWN:
What thinkest thou of his opinion?
MALVOLIO:
I think nobly of the soul, and no way approve his opinion. Ib. [55]
- 23 Leave thy vain bibble-babble. Ib. [106]
- 24 We took him for a coward, but he's the very devil
incardinate. Ib. V. i. [185]
- 25 And made the most notorious geck and gull
That e'er invention play'd. Ib. [355]
- 26 And thus the whirligig of time brings in his revenges
Twelfth Night, V. i. [385]
- 27 When that I was and a little tiny boy,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
A foolish thing was but a toy,
For the rain it raineth every day.
But when I came to man's estate,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
'Gainst knaves and thieves men shut their gates,
For the rain it raineth every day.
But when I came, alas! to wive,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
By swaggering could I never thrive,
For the rain it raineth every day.
But when I came unto my beds,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
With toss-pots still had drunken heads,
For the rain it raineth every day.
A great while ago the world begun,
With hey, ho, the wind and the rain;
But that's all one, our play is done,
And we'll strive to please you every day. Ib. [401]
- 28 Home-keeping youth have ever homely wits.
The Two Gentlemen of Verona, I. i. 2
- 29 For he was more than over shoes in love. Ib. 24
- 30 I have no other but a woman's reason:
I think him so, because I think him so. Ib. II. 23
- 31 Fie, fie! how wayward is this foolish love
That, like a testy babe, will scratch the nurse
And presently all humbled kiss the rod! Ib. 55
- 32 Poor wounded name! my bosom, as a bed
Shall lodge thee till thy wound be thoroughly heal'd.
Ib. 111
- 33 O! how this spring of love resembleth
The uncertain glory of an April day. Ib. III. 64
- 34 Or as one nail by strength drives out another,
So the remembrance of my former love
Is by a newer object quite forgotten. Ib. II. IV. 194
- 35 He makes sweet music with th' enamell'd stones,
Giving a gentle kiss to every sedge
He overtaketh in his pilgrimage;
And so by many winding nooks he strays
With willing sport, to the wild ocean. Ib. VII. 28
- 36 Except I be by Silvia in the night,
There is no music in the nightgale;
Unless I look on Silvia in the day,
There is no day for me to look upon. Ib. III. I. 178
- 37 Ay,
Much is the force of heaven-bred poesy. Ib. II. 71
- 38 A man I am cross'd with adversity. Ib. IV. i. 12
- 39 You know that love
Will creep in service where it cannot go. Ib. II. 19
- 40 Who is Sylvia? what is she,
That all our swains commend her?
Holy, fair, and wise is she;
The heaven such grace did lend her,
That she might admire be.
Is she kind as she is fair?
For beauty lives with kindness:
Love doth to her eyes repair,
To help him of his blindness;
And, being help'd, inhabits there.

- Then to Silvia let us sing,
That Silvia is excelling;
She excels each mortal thing
Upon the dull earth dwelling;
To her let us garlands bring.
Two Gentlemen of Verona, iv. ii. 40

But such a day to-morrow as to-day,
And to be boy eternal. The Winter's Tale, i. ii. 63
- 4 We were as twinn'd lambs that did frisk i' the sun,
And bleat the one at the other: what we chang'd
Was innocence for innocence; we knew not
The doctrine of ill-doing, no, nor dream'd
That any did. Ib. 67
- 5 Three crabbed months had sour'd themselves to
death,
Ere I could make thee open thy white hand
And clap thyself my love. Ib. 102
- 6 Paddling palms and pinching fingers. Ib. 116
- 7 Still virginalling
Upon his palm. Ib. 126
- 8 Affection! thy intention stabs the centre:
Thou dost make possible things not so held,
Communicat'st with dreams. Ib. 139
- 9 How like, methought, I then was to this kernel,
This squash, this gentleman. Ib. 160
- 10 A sad tale's best for winter.
I have one of sprites and goblins. Ib. ii. i. 24

- 16 When daffodils begin to peer,
With heigh! the doxy, over the dale,
Why, then comes in the sweet o' the year;
For the red blood reigns in the winter's pale.
The white sheet bleaching on the hedge,
With heigh! the sweet birds, O, how they sing!
Doth set my pugging tooth on edge;
For a quart of ale is a dish for a king.
The lark, that tirra-lirra chants,
With, heigh! with, heigh! the thrush and the jay,
Are summer songs for me and my aunts,
While we lie tumbling in the hay. Ib. iv. ii. 1
- 17 But shall I go mourn for that, my dear? Ib. [15]
- 18 A snapper-up of unconsidered trifles. Ib. [26]
- 19 For the life to come, I sleep out the thought of it. Ib. [30]

bear-baitings. Ib. [109]
- 21 Jog on, jog on the foot-path way,
And merrily hent the stile-a:
A merry heart goes all the day,
Your sad tires in a mile-a. Ib. [133]
- 22 For you there's rosemary and rue; these keep Seeming and savour all the winter long.
The Winter's Tale, iv. iii. 74
- 23 The fairest flowers o' the season
Are our carnations and streak'd gillyvors,
Which some call nature's bastards. Ib. 81
- 24 Yet nature is made better by no mean
But nature makes that mean. Ib. 89
- 25 Here's flowers for you;
Hot lavender, mints, savory, marjoram;
The marigold, that goes to bed wi' the sun,
And with him rises weeping. Ib. 103
- 26 O Proserpina!
For the flowers now that frighted thou let'st fall
From Dis's waggon! daffodils,
That come before the swallow dares, and take
The winds of March with beauty; violets dim,
But sweeter than the lids of Juno's eyes
Or Cytherea's breath; pale prime-roses,
That die unmarried, ere they can behold
Bright Phoebus in his strength,—a malady
Most incident to maids; bold oxlips and
The crown imperial; lilies of all kinds,
The flower-de-luce being one. Ib. 116
- 27 PERDITA: Sure this robe of mine
Doth change my disposition.
FLORIZEL: What you do
Still betters what is done. When you speak, sweet,
I'd have you do it ever: when you sing,
I'd have you buy and sell so; so give alms;
Pray so; and, for the ordering your affairs,
To sing them too: when you do dance, I wish you
A wave o' the sea, that you might ever do
Nothing but that; move still, still so,
And own no other function: each your doing,
So singular in each particular,
Crowns what you are doing in the present deed,
That all your acts are queens. Ib. 134
- 28 Good sooth, she is The queen of curds and cream. Ib. 160

they are true. Ib. [262]
- 31 The self-same sun that shines upon his court
Hides not his visage from our cottage, but Looks on alike. Ib. [457]
- 32 Being now awake, I'll queen it no inch further,
But milk my ewes and weep. Ib. [462]
- 33 Prosperity's the very bond of love,
Whose fresh complexion and whose heart together
Affliction alters. Ib. [586]
- 34 Ha, ha! what a fool Honesty is! and Trust his sworn brother, a very simple gentleman! Ib. [608]
- 35 Though I am not naturally honest, I am so sometimes by chance. Ib. [734]
- 36 That rare Italian master, Julio Romano. Ib. v. ii. [108]

- 1 Like stones of worth they thinly placed are,
Or captain jewels in the carconet. Sonnets, 52
- 2 What is your substance, whereof are you made,
That millions of strange shadows on you tend? Ib. 53
- 3 You in Grecian tires are painted new. Ib.
- 4 The spring and foison of the year. Ib.
- 5 O! how much more doth beauty beauteous seem
By that sweet ornament which truth doth give! Ib. 54
- 6 Not marble, nor the gilded monuments
Of princes, shall outlive this powerful rhyme. Ib. 55
- 7 Being your slave, what should I do but tend Upon the hours and times of your desire?
I have no precious time at all to spend,
Nor services to do, till you require.
Nor dare I chide the world-without-end hour
Whilst I, my sovereign, watch the clock for you,
Nor think the bitterness of absence sour
When you have bid your servant once adieu;
Nor dare I question with my jealous thought
Where you may be, or your affairs suppose,
But like a sad slave, stay and think of nought
Save, where you are, how happy you make those.
So true a fool is love that in your will,
Though you do anything, he thinks no ill. Ib. 57
- 8 Like as the waves make towards the pebbled shore,
So do our minutes hasten to their end. Ib. 60
- 9 Time doth transfix the flourish set on youth
And delves the parallels in beauty's brow. Ib.
- 10 Sin of self-love possesseth all mine eye. Ib. 62
- 11 When I have seen by Time's fell hand defac'd
The rich-proud cost of outworn buried age. Ib. 64
- 12 When I have seen the hungry ocean gain Advantage on the kingdom of the shore. Ib.
- 13 Since brass, nor stone, nor earth, nor boundless sea,
But sad mortality o'ersways their power,
How with this rage shall beauty hold a plea,
Whose action is no stronger than a flower? Ib. 65
- 14 Tir'd with all these, for restful death I cry,
As to behold desert a beggar born,
And needy nothing trimm'd in jollity,
And purest faith unhappily forsworn,
And gilded honour shamefully misplac'd,
And maiden virtue rudely strumpeted,
And right perfection wrongfully disgrac'd,
And strength by limping sway disabled,
And art made tongue-tied by authority,
And folly—doctor-like—controlling skill,
And simple truth miscall'd simplicity,
And captive good attending captain ill:
Tir'd with all these, from these I would be gone,
Save that, to die, I leave my love alone. Ib. 66
- 15 No longer mourn for me when I am dead
Than you shall hear the surly sullen bell
Give warning to the world that I am fled
From this vile world, with vilest worms to dwell. Ib. 71
- 16 That time of year thou mayst in me behold
When yellow leaves, or none, or few, do hang
Upon those boughs which shake against the cold,
Bare ruin'd choirs, where late the sweet birds sang.
- In me thou see'st the twilight of such day
As after sunset fadeth in the west;
Which by and by black night doth take away,
Death's second self, that seals up all in rest. Sonnets, 73
- 17 This thou perceiv'st, which makes thy love more strong,
To love that well which thou must leave ere long. Ib.
- 18 So all my best is dressing old words new. Ib. 76
- 19 Like unletter'd clerk, still cry 'Amen'. Ib. 85
- 20 Was it the proud full sail of his great verse,
Bound for the prize of all too precious you,
That did my ripe thoughts in my brain inhearse,
Making their tomb the womb wherein they grew? Ib. 86
- 21 That affable familiar ghost
Which nightly gulls him with intelligence. Ib.
- 22 Farewell! thou art too dear for my possessing,
And like enough thou know'st thy estimate:
The charter of thy worth gives thee releasing;
My bonds in thee are all determinate.
For how do I hold thee but by thy granting?
And for that riches where is my deserving?
The cause of this fair gift in me is wanting,
And so my patent back again is swerving.
Thyself thou gav'st, thy own worth then not knowing,
Or me, to whom thou gav'st it, else mistaking;
So thy great gift, upon misprision growing,
Comes home again, on better judgment making.
Thus have I had thee, as a dream doth flatter,
In sleep a king, but, waking, no such matter. Ib. 87
- 23 Ah, do not, when my heart hath 'scap'd this sorrow,
Come in the rearward of a conquer'd woe;
Give not a windy night a rainy morrow,
To linger out a purpos'd overthrow. Ib. 90
- 24 They that have power to hurt and will do none,
That do not do the thing they most do show,
Who, moving others, are themselves as stone,
Unmoved, cold, and to temptation slow. Ib. 94
- 25 They are the lords and owners of their faces,
Others but stewards of their excellence.
The summer's flower is to the summer sweet,
Though to itself it only live and die. Ib.
- 26 Lilies that fester smell far worse than weeds. Ib.
- 27 How like a winter hath my absence been
From thee, the pleasure of the fleeting year!
What freezings have I felt, what dark days seen!
What old December's bareness every where! Ib. 97
- 28 From you have I been absent in the spring,
When proud-pied April, dress'd in all his trim,
Hath put a spirit of youth in every thing. Ib. 98
- 29 To me, fair friend, you never can be old,
For as you were when first your eye I ey'd,
Such seems your beauty still. Three winters cold
Have from the forests shook three summers' pride,
Three beauteous springs to yellow autumn turn'd
In process of the seasons have I seen,
Three April perfumes in three hot Junes burn'd,
Since first I saw you fresh, which yet are green.
Ah! yet doth beauty, like a dial-hand,
Steal from his figure, and no pace perceiv'd;
So your sweet hue, which methinks still doth stand,

- Hath motion and mine eye may be deceiv'd
For fear of which, hear this, thou age unbred
Ere you were born was beauty's summer dead
Sonnets, 101
- 1 And beauty, making beautiful old rhyme Ib 106
- 2 Not mine own fears, nor the prophetic soul
Of the wide world dreaming on things to come,
Can yet the lease of my true love control,
Suppos'd as forfeit to a confin'd doom
The mortal moon hath her eclipse endur'd,
And the sad augurs mock their own presage Ib 107
- 3 And thou in this shalt find thy monument,
When tyrants' crests and tombs of brass are spent Ib
- 4 O! never say that I was false of heart,
Though absence seem'd my flame to qualify Ib 109
- 5 Alas! 'tis true I have gone here and there,
And made myself a motley to the view,
Gord mine own thoughts sold cheap what is most
dear,
Made old offences of affections new,
Most true it is that I have look'd on truth
Askance and strangely, but, by all above,
These blenches gave my heart another youth
And worse essays prov'd thee my best of love Ib 110
- 6 My nature is subdu'd
To what it works in like the dyer's hand,
Pity me, then, and wish I were renew'd Ib 111
- 7 Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove
O no! it is an ever fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken,
It is the star to every wandering bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken
Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come,
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom
If this be error, and upon me prov'd,
I never writ nor no man ever lov'd Ib 116
- 8 What potions have I drunk of Siren tears,
Distill'd from limbeck's fowl as hell within Ib 119
- 9 O benefit of ill! now I find true
That better is by evil still made better Ib
- 10 'Tis better to be vile than vile esteem'd,
When not to be receives reproach of being Ib 121
- 11 The expense of spirit in a waste of shame
Is lust in action; and till action, lust
Is perjur'd, murderous, bloody, full of blame,
Savage, extreme, rude, cruel, not to trust Ib 129
- 12 Mad in pursuit and in possession so,
Had having and in quest to have, extreme,
A bliss in proof—and prov'd a very woe,
Before a joy propos'd behind, a dream
All this the world well knows, yet none knows well
To shun the heaven that leads men to this hell Ib
- 13 My mistress' eyes are nothing like the sun,
Coral is far more red than her lips' red
If snow be white, why then her breasts are dun,
If hairs be wires, black wires grow on her head Ib 130
- 14 And yet, by heaven, I think my love as rare
As any she belied with false compare Sonnets, 130
- 15 Whoever hath her wish, thou hast thy Will,
And Will to boot, and Will in over-plus Ib 133
- 16 When my love swears that she is made of tru h
I do believe her, though I know she lies Ib 138
- 17 Lo, as a careful housewife runs to catch
One of her feather'd creatures broke away Ib 143
- 18 Two loves I have of comfort and despair,
Which like two spirits do suggest me still
The better angel is a man right fair,
The worse spirit a woman colour'd ill Ib 144
- 19 Yet this shall I ne'er know, but live in doubt,
Till my bad angel fire my good one out. Ib
- 20 Poor soul, the centre of my sinful earth,
[I ool d by] these rebel powers that thee array,
Why dost thou pine within and suffer dearth,
Painting thy outward walls so costly gay?
Why so large cost, having so short a lease,
Dost thou upon thy fading mansion spend? Ib 146
- 21 So shalt thou feed on Death, that feeds on men
And Death once dead, there's no more dying then. Ib
- 22 For I have sworn thee fair, and thought thee bright
Who art as black as hell, as dark as night Ib 147
- 23 Love is too young to know what conscience is,
Yet who knows not conscience is born of love? Ib 151
- 24 The first heir of my invention
Venus and Adams, Preface
- 25 Hunting he lov'd, but love he laugh'd to scorn Ib 1 4
- 26 Bid me discourse, I will enchant thine ear,
Or like a fairy trip upon the green,
Or, like a nymph with long dishevell'd hair,
Dance on the sands, and yet no footing seen
Love is a spirit all compact of fire,
Not gross to sink, but light, and will aspire Ib 1 145
- 27 Round-hoof'd, short jointed, fetlocks shag and long
Broad breast, full eye, small head and nostril wide,
High crest, short ears, strait legs and passing
strong,
Thin mane, thick tail, broad buttock, tender hide
Look, what a horse should have he did not lack Save a proud rider on so proud a back Ib 1 295
- 28 By this, poor Wat, far off upon a hill
Stands on his hinder legs with listening ear,
To hearken if his foes pursue him still Ib 1 697
- 29 Good friend for Jesu's sake forbear
To dig the dust enclosed here
Blest be the man that spares these stones,
And curst be he that moves my bones
Shakespeare's Epitaph (chosen by himself for his tomb at Stratford-on-Avon)
- 30 Item I give unto my wife my second best bed with the furniture Will, 1616

DAVID TAYLOR SHAW

1813-1890

- 1 O Britannia, the pride of the ocean,
The home of the brave and the free,
The shrine of the sailor's devotion,
No land can compare unto thee!
The Red, White, and Blue. First line changed to 'Columbia, the gem of the ocean', when sung by Shaw in America. Attrib. also to Thomas à Becket, 1850

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

1856-1950

- 2 All great truths begin as blasphemies.
Annajanska (1919), p. 262
- 3 One man that has a mind and knows it, can always beat ten men who havnt and dont.
The Apple Cart (1930), Act I
- 4 What Englishman will give his mind to politics as long as he can afford to keep a motor car? Ib.
- 5 I never resist temptation, because I have found that things that are bad for me do not tempt me.
Ib. Act II
- 6 You can always tell an old soldier by the inside of his holsters and cartridge boxes. The young ones carry pistols and cartridges: the old ones, grub.
Arms and the Man, Act I
- 7 I never apologize. Ib. Act III
- 8 You're not a man, you're a machine. Ib.
- 9 When a stupid man is doing something he is ashamed of, he always declares that it is his duty.
Cæsar and Cleopatra, Act III
- 10 He who has never hoped can never despair.
Ib. Act IV
- 11 A man of great common sense and good taste,—meaning thereby a man without originality or moral courage. Ib. Notes. Julius Cæsar
- 12 We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it. Candida, Act I
- 13 Do you think that the things people make fools of themselves about are any less real and true than the things they behave sensibly about? Ib.
- 14 It is easy—terribly easy—to shake a man's faith in himself. To take advantage of that to break a man's spirit is devil's work. Ib.
- 15 I'm only a beer teetotaller, not a champagne tee-totaller. Ib. Act III
- 16 The worst sin towards our fellow creatures is not to hate them, but to be indifferent to them: that's the essence of inhumanity. The Devil's Disciple, Act II
- 17 I never expect a soldier to think. Ib. Act III
- 18 The British soldier can stand up to anything except the British War Office. Ib.
- 19 Stimulate the phagocytes.
The Doctor's Dilemma (1906), Act I
- 20 All professions are conspiracies against the laity. Ib.

- 21 I believe in Michael Angelo, Velasquez, and Rembrandt; in the might of design, the mystery of color,
the redemption of all things by Beauty everlasting, and the message of Art that has made these hands
blessed. The Doctor's Dilemma (1906), Act IV
- 22 With the single exception of Homer, there is no eminent writer, not even Sir Walter Scott, whom I can despise so entirely as I despise Shakespeare when I measure my mind against his. . . . It would positively be a relief to me to dig him up and throw stones at him.
*Dramatic Opinions and Essays (1907), vol. II,
p. 52*
- 23 Parentage is a very important profession; but no test of fitness for it is ever imposed in the interest of the children.
Everybody's Political What's What, ch. ix, p. 74
- 24 It's all that the young can do for the old, to shock
them and keep them up to date.
Fanny's First Play (1911), Induction
- 25 You don't expect me to know what to say about a play when I don't know who the author is, do you?
. . . If it's by a good author, it's a good play, naturally.
That stands to reason. Ib. Epilogue
- 26 What God hath joined together no man shall ever put asunder: God will take care of that.
Getting Married (1911), p. 216
- 27 When you loved me I gave you the whole sun and stars to play with. I gave you eternity in a single moment, strength of the mountains in one clasp of your arms, and the volume of all the seas in one impulse of your soul. Ib. p. 278
- 28 We possessed all the universe together; and you ask me to give you my scanty wages as well. I have given you the greatest of all things; and you ask me to give you little things. I gave you your own soul: you ask me for my body as a plaything. Was it not enough? Was it not enough? Ib.
- 29 I cannot bear men and women.
Heartbreak House (1919), Act II
- 30 Go anywhere in England, where there are natural, wholesome, contented, and really nice English people; and what do you always find? That the stables are the real centre of the household.
Ib. Act III
- 31 The captain is in his bunk, drinking bottled ditch-water; and the crew is gambling in the fore-castle.
She will strike and sink and split. Do you think the laws of God will be suspended in favour of England because you were born in it? Ib.
- 32 Money is indeed the most important thing in the world; and all sound and successful personal and national morality should have this fact for its basis.
The Irrational Knot (1905), Preface, p. xiv
- 33 Though the Life Force supplies us with its own purpose, it has no other brains to work with than those it has painfully and imperfectly evolved in our heads. Ib. p. xxv
- 34 Reminiscences make one feel so deliciously aged and
sad. Ib. ch. 14
- 35 A man who has no office to go to—I don't care who he is—is a trial of which you can have no conception. Ib. ch. 18

- 1 The Pilgrim of Eternity, whose fame
Over his living head like Heaven is bent,
An early but enduring monument,
Came, veiling all the lightnings of his song
In sorrow. Adonais, xxx
- 2 A pard-like Spirit, beautiful and swift—
A Love in desolation masked,—a Power
Girt round with weakness,—it can scarce uplift
The weight of the superincumbent hour,
It is a dying lamp, a falling shower,
A breaking billow,—even whilst we speak.
Is it not broken? Ib xxxiii
- 3 A herd—abandoned deer struck by the hunter's dart
Ib xxxiiii
- 4 Our Adonais has drunk poison—oh!
What deaf and viperous murderer could crown
Life's early cup with such a draught of woe?
Ib xxxv
- 5 He wakes or sleeps with the enduring dead,
Thou canst not soar where he is sitting now—
Dust to the dust! but the pure spirit shall flow
Back to the burning fountain whence it came,
A portion of the Eternal Ib xxxviii
- 6 He hath awakened from the dream of life—
'Tis we, who lost in stormy visions, keep
With phantoms an unprofitable strife,
And in mad trance, strike with our spirit a knife
Invulnerable nothings Ib xxxiv
- 7 He has out-soared the shadow of our night,
Envy and calumny and hate and pain
And that unrest which men miscall delight,
Can touch him not and torture not again,
From the contagion of the world's slow stain
He is secure, and now can never mourn
A heart grown cold, a head grown grey in vain Ib xl
- 8 He lives, he wakes,—'tis Death is dead, not he Ib xli
- 9 He is made one with Nature: there is heard
His voice in all her music, from the moan
Of thunder, to the song of night's sweet bird Ib xlii
- 10 He is a portion of the loveliness
Which once he made more lovely Ib xliii
- 11 The inheritors of unfulfilled renown
Rose from their thrones, built beyond mortal thought
Far in the Unapparent Ib xlv
- 12 Sublimely mild, a Spirit without spot [Sidney] Ib
- 13 Oblivion as they rose shrank like a thing reprov'd Ib
- 14 What Adonais is, why fear we to become? Ib li
- 15 The One remains, the many change and pass,
Heaven's light forever shines, Earth's shadows fly,
Life, like a dome of many coloured glass,
Stains the white radiance of Eternity. Ib lii
- 16 The soul of Adonais, like a star,
Beacons from the abode where the Eternal are Ib lv
- 17 The lone Chorasman shore Alastor, l 272
- 18 But thou art fled
Like some frail exhalation Ib l 686
- 19 Pale despair and cold tranquillity,
Nature's vast frame, the web of human things,
Birth and the grave, that are not as they were Alastor, l 718
- 20 Arethusa arose
From her couch of snows
In the Acroceraunian mountains,—
From cloud and from crag,
With many a jag,
Shepherding her bright fountains. Arethusa
- 21 Like friends once parted
Grown single-hearted Ib
- 22 'Do you not hear the Aziola cry?
'Methinks she must be nigh,'
Said Mary as we sat
In dusk, ere stars were lit, or candles brought,
And I, who thought
This Aziola was some tedious woman,
Asked, 'Who is Aziola?' The Aziola
- 23 Give yourself no unnecessary pain,
My dear Lord Cardinal Here, Mother, tie
My girdle for me, and bind up this hair
In any simple knot, as, that does well
And yours I see is coming down. How often
Have we done this for one another, now
We shall not do it any more. My Lord,
We are quite ready. Well, 'tis very well The Cecilia, v. iv 153
- 24 A widow bird sate mourning for her love
Upon a wintry bough,
The frozen wind crept on above,
The freezing stream below
There was no leaf upon the forest bare,
No flower upon the ground,
And little motion in the air
Except the mill wheel's sound Charles the First, sc v, l 10
- 25 I bring fresh showers for the thirsting flowers,
From the seas and the streams,
I bear light shade for the leaves when laid
In their noonday dreams The Cloud
- 26 I wield the flail of the lashing hail,
And whiten the green plains under,
And then again I dissolve it in rain,
And laugh as I pass in thunder Ib
- 27 I sift the snow on the mountains below,
And their great pines grown aglaze,
And all the night 'tis my pillow white,
While I sleep in the arms of the blast
Sublime on the towers of my sky bowers,
Lightning my pilot sits,
In a cavern under is fettered the thunder,
It struggles and howls at fits Ib
- 28 And I all the while bask in Heaven's blue smile,
Whilst he is dissolving in rains Ib
- 29 That orb'd maiden, with white fire laden,
Whom mortals call the Moon,
Glides glimmering o'er my fleece-lil'e floor,
By the midnight breezes strewn;
And wherever the beat of her unseen feet,
Which only the angels hear,
May have broken the roof of my tent's thin roof,
The stars peep behind her and peer,
And I laugh to see them whirl and flee
Like a swarm of golden bees,

- When I widen the rent in my wind-built tent,
Till the calm rivers, lakes, and seas,
Like strips of the sky fallen through me on high,
Are each paved with the moon and these.
The Cloud
- 1 I am the daughter of Earth and Water,
And the nursling of the Sky;
I pass through the pores of the ocean and shores;
I change, but I cannot die.
For after the rain when with never a stain
The pavilion of Heaven is bare,
And the winds and sunbeams with their convex gleams
Build up the blue dome of air,
I silently laugh at my own cenotaph,
And out of the caverns of rain,
Like a child from the womb, like a ghost from the tomb,
I arise and unbuild it again. Ib.
- 2 How wonderful is Death,
Death and his brother Sleep!
One pale as yonder wan and horned moon,
With lips of lurid blue,
The other glowing like the vital morn,
When throned on ocean's wave
It breathes over the world:
Yet both so passing strange and wonderful!
The Daemon of the World, Part 1, l. 1
- 3 My Song, I fear that thou wilt find but few
Who fitly shall conceive thy reasoning,
Of such hard matter dost thou entertain.
Epipsychidion. Advertisement
- 4 My last delight! tell them that they are dull,
And bid them own that thou art beautiful. Ib.
- 5 Sweet as stops
Of planetary music heard in trance. Ib. l. 85
- 6 The spirit of the worm beneath the sod
In love and worship, blends itself with God.
Ib. l. 128
- 7 The fields of Immortality. Ib. l. 133
- 8 Are we not formed, as notes of music are,
For one another, though dissimilar. Ib. l. 142
- 9 I never was attached to that great sect,
Whose doctrine is, that each one should select
Out of the crowd a mistress or a friend,
And all the rest, though fair and wise, commend
To cold oblivion. Ib. l. 149
- 10 Who travel to their home among the dead
By the broad highway of the world, and so
With one chained friend, perhaps a jealous foe,
The dreariest and the longest journey go. Ib. l. 156
- 11 True Love in this differs from gold and clay,
That to divide is not to take away. Ib. l. 160
- 12 A ship is floating in the harbour now,
A wind is hovering o'er the mountain's brow;
There is a path on the sea's azure floor,
No keel has ever ploughed that path before.
Ib. l. 408
- 13 An isle under Ionian skies,
Beautiful as a wreck of Paradise. Ib. l. 422
- 14 Day and night, aloof, from the high towers
And terraces, the Earth and Ocean seem
To sleep in one another's arms, and dream
Of waves, flowers, clouds, woods, rocks, and all that we Read in their smiles, and call reality. Ib. l. 508
- 15 I pant, I sink, I tremble, I expire!
Epipsychidion, l. 591
- 16 Chameleons feed on light and air:
Poets' food is love and fame. An Exhortation
- 17 And bloody Faith the foulest birth of time.
Feelings of a Republican
- 18 Time's printless torrent grew
A scroll of crystal, blazoning the name
Of Adonais! Fragment on Keats
- 19 My head is wild with weeping.
Fragment: My head is wild
- 20 My spirit like a charmed bark doth swim
Upon the liquid waves of thy sweet singing.
Fragment: To One Singing
- 21 Good-night? ah! no; the hour is ill
Which severs those it should unite;
Let us remain together still,
Then it will be good night. Good Night
- 22 To hearts which near each other move
From evening close to morning light,
The night is good; because, my love,
They never say good-night. Ib.
- 23 Life may change, but it may fly not;
Hope may vanish, but can die not;
Truth be veiled, but still it burneth;
Love repulsed,—but it returneth! Hellas, l. 34
- 24 Let there be light! said Liberty,
And like sunrise from the sea,
Athens arose! Ib. l. 682
- 25 The world's great age begins anew,
The golden years return,
The earth doth like a snake renew
Her winter weeds outworn;
Heaven smiles, and faiths and empires gleam,
Like wrecks of a dissolving dream.
A brighter Hellas rears its mountains
From waves serener far;
A new Peneus rolls his fountains
Against the morning star.
Where fairer Tempes bloom, there sleep
Young Cyclads on a sunnier deep.
A loftier Argo cleaves the main,
Fraught with a later prize;
Another Orpheus sings again,
And loves, and weeps, and dies.
A new Ulysses leaves once more
Calypso for his native shore. Ib. l. 1060
- 26 Riddles of death Thebes never knew. Ib. l. 1083
- 27 Another Athens shall arise,
And to remoter time
Bequeath, like sunset to the skies,
The splendour of its prime;
And leave, if nought so bright may live,
All earth can take or Heaven can give.
Saturn and Love their long repose
Shall burst, more bright and good
Than all who fell, than One who rose,
Than many unsubdued:
Not gold, not blood, their altar dowers,
But votive tears and symbol flowers.

- 1 Within the surface of Time's fleeting river
Its wrinkled image lies, as then it lay
Immovably unquiet, and for ever
It trembles, but it cannot pass away!
Ode to Liberty, l 76
- 2 I stood within the City disinterred,
And heard the autumnal leaves like light footfalls
Of spirits passing through the streets, and heard
The Mountain's slumbrous voice at intervals
Thrill through those roofless halls
Ode to Naples l 1
- 3 Long lost, late won, and yet but half-regained
Ib l 58
- 4 O wild West Wind, thou breath of Autumn's being,
Thou, from whose unseen presence the leaves dead
Are driven, like ghosts from an enchanter fleeing,
Yellow, and black, and pale and hectic red,
Pestilence-stricken multitudes O thou,
Who chariotest to their dark wintry bed
The winged seeds, where they lie cold and low,
Each like a corpse within its grave, until Thine azure sister of the spring shall blow
Her clamor o'er the dreaming earth, and fill (Driving sweet buds like flocks to feed in air)
With living hues and odours plain and hill
Wild Spirit, which art moving everywhere,
Destroyer and preserver, hear, oh, hear!
Ode to the West Wind, l 1
- 5 Shook from the tangled boughs of Heaven and Ocean,
Angels of rain and lightning Ib l 17
- 6 Like the bright hair uplifted from the head
Of some fierce Maenad Ib l 20
- 7 Thou dirge
Of the dying year, to which this closing night
Will be the dome of a vast sepulchre. Ib l 23
- 8 Thou who didst waken from his summer dreams
The blue Mediterranean, where he lay,
Lulled by the coil of his crystalline streams
Beside a pumice isle in Baiae's bay,
And saw in sleep old palaces and towers
Quivering within the wave's intenser day,
All overgrown with azure moss and flowers
So sweet, the sense faints picturing them Ib l 29
- 9 Far below
The sea blooms and the oozy woods which wear
The sapless foliage of the ocean, know
Thy voice and suddenly grow gray with fear,
And tremble and despoil themselves Ib l 38
- 10 If I were a dead leaf thou mightest bear,
If I were a swift cloud to fly with thee,
A wave to pant beneath thy power, and share
The impulse of thy strength, only less free
Than thou, O uncontrollable! If even
I were as in my boyhood, and could be
The comrade of thy wanderings over Heaven,
As then, when to outstrip thy skyey speed
Scarce seemed a vision, I would ne'er have striven
As thus with thee in prayer in my sore need,
Oh, lift me as a wave, a leaf, a cloud!
I fall upon the thorns of life! I bleed! Ib l 43
- 11 Make me thy lyre, even as the forest is
What if my leaves are falling like its own?
The tumult of thy mighty harmonies
Will take from both a deep, autumnal tone,
Sweet though in sadness Be thou, Spirit fierce,
My spirit! Be thou me, impetuous one!
Drive my dead thoughts over the universe
Like withered leaves to quicken a new birth!
And, by the incantation of this verse,
Scatter, as from an unextinguished hearth
Ashes and sparks, my words among mankind!
Be through my lips to unawakened earth
The trumpet of a prophecy! O Wind,
If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?
Ode to the West Wind, 37
- 12 Or anything, as the learned Boar observed
Oedipus Tyrannus, II 1 105
- 13 I met a traveller from an antique land
Who said 'Two vast and trunkless legs of stone
Stand in the desert Ozymandias
- 14 My name is Ozymandias, king of kings
Look on my works, ye Mighty, and despair! Ib
- 15 Nothing beside remains Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare
The lone and level sands stretch far away. Ib
- 16 Hell is a city much like London—
A populous and smoky city
Peter Bell the Third, pt 3 Hell, 1
- 17 But from the first 'twas Peter a drift
To be a kind of moral eunuch,
He touched the hem of Nature's shift,
Felt faint—and never dared uplift
The closest, all-concealing tunic. Ib pt 4 Sin, xi
- 18 Ere Babylon was dust,
The Magus Zoroaster, my dead child,
Met his own image walking in the garden,
That apparition, sole of men, he saw.
Prometheus Unbound, I, l 191
- 19 Dreams and the light imaginings of men,
And all that faith creates or love desires,
Terrible, strange, sublime and beautiful shapes Ib 200
- 20 Cruel he looks, but calm and strong,
Like one who does, not suffers wrong Ib 238
- 21 It doth repent me words are quick and vain,
Grief for awhile is blind, and so was mine
I wish no living thing to suffer pain Ib 303
- 22 Kingly conclave stern and cold
Where blood with guilt is bought and sold Ib 530
- 23 See a disenchanted nation
Springs like day from desolation;
To Truth its state is dedicate,
And Freedom leads it forth, her mate Ib 567
- 24 The good want power, but to weep barren tears
The powerful goodness want worse need for them
The wise want love, and those who love want wisdom Ib 625
- 25 Thy words are like a cloud of winged snakes,
And yet I pity those they torture not Ib 632
- 26 Peace is in the grave
The grave hides all things beautiful and good
I am a God and cannot find it there Ib 638

- 1 The dust of creeds outworn.
Prometheus Unbound, I. 697
- 2 On a poet's lips I slept
Dreaming like a love-adept
In the sound his breathing kept;
Nor seeks nor finds he mortal blisses,
But feeds on the ærial kisses
Of shapes that haunt thought's wildernesses.
He will watch from dawn to gloom
The lake-reflected sun illumine
The yellow bees in the ivy-bloom,
Nor heed, nor see, what things they be;
But from these create he can
Forms more real than living man,
Nurslings of immortality! Ib. 737
- 3 That sense, which when the winds of Spring
In rarest visitation, or the voice
Of one beloved heard in youth alone,
Fills the faint eyes with falling tears which dim
The radiant looks of unbewailing flowers,
And leaves this peopled earth a solitude
When it returns no more. Ib. II. iv. 12
- 4 To be
Omnipotent but friendless is to reign. Ib. 47
- 5 He gave man speech, and speech created thought,
Which is the measure of the universe. Ib. 73
- 6 All spirits are enslaved which serve things evil. Ib. 110
- 7 Fate, Time, Occasion, Chance, and Change? To these
All things are subject but eternal Love. Ib. 119
- 8 My coursers are fed with the lightning,
They drink of the whirlwind's stream,
And when the red morning is bright'ning
They bathe in the fresh sunbeam. Ib. 163
- 9 Life of Life! thy lips enkindle
With their love the breath between them;
And thy smiles before they dwindle
Make the cold air fire; then screen them
In those looks, where whoso gazes
Faints, entangled in their mazes.
Child of Light! thy limbs are burning
Through the vest which seems to hide them;
As the radiant lines of morning
Through the clouds ere they divide them;
And this atmosphere divinest
Shrouds thee wheresoe'er thou shinest. Ib. v. 48
- 10 My soul is an enchanted boat,
Which, like a sleeping swan, doth float
Upon the silver waves of thy sweet singing. Ib. 72
- 11 Death is the veil which those who live call life:
They sleep, and it is lifted. Ib. III. iii. 113
- 12 The loathsome mask has fallen, the man remains
Sceptreless, free, uncircumscribed, but man
Equal, unclassed, tribeless, and nationless,
Exempt from awe, worship, degree, the king
Over himself; just, gentle, wise: but man
Passionless?—no, yet free from guilt or pain,
Which were, for his will made or suffered them,
Nor yet exempt, though ruling them like slaves,
From chance, and death, and mutability,
The clogs of that which else might oversoar
The loftiest star of unascended heaven,
Pinnacled dim in the intense inane. Ib. 193
- 13 Familiar acts are beautiful through love. Ib. IV. 403
- 14 Language is a perpetual Orphic song,
Which rules with Daedal harmony a throng
Of thoughts and forms, which else senseless and shapeless were. Prometheus Unbound, IV. 415
- 15 Elysian, windless, fortunate abodes
Beyond Heaven's constellated wilderness. Ib. 531

Through the dim night of this immortal day. Ib. 551
- 17 To suffer woes which Hope thinks infinite;
To forgive wrongs darker than death or night;
To defy Power, which seems omnipotent;
To love, and bear; to hope till Hope creates
From its own wreck the thing it contemplates;
Neither to change, nor falter, nor repent;
This, like thy glory, Titan, is to be
Good, great and joyous, beautiful and free;
This is alone Life, Joy, Empire and Victory. Ib. 570
- 18 How wonderful is Death,
Death and his brother Sleep! Queen Mab, c. 1, l. 1
- 19 That sweet bondage which is freedom's self. Ib. c. 9, l. 76
- 20 I dreamed that, as I wandered by the way,
Bare Winter suddenly was changed to Spring,
And gentle odours led my steps astray,
Mixed with a sound of water's murmuring
Along a shelving bank of turf, which lay
Under a copse, and hardly dared to fling
Its green arms round the bosom of the stream,
But kissed it and then fled, as thou mightst in dream. The Question
- 21 There grew pied wind-flowers and violets,
Daisies, those pearly Arcturi of the earth,
The constellated flower that never sets. Ib.
- 22 And in the warm hedge grew lush eglantine,
Green cowbind and the moonlight-coloured may,
And cherry-blossoms, and white cups, whose wine
Was the bright dew, yet drained not by the day;
And wild roses, and ivy serpentine,
With its dark buds and leaves, wandering astray;
And flowers azure, black, and streaked with gold,
Fairer than any wakened eyes behold. Ib.
- 23 And nearer to the river's trembling edge
There grew broad flag-flowers, purple, pranked with white,
And starry river buds among the sedge,
And floating water-lilies, broad and bright. Ib.
- 24 With hue like that when some great painter dips
His pencil in the gloom of earthquake and eclipse.

- 25 A Sensitive Plant in a garden grew.
The Sensitive Plant, pt. 1, l. 1
- 26 And the rose like a nymph to the bath addressed,
Which unveiled the depth of her glowing breast,
Till, fold after fold, to the fainting air
The soul of her beauty and love lay bare. Ib. l. 29
- 27 And the jessamine faint, and the sweet tuberose,
The sweetest flower for scent that blows. Ib. l. 37
- 28 It is a modest creed, and yet
Pleasant if one considers it,
To own that death itself must be
Like all the rest, a mockery. Ib. Conclusion

- 1 Hail to thee, blithe Spirit!
Bird thou never wert,
That from Heaven, or near it,
Pourest thy full heart
In profuse strains of unpremeditated art. To a Skylark
- 2 And singing still dost soar, and soaring ever singest Ib
- 3 Like an unbodied joy whose race is just begun Ib
- 4 Thou art unseen, but yet I hear thy shrill delight Ib
- 5 Keen as are the arrows
Of that silver sphere,
Whose intense lamp narrows
In the white dawn clear
Until we hardly see,—we feel that it is there Ib
- 6 Like a Poet hidden
In the light of thought,
Singing hymns unbidden,
Till the world is wrought
To sympathy with hopes and fears it heeded not Like a high-born maiden
In a palace tower,
Soothing her love-laden
Soul in secret hour
With music sweet as love, which overflows her bower Ib
- 7 Chorus Hymeneal,
Or triumphal chant,
Matched with thine would be all
But an empty vaunt,
A thing wherein we feel there is some hidden want. Ib
- 8 What objects are the fountains
Of thy happy strain?
What fields, or waves, or mountains?
What shapes of sky or plain?
What love of thine own kind? what ignorance of pain? Ib
- 9 With thy clear keen joyance
Languor cannot be
Shadow of annoyance
Never came near thee
Thou lovest—but ne'er knew love's sad satiety
Waking or asleep,
Thou of death must deem
Things more true and deep
Than we mortals dream,
Or how could thy notes flow in such a crystal stream?
We look before and after,
We pine for what is not,
Our sincerest laughter
With some pain is fraught,
Our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought Ib
- 10 Better than all measures
Of delightful sound,
Better than all treasures
That in books are found,
Thy skill to poet were, thou scorner of the ground!
Teach me half the gladness
That thy brain must know,
Such harmonious madness
From my lips would flow
The world should listen then—as I am listening now Ib
- 11 Rarely, rarely, comest thou,
Spirit of Delight! Song Rarely, Rarely, Comest Thou
- 12 I love all that thou lovest,
Spirit of Delight
The fresh Earth in new leaves dressed,
And the starry night,
Autumn evening, and the morn
When the golden mists are born Ib
- 13 I love snow, and all the forms
Of the radiant frost Ib
- 14 Everything almost
Which is Nature's, and may be Untainted by man's misery. Ib
- 15 I love tranquil solitude,
And such society
As is quiet, wise, and good,
Between thee and me
What difference? but thou dost possess
The things I seek, not love them less Ib
- 16 I love Love—though he has wings,
And like light can flee,
But above all other things,
Spirit, I love thee—
Thou art love and life! Oh, come,
Make once more my heart thy home. Ib
- 17 Men of England, wherefore plough
For the lords who lay you low?

Call Life Sonnet Lift not the Painted Veil
- 20 He sought,
For his lost heart was tender, things to love,
But found them not, alas! nor was there aught
The world contrives, the which he could approve
Through the unheeding many he did move,
A splendour among shadows, a bright blot
Upon this gloomy scene a Spirit that strove
For truth, and like the Preacher found it not Ib
- 21 The City's voice itself is soft like Solitude's
Stanzas Written in Dejection near Naples
- 22 I see the waves upon the shore,
Like light dissolved in star-showers, thrown Ib
- 23 How sweet! did any heart now share in my emotion Ib
- 24 Alas! I have nor hope nor health,
Nor peace within nor calm around,
Nor that content surpassing wealth
The sage in meditation found,
And walked with inward glory crowned Ib
- 25 I could lie down like a tired child,
And weep away the life of care
Which I have borne and yet must bear,
Till death like sleep might steal on me Ib
- 26 Away! the moor is dark beneath the moon,
Rapid clouds have drank the last pale beam of even
Away! the gathering winds will call the darkness soon,
And profoundest midnight shroud the serene lights of heaven
Stanzas—April 1814 Away! the Moor is Dark

1 Music, when soft voices die,
Vibrates in the memory—
Odours, when sweet violets sicken,
Live within the sense they quicken.
Rose leaves, when the rose is dead,
Are heaped for the beloved's bed;
And so thy thoughts, when thou art gone,
Love itself shall slumber on.

To——. Music, When Soft Voices

2 I fear thy kisses, gentle maiden,
Thou needest not fear mine;
My spirit is too deeply laden
Ever to burthen thine.
I fear thy mien, thy tones, thy motion,
Thou needest not fear mine;
Innocent is the heart's devotion
With which I worship thine.

To——. I Fear thy Kisses

3 One word is too often profaned
For me to profane it,
One feeling too falsely disdained
For thee to disdain it.

To——. One Word is too often Profaned

4 The desire of the moth for the star,
Of the night for the morrow,
The devotion to something afar
From the sphere of our sorrow. Ib.

5 And like a dying lady, lean and pale,
Who totters forth, wrapped in a gauzy veil.
The Waning Moon

6 A lovely lady, garmented in light
From her own beauty. The Witch of Atlas, v

7 For she was beautiful—her beauty made
The bright world dim, and everything beside Seemed like the fleeting image of a shade. Ib. xii

8 The rapid, blind
And fleeting generations of mankind. Ib. lxxi

9 In honoured poverty thy voice did weave
Songs consecrate to truth and liberty,—
Deserting these, thou leavest me to grieve,
Thus having been, that thou shouldst cease to be.

To Wordsworth

10 Poets are the unacknowledged legislators of the world.
A Defence of Poetry

11 The rich have become richer, and the poor have become poorer; and the vessel of the state is driven between the Scylla and Charybdis of anarchy and despotism. Ib.

JAMES SHIRLEY

1596-1666

- 5 The glories of our blood and state
Are shadows, not substantial things;
There is no armour against fate;
Death lays his icy hand on kings:
Sceptre and crown
Must tumble down,
And in the dust be equal made
With the poor crooked scythe and spade.
The Contention of Ajax and Ulysses, I. iii

- 6 Only the actions of the just Smell sweet, and blossom in their dust. Ib.

- 7 I presume you're mortal, and may err.

- 27 We can inform Jonathan what are the inevitable consequences of being too fond of glory;—Taxes upon every article which enters into the mouth, or covers the back, or is placed under the foot . . . taxes on everything on earth, and the waters under the earth.
Ib. vol. i. Review of Seybert's Statistical Annals of the United States, p. 291
- 28 The schoolboy whips his taxed top—the beardless youth manages his taxed horse, with a taxed bridle, on a taxed road;—and the dying Englishman, pouring his medicine, which has paid seven per cent., into a spoon that has paid fifteen per cent.—flings himself back upon his chintz bed, which has paid twenty-two per cent.—and expires in the arms of an apothecary who has paid a licence of a hundred pounds for the privilege of putting him to death. Ib.
- 29 What bishops like best in their clergy is a dropping-down-deadness of manner.
Ib. vol. ii, First Letter to Archdeacon Singleton, p. 271. Note
- 30 I like, my dear Lord, the road you are travelling, but I don't like the pace you are driving; too similar to that of the son of Nimshi. I always feel myself inclined to cry out, Gently, John, gently down hill. Put on the drag.

Ib. To Arthur Kinglake, 30 Sept. 1837
- 35 I have no relish for the country; it is a kind of healthy grave. Ib. To Miss G. Harcourt, 1838
- 36 I have seen nobody since I saw you, but persons in orders. My only varieties are vicars, rectors, curates, and every now and then (by way of turbot) an archdeacon. Ib. To Miss Berry, 28 Jan. 1843

- 1 One very hot evening in summer, Lady Holland and a large party of friends were suffering from the stifling atmosphere, and a general dulness had crept over the company. Then Milnes was seen to enter. 'Ah! here comes the cool of the evening,' cried Sydney Smith, and immediately everybody grew brighter. [Milnes resented this and other nicknames, and Sydney Smith wrote to him: 'The names of "Cool of the evening", "London Assurance", and "In-I-go Jones", are, I give you my word, not mine.']

- 3 The merry cuckoo, messenger of Spring,
His trumpet shrill hath thrice already sounded.
Amoretti. Sonnet xix
- 4 Most glorious Lord of life, that on this day
Didst make thy triumph over death and sin:
And, having harrow'd hell, didst bring away
Captivity thence captive, us to win. Ib. lxxviii
- 5 So let us love, dear Love, like as we ought,
—Love is the lesson which the Lord us taught. Ib.
- 6 Fresh spring the herald of love's mighty king,
In whose coat armour richly are display'd
All sorts of flowers the which on earth do spring
In goodly colours gloriously array'd. Ib. lxx
- 7 One day I wrote her name upon the strand,
But came the waves and washed it away:
Again I wrote it with a second hand,
But came the tide, and made my pains his prey.
Vain man, said she, that dost in vain assay,
A mortal thing so to immortalize,
For I myself shall like to this decay,
And eke my name be wiped out likewise.
Not so, quoth I, let baser things devise
To die in dust, but you shall live by fame:
My verse your virtues rare shall eternize,
And in the heavens write your glorious name,
Where when as death shall all the world subdue,
Our love shall live, and later life renew Ib. lxxv
- 8 Triton blowing loud his wreathed horn.
Colin Clout's Come Home Again, l. 245
- 9 The Shepherd of the Ocean (quoth he)
Unto that Goddess' grace me first enhanc'd,
And to mine oaten pipe inclin'd her ear. Ib. l. 358
- 10 So love is Lord of all the world by right. Ib. l. 883
- 11 The woods shall to me answer and my echo ring.
Epithalamion, l. 18
- 12 Open the temple gates unto my love,
Open them wide that she may enter in. Ib. l. 204
- 13 Behold whiles she before the altar stands
Hearing the holy priest that to her speaks
And blesseth her with his two happy hands.
Ib. l. 223
- 14 Ah! when will this long weary day have end,
And lend me leave to come unto my love? Ib. l. 278
- 15 Song made in lieu of many ornaments,
With which my love should duly have been deck'd.
Ib. l. 427
- 16 Fierce wars and faithful loves shall moralize my song.

- 17 A gentle knight was pricking on the plain. Ib. c. i. i

- 18 But on his breast a bloody cross he bore,
The dear remembrance of his dying Lord.
The Faerie Queene, bk. I. c. i. ii
- 19 But of his cheer did seem too solemn sad;
Yet nothing did he dread, but ever was ydrad. Ib.
- 20 A bold bad man. Ib. xxxvii
- 21 Her angel's face
As the great eye of heaven shined bright,
And made a sunshine in the shady place;
Did never mortal eye behold such heavenly grace.
Ib. c. iii. vi
- 22 And all the hinder parts, that few could spy,
Were ruinous and old, but painted cunningly.
Ib. c. iv. v
- 23 The Noble heart, that harbours virtuous thought,
And is with child of glorious great intent,
Can never rest, until it forth have brought Th' eternal brood of glory excellent. Ib. c. v. i
- 24 A cruel crafty Crocodile,
Which in false grief hiding his harmful guile,
Doth weep full sore, and sheddeth tender tears.
Ib. xviii
- 25 As when that devilish iron engine, wrought
In deepest hell, and fram'd by furies' skill,
With windy nitre and quick sulphur fraught,
And ramm'd with bullet round, ordain'd to kill,
Conceiveth fire. Ib. c. vii. xiii
- 26 Still as he fled, his eye was backward cast,
As if his fear still followed him behind. Ib. c. ix. xxi
- 27 That darksome cave they enter, where they find
That cursed man, low sitting on the ground,
Musing full sadly in his sullen mind. Ib. xxxv
- 28 Sleep after toil, port after stormy seas,
Ease after war, death after life does greatly please.

- 31 Upon her eyelids many Graces sate,
Under the shadow of her even brows. Ib. c. iii. xxv
- 32 And all for love, and nothing for reward.
Ib. c. viii. ii
- 33 So passeth, in the passing of a day,
Of mortal life the leaf, the bud, the flower,
No more doth flourish after first decay,
That erst was sought to deck both bed and bower,
Of many a Lady, and many a Paramour:
Gather therefore the Rose, whilst yet is prime,
For soon comes age, that will her pride deflower:
Gather the Rose of love, whilst yet is time,
Whilst loving thou mayst loved be with equal crime.
Ib. c. xii. lxxv
- 34 Let Grill be Grill, and have his hoggish mind.
Ib. lxxxvii
- 35 O goodly usage of those antique times,
In which the sword was servant unto right;
When not for malice and contentious crimes,
But all for praise, and proof of manly might,
The martial brood accustomed to fight:
Then honour was the meed of victory,
And yet the vanquished had no despite.

 8 A monster which the Blatant beast men call,
 A dreadful fiend of gods and men ydrad Ib xxxvii
 9 The gentle mind by gentle deeds is known
 For a man by nothing is so well bewray'd
 As by his manners Ib bk VI, c iii i
 10 What man that sees the ever whirling wheel
 Of Change, the which all mortal things doth sway,
 But that thereby doth find, and plainly feel,
 How Mutability in them doth play
 Her cruel sports, to many men's decay?

 16 Full little knowest thou that hast not tried,
 What hell it is in suing long to bide
 To lose good days that might be better spent,
 To waste long nights in pensive discontent,
 To speed to day, to be put back to morrow,
 To feed on hope, to pine with fear and sorrow
 To have thy Prince's grace, yet want her Peers,
 To have thy asking yet wait many years,
 To fret thy soul with crosses and with cares,
 To eat thy heart through comfortless despair,
 To fawn, to crouch, to wait, to ride, to run,
 To spend, to give, to want, to be undone,
 Unhappy wight born to disastrous end,
 That doth his life in so long tendance spend

 18 I was promis'd on a time,
 To have reason for my rhyme;
 From that time unto this season,
 I received nor rhyme nor reason
Prothalamion l 1
 19 Calm was the day, and through the trembling air
 Sweet breathing Zephyrus did softly play
 With that, I saw two Swans of goodly hue,
 Come softly swimming down along the Lee,
 Two fairer Birds I yet did never see
 The Snow which doth the top of Pindus strew,
 Did never whiter show,
 Nor Jove himself when he a Swan would be
 For love of Leda whiter did appear
 Yet Leda was they say as white as he,
 Yet not so white as these, nor nothing near,
 So purely white they were,
 That even the gentle stream, the which them bare
 Seem'd foul to them, and bade his billows spare
 To wet their silken feathers, lest they might Soil their fair plumes with water not so fair
 And mar their beauties bright,
 That shone as Heaven's light,
 Against their Bridal day, which was not long
 Sweet Thames, run softly, till I end my Song
Ib l 37
 21 At length they all to merry London came,
 To merry London, my most kindly nurse,
 That to me gave this life a first native source
 Though from another place I take my name,
 An house of ancient fame
 There when they came whereas those brickly towers
 The which on Thames' broad aged back do ride,
 Where now the studious Lawyers have their bowers
 There whilom wont the Templar Knights to bide,
 Till they decay'd through pride. Ib l 127

 32 I live in a constant endeavour to fence against the infirmities of ill health, and other evils of life, by mirth, being firmly persuaded that every time a man smiles,—but much more so, when he laughs, that it adds something to this Fragment of Life
Tristram Shandy Dedication

- 1 'Pray, my dear,' quoth my mother, 'have you not forgot to wind up the clock?'—'Good G——!' cried my father, making an exclamation, but taking care to moderate his voice at the same time,—'Did ever woman, since the creation of the world, interrupt a man with such a silly question?'

And dress by yellow candle-light.
In summer, quite the other way,—
I have to go to bed by day.
I have to go to bed and see
The birds still hopping on the tree,
Or hear the grown-up people's feet
Still going past me in the street.
And does it not seem hard to you,

- 10 Be it granted to me to behold you again in dying,
Hills of homel and to hear again the call;
Hear about the graves of the martyrs the peewees
crying,
And hear no more at all. Ib.

- 11 Of all my verse, like not a single line;
But like my title, for it is not mine.
That title from a better man I stole;
Ah, how much better, had I stol'n the whole!
Underwoods Foreword

- 12 Go, little book, and wish to all
Flowers in the garden, meat in the hall,
A bin of wine, a spice of wit,
A house with lawns enclosing it,
A living river by the door,
A nightingale in the sycamore!

- 16 If I have faltered more or less
In my great task of happiness,
If I have moved among my race
And shown no glorious morning face;
If beams from happy human eyes
Have moved me not, if morning skies,
Books, and my food, and summer rain
Knocked on my sullen heart in vain —
Lord, thy most pointed pleasure take
And stab my spirit broad awake;
Or, Lord, if too obdurate I,
Choose thou, before that spirit die,
A piercing pain, a killing sin,
And to my dead heart run them in!

A strenuous family dusted from its hands
The sand of granite, and beholding far
Along the sounding coast its pyramids
And tall memorials catch the dying sun,
Smiled well content, and to this childish task
Around the fire addressed its evening hours.

- 21 I can not eat but little meat,
My stomach is not good:
But sure I think, that I can drink
With him that wears a hood.
Though I go bare, take ye no care,
I am nothing acold:

I stuff my skin, so full within,
Of jolly good ale and old,
Back and side go bare, go bare,
Both foot and hand go cold:
But belly God send thee good ale enough,
Whether it be new or old.

GEOFFREY ANKETELL STUDDERT-KENNEDY

1883-1929

- 9 When in the darkest depths the miner striving,
Feels in his arms the vigour of the Lord,
Strikes for a Kingdom and his King's arriving,
Holding his pick more splendid than the sword.
Songs of Faith and Doubt (1922), p. 7. Then Will He Come: 'When Through the Whirl'

SIR JOHN SUCKLING

1609-1642

- 10 Why so pale and wan, fond lover?
Prithee, why so pale?
Will, when looking well can't move her,
Looking ill prevail?
Prithee, why so pale? Aglaure, iv. i. Song
- 11 Quit, quit, for shame, this will not move:
This cannot take her.
If of herself she will not love,
Nothing can make her:
The devil take her! Ib.
- 12 Her feet beneath her petticoat,
Like little mice, stole in and out,
As if they fear'd the light.
Ballad. Upon a Wedding, viii
- 13 For streaks of red were mingled there,
Such as are on a Catherine pear
(The side that's next the sun). Ib.
- 14 Her lips were red, and one was thin,
Compar'd to that was next her chin
(Some bee had stung it newly). Ib. xi
- 15 The Prince of Darkness is a gentleman.
The Goblins. Act III, A Catch. (See 453:25)
- 16 I prithee send me back my heart,
Since I cannot have thine:
For if from yours you will not part,
Why then shouldst thou have mine?
Song. I Prithee Send me Back
- 17 But love is such a mystery,
I cannot find it out:
For when I think I'm best resolv'd,
I then am in most doubt. Ib.
- 18 Out upon it, I have loved
Three whole days together;
And am like to love three more,
If it prove fair weather.
Time shall moult away his wings,
Ere he shall discover
In the whole wide world again
Such a constant lover. A Poem with the Answer
- 19 Had it any been but she,
And that very face,
There had been at least ere this
A dozen dozen in her place. Ib.

SUETONIUS

fl. c. A.D. 120

- 20 Ita feri ut se mori sentiat.
Strike him so that he can feel that he is dying.
Caligula, xxx
- 21 Festina lente. [Σπεῦδε βραδέως.]
Hasten slowly. Divus Augustus, 25
- 22 Ave, Imperator, morituri te salutant.
Hail, Emperor, those about to die salute thee.
Life of Claudius, 21

MAXIMILIAN DE BETHUNE, DUC DE SULLY

1559-1641

- 23 Les anglais s'amusent tristement selon l'usage de leur pays.
The English take their pleasures sadly after the fashion of their country. Memoirs, c. 1630

HENRY HOWARD, EARL OF SURREY

1517?—1547

- 1 My friend, the things that do attain
The happy life be these, I find
The riches left, not got with pain,
The fruitful ground, the quiet mind,
The equal friend, no grudge, no strife,
No charge of rule, nor governance,
Without disease the healthy life,
The household of continuance
Martial's Quiet Life, st 1, 11
- 2 The faithful wife, without debate,
Such sleeps as may beguile the night
Content thyself with thine estate
Neither wish death nor fear his might Ib st 1v
- 3 The soote season, that bud and bloom forth brings
Spring

of vice
The Analysis of the Hunting Field (1846) ch 1
- 5 The only infallible rule we know is, that the man who is always talking about being a gentleman never is one
Ask Mamma (1858), ch 1
- 6 Major Yammerton was rather a peculiar man, inasmuch as he was an ass, without being a fool
Ib ch 25
- 7 'Untung is all that's worth living for—all time is lost
wot is not spent in 'unting—it is like the hair we breathe—if we have it not we die—it's the sport of kings, the image of war without its guilt, and only five and twenty per cent of its danger
Handley Cross (1843), ch 7
- 8 'Untung fills my thoughts by day, and many a good run I have in my sleep. Many a dig in the ribs I gives Mrs J when I think they're running into the warmint (renewed cheers) No man is fit to be called a sportsman wot doesn't kick his wife out of bed on a haverage once in three weeks! Ib ch 11

CHARLES SWAIN

1801-1874

- 2 Time to me this truth has taught
(Tis a treasure worth revealing),
More offend from want of thought,
Than from any want of feeling. Want of Thought

JONATHAN SWIFT

1667-1745

- 3 I conceive some scattered notions about a superior power to be of singular use for the common people, as furnishing excellent materials to keep children quiet when they grow peevish, and providing topics of amusement in a tedious winter-night.

ALGERNON CHARLES SWINBURNE

1837-1909

- 28 Superflux of pain. Anactoria, l. 27
- 29 Maiden, and mistress of the months and stars
Now folded in the flowerless fields of heaven.
Atalanta in Calydon. Collected Poetical Works (1924), vol. ii, p. 247, l. 1
- 30 When the hounds of spring are on winter's traces,
The mother of months in meadow or plain
Fills the shadows and windy places
With lisp of leaves and ripple of rain;
And the brown bright nightingale amorous
Is half assuaged for Itylus,
For the Thracian ships and the foreign faces,
The tongueless vigil and all the pain.
Come with bows bent and with emptying of quivers,
Maiden most perfect, lady of light,
With a noise of winds and many rivers,
With a clamour of waters, and with might;
Bind on thy sandals, O thou most fleet,
Over the splendour and speed of thy feet;
For the faint east quickens, the wan west shivers,
Round the feet of the day and the feet of the night.

- Where shall we find her, how shall we sing to her,
Fold our hands round her knees, and cling?
O that man's heart were as fire and could spring to her,
Fire, or the strength of the streams that spring!
For the stars and the winds are unto her
As raiment, as songs of the harp player,
For the risen stars and the fallen cling to her,
And the southwest wind and west-wind sing
- For winter's rains and runs are over,
And all the season of snows and suns,
The days dividing lover and lover,
The light that loses, the night that wins,
And time remembered is grief forgotten,
And frosts are slain and flowers begotten,
And in green underwood and cover
Blossom by blossom the spring begins
Atalanta in Calydon, Chorus, p 249
- 1 And the hoofed heel of a satyr crushes
The chestnut-husk at the chestnut root Ib p 250
- 2 And Pan by noon and Bacchus by night,
Fleetest of foot than the fleet foot kid,
Follows with dancing and fills with delight
The Maenad and the Bassarid,
And soft as lips that laugh and hide
The laughing leaves of the tree divide,
And screen from seeing and leave in sight
The god pursuing, the maiden hid Ib
- 3 The ivy falls with the Bacchanal's hair
Over her eyebrows hiding her eyes,
The wild vine slipping down leaves bare
Her bright breast shortening into sighs Ib
- 4 The wolf that follows, the fawn that flies Ib
- 5 Before the beginning of years
There came to the making of man
Time with a gift of tears,
Grief with a glass that ran
Pleasure with pain for leaven,
Summer with flowers that fell,
Remembrance fallen from heaven,
And Madness risen from hell,
Strength without hands to smite,
Love that endures for a breath,
Night, the shadow of light,
And Life, the shadow of death Ib p 258
- 6 For a day and a night and a morrow,
That his strength might endure for a span
With travail and heavy sorrow,
The holy spirit of man Ib p 259
- 7 Eyesight and speech they wrought
For the veil of the soul therein,
A time for labour and thought,
A time to serve and to sin,
They gave him light in his ways,
And love, and a space for delight,
And beauty and length of days,
And night, and sleep in the night
His speech is a burning fire,
With his lips he travaileth,
In his heart is a blind desire,
In his eyes foreknowledge of death,
He weaves and is clothed with dersion,
Sows and he shall not reap,
His life is a watch or a vision
Between a sleep and a sleep Ib
- 8 We have seen thee, O love, thou art fair, thou art
goodly, O Love
Atalanta in Calydon, Chorus, p 273
- 9 For words divide and rend,
But silence is most noble till the end Ib p 299
- 10 Where the narrowing Symplegades whitened the straits of Propontis with spray Ib p 327
- 11 Shall I strew on thee rose or rue or laurel,
Brother, on that that was the veil of thee?
Or quiet sea flower moulded by the sea,
Or simplest growth of meadow-sweet or sorrel?
Ave atque Vale, i
- 12 Now all strange hours and all strange loves are over,
Dreams and desires and sombre songs and sweet,
Hast thou found place at the great knees and feet
Of some pale Titan woman like a lover,
Such as thy vision here solicited,
Under the shadow of her fair vast head,
The deep division of prodigious breasts,
The solemn slope of mighty limbs asleep? Ib vi
- 13 Sleep, and if life was bitter to thee, pardon,
If sweet, give thanks, thou hast no more to live,
And to give thanks is good, and to forgive Ib xvii
- 14 For thee O now a silent soul, my brother,
Take at my hands this garland and farewell
Thin is the leaf, and chill the wintry smell,
And chill the solemn earth a fatal mother,
With sadder than the Niobeon womb
And in the hollow of her breasts a tomb Ib xviii
- 15 There lies not any troublous thing before,
Nor sight nor sound to war against thee more,
For whom all winds are quiet as the sun,
All waters as the shore Ib
- 16 This is the end of every man's desire
A Ballad of Burdens
- 17 Poor splendid wings so frayed and soiled and torn!
Poor kind wild eyes so dashed with light quick tears!
Ballad of François Villon
- 18 Villon our sad bad glad mad brother's name Ib
- 19 Strung with subtle coloured hair
Of some dead lute player A Ballad of Life
- 20 O slain and spent and sacrificed
People, the grey grown speechless Christ
Before a Crucifix Poetical Works (1924), vol 1, p 744
- 21 No soul that lived, loved wrought and died
Is this their carrion crucified Ib p 747
- 22 We shift and bedeck and bedrape us,
Thou art noble and nude and antique Dolores, vii
- 23 Change in a trice
The lilies and languors of virtue
For the raptures and roses of vice Ib ix
- 24 O splendid and sterile Dolores,
Our Lady of Pain Ib
- 25 Ah beautiful passionate body
That never has ached with a heart!
Ib xi
- 26 But sweet as the rind was the core is,
We are fain of thee still, we are fain,
O sanguine and subtle Dolores,
Our Lady of Pain Ib xiii
- 27 The delight that consumes the desire,
The desire that outruns the delight Ib xiv

- 1 For the crown of our life as it closes
Is darkness, the fruit thereof dust;
No thorns go as deep as a rose's,
And love is more cruel than lust.
Time turns the old days to derision,
Our loves into corpses or wives;
And marriage and death and division
Make barren our lives. Dolores, xx
- 2 Ringed round with a flame of fair faces,
And splendid with swords. Ib. xxx
- 3 What ailed us, O gods, to desert you
For creeds that refuse and restrain?
Come down and redeem us from virtue,
Our Lady of Pain. Ib. xxxv
- 4 On thy bosom though many a kiss be,
There are none such as knew it of old.
Was it Alciphron once or Arisbe,
Male ringlets or feminine gold,
That thy lips met with under the statue,
Whence a look shot out sharp after thieves
From the eyes of the garden-god at you
Across the fig-leaves? Ib. xxxviii
- 5 Old poets outsing and outlove us,
And Catullus makes mouths at our speech. Ib. xliii
- 6 Where are they, Cotytto or Venus, Astarte or Ashtaroth, where?
Do their hands as we touch come between us?
Is the breath of them hot in thy hair?
From their lips have thy lips taken fever,
With the blood of their bodies grown red?
Hast thou left upon earth a believer
If these men are dead? Ib. lii
- 7 O daughter of Death and Priapus,
Our Lady of Pain. Ib. liii
- 8 I shall remember while the light lives yet
And in the night time I shall not forget. Erotion
- 9 There was a poor poet named Clough,
Whom his friends all united to puff,
But the public, though dull,
Had not such a skull
As belonged to believers in Clough.
Essays and Studies (1875), Matthew Arnold
(printed as prose)
- 10 Bright with names that men remember, loud with names that men forget. Eton: An Ode
- 11 What adders came to shed their coats?
What coiled obscene
Small serpents with soft stretching throats
Caressed Faustine? Faustine
- 12 Those eyes the greenest of things blue,
The bluest of things grey. Félice
- 13 In a coign of the cliff between lowland and highland,
At the sea-down's edge between windward and lee,
Walled round with rocks as an inland island,
The ghost of a garden fronts the sea.
A Forsaken Garden
- 14 The fields fall southward, abrupt and broken,
To the low last edge of the long lone land.
If a step should sound or a word be spoken,
Would a ghost not rise at the strange guest's hand?
So long have the grey bare walls lain guestless,
Through branches and briars if a man make way,
He shall find no life but the sea-wind's, restless
Night and day. Ib.
- 15 Heart handfast in heart as they stood, 'Look thither,' Did he whisper? 'look forth from the flowers to the sea;
For the foam-flowers endure when the rose-blossoms
wither
And men that love lightly may die—but we?'
And the same wind sang and the same waves
whitened,
And or ever the garden's last petals were shed,
In the lips that had whispered, the eyes that had lightened,
Love was dead. A Forsaken Garden
- 16 Stretched out on the spoils that his own hand spread.
As a god self-slain on his own strange altar,
Death lies dead. Ib.
- 17 Here, where the world is quiet;
Here, where all trouble seems
Dead winds' and spent waves' riot
In doubtful dreams of dreams.
The Garden of Proserpine
- 18 I am tired of tears and laughter,
And men that laugh and weep;
Of what may come hereafter
For men that sow and reap:
I am weary of days and hours,
Blown buds of barren flowers,
Desires and dreams and powers
And everything but sleep. Ib.
- 19 Here life has death for neighbour,
And far from eye or ear
Wan waves and wet winds labour,
Weak ships and spirits steer. Ib.
- 20 Pale, beyond porch and portal,
Crowned with calm leaves, she stands
Who gathers all things mortal
With cold immortal hands. Ib.
- 21 Dead dreams of days forsaken,
Blind buds that snows have shaken,
Wild leaves that winds have taken,
Red strays of ruined springs. Ib.
- 22 We are not sure of sorrow,
And joy was never sure. Ib.
- 23 From too much love of living,
From hope and fear set free,
We thank with brief thanksgiving
Whatever gods may be
That no man lives forever,
That dead men rise up never;
That even the weariest river
Winds somewhere safe to sea. Ib.
- 24 Then star nor sun shall waken,
Nor any change of light:
Nor sound of waters shaken,
Nor any sound or sight:
Nor wintry leaves nor vernal,
Nor days nor things diurnal;
Only the sleep eternal
In an eternal night. Ib.
- 25 Calling a crowned man royal
That was no more than a king. The Halt before Rome
- 26 Fiddle, we know, is diddle: and diddle, we take it, is dee.
The Heptalogia. The Higher Pantheism in a Nut-shell

- 1 I am that which began
Out of me the years roll,
Out of me God and man,
I am equal and whole,
God changes, and man, and the form of them bodily,
I am the soul Hertha
- 2 But what thing dost thou now,
Looking Godward, to cry
'I am I, thou art thou,
I am low, thou art high?'
I am thou, whom thou seekest to find him, find thou but thyself, thou art I Ib
- 3 A creed is a rod,
And a crown is of night,
But this thing is God
To be man with thy might,
To grow straight in the strength of thy spirit, and live out thy life as the light Ib
- 4 Green leaves of thy labour white flowers of thy thought, and red fruit of thy death Ib
- 5 Man, equal and one with me, man that is made of me
man that is I Ib
- 6 Hope thou not much, and fear thou not at all
Hope and Fear
- 7 In the fair days when God
By man as godlike trod
And each alike was Greek, alike was free
To Victor Hugo
- 8 And a bird overhead sang Folloto,
And a bird to the right sang Here,
And the arch of the leaves was hollow,
And the meaning of May was clear An Interlude
- 9 I remember the way we parted,
The day and the way we met,
You hoped we were both broken hearted,
And knew we should both forget Ib
- 10 And the best and the worst of this is
That neither is most to blame,
If you have forgotten my kisses
And I have forgotten your name Ib
- 11 Swallow, my sister, O sister swallow
How can thine heart be full of the spring?
A thousand summers are over and dead
What hast thou found in the spring to follow?
What hast thou found in thine heart to sing?
What wilt thou do when the summer is shed?
Itylus
- 12 Hast thou forgotten ere I forget? Ib
- 13 Sister, my sister, O fleet sweet swallow,
Thy way is long to the sun and the south,
But I, fulfilled of my heart's desire,
Shedding my song upon height upon hollow,
From tawny body and sweet small mouth
I feed the heart of the night with fire
I the nightingale all spring through,
O swallow, sister, O changing swallow,
All spring through till the spring be done
Clothed with the light of the night on the dew,
Sing while the hours and the wild birds follow,
Take flight and follow and find the sun Ib
- 14 Till life forget and death remember,
Till thou remember and I forget Ib
- 15 Thy lord the summer is good to follow,
And fair the feet of thy lover the spring
But what wilt thou say to the spring thy lover?
Itylus
- 16 But mine goes forth among sea gulfs hollow
To the place of the slaying of Itylus,
The feast of Daulis, the Thracian sea Ib
- 17 The small slain body, the flower like face,
Can I remember if thou forget? Ib
- 18 Thou hast forgotten, O summer swallow,
But the world shall end when I forget Ib
- 19 Apples of gold for the king's daughter
The King's Daughter
- 20 I came as one whose thoughts half linger,
Half run before
The youngest to the oldest singer
That England bore
In Memory of Walter Savage Landor
- 21 O father of all of us, Paian, Apollo,
Destroyer and healer, hear! The Last Oracle
- 22 God by God goes out disrowned and disanointed,
But the soul stands fast that gave them shape and speech Ib
- 23 Ah yet would God this flesh of mine might be Where air might wash and long leaves cover me,
Where tides of grass break into foam of flowers,
Or where the wind's feet shine along the sea
Laus Veneris
- 24 Until God loosen over sea and land
The thunder of the trumpets of the night Ib
- 25 Let us go hence, my songs she will not hear
Let us go hence together without fear
A Leaf taking
- 26 But God if a God there be, is the substance of men which is man Hymn of Man
- 27 Glory to Man in the highest! for Man is the master of things Ib
- 28 If love were what the rose is,
And I were like the leaf
Our lives would grow together
In sad or singing weather,
Blown fields or flowerful closes,
Green pleasure or grey grief
A Match
- 29 If you were thrall to sorrow,
And I were page to joy Ib
- 30 If you were April's lady,
And I were lord in May Ib
- 31 If you were queen of pleasure,
And I were king of pain Ib
- 32 But you would have felt my soul in a kiss
And known that once if I loved you well,
And I would have given my soul for this
To burn for ever in burning hell
Les Noyades
- 33 Ask nothing more of me, sweet,
All I can give you I give Heart of my heart, were it more,
More would be laid at your feet
Love that should help you to live,
Song that should spur you to soar
The Oblation

- 1 I turn to thee as some green afternoon
Turns toward sunset, and is loth to die;
Ah God, ah God, that day should be so soon!
In the Orchard
- 2 For a day and a night Love sang to us, played with us,
Folded us round from the dark and the light;
And our hearts were fulfilled with the music he made
with us,
Made with our hands and our lips while he stayed
with us,
Stayed in mid passage his pinions from flight
For a day and a night. At Parting
- 3 The world has no such flowers in any land,
And no such pearl in any gulf the sea,
As any babe on any mother's knee. Pelagius
- 4 I have lived long enough, having seen one thing, that love hath an end;
Goddess and maiden and queen, be near me now and befriend. Hymn to Proserpine
- 5 Yea, is not even Apollo, with hair and harpstring of gold,
A bitter God to follow, a beautiful God to behold?
I am sick of singing: the bays burn deep and chafe:
I am fain
To rest a little from praise and grievous pleasure and pain. Ib.
- 6 Wilt thou yet take all, Galilean? but these thou shalt not take,
The laurel, the palms and the paeon, the breasts of
the nymphs in the brake;
Breasts more soft than a dove's, that tremble with tenderer breath;
And all the wings of the Loves, and all the joy before death. Ib.
- 7 For no man under the sky lives twice, outliving his day. Ib.
- 8 Thou hast conquered, O pale Galilean; the world has grown grey from Thy breath;
We have drunken of things Lethean, and fed on the fullness of death.
Laurel is green for a season, and love is sweet for a day;
But love grows bitter with treason, and laurel outlives not May. Ib.
- 9 For the old faiths loosen and fall, the new years ruin and rend. Ib.
- 10 O ghastly glories of saints, dead limbs of gibbeted Gods! Ib.
- 11 Impelled of invisible tides, and fulfilled of unspeak-able things. Ib.
- 12 All ye as a wind shall go by, as a fire shall ye pass and
be past;
Ye are Gods, and behold, ye shall die, and the waves be upon you at last. Ib.
- 13 Though the feet of thine high priests tread where thy lords and our forefathers trod,
Though these that were Gods are dead, and thou being dead art a God,
Though before thee the throned Cytherean be fallen,
and hidden her head,
Yet thy kingdom shall pass, Galilean, thy dead shall go down to thee dead. Ib.
- 14 As the deep dim soul of a star. Ib.
- 15 A little soul for a little bears up this corpse which is
man. Hymn to Proserpine
- 16 Love alone, with yearning
Heart for astrolabe,
Takes the star's height, burning
O'er the babe. A Rhyme
- 17 Say, was not this thy Passion, to foreknow
In death's worst hour the works of Christian men?
On the Russian Persecution of the Jews
- 18 In the heart is the prey for gods,
Who crucify hearts, not hands. Satia te Sanguine
- 19 Good hap to the fresh fierce weather,
The quiver and beat of the sea!
While three men hold together,
The kingdoms are less by three.
A Song in Time of Order 1852
- 20 They have tied the world in a tether,
They have bought over God with a fee. Ib.
- 21 When the devil's riddle is mastered
And the galley-bench creaks with a Pope,
We shall see Buonaparte the bastard
Kick heels with his throat in a rope. Ib.
- 22 Had you loved me once, as you have not loved;
Had the chance been with us that has not been.
The Triumph of Time
- 23 I have put my days and dreams out of mind,
Days that are over, dreams that are done. Ib.
- 24 The strong sea-daisies feast on the sun. Ib.
- 25 Who swims in sight of the great third wave
That never a swimmer shall cross or climb. Ib.
- 26 A broken blossom, a ruined rhyme. Ib.
- 27 I had wrung life dry for your lips to drink,
Broken it up for your daily bread. Ib.
- 28 Content you;
The gate is strait; I shall not be there. Ib.
- 29 I will go back to the great sweet mother,
Mother and lover of men, the sea.
I will go down to her, I and no other,
Close with her, kiss her and mix her with me. Ib.
- 30 I shall sleep, and move with the moving ships,
Change as the winds change, veer in the tide. Ib.
- 31 There lived a singer in France of old
By the tideless dolorous midland sea.
In a land of sand and ruin and gold
There shone one woman, and none but she. Ib.
- 32 In heaven,
If I cry to you then, will you hear or know? Ib.
- 33 One the last flower of Catholic love, that grows
Amid bare thorns their only thornless rose.
Two Leaders
- 34 Sweet red splendid kissing mouth.
Translations from Villon. Complaint of the fair Amouress
- 35 There's no good girl's lip out of Paris.

- 36 Were I as base as is the lowly plain,
And you (my Love) as high as Heaven above.
Sonnet. (Attrib.) Oxford Book of 16th Cent. Verse

JOHN ADDINGTON SYMONDS

1840-1893

- 1 These things shall be! A loftier race
Than e'er the world hath known shall rise,
With flame of freedom in their souls,
And light of knowledge in their eyes Hymn

- 22 To the hills and the vales,
To the rocks and the mountains,
To the musical groves
And the cool shady fountains,
Let the triumphs of Love,
And of Beauty be shown!
Go revel, ye Cupids,
The day is your own
Dido and Aeneas, Act 1 (By Nahum Tate)
- 23 Take a bowsey short leave of your nymphs on the shore,
And silence their mourning
With vows of returning,
Though never intending to visit them more

- 2 Through all the changing scenes of life.
Ib. Through all the Changing

- 3 Fear Him, ye saints, and you will then
Have nothing else to fear. Ib.

- 4 While shepherds watch'd their flocks by night,
All seated on the ground,
The Angel of the Lord came down,
And glory shone around.

'Fear not,' said he, for mighty dread
Had seized their troubled mind;
'Glad tidings of great joy I bring
To you and all mankind.'

- 5 I thank the goodness and the grace
Which on my birth have smiled,
And made me, in these Christian days,
A happy English child.
Hymns for Infant Minds, 1. A Child's Hymn of Praise

- 6 O that it were my chief delight
To do the things I ought!
Then let me try with all my might
To mind what I am taught.
Ib. 18. For a Very Little Child

- 7 'Tis a credit to any good girl to be neat,
But quite a disgrace to be fine.
Hymns for Sunday Schools. The Folly of Finery

- 8 Who ran to help me when I fell,
And would some pretty story tell,
Or kiss the place to make it well?
My Mother.
Original Poems. My Mother. (By Ann Taylor)

- 9 How pleasant it is, at the end of the day,
No follies to have to repent;
But reflect on the past, and be able to say,
That my time has been properly spent.
Rhymes for the Nursery. The Way to be Happy. (By Jane Taylor)

- 10 Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are!
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky!
Ib. The Star. (By Jane Taylor)

BAYARD TAYLOR

1825-1878

- 11 Till the sun grows cold,
And the stars are old,
And the leaves of the Judgment Book unfold.
Bedouin Song. Refrain

SIR HENRY TAYLOR

1800-1886

- 12 Quoth tongue of neither maid nor wife
To heart of neither wife nor maid—
Lead we not here a jolly life
Betwixt the shine and shade?

Quoth heart of neither maid nor wife
To tongue of neither wife nor maid—
Thou wagg'st, but I am worn with strife,
And feel like flowers that fade.

Philip Van Artevelde, Pt. II. v. i. 1

BISHOP JEREMY TAYLOR

1613-1667

- 13 Too quick a sense of a constant infelicity.
Holy Dying, ch. I, § v

- 14 Every school-boy knows it.

ARCHBISHOP FREDERICK TEMPLE

1821-1902

- 17 There is a certain class of clergyman whose mendicity is only equalled by their mendacity.
Remark at a meeting of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners quoted by Sir George Leveson Gower: Years of Endeavour, 1942

SIR WILLIAM TEMPLE

1628-1699

- 18 When all is done, human life is, at the greatest and the best, but like a froward child, that must be play'd with and humoured a little to keep it quiet till it falls asleep, and then the care is over.
Essay on Poetry, ad fin.

ARCHBISHOP WILLIAM TEMPLE

1881-1944

- 19 'Are you not,' a Rugby master had asked him in discussing one of his [schoolboy] essays, 'a little out of your depth here?' 'Perhaps, Sir,' was the confident reply, 'but I can swim.'
F. A. Iremonger, William Temple

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON

1809-1892

- 1 Her arms across her breast she laid,
She was more fair than words can say
Bare footed came the beggar maid
Before the king Cophetua
In robe and crown the king stepped down,
To meet and greet her on her way,
'It is no wonder,' said the lords,
'She is more beautiful than day'
The Beggar Maid
- 2 As shines the moon in clouded skies,
She in her poor attire was seen
One praised her ankles, one her eyes,
One her dark hair and lovesome mien
So sweet a face, such angel grace,
In all that land had never been:
Cophetua sware a royal oath
'This beggar maid shall be my queen!

- 3 Break, break, break,
On thy cold gray stones, O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me
O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay!
And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill,
But O for the touch of a vanish'd hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!
Break, break, break,
At the foot of thy crags, O Sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me Break, Break, Break

Come Not, When I Am Dead, 1
- 22 Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark,
For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have cross'd the bar

He that runs may read.
Most can raise the flowers now,
For all have got the seed. The Flower, v
- 24 Flower in the crannied wall,
I pluck you out of the crannies,
I hold you here, root and all, in my hand,
Little flower—but if I could understand
What you are, root and all, and all in all,
I should know what God and man is.

Their conscience, and their conscience as their King,
To break the heathen and uphold the Christ,
To ride abroad redressing human wrongs,
To speak no slander, nor, nor listen to it,
To honour his own word as if his God's Ib l 465
- 14 To love one maiden only, cleave to her,
And worship her by years of noble deeds,
Until they won her, for indeed I knew
Of no more subtle master under heaven
Than is the maiden passion for a maid,
Not only to keep down the base in man,
But teach high thought, and amiable words
And courtliness, and the desire of fame,
And love of truth, and all that makes a man Ib l 472

'The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfils himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.'
Ib. l. 407
- 36 If thou shouldst never see my face again,
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. Wherefore, let thy voice
Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
For what are men better than sheep or goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friend?
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God.
Ib. l. 414
- 37 I am going a long way
With these thou seest—if indeed I go
(For all my mind is clouded with a doubt)—
To the island-valley of Avilion;
Where falls not hail, or rain, or any snow,
Nor ever wind blows loudly; but it lies
Deep-meadow'd, happy, fair with orchard lawns
And bowery hollows crown'd with summer sea,
Where I will heal me of my grievous wound.

In Memoriam, prologue. (The numbering of the Cantos follows that of the latest edition, and includes the additional Canto No. xxxix, first published in 1869)
- 40 Thou madest man, he knows not why,
He thinks he was not made to die;
And thou hast made him: thou art just. Ib.
- 41 Our little systems have their day;
They have their day and cease to be:
They are but broken lights of thee,
And thou, O Lord, art more than they. Ib.
- 42 Let knowledge grow from more to more,
But more of reverence in us dwell;
That mind and soul, according well,
May make one music as before. Ib.

- 1 Only reapers, reaping early
In among the bearded barley,
Hear a song that echoes cheerly
From the river winding clearly
Down to tower'd Camelot.
The Lady of Shalott, pt. i
- 2 She hath no loyal knight and true,
The Lady of Shalott. Ib. pt. ii
- 3 Or when the moon was overhead,
Came two young lovers lately wed.
'I am half sick of shadows,' said
The Lady of Shalott. Ib.
- 4 A bow-shot from her bower-eaves,
He rode between the barley-sheaves,
The sun came dazzling thro' the leaves
And flamed upon the brazen greaves
Of bold Sir Lancelot.
A red-cross knight for ever kneel'd
To a lady in his shield,
That sparkled on the yellow field,
Beside remote Shalott. Ib. pt. iii
- 5 All in the blue unclouded weather. Ib.
- 6 'Tirra lirra,' by the river
Sang Sir Lancelot. Ib.
- 7 She left the web, she left the loom,
She made three paces thro' the room
She saw the water-lily bloom,
She saw the helmet and the plume,
She look'd down to Camelot
Out flew the web and floated wide,
The mirror crack'd from side to side,
'The curse is come upon me,' cried
The Lady of Shalott. Ib.
- 8 Like some bold seer in a trance,
Seeing all his own mischance—
With a glassy countenance
Did she look to Camelot. Ib. pt. iv
- 9 Heard a carol, mournful, holy,
Chanted loudly, chanted lowly,
Till her blood was frozen slowly,
And her eyes were darken'd wholly,
Turn'd to tower'd Camelot. Ib.
- 10 Who is this? and what is here?
And in the lighted palace near
Died the sound of royal cheer,
And they cross'd themselves for fear,
All the knights at Camelot
But Lancelot mused a little space,
He said, 'She has a lovely face;
God in his mercy lend her grace,
'The Lady of Shalott.' Ib.
- 11 Slander, meanest spawn of Hell.
The Letters
- 12 Airy, fairy Lilian. Lilian
- 13 Comrades, leave me here a little, while as yet 'tis early morn—
Leave me here, and when you want me, sound upon the bugle-horn. Locksley Hall, l. 1
- 14 The fairy tales of science, and the long result of Time.
Ib. l. 12
- 15 In the Spring a livelier iris changes on the burnish'd dove;
In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love. Ib. l. 19
- 16 Love took up the glass of Time, and turn'd it in his glowing hands;
Every moment, lightly shaken, ran itself in golden sands.
Love took up the harp of Life, and smote on all the chords with might;
Smote the chord of Self, that, trembling, pass'd in music out of sight. Locksley Hall, l. 31
- 17 And our spirits rush'd together at the touching of the lips. Ib. l. 38
- 18 As the husband is, the wife is. Ib. l. 47
- 19 He will hold thee, when his passion shall have spent its novel force.
Something better than his dog, a little dearer than his horse. Ib. l. 49
- 20 The many-winter'd crow that leads the clanging
rookery home. Ib. l. 68
- 21 This is truth the poet sings,
That a sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things. Ib. l. 75
- 22 Like a dog, he hunts in dreams. Ib. l. 79
- 23 With a little hoard of maxims preaching down a daughter's heart. Ib. l. 94
- 24 But the jungling of the guinea helps the hurt that Honour feels Ib. l. 105
- 25 Men, my brothers, men the workers, ever reaping something new
That which they have done but earnest of the things that they shall do
For I dipt into the future, far as human eye could see, Saw the Vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be. Ib. l. 117
- 26 Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rain'd
a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue. Ib. l. 123
- 27 In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world Ib. l. 128
- 28 Science moves, but slowly slowly, creeping on from point to point Ib. l. 134
- 29 Yet I doubt not thro' the ages one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widen'd with the process of the suns Ib. l. 137
- 30 Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers Ib. l. 143
- 31 I am shamed thro' all my nature to have loved so slight a thing. Ib. l. 148
- 32 Woman is the lesser man, and all thy passions,
match'd with mine,
Are as moonlight unto sunlight, and as water unto wine. Ib. l. 151
- 33 I will take some savage woman, she shall rear my dusky race Ib. l. 168
- 34 Not with blinded eyesight poring over miserable books. Ib. l. 172
- 35 I the heir of all the ages, in the foremost files of time.
Ib. l. 178
- 36 Forward, forward let us range,
Let the great world spin for ever down the ringing grooves of change. Ib. l. 181

- 1 Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay.
Locksley Hall, l. 184
- 2 He is but a landscape-painter,
And a village maiden she.
The Lord of Burleigh, l. 7
- 3 Let us see these handsome houses
Where the wealthy nobles dwell. Ib. l. 23
- 4 Many a gallant gay domestic Bows before him at the door. Ib. l. 47
- 5 But he clasp'd her like a lover,
And he cheer'd her soul with love.
So she strove against her weakness,
Tho' at times her spirit sank. Ib. l. 67
- 6 And the people loved her much. Ib. l. 76
- 7 But a trouble weigh'd upon her,
And perplex'd her, night and morn,
With the burthen of an honour
Unto which she was not born. Ib. l. 77
- 8 'Oh, that he
Were once more that landscape-painter,
Which did win my heart from me!' Ib. l. 82
- 9 Three fair children first she bore him,
Then before her time she died. Ib. l. 87
- 10 Weeping, weeping late and early,
Walking up and pacing down,
Deeply mourn'd the Lord of Burleigh,
Burleigh-house by Stamford-town. Ib. l. 89
- 11 'Bring the dress and put it on her,
That she wore when she was wed.' Ib. l. 95
- 12 'Courage!' he said, and pointed toward the land.
The Lotos-Eaters
- 13 A land
In which it seemed always afternoon. Ib.
- 14 Music that gentlier on the spirit lies,
Than tir'd eyelids upon tir'd eyes. Ib. Choric Song, i
- 15 There is no joy but calm! Ib. ii
- 16 Ah, why
Should life all labour be? Ib. iv
- 17 Let us alone. Time driveth onward fast,
And in a little while our lips are dumb.
Let us alone. What is it that will last?
All things are taken from us, and become Portions and parcels of the dreadful Past. Ib.
- 18 The Lotos blooms below the barren peak:
The Lotos blows by every winding creek:
All day the wind breathes low with mellow tone:
Thro' every hollow cave and alley lone,
Round and round the spicy downs the yellow Lotosdust is blown. Ib. viii
- 19 Live and lie reclined
On the hills like Gods together, careless of mankind.
For they lie beside their nectar, and the bolts are hurl'd
Far below them in the valleys, and the clouds are lightly curl'd
Round their golden houses, girdled with the gleaming world. Ib.
- 20 Surely, surely, slumber is more sweet than toil, the shore
Than labour in the deep mid-ocean, wind and wave
and oar;
Oh rest ye, brother mariners, we will not wander
more. Ib.
- 21 Of love that never found his earthly close,
What sequel? Streaming eyes and breaking hearts?
Or all the same as if he had not been?
Love and Duty, l. 1
- 22 The long mechanic paces to and fro,
The set gray life, and apathetic end. Ib. l. 17
- 23 Raw Haste, half-sister to Delay.
Love thou thy Land, xxiv
- 24 Ruining along the illimitable inane. Lucretius, l. 40
- 25 Nor at all can tell
Whether I mean this day to end myself,
Or lend an ear to Plato where he says,
That men like soldiers may not quit the post
Allotted by the Gods. Ib. l. 145
- 26 That stays the rolling Ixionian wheel,
And numbs the Fury's ringlet-snake, and plucks
The mortal soul from out immortal hell. Ib. l. 260
- 27 Passionless bride, divine Tranquillity. Ib. l. 265
- 28 Without one pleasure and without one pain. Ib. l. 268
- 29 The lonely moated grange. Mariana
- 30 She only said, 'My life is dreary,
He cometh not,' she said;
She said, 'I am aweary, aweary.
I would that I were dead!' Ib.
- 31 Her tears fell with the dews at even;
Her tears fell ere the dews were dried. Ib.
- 32 She wept, 'I am aweary, aweary,
O God, that I were dead!' Ib.
- 33 I hate the dreadful hollow behind the little wood.
Maud, Pt. I. l. i
- 34 The smooth-faced snubnosed rogue. Ib. xiii
- 35 Faultily faultless, icily regular, splendidly null. Ib. ii
- 36 A monstrous eft was of old the Lord and Master of Earth. Ib. iv. vi
- 37 The passionate heart of the poet is whirl'd into folly and vice. Ib. vii
- 38 And most of all would I flee from the cruel madness of love—
The honey of poison-flowers and all the measureless
ill. Ib. x
- 39 Maud with her exquisite face,
And wild voice pealing up to the sunny sky,
And feet like sunny gems on an English green. Ib. v. ii
- 40 That jewell'd mass of millinery,
That oil'd and curl'd Assyrian Bull. Ib. vi. vi
- 41 She came to the village church,
And sat by a pillar alone;
An angel watching an urn
Wept over her, carved in stone. Ib. viii
- 42 The snowy-banded, dilettante,
Delicate-handed priest intone. Ib.
- 43 Ah God, for a man with heart, head, hand,
Like some of the simple great ones gone
For ever and ever by,
One still strong man in a blatant land,
Whatever they call him, what care I,
Aristocrat, democrat, autocrat—one
Who can rule and dare not lie.

- And ah for a man to arise in me,
That the man I am may cease to be!
Maud, Pt. I. x. v-vi
- 1 O let the solid ground
Not fail beneath my feet
Before my life has found
What some have found so sweet. Ib. xi. i
- 2 Birds in the high Hall-garden
When twilight was falling,
Maud, Maud, Maud, Maud,
They were crying and calling. Ib. xii. i
- 3 I kiss'd her slender hand,
She took the kiss sedately;
Maud is not seventeen,
But she is tall and stately. Ib. iv
- 4 I know the way she went Home with her maiden posy,
For her feet have touch'd the meadows
And left the daisies rosy. Ib. vi
- 5 Gorgonised me from head to foot
With a stony British stare. Ib. xiii. ii
- 6 Go not, happy day,
From the shining fields,
Go not, happy day,
Till the maiden yields.
Rosy is the West,
Rosy is the South,
Roses are her cheeks,
And a rose her mouth. Ib. xvii
- 7 Blush from West to East,
Blush from East to West,
Till the West is East,
Blush it thro' the West. Ib
- 8 A livelier emerald twinkles in the grass,
A purer sapphire melts into the sea. Ib. xviii. vi
- 9 Come into the garden, Maud,
For the black bat, night, has flown;
Come into the garden, Maud,
I am here at the gate alone;
And the woodbine spices are wafted abroad,
And the musk of the rose is blown
- 10 For a breeze of morning moves,
And the planet of Love is on high,
Beginning to faint in the light that she loves
On a bed of daffodil sky. Ib. xxii. i-ii
- 11 All night have the roses heard
The flute, violin, bassoon.
All night has the casement jessamine stirr'd
To the dancers dancing in tune,
Till a silence fell with the waking bird,
And a hush with the setting moon. Ib. iii
- 12 Whenever a March-wind sighs
He sets the jewel-print of your feet
In violets blue as your eyes. Ib. vii
- 13 The slender acacia would not shake
One long milk-bloom on the tree;
The white ake-blossom fell into the lake
As the pimpernel dozed on the lea;
But the rose was awake all night for your sake,
Knowing your promise to me;
The lilies and roses were all awake,
They sigh'd for the dawn and thee. Ib. viii
- 14 Queen rose of the rosebud garden of girls. Ib. ix
- 15 There has fallen a splendid tear
From the passion-flower at the gate.
She is coming, my dove, my dear;
She is coming, my life, my fate;
The red rose cries, 'She is near, she is near;
And the white rose weeps, 'She is late;'
The larkspur listens, 'I hear, I hear;
And the lily whispers, 'I wait.'
She is coming, my own, my sweet;
Were it ever so airy a tread,
My heart would hear her and beat,
Were it earth in an earthy bed,
My dust would hear her and beat,
Had I lain for a century dead,
Would start and tremble under her feet,
And blossom in purple and red.
Maud, Pt. I. xxii. x-xi
- 16 The Christless code,
That must have life for a blow. Ib. Pt. II. i. i
- 17 O that 'twere possible
After long grief and pain
To find the arms of my true love
Round me once again! Ib. iv. i
- 18 Ah Christ, that it were possible
For one short hour to see
The souls we loved, that they might tell us
What and where they be Ib. iii
- 19 But the churchmen fain would kill their church,
As the churches have kill'd their Christ. Ib. v. ii
- 20 O me, why have they not buried me deep enough?
Is it kind to have made me a grave so rough,
Me, that was never a quiet sleeper? Ib. xi
- 21 Bury me, bury me
Deeper, ever so little deeper. Ib.
- 22 My life has crept so long on a broken wing
Thro' cells of madness, haunts of horror and fear,
That I come to be grateful at last for a little thing
Ib. Pt. III. vi. i
- 23 When the face of night is fair on the dewy downs,
And the shining daffodil dies. Ib.
- 24 The blood-red blossom of war with a heart of fire. Ib. iv
- 25 It is better to fight for the good, than to rail at the ill;
I have felt with my native land, I am one with my kind,
I embrace the purpose of God, and the doom assign'd.
Ib. v
- 26 You must wake and call me early, call me early,
mother dear;
To-morrow 'ill be the happiest time of all the glad
New-year;
Of all the glad New-year, mother, the maddest
merriest day,
For I'm to be Queen o' the May, mother, I'm to be Queen o' the May. The May Queen
- 27 It seem'd so hard at first, mother, to leave the blessed sun,
And now it seems as hard to stay, and yet I'll stay will be done!
But still I think it can't be long before I find release;
And that good man, the clergyman, has told me words of peace. Ib. Conclusion

- 1 All in the wild March-morning I heard the angels
call;
It was when the moon was setting, and the dark was over all;
The trees began to whisper, and the wind began to roll,
And in the wild March-morning I heard them call my soul. The May Queen. Conclusion

- 3 In after-dinner talk,
Across the walnuts and the wine. The Miller's Daughter
- 4 What, it's you,
The padded man—that wears the stays. The New Timon and the Poets
- 5 What profits now to understand
The merits of a spotless shirt—
A dapper boot—a little hand—
If half the little soul is dirt? Ib.
- 6 Dostn't thou 'ear my 'erse's legs, as they canters
awaäy?
Proputty, proputty, proputty—that's what I 'ears 'em
saäy. Northern Farmer. New Style
- 7 But I knaw'd a Quaäker feller as often 'as tow'd me
this:
'Doänt thou marry for munny, but goä wheer munny

- 11 Bury the Great Duke
With an empire's lamentation,
Let us bury the Great Duke
To the noise of the mourning of a mighty nation.
Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington, i
- 12 Let the sound of those he wrought for,
And the feet of those he fought for,
Echo round his bones for evermore. Ib. ii
- 13 The last great Englishman is low. Ib. iii
- 14 Foremost captain of his time,
Rich in saving common-sense,
And, as the greatest only are,
In his simplicity sublime.
O good grey head which all men knew! Ib. iv
- 15 O fall'n at length that tower of strength
Which stood four-square to all the winds that blew!

God accept him, Christ receive him. Ib. ix
- 29 There lies a vale in Ida, lovelier
Than all the valleys of Ionian hills. Ænone, l. 1
- 30 O mother Ida, many-fountain'd Ida. Ib. l. 22
- 31 Dear mother Ida, harken ere I die.
It was the deep midnoon: one silvery cloud
Had lost his way between the piney sides
Of this long glen. Then to the bower they came,
Naked they came to that smooth-swarded bower,
And at their feet the crocus brake like fire,
Violet, amaracus, and asphodel,
Lotos and lilies. Ib. l. 89
- 32 Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control,
These three alone lead life to sovereign power.

Her beautiful bold brow. Ib.
- 42 Vex not thou the poet's mind
With thy shallow wit;
Vex not thou the poet's mind;
For thou canst not fathom it.
Clear and bright it should be ever,
Flowing like a crystal river;
Bright as light, and clear as wind. The Poet's Mind
- 43 Dark-brow'd sophist, come not anear:
All the place is holy ground. Ib.

- 1 And he sat him down in a lonely place,
And chanted a melody loud and sweet,
That made the wild swan pause in her cloud,
And the lark drop down at his feet The Poet's Song
- 2 The swallow stopt as he hunted the fly,
The snake slpt under a spray,
The wild hawk stood with the down on his beak,
And stared, with his foot on the prey Ib
- 3 For some cry 'Quick' and some cry 'Slow',
But while the hills remain,
Up hill 'Too-slow' will need the whip,
Down hill 'Too-quick', the chain Politics

- 8 A rosebud set with little wilful thorns
And sweet as English air could make her, she
Ib l 153
- 9 As thro' the land at eve we went,
And pluck'd the ripen'd ears,
We fell out, my wife and I,
O we fell out I know not why,
And kiss'd again with tears
And blessings on the falling out
That all the more endears,
When we fall out with those we love
And kiss again with tears! Ib ii Intro Song
- 10 O hard, when love and duty clash! Ib ii l 273
- 11 And quoted odes, and jewels five words long,
That on the stretch'd forefinger of all Time
Sparkle for ever Ib l 355
- 12 Sweet and low, sweet and low,
Wind of the western sea,
Low low, breathe and blow,
Wind of the western sea!
Over the rolling waters go,
Come from the dying moon, and blow,
Blow him again to me,
While my little one, while my pretty one sleeps
Ib iii Intro Song
- 13 A Memnon smitten with the morning Sun
Ib l 100
- 14 The splendour falls on castle walls
And snowy summits old in story
The long light shakes across the lakes,
And the wild cataract leaps in glory
Blow, bugle, blow set the wild echoes flying
Blow, bugle, answer, echoes dying dying, dying
Ib iv Intro Song
- 15 O hark, O hear! how thin and clear,
And thinner, clearer farther going!
O sweet and far from clif and scar
The horns of the land faintly blowing!
Ib
- 16 O love, they die in yon rich sky,
They faint on hill or field or river—
Our echoes roll from soul to soul,
And grow for ever and for ever
The Princess, iv Intro Song
- 17 Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean,
Tears from the depth of some divine despair
Rise in the heart, and gather to the eyes,
In looking on the happy Autumn fields,
And thinking of the days that are no more Ib l 21
- 18 So sad, so fresh, the days that are no more Ib l 30
- 19 Ah, sad and strange as in dark summer dawns
The earliest pipe of half-awaken'd birds
To dying ears, when unto dying eyes
The casement slowly grows a glimmering square;
So sad, so strange, the days that are no more
Dear as remembered kisses after death,
And sweet as those by hopeless fancy feign'd
On lips that are for others deep as love,
Deep as first love, and wild with all regret,
O Death in Life, the days that are no more Ib l 31
- 20 O Swallow, Swallow, flying, flying South,
Fly to her, and fall upon her gilded eaves,
And tell her, tell her, what I tell to thee
O tell her, Swallow, thou that knowest each,
That bright and fierce and fickle is the South,
And dark and true and tender is the North Ib l 75
- 21 O tell her, Swallow, that thy brood is flown
Say to her, I do but wanton in the South,
But in the North long since my nest is made
O tell her brief is life but love is long
And brief the sun of summer in the North,
And brief the moon of beauty in the South
O Swallow, flying from the golden woods,
Fly to her, and pipe and woo her, and make her mine,
And tell her, tell her, that I follow thee Ib l 90
- 22 Thy voice is heard thro' rolling drums,
That beat to battle where he stands,
Thy face across his fancy comes,
And gives the battle to his hands
A moment, while the trumpets blow,
He sees his brood about thy knee,
The next, like fire he meets the foe
And strikes him dead for thine and thee Ib l 552
- 23 Man is the hunter, woman is his game Ib v, l 147
- 24 Man for the field and woman for the hearth
Man for the sword and for the needle she
Man with the head and woman with the heart
Man to command and woman to obey,
All else confusion Ib l 427

- 1 Ask me no more: the moon may draw the sea;
The cloud may stoop from heaven and take the shape
With fold to fold, of mountain or of cape;
But O too fond, when have I answer'd thee?
Ask me no more.
Ask me no more: what answer should I give?
I love not hollow cheek or faded eye:
Yet, O my friend, I will not have thee die!
Ask me no more, lest I should bid thee live;
Ask me no more.
Ask me no more: thy fate and mine are seal'd:
I strove against the stream and all in vain:
Let the great river take me to the main:
No more, dear love, for at a touch I yield;
Ask me no more.
The Princess, vii. Introd. Song
- 2 Now sleeps the crimson petal, now the white;
Nor waves the cypress in the palace walk;
Nor winks the gold fin in the porphyry font:
The fire-fly wakens: waken thou with me.
Now droops the milk-white peacock like a ghost,
And like a ghost she glimmers on to me.
Now lies the Earth all Danaë to the stars,
And all thy heart lies open unto me.
Now slides the silent meteor on, and leaves
A shining furrow, as thy thoughts in me.
Now folds the lily all her sweetness up,
And slips into the bosom of the lake:
So fold thyself, my dearest, thou, and slip
Into my bosom and be lost in me. Ib. l. 161
- 3 Come down, O maid, from yonder mountain height:
What pleasure lives in height? Ib. l. 177
- 4 For Love is of the valley, come thou down
And find him; by the happy threshold, he,
Or hand in hand with Plenty in the maize,
Or red with spirted purple of the vats,
Or foxlike in the vine; nor cares to walk
With Death and Morning on the silver horns. Ib. l. 184
- 5 Sweet is every sound,
Sweeter thy voice, but every sound is sweet;
Myriads of rivulets hurrying thro' the lawn,
The moan of doves in immemorial elms,
And murmuring of innumerable bees. Ib. l. 203
- 6 The woman's cause is man's: they rise or sink
Together. Ib. l. 243
- 7 Like perfect music unto noble words. Ib. l. 270
- 8 Happy he
With such a mother! faith in womankind
Beats with his blood, and trust in all things high
Comes easy to him, and tho' he trip and fall
He shall not blind his soul with clay. Ib. l. 308

- 12 Her court was pure; her life serene;
God gave her peace; her land reposed;
A thousand claims to reverence closed
In her as Mother, Wife, and Queen;

- And statesmen at her council met
Who knew the seasons when to take Occasion by the hand, and make
The bounds of freedom wider yet. To the Queen.

Recollections of the Arabian Nights, i
- 16 At Flores in the Azores Sir Richard Grenville lay,
And a pinnace, like a fluttered bird, came flying from far away:
'Spanish ships of war at sea! we have sighted fifty-three!' The Revenge, i
- 17 Then sware Lord Thomas Howard: "Fore God I am
no coward;
But I cannot meet them here, for my ships are out of gear,
And the half my men are sick. I must fly, but follow quick.
We are six ships of the line; can we fight with fifty-three?" Ib.
- 18 Then spake Sir Richard Grenville: 'I know you are
no coward;
You fly them for a moment to fight with them again.
But I've ninety men and more that are lying sick ashore.
I should count myself the coward if I left them, my Lord Howard,
To these Inquisition dogs and the devildoms of Spain.' Ib. ii
- 19 So Lord Howard past away with five ships of war that day,
Till he melted like a cloud in the silent summer
heaven;
But Sir Richard bore in hand all his sick men from the land
Very carefully and slow,
Men of Bideford in Devon,
And we laid them on the ballast down below;
For we brought them all aboard,
And they blest him in their pain, that they were not left to Spain,
To the thumbscrew and the stake, for the glory of the Lord. Ib. iii
- 20 'Shall we fight or shall we fly?
Good Sir Richard, tell us now,
For to fight is but to die!
There'll be little of us left by the time this sun be set.'
And Sir Richard said again: 'We be all good English men.
Let us bang these dogs of Seville, the children of the devil,
For I never turn'd my back upon Don or devil yet.'
Ib. iv
- 21 And the sun went down, and the stars came out far over the summer sea,
But never a moment ceased the fight of the one and the fifty-three.
Ship after ship, the whole night long, their high-built galleons came,
Ship after ship, the whole night long, with her battle-
thunder and flame;

- 6 The play is done; the curtain drops,
Slow falling to the prompter's bell:
A moment yet the actor stops,
And looks around, to say farewell.
It is an irksome word and task:
And, when he's laughed and said his say,
He shows, as he removes the mask,
A face that's anything but gay.

- 12 Werther had a love for Charlotte
Such as words could never utter;
Would you know how first he met her?
She was cutting bread and butter.
Charlotte was a married lady,
And a moral man was Werther,
And for all the wealth of Indies,
Would do nothing for to hurt her.

So he sighed and pined and ogled,
And his passion boiled and bubbled,
Till he blew his silly brains out
And no more was by it troubled.

Charlotte, having seen his body
Borne before her on a shutter,
Like a well-conducted person,
Went on cutting bread and butter.

But the rose's scent is bitterness
To him that loved the rose. Ib.

- 1 She went her unremembering way,
She went and left in me
The pang of all the partings gone,
And partings yet to be.
She left me marvelling why my soul
Was sad that she was glad;
At all the sadness in the sweet,
The sweetness in the sad. Daisy
- 2 Nothing begins and nothing ends
That is not paid with moan;
For we are born in other's pain,
And perish in our own. Ib.
- 3 Ah, for a heart less native to high Heaven,
A hooded eye, for jesses and restraint,
Or for a will accipitrine to pursue!
The Dread of Height
- 4 Go, songs, for ended is our brief sweet play;
Go, children of swift joy and tardy sorrow
And some are sung, and that was yesterday,
And some unsung, and that may be to-morrow

- 12 And all man's Babylons strive but to impart
The grandeurs of his Babylonian heart. Ib.
- 13 I fled Him, down the nights and down the days;
I fled Him, down the arches of the years,
I fled Him, down the labyrinthine ways
Of my own mind; and in the mist of tears
I hid from Him, and under running laughter.
The Hound of Heaven
- 14 But with unhurrying chase,
And unperturbed pace,
Deliberate speed, majestic instancy,
They beat—and a Voice beat
More instant than the Feet—
'All things betray thee, who betrayest Me.' Ib.
- 15 (For, though I knew His love Who followed,
Yet was I sore adread
Lest, having Him, I must have naught beside.) Ib.
- 16 Fear wist not to evade, as Love wist to pursue. Ib.
- 17 I said to Dawn: Be sudden—to Eve. Be soon. Ib.
- 18 To all swift things for swiftness did I sue;
Clung to the whistling mane of every wind.
The Hound of Heaven
- 19 Came on the following Feet,
And a Voice above their beat—
'Naught shelters thee, who wilt not shelter Me.' Ib.
- 20 I sought no more that after which I strayed
In face of man or maid;
But still within the little children's eyes
Seems something, something that replies,
They at least are for me, surely for me!
I turned me to them very wistfully;
But just as their young eyes grew sudden fair
With dawning answers there,
Their angel plucked them from me by the hair. Ib.
- 21 I was heavy with the even
When she lit her glimmering tapers
Round the day's dead sanctities. Ib.
- 22 My harness piece by piece Thou hast hewn from me
And smitten me to my knee. Ib.
- 23 Yea, faithless now even dream
The dreamer, and the lute the lutanist;
Even the linked fantasies, in whose blossomy twist
I swung the earth a trinket at my wrist. Ib.
- 24 Ah! must—

Ah! must Thou char the wood ere Thou canst limn with it? Ib.
- 25 Such is, what is to be?
The pulp so bitter, how shall taste the rind? Ib.
- 26 Yet ever and anon a trumpet sounds
From the hid battlements of Eternity;
Those shaken mists a space unsettle, then
Round the half-glimpsed turrets slowly wash again. Ib.
- 27 Whether man's heart or life it be which yields Thine harvest, must Thy harvest-fields
Be dunged with rotten death? Ib.
- 28 Now of that long pursuit
Comes on at hand the bruit;
That Voice is round me like a bursting sea:
'And is thy earth so marred,
Shattered in shard on shard?
Lo, all things fly thee, for thou fleest Me!' Ib.
- 29 And human love needs human meriting—
How hast thou merited—
Of all man's clotted clay the dingiest clot?
Alack, thou knowest not
How little worthy of any love thou art. Ib.
- 30 All which I took from thee I did but take,
Not for thy harms,
But just that thou might'st seek it in My arms. Ib.
- 31 Halts by me that footfall—
Is my gloom, after all,
Shade of His hand, outstretched caressingly?
'Ah, fondest, blindest, weakest,
I am He whom thou seekest!
Thou dravest love from thee, who dravest Me' Ib.
- 32 There is no expeditious road
To pack and label men for God,
And save them by the barrel-load
Epilogue to 'A Judgment in Heaven'

- 1 O world invisible, we view thee,
O world intangible, we touch thee,
O world unknowable, we know thee,
Inapprehensible, we clutch thee!
Does the fish soar to find the ocean,
The eagle plunge to find the air—
That we ask of the stars in motion
If they have rumour of thee there?
Not where the wheeling systems darken,
And our benumbed conceiving soars!—
The drift of pinions, would we hearken,
Beats at our own clay-shuttered doors.
The angels keep their ancient places;—
Turn but a stone, and start a wing!
'Tis ye, 'tis your estrangèd faces,
That miss the many-splendoured thing.
But (when so sad thou canst not sadder)
Cry;—and upon thy so sore loss
Shall shine the traffic of Jacob's ladder
Pitched betwixt Heaven and Charing Cross.
Yea, in the night, my Soul, my daughter,
Cry,—clinging Heaven by the hems;
And lo, Christ walking on the water
Not of Gennesareth, but Thames!
The Kingdom of God
- 2 It is little I repair to the matches of the Southron
folk,
Though my own red roses there may blow;
It is little I repair to the matches of the Southron
folk,
Though the red roses crest the caps I know.
For the field is full of shades as I near the shadowy coast,
And a ghostly batsman plays to the bowling of a
ghost,
And I look through my tears on a soundless-clapping

As the run-stealers flicker to and fro,
To and fro:—

When to the new eyes of thee
All things by immortal power,
Near or far,
Hiddenly
To each other linked are,
That thou canst not stir a flower
Without troubling of a star. Ib.
- 6 Lo, in the sanctuaried East,
Day, a dedicated priest
In all his robes pontifical exprest,
Lifteth slowly, lifteth sweetly,
From out its Orient tabernacle drawn,
Yon orbèd sacrament confest
Which sprinkles benediction through the dawn.
Orient Ode
- 7 Ah! let the sweet birds of the Lord
With earth's waters make accord;

Teach how the crucifix may be
Carven from the laurel-tree,
Fruit of the Hesperides
Burnish take on Eden-trees,
The Muses' sacred grove be wet
With the red dew of Olivet,
And Sappho lay her burning brows
In white Cecilia's lap of snows!

To a Poet Breaking Silence

- 8 Summer set lip to earth's bosom bare,
And left the flushed print in a poppy there. The Poppy
- 9 The sleep-flower sways in the wheat its head,
Heavy with dreams, as that with bread:
The goodly grain and the sun-flushed sleeper
The reaper reaps, and Time the reaper.
I hang 'mid men my needless head,
And my fruit is dreams, as theirs is bread:
The goodly men and the sun-hazed sleeper
Time shall reap, but after the reaper
The world shall glean of me, me the sleeper. Ib.
- 10 I had endured through watches of the dark
The abashless inquisition of each star. Sister Songs, i
- 11 The innocent moon, which nothing does but shine,
Moves all the labouring surges of the world. Ib.
- 12 What heart could have thought you?—
Past our devisal
(O filigree petal!)
Fashioned so purely,
Fragilely, surely,
From what Paradisal
Imagineless metal,
Too costly for cost? To a Snowflake
- 13 His hammer of wind,
And His graver of frost. Ib.
- 14 And, while she feels the heavens lie bare,
She only talks about her hair. The Way of a Maid

- 32 The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation
     Walden Economy
 33 It is a characteristic of wisdom not to do desperate things Ib
 34 I have lived some thirty years on this planet, and I have yet to hear the first syllable of valuable or even earnest advice from my seniors Ib
 35 I long ago lost a hound, a bay horse, and a turtle dove, and am still on their trail Ib 36 It is true, I never assisted the sun materially in his rising, but, doubt not, it was of the last importance only to be present at it Ib
 37 Tall arrowy white pines Ib
 38 The owner of the axe, as he released his hold on it, said that it was the apple of his eye, but I returned it sharper than I received it Ib
 39 For more than five years I maintained myself thus solely by the labor of my hands, and I found, that by working about six weeks in a year, I could meet all the expenses of living Ib
 40 As for Doing good that is one of the professions which are full Moreover, I have tried it fairly, and, strange as it may seem, am satisfied that it does not agree with my constitution Ib

THOREAU—TICKELL

- 1 I frequently tramped eight or ten miles through the deepest snow to keep an appointment with a beech-tree, or a yellow birch, or an old acquaintance among the pines.
Walden. Winter Visitors
- 2 I once had a sparrow alight upon my shoulder for a moment while I was hoeing in a village garden, and I felt that I was more distinguished by that circumstance than I should have been by any epaulet I could have worn.
Ib.
- 3 It takes two to speak the truth,—one to speak, and another to hear.
A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers, Wednesday
- 4 Some circumstantial evidence is very strong, as when you find a trout in the milk.
Unpublished MSS. in Miscellanies, Biographical Sketch (1918), vol. x, p. 30
- 5 Not that the story need be long, but it will take a long while to make it short.

Jupiter the rain-bringer. Ib. vii. 26

CHIDIOCK TICHBORNE

1558?-1586

- 20 My prime of youth is but a frost of cares;
My feast of joy is but a dish of pain;
My crop of corn is but a field of tares;
And all my good is but vain hope of gain.
The day is past, and yet I saw no sun;
And now I live, and now my life is done.
Verses of Praise and Joy. Elegy. (Written in the Tower before his execution)

THOMAS TICKELL

1686-1740

War and Peace, bk. xv, ch. 1 Trans. by Maude
- 9 Art is not a handicraft it is the transmission of feeling the artist has experienced
What is Art? ch. 19 Trans. by Maude
- 10 I sit on a man's back, choking him and making him carry me, and yet assure myself and others that I am very sorry for him and wish to ease his lot by all possible means—except by getting off his back
What Then Must We Do? ch. 16 Trans. by Maude

AUGUSTUS MONTAGUE TOPLADY

1740-1778

- 11 Rock of ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in thee
The Gospel Magazine, Oct. 1775 Rock of Ages

- 12 Nothing in my hand I bring,
Simply to thy Cross I cling,
Naked, come to thee for dress,
Helpless, look to thee for grace,
Foul, I to the Fountain fly,
Wash me, Saviour, or I die
Rock of Ages

THOMAS TRAHERNE

1637?-1674

- 13 You never enjoy the world aright, till the sea itself floweth in your veins, till you are clothed with the heavens, and crowned with the stars and perceive yourself to be the sole heir of the whole world, and more than so, because men are in it who are every one sole heirs as well as you Till you can sing and rejoice and delight in God, as misers do in gold, and kings in sceptres you never enjoy the world
Centuries of Meditations Cent. 1, § 29
- 14 The corn was orient and immortal wheat, which never should be reaped, nor was ever sown I thought it had stood from everlasting to everlasting
Ib Cent. III, § 3
- 15 The Men! O what venerable and reverend creatures did the aged seem! Immortal Cherubims! And young men glittering and sparkling Angels, and maids strange seraphic pieces of life and beauty! Boys and girls tumbling in the street, and playing were moving jewels I knew not that they were born or should die, but all things abided eternally as they were in their proper places
Ib
- 16 Contentment is a sleepy thing
If it in death alone must die,
A quiet mind is worse than poverty,
Unless it from enjoyment spring!
That's blessedness alone that makes a King!
Of Contentment
- 17 O yonder is the moon
Newly come after me to town,
That shin'd at Lugwardin but yesternight,
Where I enjoy'd the self same light
On Leaping over the Moon, VIII
- 18 I within did flow
With seas of life, like wine
Wonder, III

HENRY DUFF TRAILL

- 19 Look in my face My name is Used to was,
I am also called Played out and Done-to death,
And It-will wash no-more
After Dilettante Concerts [i.e. Dante Gabriel Rossetti, see 411 17], VIII

JOSEPH TRAPP

1679-1747

- 20 The King, observing with judicious eyes
The state of both his universities
To Oxford sent a troop of horse, and why?
That learned body wanted loyalty,
To Cambridge books as very well discerning
How much that loyal body wanted learning
On George I's Donation of the Bishop of Ely's Library to Cambridge University Nichols's Literary Anecdotes, vol. III, p. 330 For the reply see 87 26

- 1 Our royal master saw, with heedful eyes,
The wants of his two universities:
Troops he to Oxford sent, as knowing why
That learned body wanted loyalty:
But books to Cambridge gave, as well discerning
That that right loyal body wanted learning.

RICHARD TRENCH, ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN

1807-1886

- 5 England, we love thee better than we know.
Gibraltar
- 6 I say to thee, do thou repeat
To the first man thou mayest meet
In lane, highway, or open street—
That he and we and all men move
Under a canopy of love,
As broad as the blue sky above. The Kingdom of God

Private History of a Campaign that Failed

- 23 Adam was but human—this explains it all He did not want the apple for the apple's sake, he wanted
it only because it was forbidden
Pudd'nhead Wilson, heading of ch 2

- 24 Whoever has lived long enough to find out what life is, knows how deep a debt of gratitude we owe to Adam, the first great benefactor of our race He brought death into the world Ib heading of ch 3

- 25 There's plenty of boys that will come hankering and gruvelling around when you've got an apple, and beg the core off you, but when they've got one, and you beg for the core and remind them how you give them a core one time, they make a mouth at you and say thank you 'most to death, but there ain't-a going to be no core
Tom Sawyer Abroad, ch 1

- 26 There ain't no way to find out why a snorer can't hear himself snore Ib ch 10

- 27 They inwardly resolved that so long as they remained in the business their piracies should not again be sullied with the crime of stealing Ib ch 13

- 28 The cross of the Legion of Honour has been conferred upon me However, few escape that distinction A Tramp Abroad, ch 8

- 29 This poor little one horse town
The Undertaker's Chat

- 30 The report of my death was an exaggeration
Cable from Europe to the Associated Press

- 31 There is a sumptuous variety about the New England weather that compels the stranger's admiration—and regret The weather is always doing something there, always attending strictly to business, always getting up new designs and trying them on the people to see how they will go But it gets through more business in spring than in any other season In the spring I have counted one hundred and thirty-six different kinds of weather inside of four and twenty hours

- 32 At even ere the sun was set,
The sick, O Lord, around thee lay
Hymns Ancient and Modern (1868), Appendix
At Even Ere the Sun Was Set

EDWARD SMITH UFFORD

1851-1929

- 33 Throw out the life line across the dark wave,
There is a brother whom someone should save,
Throw out the life line, throw out the life line
Someone is sinking to-day Revivalist Hymn (1884)

MIGUEL DE UNAMUNO

1864-1937

- 1 Fe que no duda es fe muerta.
Faith which does not doubt is dead faith.
La Agonía del Cristianismo, p. 34
- 2 Cúrate de la afección de preocuparte cómo aparezcas a los demás. Cuidate sólo . . . de la idea que de ti Dios tenga.
Cure yourself of the inclination to bother about how you look to other people. Be concerned only . . . with the idea God has of you.
Vida de D. Quijote y Sancho, p. 27

- 3 The Hungry Forties. Title of book (1905)

RALPH R. UPTON

- 4 Stop; look; listen.
Slogan devised in 1912 to replace the old U.S. railway-crossing signs of 'Look out for the locomotive'

W. UPTON

- 5 This lass so neat, with smile so sweet,
Has won my right good will,
I'd crowns resign to call thee mine,
Sweet lass of Richmond Hill.
The Lass of Richmond Hill. Oxford Song Book.

SIR JOHN VANBRUGH

1664-1726

- 6 The want of a thing is perplexing enough, but the possession of it is intolerable.
The Confederacy, I. ii
- 7 Much of a muchness. The Provok'd Husband, I. i
- 8 BELINDA:
Ay, but you know we must return good for evil.
LADY BRUTE:
That may be a mistake in the translation.
The Provok'd Wife, I. i
- 9 Britons, strike home. Ib. IV. i
- 10 Thinking is to me the greatest fatigue in the world.
The Relapse, II. i
- 11 No man worth having is true to his wife, or can be true to his wife, or ever was, or ever will be so.
Ib. III. ii

1821-1885

- 12 The public be damned!
Reply to a question whether the public should be consulted about luxury trains. A. W. Cole's Letter, New York Times, 25 August 1918.

BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI

1888-1927

- 13 I found myself compelled to fight back from my eyes the tears, and quench my heart trobling to my throat to not weep before him. But Sacco's name will live in the hearts of the people, when your name, your laws, institutions, and your false god are but a dim remomoring of a cursed past in which man was wolf to the man.

Last speech to the Massachusetts court, which was trying him and Nicolo Sacco on charges of murder and robbery. Both were self-confessed anarchists and labour agitators. Both were convicted, and were executed 23 Aug. 1927

CHARLES JOHN VAUGHAN

1816-1897

- 14 Must you go? Can't you stay?
Remark with which he broke up awkward breakfast parties of schoolboys who were too shy to go. Story retold with the words transposed, 'Can't you go? Must you stay?' G. W. E. Russell's Collections and Recollections, ch. 24

HENRY VAUGHAN

1622-1695

- 15 Man is the shuttle, to whose winding quest
And passage through these looms
God order'd motion, but ordain'd no rest.
Silex Scintillans. Man.
- 16 Father of lights! what sunny seed,
What glance of day hast Thou confin'd
Into this bird? To all the breed
This busy ray Thou hast assign'd;
Their magnetism works all night,
And dreams of Paradise and light.
Ib. Cock-Crowing
- 17 I cannot reach it; and my striving eye
Dazzles at it, as at eternity. Ib. Childhood
- 18 Through that pure virgin shrine,
That sacred veil drawn o'er Thy glorious noon,
That men might look and live, as glow-worms shine,
And face the moon;
Wise Nicodemus saw such light
As made him know his God by night.
Ib. The Night, I. 1
- 19 Most blest believer he!
Who in that land of darkness and blind eyes
Thy long expected healing wings could see
When Thou didst rise!
And, what can never more be done,
Did at midnight speak with the Sun! Ib. I. 7
- 20 Dear Night! this world's defeat;
The stop to busy fools; care's check and curb;
The day of spirits; my soul's calm retreat
Which none disturb!
Christ's progress, and His prayer-time;
The hours to which high Heaven doth chime.
Ib. I. 25
- 21 There is in God—some say—
A deep, but dazzling darkness; as men here
Say it is late and dusky, because they See not all clear.
O for that Night! where I in Him
Might live invisible and dim! Ib. I. 49

1 My soul, there is a country
Far beyond the stars,
Where stands a winged sentry
All skilful in the wars
There, above noise and danger,
Sweet Peace is crown'd with smiles,
And One born in a manger
Commands the beauteous files
Silex Scintillans Peace

2 If thou canst get but thither,
There grows the flower of Peace,
The Rose that cannot wither,
Thy fortress, and thy ease
Leave then thy foolish ranges,
For none can thee secure,
But One, who never changes,
Thy God, thy life, thy cure
Ib

3 Happy those early days, when I
Shin'd in my angel infancy
Before I understood this place
Appointed for my second race,
Or taught my soul to fancy aught
But a white, celestial thought,
When yet I had not walked above
A mile or two from my first love,
And looking back—at that short space—
Could see a glimpse of His bright face
Ib The Retreat, l 1

4 And in those weaker glories spy
Some shadows of eternity
Ib l 13

5 But felt through all this fleshly dress
Bright shoots of everlastingness
Ib l 19

6 O how I long to travel back,
And tread again that ancient track!
That I might once more reach that plain,
Where first I left my glorious train
From whence th' enlighten'd spirit sees
The shady City of palm trees
Ib l 21

7 Some men a forward motion love,
But I by backward steps would move,
And when this dust falls to the urn,
In that state I came, return
Ib l 29

8 They are all gone into the world of light,
And I alone sit lingering here,
Their very memory is fair and bright,
And my sad thoughts doth clear
Ib They Are All Gone

9 I see them walking in an air of glory
Whose light doth trample on my days
My days, which are at best but dull and hoary,
Mere glimmering and decays
Ib

10 Dear, beauteous death! the jewel of the just,
Shining nowhere but in the dark
What mysteries do lie beyond thy dust,
Could man outlook that mark!
Ib

11 He that hath found some fledg'd bird's nest, may know
At first sight, if the bird be flown,
But what fair well or grove he sings in now,
That is to him unknown
Ib

12 And yet, as angels in some brighter dreams
Call to the soul when man doth sleep,
So some strange thoughts transcend our wonted themes,
And into glory peep
Ib

13 I saw Eternity the other night,
Like a great ring of pure and endless light,
All calm, as it was bright,
And round beneath it, Time in hours, days, years,
Driv'n by the spheres
Like a vast shadow mov'd, in which the world
And all her train were hurl'd
Silex Scintillans The World

ALFRED DE VIGNY

1797-1863

- 1 J'aime la majesté des souffrances humaines.
I love the majesty of human suffering.
La Maison du Berger
- 2 Seul le silence est grand; tout le reste est faiblesse...
Fais énergiquement ta longue et lourde tâche...
Puis, après, comme moi, souffre et meurs sans parler.
Silence alone is great; all else is feebleness...
Perform with all your heart your long and heavy task...
Then as do I, say naught, but suffer and die.
La Mort du Loup

VIRGIL

70-19 B.C.

- 5 Arma virumque cano, Troiae qui primus ab oris
Italiam fato profugus Lavinaque venit
Litora—multum ille et terris iactatus et alto
Vi superum, saevae memorem Iunonis ob iram.
Arms I sing, and the man, who first from the shores of Troy came, Fate-exiled, to Italy and her Lavinian strand—much buffeted he on flood and field by constraint of Heaven and fell Juno's unslumbering ire. Aeneid, i. 1. Trans. by Jackson
- 6 Quo numine laeso.
Wherein was her godhead affronted. Ib. 8
- 7 Tantaene animis caelestibus irae?
Can heavenly spirits cherish resentment so dire?
Ib. 11
- 8 Necdum etiam causae irarum saevique dolores
Exciderant animo; manet alta mente repostum
Iudicium Paridis spretaeque iniuria formae.
Nor yet had the causes of her wrath, nor her hot resentment, faded from her soul. Deep-written in her heart the judgement of Paris remained, and the outrage to her slighted beauty. Ib. 25
- 9 Tantaemolis erat Romanam condere gentem.
So vast was the struggle to found the Roman state.
Ib. 33
- 10 Apparent rari nantes in gurgite vasto.
Here and there in the wastes of ocean a swimmer was seen. Ib. 118
- 11 Furor arma ministrat.
Fury ministers arms. Ib. 150
- 12 Fidus quae tela gerebat Achates.
Loyal Achates bore the weapons. Aeneid, i. 188
- 13 O passi graviores, dabit deus his quoque finem.
Friends, that have endured yet heavier blows, God will grant an ending even to this. Ib. 199
- 14 Forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit.
The day may dawn when this plight shall be sweet to remember. Ib. 203
- 15 Durate, et vosmet rebus servate secundis.
Then endure for a while, and live for a happier day! Ib. 207
- 16 Dux femina facti.
A woman the head of their emprise. Ib. 364
- 17 Vera incessu patuit dea.
The goddess indubitable was revealed in her step. Ib. 405
- 18 'En Priamus. Sunt hic etiam sua praemia laudi;
Sunt lacrimae rerum et mentem mortalia tangunt.
Solve metus; feret haec aliquam tibi fama salutem.'
Sic ait atque animum pictura pascit inani.
'Lo, here is Priam! Even here, virtue hath her rewards, and mortality her tears: even here, the woes of man touch the heart of man! Dispel thy fears; this fame of ours is herald to some salvation.' He said, and sated his soul with the barren portraiture. Ib. 461
- 19 Impar congressus Achilli.
Fronted Achilles with unequal arm. Ib. 475
- 20 Mens sibi conscia recti.
A mind conscious of the right. Ib. 604
- 21 In freta dum fluvii current, dum montibus umbrae
Lustrabunt convexa, polus dum sidera pascet,
Semper honos nomenque tuum laudesque manebunt.
While the rivers shall run to ocean, while the shadows shall move in the mountain valleys, while the sky shall feed the stars, always shall thy honour, and thy name, and thy glory abide. Ib. 607
- 22 Non ignara mali miseris succurrere disco.
Not unschooled in woe do I learn to succour unhappiness! Ib. 630
- 23 Conticuere omnes intentique ora tenebant.
Every tongue was still, every face turned rapt upon him. Ib. ii. 1
- 24 Infandum, regina, iubes renovare dolorem.
Too deep for words, O queen, lies the sorrow thou bidst me renew. Ib. 3
- 25 Quaeque ipse miserrima vidi
Et quorum pars magna fui.
All the deeds of woe mine eyes have beheld, and those whereof I was no small part. Ib. 5
- 26 Et iam nox umida caelo
Praecipitat suadentque cadentia sidera somnos.
And now dewy Night falls precipitate from heaven, and the setting stars counsel sleep! Ib. 8
- 27 Equo ne credite, Teucri.
Quidquid id est, timeo Danaos et dona ferentis.
Men of Troy, trust not the horse! Be it what it may, I fear the Danaans, though their hands proffer gifts. Ib. 48

- 1 In utrumque paratus,
Seu versare dolos seu certae occumbere morti Nerved to either event, whether to spin his toils, or to fall under death inevitable Aeneid, II 61
- 2 Crimine ab uno
Disce omnes
From a single crime know the nation Ib 65
- 3 Horresco referens
I shudder at the word Ib 204
- 4 Tacitae per amica silentia lunae
Through the friendly silence of the mute moon
Ib 255
- 5 Tempus erat quo prima quies mortalibus aegris
Incipit et dono divum gratissima serpit
It was the hour when the first sleep of suffering mortality begins, and, by the grace of Heaven steals on its sweetest errand of mercy Ib 268
- 6 Quantum mutatus ab illo
Hectore qui redit exuvias indutus Achilli
How was he changed from that Hector, who wended homeward, clad in the spoils of Achilles
Ib 274
- 7 Iam proximus ardet
Ucalegon
Already neighbour Ucalegon burns Ib 311
- 8 Fumus Troes, fuit Ilium et ingens
Gloria Teucrorum
Trojans we are no more, Ilium is no more, and the great glory of the Teucrians is departed!
Ib 325
- 9 Una salus victis nullam sperare salutem
There is but one safety to the vanquished—to hope not safety! Ib 354
- 10 Dis alter visum
Heaven's thought was otherwise Ib 428
- 11 Non tali auxilio nec defensoribus istis
Tempus eget
The hour calls not for such succour, nor such defenders Ib 521
- 12 Sequiturque patrem non passibus aequis
Follows his father with unmatched step Ib 724
- 13 Quid non mortalia pectora cogis
Auri sacra fames!
O cursed lust of gold to what canst thou not compel the heart of man! Ib III 56
- 14 Monstrum horrendum, informe, ingens, cui lumen
ademptum
A monster fearful and hideous, vast and eyeless
Ib 658
- 15 Agnosco veteris vestigia flammae
I feel again a spark of that ancient flame
Ib IV 23
- 16 Virisque adquint eundo
At every step she [Fame] gathers strength Ib 175
- 17 Sese interca .
Temptaturum aditus et quae mollissima fandi
Tempora
Himself meanwhile . . . would assay to find access and watch what hour might be the smoothest for his tale. Ib 291
- 18 Quis fallere possit amantem?
Who shall deceive a lover's thought?
Aeneid, IV. 296
- 19 Nec me meminisse pigebit Elissae
Dum memor ipse mei, dum spiritus hos regit artus Nor ever shall the thought of Elissa be bitter to me while yet I have remembrance of myself and the breath governs these limbs Ib 335
- 20 Varium et mutabile semper
Femina
A fickle thing and changeful is woman always!
Ib 569
- 21 Exoriare aliquis nostris ex ossibus ultor
Arise thou avenger to come, out of my ashes
Ib 625
- 22 Hos successus alit possunt, quia posse videntur
To those success was good, and the semblance of power gave power indeed Ib V 231
- 23 Facilis descensus Averni
Noctes atque dies patet atri ianua Ditis,
Sed revocare gradum superasque evadere ad auras,
Hoc opus, hic labor est
Light is the descent to Avernus! Night and day the portals of gloomy Dis stand wide but to recall thy step and issue to the upper air—there is the toil and there the task! Ib VI 126
- 24 Primo avulso non deficit alter
Aureus, et simili frondescit virga metallo
When the first is rent away a second, golden no less, succeeds, and the bough blossoms with ore
as precious Ib 143
- 25 Procul, o procul este, profani
Hence, O hence, ye that are uninitiated Ib 258
- 26 Nunc animis opus, Aeneas, nunc pectore firmo
Now is the hour, Aeneas, for the dauntless spirit
—now for the stout heart Ib 261
- 27 Vestibulum ante ipsum primis in faucibus Orci
Luctus et ultrices posuere cubilia Curae,
Pallentesque habitant Morbi tristisque Senectus,
Et Metus et malesuada Fames ac turpis Egestas Hard before the portal, in the opening jaws of Hell, Grief and avenging Cares have made their couch, and with them dwell wan Disease and sorrowful Age, and Fear, and Hunger, temptress to Sin, and loathly Want Ib 273
- 28 Tendebantque manus ripae ulterioris amore
Their hands outstretched in yearning for the farther shore Ib 314
- 29 Inventas aut qui vitam excoluere per artis,
Quique sui memores alios fecere merendo
Or who ennobled life by arts discovered, with all whose service to their kind won them remembrance among men Ib 663
- 30 Spiritus intus alit, totamque infusa per artus
Mens agitat molem et magno se corpore miscet
An indwelling spirit sustains, and a mind fused throughout the limbs sways the whole mass and mingles with the giant frame Ib 726
- 31 Igneus est ollis vigor et caelestis origo
Semminibus
To these seeds a flame like vigour pertains and an origin celestial Ib 730

- 1 Tu regere imperio populos, Romane, memento
(Hae tibi erunt artes), pacisque imponere morem,
Parcere subiectis et debellare superbos.
Roman, be this thy care—these thine arts—to bear dominion over the nations and to impose the law of peace, to spare the humbled and to war down
the proud! Aeneid, vi. 851
- 2 Sunt geminae Somni portae, quarum altera fertur
Cornea, qua veris facilis datur exitus umbris,
Altera candenti perfecta nitens elephanto,
Sed falsa ad caelum mittunt insomnia manes.
There are two gates of Sleep:—of horn, fame tells,
the one, through which the spirits of truth find an easy passage; the other, wrought smooth-gleaming with sheen of ivory, but false the visions that the nether powers speed therefrom to the heaven above. Ib. 893
- 3 Geniumque loci . . .
precatur.
Implored the Genius of the place. Ib. vii. 136
- 4 Flectere si nequeo superos, Acheronta movebo.
And if Heaven be inflexible, Hell shall be unleashed! Ib. 312
- 5 O mihi praeteritos referat si Iuppiter annos.
O, would Jupiter restore me the years that are fled!
Ib. viii. 560
- 6 Quadripedante putrem sonitu quatit ungula campum.
The sound of galloping hooves shook the crumbling plain. Ib. 596
- 7 Me, me, adsum qui feci, in me convertite ferrum.
On me,—here I stand who did the deed,—on me turn your steel. Ib. ix. 427
- 8 Dum domus Aeneae Capitoli immobile saxum
Accolet imperiumque pater Romanus habebit.
So long as the house of Aeneas shall dwell by the Capitol's unmoved rock and the Father of Rome bear sceptre! Ib. 448
- 9 Macte nova virtute, puer, sic itur ad astra.
Good speed to thy youthful valour, child! So shalt thou scale the stars! Ib. 641
- 10 Audentis Fortuna iuvat.
Fortune is ally to the brave. Ib. x. 284
- 11 Experto credite.
Credit one who has proved. Ib. xi. 283
- 12 Audiit et voti Phoebus succedere partem
Mente dedit, partem volucris dispersit in auras.
Phoebus heard, and in thought vouchsafed that half his vow should prosper: half he scattered to the fleet winds. Ib. 794
- 13 Di me terrent et Iuppiter hostis.
The gods dismay me, and Jove my foe! Ib. xii. 895
- 14 Tityre, tu patulae recubans sub tegmine fagi
Silvestrem tenui musam meditaris avena.
Tityrus, thou liest canopied beneath thy spreading beech and wooing the silvan Muse on thy slender
oat. Eclogue, i. 1. Trans. by Jackson
- 15 Formosam resonare doces Amaryllida silvas.
Thou teachest the responsive woods to call Amaryllis fair! Ib. 5
- 16 O Meliboe, deus nobis haec otia fecit.
O Meliboeus, it was a god gave us this peace.
Eclogue, i. 6
- 17 Non equidem invideo, miror magis.
As for me I grudge thee not—rather I marvel!
Ib. 11
- 18 Sic parvis componere magna solebam
Verum haec tantum alias inter caput extulit urbes
Quantum lenta solent inter viburna cupressi.
I only measured great by small but, above all other cities, this so far exalts her head as the cypress above the lissom osiers! Ib. 23
- 19 Et penitus toto divisos orbe Britannos.

Ah, madman, whom dost thou flee? Even gods have dwelt in woods. Ib. 60
- 23 Trahit sua quemque voluptas.
Each draws to his best-loved. Ib. 65
- 24 Nunc frondent silvae, nunc formosissimus annus.
Now the woods are green, and the year is loveliest. Ib. iii. 57
- 25 Ab Iove principium musae: Iovis omnia plena.
From Jove my lay begins: Jove filleth all. Ib. 60
- 26 Malo me Galatea petit, lasciva puella,
Et fugit ad salices et se cupit ante videri.
Galatea, wayward girl, pelts me with apples, then runs behind the willows—and hopes I saw her first! Ib. 64
- 27 Latet anguis in herba.
A snake lurks in the grass! Ib. 93
- 28 Non nostrum inter vos tantas componere lites.
Not ours to decide such high dispute! Ib. 108
- 29 Claudite iam rivos, pueri; sat prata biberunt.
Swains, close now the springs. The meadows have drunk enough! Ib. 111
- 30 Sicelides Musae, paulo maiora canamus!
Non omnis arbusta iuvant humilisque myrica.
Si canimus silvas, silvae sint consule dignae.
Ultima Cumaei venit iam carminis aetas;
Magnus ab integro saeculorum nascitur ordo.
Iam redit et virgo, redeunt Saturnia regna
Iam nova progenies caelo demittitur alto.
Sicilian Muses, let us raise a somewhat loftier strain. Not all do orchards and the lowly tamarisk delight. If the woodland be our theme, let our woods be worthy of a consul's ear! The last age, heralded in Cumean song, is come, and the great march of the centuries, begins anew. Now the Virgin returns: now Saturn is king again, and a new and better race descends from on high.

Within our orchard's walls I saw thee—for I was there to point the way—a little maid gathering dewy apples with my mother! Eleven years I had numbered and the twelfth already claimed me, from the ground already I could reach the frail boughs Ah, how I saw! How I fell! How that fatal blindness swept me away! Ib viii 37

So, calm are we when passions are no more!
On the Foregoing Divine Poems, l. 7
- 25 The soul's dark cottage, batter'd and decay'd
Lets in new light through chinks that time has made;
Stronger by weakness, wiser men become,
As they draw near to their eternal home.

Leaving the old, both worlds at once they view,
That stand upon the threshold of the new.

On the Foregoing Drame Poems, 1 18

- 1 That which her slender waist confin'd
Shall now my joyful temples bind,
No monarch but would give his crown
His arms might do what this has done
It was my heaven's extremest sphere,
The pale which held that lovely deer
My joy, my grief, my hope, my love,
Did all within this circle move
A narrow compass! and yet there
Dwelt all that's good, and all that's fair
Give me but what this rind bound,
Take all the rest the sun goes round On a Girdle
2 Rome, though her eagle through the world had flown,
Could never make this island all her own
Panegyric to My Lord Protector, xvii
3 Illustrious acts high raptures do infuse,
And every conqueror creates a Muse Ib xlvii
4 Go, lovely Rose!
Tell her, that wastes her time and me,
That now she knows,
When I resemble her to thee,
How sweet and fair she seems to be
Song 'Go Lovely Rose'

- 5 Small is the worth
Of beauty from the light retir'd,
Bid her come forth,
Suffer'd herself to be desir'd
And not blush so to be admir'd Ib
6 Why came I so untimely forth
Into a world which, wanting thee,
Could entertain us with no worth,
Or shadow of felicity?
To My Young Lady Lucy Sidney
7 So all we know
Of what they do above,
Is that they happy are, and that they love

- 15 At present, nothing is talked of, nothing admired, but what I cannot help calling a very insipid and tedious performance. It is a kind of novel, called
The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy, the great humour of which consists in the whole narration always going backwards

To Dalrymple, 4 Apr 1760

Ib To Cole, 28 May 1774
25 The next Augustan age will dawn on the other side of the Atlantic. There will, perhaps, be a Thucydides at Boston, a Xenophon at New York, and, in time, a Virgil at Mexico, and a Newton at Peru. At last, some curious traveller from Lima will visit England and give a description of the ruins of St Paul's, like the editions of Balbec and Palmyra Ib To Mann, 24 Nov 1774
26 By the waters of Babylon we sit down and weep, when we think of thee, O America!
Ib To Mason, 12 June 1775
27 This world is a comedy to those that think, a tragedy to those that feel
Ib To the Countess of Upper Ossory, 16 Aug 1776

- 5 And sadly reflecting,
That a lover forsaken
A new love may get,
But a neck when once broken
Can never be set. The Despairing Lover, l. 17
- 6 Of all the torments, all the cares,
With which our lives are curst;
Of all the plagues a lover bears,
Sure rivals are the worst!
By partners, in each other kind,
Afflictions easier grow;
In love alone we hate to find Companions of our woe. Song, Of All the Torments
- 7 I can endure my own despair,
But not another's hope. Ib.

- 12 I am, Sir, a Brother of the Angle. Ib. pt. i, ch. 1
- 13 It [angling] deserves commendations; . . . it is an art, and an art worthy the knowledge and practice of a wise man. Ib.
- 14 Angling is somewhat like poetry, men are to be born so. Ib.
- 15 Sir Henry Wotton . . . was also a most dear lover, and a frequent practiser of the art of angling; of which he would say, 'it was an employment for his idle time, which was then not idly spent . . . a rest to his mind, a cheerer of his spirits, a diverter of sadness, a calmer of unquiet thoughts, a moderator of passions, a procurer of contentedness; and that it begat habits of peace and patience in those that professed and practised it.' Ib.

- 24 This dish of meat is too good for any but anglers, or very honest men. Ib.
- 25 I love any discourse of rivers, and fish and fishing.
Ib. ch. 18
- 26 Look to your health; and if you have it, praise God, and value it next to a good conscience; for health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of; a blessing that money cannot buy. Ib. ch. 21
- 27 Let the blessing of St. Peter's Master be . . . upon all that are lovers of virtue; and dare trust in His providence; and be quiet; and go a-Angling. Ib.
- 28 But God, who is able to prevail, wrestled with him, as the Angel did with Jacob, and marked him; marked him for his own. Life of Donne old bachelor don't die at all—he sort of rots away, like a polly wog's tail Ib Draft in Baldinsville

- 15 It is a pity that Chawcer, who had geneuyus, was so unedicated. He's the wuss speller I know of Artemus Ward in London, ch 4 At the Tomb of Shakespeare
- 16 Why these weeps? Artemus Ward's Lecture
- 17 One of the principal features of my Entertainment is that it contains so many things that don't have anything to do with it Ib
- 18 I can't sing. As a singist I am not a success. I am sadder when I sing. So are those who hear me.
They are sadder even than I am Ib
- 19 He [Brigham Young] is dreadfully married. He's the most married man I ever saw in my life Ib
- 20 Why is this thus? What is the reason of this thus-ness? Ib
- 21 I am happiest when I am idle. I could live for months without performing any kind of labour, and at the expiration of that time I should feel fresh and vigorous enough to go right on in the same way for numerous more months
Pyrotechny, III Pettingill
- 22 Why care for grammar as long as we are good?
Ib v
- 23 Let us all be happy, and live within our means, even if we have to borrow the money to do it with Science and Natural History

Let justice be done though the heavens fall.
Quodlibets of Religion and State (1602). (See 203:38)

SIR WILLIAM WATSON

1858-1936

- 3 April, April,
Laugh thy girlish laughter;
Then, the moment after,
Weep thy girlish tears! April
- 4 O be less beautiful, or be less brief. Autumn
- 5 Slight not the songsmith. England my Mother
- 6 Plucked by his hand, the basest weed that grows
Towers to a lily, reddens to a rose. Epigram
- 7 How all her care was but to be fair,
And all her task to be sweet. The Heart of the Rose
- 8 When, upon orchard and lane, breaks the white foam of the Spring. Hymn to the Sea, Pt. III, 12
- 9 Who never negligently yet
Fashioned an April violet,
Nor would forgive, did June disclose Unceremoniously the rose. Nature's Way
- 10 Time and the ocean, and some fostering star,
In high cabal have made us what we are.
Ode on the Coronation of Edward VII, 1. 8
- 11 Forget not, brother singer, that though Prose
Can never be too truthful or too wise,
Song is not Truth, not Wisdom, but the rose
Upon Truth's lips, the light in Wisdom's eyes.
Ode to J. C. Collins
- 12 We are children of splendour and flame,
Of shuddering, also, and tears;
Magnificent out of the dust we came,
And abject from the spheres. Ode in May
- 13 The staid, conservative, Came-over-with-the-Conqueror type of mind. A Study in Contrasts, i, 1. 42
- 14 The thirst to know and understand,
A large and liberal discontent;
These are the goods in life's rich hand,
The things that are more excellent.
Things That Are More Excellent, viii
- 15 And not uncrowned with honours ran
My days, and not without a boast shall end!
For I was Shakespeare's countryman;
And wert not thou my friend? To R. H. Hutton
- 16 Another bruising of the hapless head
Of a wronged people yearning to be free.
Ver Tenebrosus. 2. Hasheen
- 17 In this house with starry dome,
Floored with gemlike plains and seas,
Shall I never feel at home,
Never wholly be at ease? World-Strangeness

- 18 On from room to room I stray,
Yet mine Host can ne'er espy,
And I know not to this day
Whether guest or captive I. World-Strangeness

ISAAC WATTS

1674-1748

- 19 Whene'er I take my walks abroad,
How many poor I see!
What shall I render to my God
For all his gifts to me?
Divine Songs for Children, iv. Praise for Mercies
- 20 Lord, I ascribe it to Thy grace,
And not to chance, as others do,
That I was born of Christian race,
And not a Heathen, or a Jew.
Ib. vi. Praise for the Gospel
- 21 There's no repentance in the grave.
Ib. x. Solemn Thoughts of God and Death
- 22 There is a dreadful Hell,
And everlasting pains;
There sinners must with devils dwell
In darkness, fire, and chains.
Ib. xi. Heaven and Hell
- 23 But liars we can never trust,
Though they should speak the thing that's true;
And he that does one fault at first,
And lies to hide it, makes it two.
Ib. xv. Against Lying
- 24 Let dogs delight to bark and bite,
For God hath made them so;
Let bears and lions growl and fight,
For 'tis their nature too.
Ib. xvi. Against Quarrelling
- 25 But, children, you should never let
Such angry passions rise;
Your little hands were never made
To tear each other's eyes. Ib.
- 26 Whatever brawls disturb the street,
There should be peace at home.
Ib. xvii. Love between Brothers and Sisters
- 27 Birds in their little nests agree
And 'tis a shameful sight,
When children of one family
Fall out, and chide, and fight. Ib.
- 28 How doth the little busy bee
Improve each shining hour,
And gather honey all the day
From every opening flower!
Ib. xx. Against Idleness and Mischief
- 29 In works of labour, or of skill,
I would be busy too;
For Satan finds some mischief still
For idle hands to do. Ib.
- 30 One sickly sheep infects the flock,
And poisons all the rest.
Ib. xxi. Against Evil Company
- 31 Let me be dress'd fine as I will,
Flies, worms, and flowers, exceed me still.
Ib. xxii. Against Pride in Clothes
- 32 I have been there, and still would go;
'Tis like a little Heaven below.
Ib. xxviii. Lord's Day. Evening

DANIEL WEBSTER

1782-1852

- 1 There is always room at the top.
When advised not to become a lawyer as the profession was overcrowded
- 2 The gentleman has not seen how to reply to this, otherwise than by supposing me to have advanced the doctrine that a national debt is a national blessing.
Second Speech in the Senate on Foot's Resolution, 26 Jan. 1830
- 3 The people's government, made for the people, made by the people, and answerable to the people. Ib.
- 4 He [Alexander Hamilton] smote the rock of the national resources, and abundant streams of revenue gushed forth. He touched the dead corpse of the Public Credit, and it sprung upon its feet.
Speech at a Public Dinner at New York, 10 March 1831
- 5 On this question of principle, while actual suffering was yet afar off, they [the Colonies] raised their flag against a power, to which, for purposes of foreign conquest and subjugation, Rome, in the height of her glory, is not to be compared; a power which has dotted over the surface of the whole globe with her possessions and military posts, whose morning drum-beat, following the sun, and keeping company with the hours, circles the earth with one continuous and unbroken strain of the martial airs of England.
Speech in the Senate on the President's Protest, 7 May 1834
- 6 Thank God, I—I also—am an American!
Speech on the Completion of Bunker Hill Monument, 17 June 1843
- 7 The Law: It has honoured us, may we honour it. Ib.
- 8 I was born an American; I will live an American; I shall die an American.
Speech in the Senate on 'The Compromise Bill', 17 July 1850
- 9 Fearful concatenation of circumstances.
Argument on the Murder of Captain Joseph White

JOHN WEBSTER

1580?-1625?

- 10 She's loose i' th' hilts. The Duchess of Malfi, II. v
- 11 Rais'd by that curious engine, your white hand. Ib. III. ii. 297
- 12 I am acquainted with sad misery
As the tann'd galley-slave is with his oar. Ib. IV. ii. 25
- 13 I have made a soap-boiler costive. Ib. I. 117
- 14 I am Duchess of Malfi still. Ib. I. 146
- 15 Glories, like glow-worms, afar off shine bright.
But looked to near, have neither heat nor light. Ib. I. 148
- 16 I know death hath ten thousand several doors
For men to take their exits. Ib. I. 222
- 17 So I were out of your whispering. Ib. I. 226

18 FERDINAND:

Cover her face; mine eyes dazzle: she died young.

BOSOLA:

I think not so; her infelicity
Seem'd to have years too many.

The Duchess of Malfi, IV. ii, I. 267

- 19 Physicians are like kings,—
They brook no contradiction. Ib. V. ii. 72
- 20 We are merely the stars' tennis-balls, struck and bandied
Which way please them. Ib. IV. 52
- 21 When I look into the fish-ponds in my garden,
Methinks I see a thing arm'd with a rake,
That seems to strike at me. Ib. V. 5
- 22 Is not old wine wholesomest, old pippins toothsomest, old wood burn brightest, old linen wash whitest?
Old soldiers, sweethearts, are surest, and old lovers are soundest. Westward Hoe, II. ii
- 23 I saw him even now going the way of all flesh. Ib.
- 24 Fortune's a right whore:
If she give ought, she deals it in small parcels,
That she may take away all at one swoop.
The White Devil, I. i. 4
- 25 'Tis just like a summer bird-cage in a garden: the birds that are without despair to get in, and the birds that are within despair and are in a consumption for fear they shall never get out. Ib. II. 47
- 26 A mere tale of a tub, my words are idle. Ib. II. i. 92
- 27 Cowardly dogs bark loudest. Ib. III. i. 163
- 28 A rape! a rape! . . . Yes, you have ravish'd justice;
Forced her to do your pleasure. Ib. I. 271
- 29 There's nothing sooner dry than women's tears. Ib. V. iii. 192
- 30 Call for the robin redbreast and the wren,
Since o'er shady groves they hover,
And with leaves and flowers do cover
The friendless bodies of unburied men. Ib. IV. 100
- 31 And of all axioms this shall win the prize,—
'Tis better to be fortunate than wise. Ib. VI. 183
- 32 I am i' th' way to study a long silence. Ib. I. 204
- 33 There's nothing of so infinite vexation
As man's own thoughts. Ib. I. 206
- 34 My soul, like to a ship in a black storm,
Is driven, I know not whither. Ib. I. 248
- 35 Prosperity doth bewitch men, seeming clear;
But seas do laugh, show white, when rocks are near. Ib. I. 250
- 36 I have caught
An everlasting cold; I have lost my voice
Most irrecoverably. Ib. I. 270

THOMAS EARLE WELBY

1881-1933

- 37 'Turbot, Sir,' said the waiter, placing before me two fishbones, two eyeballs, and a bit of black mackintosh. The Dinner Knell

ARTHUR WELLESLEY, DUKE OF WELLINGTON

1769-1832

- 1 Not upon a man from the colonel to the private in a regiment—both inclusive. We may pick up a marshal or two perhaps, but not worth a damn
On being asked whether he calculated upon any desertion in Buonaparte's army Creevey Papers, ch. x, p 228
- 2 It has been a damned serious business—Blucher and I have lost 30,000 men. It has been a damned nice thing—the nearest run thing you ever saw in your life. By God! I don't think it would have done if I had not been there Ib p 236
- 3 All the business of war, and indeed all the business of life, is to endeavour to find out what you don't know by what you do, that's what I called 'guessing what was at the other side of the hill'

CHARLES WESLEY

1707-1788

- 4 'Christ, the Lord, is risen to-day,'
 Sons of men and angels say,
 Raise your joys and triumphs high,
 Sing, ye heavens, and earth reply.
Hymns and Sacred Poems (1739). Christ, the Lord, is Risen To-day
- 5 Jesu, Lover of my soul,
 Let me to Thy Bosom fly,
 While the nearer waters roll,
 While the tempest still is high;
 Hide me, O my Saviour, hide,
 Till the storm of life is past;
 Safe into the haven guide,
 O receive my soul at last.
Ib. (1740), Jesu, Lover of My Soul
- 6 Other refuge have I none;
 Hangs my helpless soul on Thee. Ib.
- 7 Cover my defenceless head
 With the shadow of Thy wing. Ib.
- 8 Thou of Life the Fountain art;
 Freely let me take of Thee;
 Spring Thou up within my heart,
 Rise to all eternity. Ib.
- 9 Gentle Jesus, meek and mild,
 Look upon a little child;
 Pity my simplicity,
 Suffer me to come to thee.
Ib. (1742), Gentle Jesus, Meek and Mild
- 10 Soldiers of Christ, arise,
 And put your armour on.
Ib. (1749), Soldiers of Christ, Arise
- 11 Lift up your heart, lift up your voice;
 Rejoice, again I say, rejoice.
Hymns for Our Lord's Resurrection (1746):
Rejoice, the Lord is King
- 12 Hark! the herald-angels sing
 Glory to the new-born King:
 Peace on earth, and mercy mild,
 God and sinners reconciled.
Ib. Christmas Hymn: Hark! the Herald Angels Sing. First two lines altered by George Whitefield in 1753 from Wesley's original Hark, how all the welkin rings,
 'Glory to the King of kings'.

Journal, 11 June 1739
- 17 Once in seven years I burn all my sermons; for it is a shame if I cannot write better sermons now than I did seven years ago. Ib. 1 Sept. 1778
- 18 Though I am always in haste, I am never in a hurry.
Select Letters (1837). Letter to a member of the Society. 10 Dec. 1777
- 19 Do all the good you can,
 By all the means you can,
 In all the ways you can,
 In all the places you can,
 At all the times you can,
 To all the people you can,
 As long as ever you can.
Letters (1915). Rule of Conduct
- 20 Let it be observed, that slovenliness is no part of religion; that neither this, nor any text of Scripture, condemns neatness of apparel. Certainly this is a duty, not a sin. 'Cleanliness is, indeed, next to godliness.'
Sermons, No. xciii. On Dress

REV. SAMUEL WESLEY

1662-1735

by Dr H' B Collier from White's original
'Much in sorrow, oft in woe'

JOSEPH BLANCO WHITE

1775-1841

- 12 Mysterious Night! when our first parent knew
Thee from report divine, and heard thy name,
Did he not tremble for this lovely frame,
This glorious canopy of light and blue?
To Night, 1 1
13 Hesperus with the host of heaven came,
And lo! Creation widened in man's view Ib 1 8
14 If I might can thus deceive, wherefore not Life?
Ib 1 14

- 17 I had rather wear out than rust out
Attrib by Robert Southey

WILLIAM WHITEHEAD

1715-1785

- 18 Yes, I'm in love, I feel it now,
And Caelia has undone me,
And yet I'll swear I can't tell how
The pleasing plague stole on me
The Je ne sçay quoi, st 1 Song
19 Her voice, her touch, might give th' alarm—
'Twas both perhaps, or neither,
In short, 'twas that provoking charm
Of Caelia altogether Ib

WILLIAM WHITING

1825-1878

- 20 O hear us when we cry to Thee
For those in peril on the sea
Hymn Eternal Father Strong to Save

WALT WHITMAN

1819-1892

- 21 Silent and amazed even when a little boy,
I remember I heard the preacher every Sunday put God in his statements,
As contending against some being or influence
A Child's Amaze
22 Give me the splendid silent sun with all his beams full dazzling! Give Me the Splendid Silent Sun 23 I dream'd in a dream I saw a city invincible to the attacks of the whole of the rest of the earth,
I dream'd that was the new city of Friends
I Dream'd in a Dream
24 The institution of the dear love of comrades
I Hear it was Charged against Me
25 Joy, shipmate, joy!
(Pleas'd to my soul at death I cry,)
Our life is closed, our life begins,
The long, long anchorage we leave,
The ship is clear at last, she leaps!
She swiftly courses from the shore,
Joy, shipmate, joy Joy, Shipmate, Joy
26 Me imperturb, standing at ease in Nature
Me Imperturb
27 O Captain! my Captain! our fearful trip is done,
The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize we sought is won,
The port is near, the bells I hear, the people all exulting O Captain! My Captain!
28 The ship is anchor'd safe and sound, its voyage closed and done
I from fearful trip the victor ship comes in with object won,

- Exult O shores, and ring O bells! But I with mournful tread
Walk the deck my Captain lies, Fallen cold and dead.
O Captain! My Captain! iii
- 1 Out of the cradle endlessly rocking,
Out of the mocking-bird's throat, the musical shuttle,
A reminiscence sing.
Out of the Cradle endlessly Rocking
- 2 O we can wait no longer,
We too take ship O soul,
Joyous we too launch out on trackless seas,
Fearless for unknown shores on waves of ecstasy to sail,
Amid the wafting winds (thou pressing me to thee,
I thee to me, O soul,) Ib.
Caroling free, singing our song of God,
Chanting our chant of pleasant exploration.
Passage to India, 8
- 3 O my brave soul!
O farther, farther, sail!
O daring joy, but safe; are they not all the seas of God?
O farther, farther, farther sail! Ib. 9
- 4 Come my tan-faced children,
Follow well in order, get your weapons ready,
Have you your pistols? have you your sharp-edged axes?
Pioneers! O pioneers! Pioneers! O Pioneers!
- 5 Beautiful that war and all its deeds of carnage must in time be utterly lost,
That the hands of the sisters Death and Night incessantly softly wash again, and ever again, this soil'd world;
For my enemy is dead, a man as divine as myself is dead,
I look where he lies white-faced and still in the coffin
—I draw near,
Bend down and touch lightly with my lips the white face in the coffin. Reconciliation
- 6 Camerado, this is no book,
Who touches this touches a man. So Long!
- 7 Where the populace rise at once against the never-ending audacity of elected persons.
Song of the Broad Axe, 5, l. 12
- 8 Where women walk in public processions in the streets the same as the men,
Where they enter the public assembly and take places
the same as the men;
Where the city of the faithfulest friends stands,
Where the city of the cleanliness of the sexes stands,
Where the city of the healthiest fathers stands,
Where the city of the best-bodied mothers stands,
There the great city stands. Ib. l. 20
- 9 I celebrate myself, and sing myself.
Song of Myself, 1
- 10 I loafe and invite my soul. Ib.
- 11 Urge and urge and urge,
Always the procreant urge of the world. Ib. 3
- 12 A child said What is the grass? fetching it to one with full hands;
Or I guess it is the handkerchief of the Lord,
A scented gift and remembrancer designedly dropt,
- Bearing the owner's name someway in the corners, that we may see and remark, and say Whose?
- And now it seems to me the beautiful uncut hair of graves. Song of Myself, 6
- 13 Has any one supposed it lucky to be born?
I hasten to inform him or her, it is just as lucky to die, and I know it. Ib. 7
- 14 The look of the bay mare shames silliness out of me.
Ib. 13
- 15 I also say it is good to fall, battles are lost in the same spirit in which they are won. Ib. 18
- 16 I am he that walks with the tender and growing night,
I call to the earth and sea half-held by the night.
Press close bare-bosom'd night—press close magnetic nourishing night!
Night of south winds—night of the large few stars!
Still nodding night—mad naked summer night. Ib. 21
- 17 Earth of the vitreous pour of the full moon just tinged with blue! Ib.
- 18 Far-swooping elbow'd earth—rich apple-blossom'd earth!
Smile, for your lover comes. Ib.
- 19 I believe a leaf of grass is no less than the journey-
work of the stars,
And the pismire is equally perfect, and a grain of sand, and the egg of the wren,
And the tree toad is a chef-d'oeuvre for the highest,
And the running blackberry would adorn the parlors of heaven. Ib. 31
- 20 I think I could turn and live with animals, they are so placid and self-contain'd,
I stand and look at them long and long.
They do not sweat and whine about their condition,
They do not lie awake in the dark and weep for their sins,
They do not make me sick discussing their duty to God,
Not one is dissatisfied, not one is demented with the
mania of owning things,
Not one kneels to another, nor to his kind that lived
thousands of years ago,
Not one is respectable or unhappy over the whole earth. Ib. 32
- 21 Behold, I do not give lectures or a little charity,
When I give I give myself. Ib. 39
- 22 My rendezvous is appointed, it is certain,
The Lord will be there and wait till I come on perfect
terms,
The great Camerado, the lover true for whom I pine will be there. Ib. 44
- 23 I have said that the soul is not more than the body,
And I have said that the body is not more than the soul,
And nothing, not God, is greater to one than one's self is. Ib. 47
- 24 In the faces of men and women I see God, and in my own face in the glass,
I find letters from God dropt in the street, and every one is sign'd by God's name,
And I leave them where they are, for I know that wheresoe'er I go,
Others will punctually come for ever and ever. Ib.

- 1 Do I contradict myself?
Very well then I contradict myself,
(I am large, I contain multitudes)
Song of Myself, 50
- 2 I sound my barbaric yawp over the roofs of the world
Ib 51
- 3 Afoot and light hearted I take to the open road,
Healthy, free the world before me,
The long brown path before me leading wherever I choose
Song of the Open Road, 1, 1 1
- 4 The earth, that is sufficient,
I do not want the constellations any nearer,
I know they are very well where they are,
I know they suffice for those who belong to them
Ib 1 8
- 5 I am larger, better than I thought,
I did not know I held so much goodness
Ib 5, 1 1
- 6 I will put in my poems that with you is heroism upon land and sea
And I will report all heroism from an American point of view
Starting from Paumanok, 6
- 7 This dust was once the man
Gentle plain, just and resolute, under whose cautious hand,
Against the foulest crime in history known in any land or age,
Was saved the Union of these States
This Dust was Once the Man
- 8 When lilacs last in the dooryard bloom'd,
And the great star early droop'd in the western sky in the night,
I mourn'd, and yet shall mourn with ever-returning
spring
When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloom'd, 1
- 9 Come lovely and soothing death,
Undulate round the world serenely arriving, arriving,
In the day, in the night, to all, to each,
Sooner or later delicate death
Prais'd be the fathomless universe,
For life and joy, and for objects and knowledge curious
And for love, sweet love—but praise! praise! praise!
I or the sure enwinding arms of cool enfolded death
Ib 14
- 10 These United States
A Backward Glance O'er Travell'd Roads 'These States' is passim throughout Whitman's verse

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER

1807-1892

- 11 Up from the meadows rich with corn,
Clear in the cool September morn,
The clustered spires of Frederick stand
Green walled by the hills of Maryland
Barbara Frietchie, 1 1
- 12 Bravest of all in Frederick town,
She took up the flag the men hauled down
Ib 1 17
- 13 Up the street came the rebel tread,
Starve-well Jackson riding ahead
Ib 1 23
- 14 "Shoot," if you must, this old gray head,
But spare your country a flag," she said
Ib 1 35

- 25 'Who touches a hair of yon gray head
Dies like a dog! March on!' he said
Barbara Frietchie, 1 41
- 16 I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air,
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care
The Eternal Goodness, 11
- 17 For all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these 'It might have been!'
Maud Muller, 1 105
- 18 The Indian Summer of the heart!
Memories, 11
- 19 Dinna ye hear it?—Dinna ye hear it?
The pipes o' Havelock sound! Pipes at Lucknow, 11
- 20 O brother man! fold to thy heart thy brother
Worship, 1 49

CORNELIUS WHURR

c 1845

- 21 What lasting joys the man attend
Who has a polished female friend
The Accomplished Female Friend

GEORGE JOHN WHYTE-MELVILLE

1821-1878

- 22 Then drink, puppy, drink, and let ev'ry puppy drink,
That is old enough to lap and to swallow,
For he'll grow into a hound, so we'll pass the bottle
round,
And merrily we'll whoop and we'll holloa
Drink, Puppy, Drink, chorus
- 23 The swallows are making them ready to fly,
Wheeling out on a windy sky
Goodbye, Summer, goodbye, goodbye
Goodbye, Summer
- 24 Wrap me up in my tarpaulin jacket,
And say a poor buffer lies low,
And six stalwart lancers shall carry me,
With steps solemn, mournful, and slow
The Tarpaulin Jacket

BISHOP SAMUEL WILBERFORCE

1805-1873

- 25 If I were a cassowary
On the plains of Timbuctoo,
I would eat a missionary,
Cassock, band, and hymn book too
Impromptu verse, Ascribed

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

1855-1919

- 26 Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep and you weep alone,
For the sad old earth must borrow its mirth,
But has trouble enough of its own
Solitude
- 27 So many gods so many creeds,
So many paths that wind and wind,
While just the art of being kind
Is all the sad world needs
The World's Need

OSCAR WILDE

1856-1900

- 1 He did not wear his scarlet coat,
For blood and wine are red,
And blood and wine were on his hands
When they found him with the dead.
The Ballad of Reading Gaol (1898), pt. 1. i
- 2 I never saw a man who looked
With such a wistful eye
Upon that little tent of blue
Which prisoners call the sky. Ib. iii
- 3 When a voice behind me whispered low,
'That fellow's got to swing,' Ib. iv
- 4 Yet each man kills the thing he loves,
By each let this be heard,
Some do it with a bitter look,
Some with a flattering word.
The coward does it with a kiss,
The brave man with a sword! Ib. vii
- 5 It is sweet to dance to violins
When Love and Life are fair:
To dance to flutes, to dance to lutes
Is delicate and rare:
But it is not sweet with nimble feet
To dance upon the air! Ib. II. ix
- 6 Like two doomed ships that pass in storm
We had crossed each other's way:
But we made no sign, we said no word,
We had no word to say. Ib. xii
- 7 The Governor was strong upon
The Regulations Act:
The Doctor said that Death was but
A scientific fact:
And twice a day the Chaplain called,
And left a little tract. Ib. III. iii
- 8 And once, or twice, to throw the dice
Is a gentlemanly game,
But he does not win who plays with Sin
In the secret House of Shame. Ib. xxiii
- 9 Something was dead in each of us,
And what was dead was Hope. Ib. xxxi
- 10 And the wild regrets, and the bloody sweats,
None knew so well as I:
For he who lives more lives than one
More deaths than one must die. Ib. xxxvii
- 11 I know not whether Laws be right,
Or whether Laws be wrong;
All that we know who lie in gaol
Is that the wall is strong;
And that each day is like a year,
A year whose days are long. Ib. v. i
- 12 How else but through a broken heart
May Lord Christ enter in? Ib. xiv
- 13 Surely there was a time I might have trod
The sunlit heights, and from life's dissonance
Struck one clear chord to reach the ears of God.
Hélas! (Lines prefixed to his Poems, Paris edition, 1903)
- 14 And yet, and yet,
These Christs that die upon the barricades,
God knows it I am with them, in some ways.
Sonnet to Liberty: Not that I Love Thy Children

- 15 All her bright golden hair
Tarnished with rust,
She that was young and fair
Fallen to dust. Requiescat
- 16 O Singer of Persephone!
In the dim meadows desolate
Dost thou remember Sicily? Theocritus
- 17 Art never expresses anything but itself.
The Decay of Lying (1891), p. 43
- 18 Really, if the lower orders don't set us a good example,
what on earth is the use of them?
The Importance of Being Earnest (1895), Act 1
- 19 It is very vulgar to talk like a dentist when one isn't a dentist. It produces a false impression. Ib.
- 20 Truth is never pure, and rarely simple. Ib.
- 21 In married life three is company and two none. Ib.
- 22 I have invented an invaluable permanent invalid called Bunbury, in order that I may be able to go down into the country whenever I choose. Ib.
- 23 To lose one parent, Mr. Worthing, may be regarded as a misfortune; to lose both looks like carelessness. Ib.
- 24 All women become like their mothers. That is their tragedy. No man does. That's his. Ib.
- 25 The good ended happily, and the bad unhappily.
That is what Fiction means. [Miss Prism on her novel.]
Ib. Act II
- 26 The chapter on the Fall of the Rupee you may omit.
It is somewhat too sensational. Ib.
- 27 Charity, dear Miss Prism, charity! None of us are perfect. I myself am peculiarly susceptible to draughts. Ib.
- 28 On an occasion of this kind it becomes more than a moral duty to speak one's mind. It becomes a pleasure. Ib.
- 29 Please do not shoot the pianist. He is doing his best.
Impressions of America. Leadville
- 30 Meredith is a prose Browning, and so is Browning.
He used poetry as a medium for writing in prose.
The Critic as Artist. Part 1. Intentions
- 31 A little sincerity is a dangerous thing, and a great deal of it is absolutely fatal. Ib. 2
- 32 Ah! don't say that you agree with me. When people agree with me I always feel that I must be wrong. Ib.
- 33 As long as war is regarded as wicked, it will always have its fascination. When it is looked upon as vulgar, it will cease to be popular. Ib.
- 34 There is no sin except stupidity. Ib.
- 35 I couldn't help it. I can resist everything except temptation. Lady Windermere's Fan (1891), Act 1
- 36 Many a woman has a past, but I am told that she has at least a dozen, and that they all fit. Ib.
- 37 We are all in the gutter, but some of us are looking at the stars. Ib. Act III
- 38 There is nothing in the whole world so unbecoming to a woman as a Nonconformist conscience. Ib.

- 1 CECIL GRAHAM
What is a cynic?
LORD DARLINGTON
A man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing Lady Windermere's Fan, Act III
- 2 DUMBY
Experience is the name every one gives to their mistakes
CECIL GRAHAM
One shouldn't commit any
DUMBY
Life would be very dull without them Ib
- 3 There is no such thing as a moral or an immoral book
Books are well written or badly written
Picture of Dorian Gray (1891), preface
- 4 The moral life of man forms part of the subject-matter of the artist but the morality of art consists in the perfect use of an imperfect medium Ib
- 5 There is only one thing in the world worse than being talked about, and that is not being talked about
Ib ch 1
- 6 A man cannot be too careful in the choice of his enemies Ib
- 7 The only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it Ib ch 2
- 8 A cigarette is the perfect type of a perfect pleasure
It is exquisite, and it leaves one unsatisfied. What more can one want? Ib ch 6
- 9 It is better to be beautiful than to be good. But it is better to be good than to be ugly Ib ch 17
- 10 Anybody can be good in the country Ib ch 19
- 11 As for the virtuous poor one can pity them of course, but one cannot possibly admire them
Soul of Man under Socialism
- 12 Democracy means simply the bludgeoning of the people by the people for the people Ib
- 13 MRS ALLOMBY
They say, Lady Hunstanton that when good Americans die they go to Paris
LADY HUNSTANTON
Indeed? And when bad Americans die, where do they go to?
LORD ILLINGWORTH
Oh they go to America
A Woman of No Importance (1893), Act I (See 14 1)
- 14 The youth of America is their oldest tradition. It has been going on now for three hundred years Ib
- 15 The English country gentleman galloping after a fox
—the unspeakable in full pursuit of the uneatable
Ib
- 16 One should never trust a woman who tells one her real age. A woman who would tell one that, would tell one anything Ib
- 17 LORD ILLINGWORTH
The Book of Life begins with a man and a woman in a garden
MRS ALLOMBY
It ends with Revelations Ib
- 18 Children begin by loving their parents; after a time they judge them; rarely, if ever, do they forgive
them. Ib

- 19 GERALD
I suppose society is wonderfully delightful
LORD ILLINGWORTH
To be in it is merely a bore. But to be out of it is simply a tragedy. A Woman of No Importance, Act III
- 20 You should study the Peerage, Gerald. . . It is the best thing in fiction the English have ever done Ib
- 21 A thing is not necessarily true because a man dies for it

SIR CHARLES HANBURY WILLIAMS

1708-1759

- 30 Dear Betty, come give me sweet kisses,
For sweeter no girl ever gave
But why in the midst of our blisses
Do you ask me how many I'd have?
I'm not to be stunted in pleasure
Then prithee dear Betty, be kind,
For as I love thee beyond measure,
To numbers I'll not be confid

- 1 It's a long way to Tipperary, it's a long way to go;
It's a long way to Tipperary, to the sweetest girl I
know!

Good-bye Piccadilly, Farewell Leicester Square;
It's a long, long way to Tipperary, but my heart's right there!

JOHN WILSON

d. 1889

- 9 Oh for a book and a shady nook,
Either in door or out;
With the green leaves whispering overhead,
Or the street cries all about.

Where I may read all at my ease,
Both of the new and old;
For a jolly good book whereon to look,
Is better to me than gold.

THOMAS WOODROW WILSON

1856-1924

- 10 There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. Address at Philadelphia, 10 May 1915
11 We have stood apart, studiously neutral.
Message to Congress, 7 Dec. 1915
12 Armed neutrality. Ib. 26 Feb. 1917
13 A little group of wilful men reflecting no opinion but their own have rendered the great Government of the United States helpless and contemptible.
Statement made on 4 March 1917 after a successful filibuster against his bill to arm American merchant ships against German submarine attacks
14 The world must be made safe for democracy.
Address to Congress, 2 Apr. 1917
15 It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.
Note to Germany, 14 Oct. 1918
16 Sometimes people call me an idealist. Well, that is the way I know I am an American. America is the only idealistic nation in the world.
Address at Sioux Falls, 8 Sept. 1919

- 1 A Star for every State, and a State for every Star
Speech on Boston Common, 27 Aug 1862

GEORGE WITHER

1588-1667

- 2 Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a woman's fair?
Or make pale my cheeks with care,
'Cause another's rosy are?
Be she fairer than the day,
Or the flow'ry meads in May,
If she think not well of me,
What care I how fair she be? Sonnet
- 3 I loved a lass, a fair one,
As fair as e'er was seen,
She was indeed a rare one Another Sheba queen I Loved a Lass, a Fair One
- 4 But, fool as then I was,
I thought she loved me too
But now, alas! she's left me,
Falter, lero, lool Ib

FELHAM GRENVILLE WODEHOUSE

CHARLES WOLFE

1791-1823

- 10 Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
As his corse to the rampart we hurried
The Burial of Sir John Moore at Corunna, 1
- 11 We buried him darkly at dead of night,
The sods with our bayonets turning Ib 11
- 12 But he lay like a warrior taking his rest,
With his martial cloak around him Ib 111
- 13 Few and short were the prayers we said,
And we spoke not a word of sorrow,
But we steadfastly gazed on the face that was dead,
And we mutely thought of the morrow Ib 14
- 14 We carved not a line, and we raised not a stone—
But we left him alone with his glory. Ib 1111

JAMES WOLFE

1727-1759

- 15 The General . . . repeated neatly the whole of Gray's Elegy . . . adding, as he concluded, that he would prefer being the author of that poem to the glory of beating the French to-morrow
*J. Playfair, Ther. Acc. of J. Robinson in Trans.

ELIZABETH WORDSWORTH

1840-1932

- 23 If all the good people were clever,
And all clever people were good,
The world would be nicer than ever
We thought that it possibly could
But somehow, 'tis seldom or never
The two hit it off as they should,
The good are so harsh to the clever,
The clever so rude to the good!
St Christopher and Other Poems Good and

WILLIAM WORDSWORTH

1770-1850

- 24 Where art thou, my beloved Son,
Where art thou, worse to me than dead?
The Affliction of Margaret
- 25 To keep
An incommunicable sleep. I

- 1 My apprehensions come in crowds;
I dread the rustling of the grass;
The very shadows of the clouds
Have power to shake me as they pass.
The Affliction of Margaret
- 2 Lady of the Mere,
Sole-sitting by the shores of old romance.
A Narrow Girdle of Rough Stones and Crags
- 3 And three times to the child I said,
'Why, Edward, tell me why?' Anecdote for Fathers
- 4 At Kilve there was no weather-cock;
And that's the reason why. Ib.
- 5 A Poet!—He hath put his heart to school.
Miscellaneous Sonnets, pt. III, xxvii. A Poet!—He Hath Put
- 6 A slumber did my spirit seal;
I had no human fears:
She seemed a thing that could not feel
The touch of earthly years.
No motion has she now, no force;
She neither hears nor sees;
Rolled round in earth's diurnal course,
With rocks, and stones, and trees.
A Slumber did My Spirit Seal
- 7 Action is transitory,—a step, a blow,
The motion of a muscle, this way or that—
'Tis done, and in the after-vacancy
We wonder at ourselves like men betrayed:
Suffering is permanent, obscure and dark,
And shares the nature of infinity.
The Borderers, III. 1539
- 8 Love had he found in huts where poor men lie;
His daily teachers had been woods and rills,
The silence that is in the starry sky,
The sleep that is among the lonely hills.
Song at the Feast of Brougham Castle
- 9 But ne'er to a seductive lay
Let faith be given;
Nor deem that 'light which leads astray
Is light from Heaven.' To the Sons of Burns
- 10 The best of what we do and are Just God, forgive!
Memorials of a Tour in Scotland, 1803. iii. Thoughts near Burns's Residence
- 11 Sweet childish days, that were as long
As twenty days are now.
To a Butterfly: I've Watched You Now
- 12 I, with many a fear
For my dear country, many heartfelt sighs,
'Mongst men who do not love her, linger here.
Poems Dedicated to National Independence. pt. I, i. Near Calais, Aug. 1802: Fair Star of Evening
- 13 Jones! as from Calais southward you and I Went pacing side by side.
Ib. iii. Composed near Calais, on the Road to Ardes.
- 14 Isis and Cam, to patient science dear!
Ecclesiastical Sonnets, pt. III, xlii. Cathedrals, &c. Open your Gates, ye Everlasting Piles!
- 15 To be a Prodigal's favourite,—then, worse truth,
A Miser's Pensioner,—behold our lot!
O Man, that from thy fair and shining youth
Age might but take the things Youth needed not!
The Small Celandine: There is a Flower

- 16 There's a flower that shall be mine,
'Tis the little celandine.
To the Small Celandine: Pansies, Lilies
- 17 Pleasures newly found are sweet
When they lie about our feet:
February last, my heart
First at sight of thee was glad;
All unheard of as thou art,
Thou must needs, I think have had,
Celandine! and long ago,
Praise of which I nothing know.
To the Same Flower: Pleasures Newly Found
- 18 Small service is true service while it lasts:
Of humblest friends, bright creature! scorn not one:
The daisy, by the shadow that it casts,
Protects the lingering dewdrop from the sun.
To a Child. Written in her Album
- 19 O blithe new-comer! I have heard,
I hear thee and rejoice.
O Cuckoo! Shall I call thee bird,
Or but a wandering voice?
To the Cuckoo: O Blithe New-comer!
- 20 Thrice welcome, darling of the Spring! Ib.
- 21 'Tis the still hour of thinking, feeling, loving. .
On a High Part of the Coast of Cumberland
- 22 Thou unassuming common-place
Of Nature, with that homely face,
And yet with something of a grace
Which love makes for thee.
To the Same Flower [Daisy]. With Little Here To Do
- 23 Oft on the dappled turf at ease
I sit, and play with similes,
Loose types of things through all degrees. Ib.
- 24 Degenerate Douglas! Oh, the unworthy lord!
Memorials of a Tour in Scotland, 1803. xii. Sonnet: Degenerate Douglas!
- 25 A brotherhood of venerable trees. Ib.
- 26 I thought of Thee, my partner and my guide,
As being past away—Vain sympathies!
For, backward, Duddon! as I cast my eyes,
I see what was, and is, and will abide;
Still glides the Stream, and shall for ever glide;
The Form remains, the Function never dies.
The River Duddon, xxxiv. After-Thought
- 27 Enough, if something from our hands have power
To live, and act, and serve the future hour;
And if, as toward the silent tomb we go,
Through love, through hope, and faith's transcendent dower,
We feel that we are greater than we know. Ib.
- 28 Stern daughter of the voice of God!
O Duty! if that name thou love
Who art a light to guide, a rod
To check the erring and reprove. Ode to Duty
- 29 But thee I now will serve more strictly, if I may. Ib.
- 30 Me this unchartered freedom tires;
I feel the weight of chance-desires:
My hopes no more must change their name,
I long for a repose that ever is the same. Ib.
- 31 Thou dost preserve the stars from wrong;
And the most ancient heavens, through Thee, are fresh and strong. Ib.

- 1 Give unto me, made lowly wise,
The spirit of self-sacrifice,
The confidence of reason give,
And in the light of truth thy Bondman let me live!
Ode to Duty
- 2 Thine is the tranquil hour, purpureal Eve!
But long as god-like wish, or hope divine,
Informs my spirit, ne'er can I believe
That this magnificence is wholly thine!
—From worlds not quickened by the sun
A portion of the gift is won,
An intermingling of Heaven's pomp is spread
On ground which British shepherds tread
Composed upon an Evening of Extraordinary Splendour
- 3 Not in the lucid intervals of life
That come but as a curse to party strife
Evening Voluntaries, iv Not in the Lucid Intervals
- 4 By grace divine,
Not otherwise, O Nature, we are thine Ib
- 5 On Man, on Nature, and on Human Life,
Musing in solitude The Excursion, preface, i 1
- 6 Joy in widest commonality spread. Ib 1 18
- 7 The Mind of Man—
My haunt, and the main region of my song Ib 1 40
- 8 The discerning intellect of Man,
When wedded to this goodly universe
In love and holy passion, shall find these
A simple produce of the common day Ib 1 52
- 9 A metropolitan temple in the hearts
Of mighty Poets Ib 1 86
- 10 Oh! many are the Poets that are sown
By Nature, men endowed with highest gifts,
The vision and the faculty divine,
Yet wanting the accomplishment of verse
Ib bk 1, 1 77
- 11 What soul was his, when, from the naked top
Of some bold headland, he beheld the sun Rise up, and bathe the world in light! Ib 1 198
- 12 The imperfect offices of prayer and praise Ib 1 216
- 13 That mighty orb of song,
The divine Milton Ib 1 249
- 14 The good die first,
And they whose hearts are dry as summer dust
Burn to the socket. Ib 1 500
- 15 The intellectual power, through words and things,
Went sounding on, a dim and perilous way!
Ib bk iii, 1 700
- 16 Society became my glittering bride,
And airy hopes my children Ib 1 735
- 17 'Tis a thing impossible, to frame
Conceptions equal to the soul's desires,
And the most difficult of tasks to keep Heights which the soul is competent to gain
Ib bk. iv, 1 136
- 18 As fast as a musician scatters sounds
Out of an instrument Ib 1 524
- 19 We live by admiration, hope, and love,
And even as these are well and wisely fixed,
In duty of being we ascend Ib 1 763
- 20 I have seen
A curious child, who dwelt upon a tract
Of inland ground, applying to his ear
The convolutions of a smooth-lipped shell;
To which, in silence hushed, his very soul
Listened intensely, and his countenance soon
Brightened with joy; for from within were heard
Murmurings, whereby the monitor expressed
Mysterious union with its native sea
The Excursion, bk. iv, 1 1132
- 21 Spires whose 'silent fingers point to heaven'
Ib bk vi, 1 19 Quoting Coleridge, The Friend sec. 1, No 14
- 22 The head and mighty paramount of truths,—
Immortal life, in never-fading worlds,
For mortal creatures, conquered and secured Ib 1 85
- 23 Amid the groves, under the shadowy hills,
The generations are prepared, the pangs,
The internal pangs, are ready, the dread strife
Of poor humanity's afflicted will Struggling in vain with ruthless destiny. Ib 1 553
- 24 A man of hope and forward-looking mind
Even to the last! Ib bk vii, 1 276
- 25 'To every Form of being is assigned',
Thus calmly spoke the venerable Sage,
'An active Principle' Ib bk ix, 1 1
- 26 Spirit that knows no insulated spot,
No chasm, no solitude, from link to link
It circulates, the Soul of all the worlds Ib 1 13
- 27 And hear the mighty stream of tendency
Uttering, for elevation of our thought,
A clear sonorous voice, inaudible
To the vast multitude Ib 1, 87 (See 20 13)
- 28 The primal duties shine aloft like stars,
The charities that soothe, and heal, and bless,
Are scattered at the feet of man, like flowers Ib. 1 238
- 29 Nor less I deem that there are Powers
Which of themselves our minds impress,
That we can feed this mind of ours
In a wise passiveness Expostulation and Reply
- 30 Think you mid all this mighty sum
Of things for ever speaking,
That nothing of itself will come,
But we must still be seeking? Ib
- 31 How nourished there through that long time
He knows who gave that love sublime Fidelity
- 32 'What is good for a bootless bene?'
With these dark words begins my tale,
And their meaning is, whence can comfort spring
When prayer is of no avail? The Force of Prayer
- 33 My eyes are dim with childish tears,
My heart is idly stirred,
For the same sound is in my ears
Which in those days I heard The Fountain
- 34 The wiser mind
Mourns less for what age takes away
Than what it leaves behind Ib
- 35 And often, glad no more,
We wear a face of joy because
We have been glad of yore. Ib.

- 4 Another year!—another deadly blow!
Another mighty Empire overthrow!
And we are left, or shall be left, alone
National Independence and Liberty, pt i, xxvii November Another Year!
- 5 We shall exult, if they who rule the land
Be men who hold its many blessings dear,
Wise, upright, valiant, not a servile band,
Who are to judge of danger which they fear,
And honour which they do not understand Ib
- 6 Nuns fret not at their convent's narrow room,
And hermits are contented with their cells
Miscellaneous Sonnets, pt i, i Nuns Fret Not

- 10 O dearer far than light and life are dear
To — O Dearer I ar than I light
- 11 I heard a Stock-dove sing or say
His homely tale, this very day,
His voice was buried among trees,
Yet to be come-at by the breeze
He did not cease, but cooed—and cooed;
And somewhat pensively he wooed,
He sang of love, with quiet blending,
Slow to begin, and never ending,
Of serious faith, and inward glee,
'That was the song — the song for me!
O Nightingale! Thou Surely Art

- 16 Farewell farewell the heart that lives alone,
Housed in a dream, at distance from the hand! Ib
- 17 But welcome fortune, and patient cheer,
And frequent sights of what is to be borne!
Such sights, or worse, as are before me here —
Not without hope we suffer and we mourn Ib
- 18 I am not one who much or oft delight
To season my fireside with personal talk
Personal Talk, i
- 19 Sweetest melodies
Are those that are by distance made more sweet Ib ii
- 20 Dreams, books, are each a world, and books, we
know,
Are a substantial world, both pure and good
Round these, with tendrils strong as flesh and blood,
Our pastime and our happiness will grow. Ib iii

For once that Peter was respected Ib pt i, l 204
- 25 A primrose by a river's brim
A yellow primrose was to him,
And it was nothing more Ib l. 249
- 26 He gave a groan, and then another,
Of that which went before the brother,
And then he gave a third Ib l. 443
- 27 Is it a party in a parlour?
Cramm'd just as they on earth were cram'd—
Some sipping punch, some sipping tea,
But, as you by their faces see,
All silent and all damned! Ib pt. ii, l 516
- 28 The dew was falling fast, the stars began to blink;
I heard a voice, it said, 'Drink, pretty creature,

And clad in homely russet brown?
He murmurs near the running brooks
A music sweeter than their own Ib.
- 32 He is retired as noontide dew,
Or fountain in a noon-day grove,
And you must love him, ere to you
He will seem worthy of your love Ib.
- 33 Impulses of deeper birth
Have come to him in solitude Ib.
- 34 In common things that round us lie
Some random truths he can impart,—
The harvest of a quiet eye,
That broods and sleeps on his own heart.
But he is weak, both Man and Boy,
Hath been an idler in the land,
Contented if he might enjoy
The things which others understand. Ib
- 35 Weak as is a breaking wave. Ib.

WORDSWORTH

- 1 My soul
Once more made trial of her strength, nor lacked Æolian visitations. The Prelude, bk. i, l. 94
- 2 Feels immediately some hollow thought
Hang like an interdict upon her hopes. Ib. l. 259
- 3 Unprofitably travelling towards the grave. Ib. l. 267
- 4 Made one long bathing of a summer's day. Ib. l. 290
- 5 Fair seed-time had my soul, and I grew up Fostered alike by beauty and by fear. Ib. l. 301
- 6 When the deed was done
I heard among the solitary hills
Low breathings coming after me, and sounds
Of undistinguishable motion, steps
Almost as silent as the turf they trod. Ib. l. 321
- 7 Though mean
Our object and inglorious, yet the end
Was not ignoble. Ib. l. 328
- 8 With what strange utterance did the loud dry wind
Blow through my ear! the sky seemed not a sky
Of earth—and with what motion moved the clouds!
Ib. l. 337
- 9 Dust as we are, the immortal spirit grows
Like harmony in music; there is a dark
Inscrutable workmanship that reconciles
Discordant elements, makes them cling together
In one society. Ib. l. 340
- 10 The grim shape
Towered up between me and the stars, and still,
For so it seemed, with purpose of its own
And measured motion like a living thing,
Strode after me. Ib. l. 382
- 11 Unknown modes of being. Ib. l. 393
- 12 Huge and mighty forms that do not live
Like living men, moved slowly through the mind
By day, and were a trouble to my dreams. Ib. l. 398
- 13 Not with the mean and vulgar works of man,
But with high objects, with enduring things. Ib. l. 408
- 14 Strife too humble to be named in verse. Ib. l. 513
- 15 The self-sufficing power of Solitude. Ib. bk. ii, l. 77
- 16 A prop
To our infirmity. Ib. l. 214
- 17 Thence did I drink the visionary power;
And deem not profitless those fleeting moods
Of shadowy exultation. Ib. l. 311
- 18 The soul,
Remembering how she felt, but what she felt
Remembering not, retains an obscure sense
Of possible sublimity. Ib. l. 315
- 19 Where the statue stood
Of Newton, with his prism and silent face,
The marble index of a mind for ever
Voyaging through strange seas of thought alone.

Spent in a round of strenuous idleness. Ib. l. 377
- 24 That uncertain heaven, received
Into the bosom of the steady lake. Ib. bk. v, l. 387
- 25 Visionary power
Attends the motions of the viewless winds,
Embodied in the mystery of words. Ib. l. 595
- 26 Present themselves as objects recognized,
In flashes, and with glory not their own. Ib. l. 604
- 27 Whether we be young or old,
Our destiny, our being's heart and home,
Is with infinitude, and only there;
With hope it is, hope that can never die,
Effort, and expectation, and desire,
And something evermore about to be.
Ib. bk. vi, l. 603
- 28 We were brothers all
In honour, as in one community,
Scholars and gentlemen. Ib. bk. ix, l. 227
- 29 In the People was my trust,
And in the virtues which mine eyes had seen.
Ib. bk. x, l. 11
- 30 Not in Utopia—subterranean fields,—
Or some secreted island, Heaven knows where!
But in the very world, which is the world
Of all of us,—the place where, in the end
We find our happiness, or not at all! Ib. l. 140
- 31 The dupe of folly, or the slave of crime. Ib. l. 320
- 32 There is
One great society alone on earth:
The noble living and the noble dead. Ib. l. 393
- 33 A sensitive being, a creative soul. Ib. bk. xii, l. 207
- 34 Oh! mystery of man, from what a depth
Proceed thy honours. I am lost, but see
In simple childhood something of the base
On which thy greatness stands. Ib. l. 272
- 35 Animate an hour of vacant ease. Ib. l. 335

- 38 Prophets of Nature, we to them will speak
A lasting inspiration, sanctified
By reason, blest by faith: what we have loved,
Others will love, and we will teach them how;
Instruct them how the mind of man becomes
A thousand times more beautiful than the earth
On which he dwells, above this frame of things (Which, 'mid all revolution in the hopes
And fears of men, doth still remain unchanged)
In beauty exalted, as it is itself
Of quality and fabric more divine. Ib. l. 444

WORDSWORTH

- 1 A voice so thrilling ne'er was heard
In spring-time from the Cuckoo-bird,
Breaking the silence of the seas
Among the farthest Hebrides. The Solitary Reaper
- 2 Will no one tell me what she sings?—
Perhaps the plaintive numbers flow
For old, unhappy, far-off things,
And battles long ago. Ib.
- 3 Some natural sorrow, loss, or pain
That has been, and may be again. Ib.
- 4 The music in my heart I bore,
Long after it was heard no more. Ib.
- 5 Spade! with which Wilkinson hath tilled his lands.
To the Spade of a Friend
- 6 She gave me eyes, she gave me ears;
And humble cares, and delicate fears;
A heart, the fountain of sweet tears;
And love, and thought, and joy. The Sparrow's Nest
- 7 In that sweet mood when pleasant thoughts
Bring sad thoughts to the mind.
Lines Written in Early Spring
- 8 And much it grieved my heart to think
What man has made of man. Ib.
- 9 And 'tis my faith that every flower
Enjoys the air it breathes. Ib.
- 10 Have I not reason to lament
What man has made of man? Ib.
- 11 Strange fits of passion I have known.
Strange Fits of Passion
- 12 What fond and wayward thoughts will slide
Into a Lover's head!
'O mercy!' to myself I cried,
'If Lucy should be dead!' Ib.
- 13 Two Voices are there; one is of the sea,
One of the mountains; each a mighty Voice,
In both from age to age thou didst rejoice,
They were thy chosen music, Liberty!
National Independence and Liberty, xii. Thought of a Briton on the Subjugation of Switzerland: Two Voices are There
- 14 Up! up! my friend, and quit your books;
Or surely you'll grow double:
Up! up! my friend, and clear your looks;
Why all this toil and trouble? The Tables Turned
- 15 Books! 'tis a dull and endless strife:
Come, hear the woodland linnet,
How sweet his music! on my life,
There's more of wisdom in it.
And hark! how blithe the throstle sings!
He, too, is no mean preacher:
Come forth into the light of things,
Let Nature be your teacher. Ib.
- 16 Spontaneous wisdom breathed by health,
Truth breathed by cheerfulness.
One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can.
Sweet is the lore which Nature brings;
Our meddling intellect
Misshapes the beauteous forms of things:—
We murder to dissect.
- Enough of science and of art;
Close up these barren leaves;
Come forth, and bring with you a heart
That watches and receives. The Tables Turned
- 17 Every gift of noble origin
Is breathed upon by Hope's perpetual breath.
*National Independence and Liberty, pt. I, xx.
These Times Strike Monied Worldlings*
- 18 The power of Armies is a visible thing,
Formal, and circumscribed in time and place.
Ib. pt. II, xxxii. The Power of Armies
- 19 A noticeable man with large grey eyes
And a pale face. [Coleridge.]
*Stanzas written in my pocket copy of Thomson's
'Castle of Indolence'*
- 20 I've measured it from side to side:
'Tis three feet long, and two feet wide.
The Thorn, iii [early reading]
- 21 Then nature said, 'A lovelier flower
On earth was never sown;
This child I to myself will take;
She shall be mine, and I will make A lady of my own.' Three Years She Grew
- 22 The stars of midnight shall be dear
To her; and she shall lean her ear
In many a secret place
Where rivulets dance their wayward round,
And beauty born of murmuring sound
Shall pass into her face. Ib.
- 23 Sensations sweet,
Felt in the blood, and felt along the heart.
*Lines composed a few miles above Tintern Abbey,
I. 27*
- 24 That best portion of a good man's life,
His little, nameless, unremembered acts
Of kindness and of love. Ib. l. 33
- 25 That blessed mood,
In which the burthen of the mystery,
In which the heavy and the weary weight
Of all this unintelligible world,
Is lightened:—that serene and blessed mood,
In which the affections gently lead us on,—
Until, the breath of this corporeal frame
And even the motion of our human blood
Almost suspended, we are laid asleep
In body, and become a living soul:
While with an eye made quiet by the power
Of harmony, and the deep power of joy,
We see into the life of things. Ib. l. 37
- 26 For nature then
(The coarser pleasures of my boyish days,
And their glad animal movements all gone by)
To me was all in all.—I cannot paint
What then I was. The sounding cataract
Haunted me like a passion: the tall rock,
The mountain, and the deep and gloomy wood,
Their colours and their forms, were then to me
An appetite; a feeling and a love,
That had no need of a remoter charm,
By thought supplied, nor any interest
Unborrowed from the eye. Ib. l. 72

WORDSWORTH—WYNTOUN'S CHRONICLE

- 1 Thou, while thy babes around thee cling,
Shalt show us how divine a thing
A woman may be made. To a Young Lady
- 2 But an old age, serene and bright,
And lovely as a Lapland night,
Shall lead thee to thy grave. Ib.
- 3 Poetry is the breath and finer spirit of all knowledge;
it is the impassioned expression which is in the countenance of all science. Lyrical Ballads, preface
- 4 Poetry is the spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings: it takes its origin from emotion recollected in tranquillity. Ib.
- 5 Every great and original writer, in proportion as he is great and original, must himself create the taste
by which he is to be relished. Letter to Lady Beaumont

HENRY CLAY WORK

1832-1884

- 6 Bring the good old bugle, boys, we'll sing another song;
Sing it with a spirit that will start the world along,
Sing it as we used to sing it—fifty thousand strong,
As we were marching through Georgia. Marching Through Georgia
- 7 'Hurrah! hurrah! we bring the Jubilee!
Hurrah! hurrah! the flag that makes you free!
So we sang the chorus from Atlanta to the sea,
As we were marching through Georgia. Ib. Chorus
- 8 Father, dear father, come home with me now,
The clock in the belfry strikes one. Temperance song, 1864

SIR HENRY WOTTON

1568-1639

- 9 How happy is he born and taught
That serveth not another's will;
Whose armour is his honest thought,
And simple truth his utmost skill! Character of a Happy Life, i
- 10 Who God doth late and early pray
More of his grace than gifts to lend;
And entertains the harmless day
With a religious book, or friend. Ib. v
- 11 This man is freed from servile bands,
Of hope to rise, or fear to fall:—
Lord of himself, though not of lands,
And having nothing, yet hath all. Ib. vi
- 12 He first deceas'd; she for a little tri'd
To live without him: lik'd it not, and di'd.
Death of Sir Albertus Moreton's Wife
- 13 You meaner beauties of the night,
That poorly satisfy our eyes,
More by your number, than your light;
You common people of the skies,
What are you when the moon shall rise?
On His Mistress, the Queen of Bohemia
- 14 At my departure toward Rome . . . I had won confidence enough to beg his advice [Alberto Scipioni's] how I might carry myself securely there without offence of others, or of mine own conscience.

'Signor Arrigo mio', says he, 'I pensieri stretti ed il viso sciolto will go safely over the whole world.'
['Sir Henry . . . the thoughts secret and the countenance open.']

Letter to Milton, 13 Apr. 1638, prefixed to Comus

- 15 An ambassador is an honest man sent to lie abroad for the good of his country.
Written in the Album of Christopher Fleckmore (1604)

SIR CHRISTOPHER WREN

1632-1723

- 16 Si monumentum requiris, circumspice.
If you would see his monument look around.
Inscription over the interior of the North Door in St. Paul's Cathedral, London. Written by Wren's son

SIR THOMAS WYATT

1503?-1542

- 17 Blame not my lute! for he must sound
Of this and that as liketh me. The Lute Obeys, i
- 18 And wilt thou leave me thus?
Say nay, say nay, for shame! An Appeal
- 19 Forget not yet the tried intent
Of such a truth as I have meant;
My great travail so gladly spent
Forget not yet! Steadfastness
- 20 They flee from me, that sometime did me seek.
Remembrance
- 21 My lute, awake! perform the last Labour that thou and I shall waste,
The end that I have now begun;
For when this song is sung and past,
My lute, be still, for I have done. To His Lute

WILLIAM WYCHERLEY

1640?-1716

- 22 Go to your business, I say, pleasure, whilst I go to my pleasure, business. Country Wife, Act II
- 23 Nay, you had both felt his desperate deadly daunting
dagger:—there are your d's for you!
Gentleman Dancing-Master, Act v
- 24 Fy! madam, do you think me so ill bred as to love a husband? Love in a Wood, III. iv
- 25 QUAIN'T:
With sharp invectives—
WIDOW:
Alias, Billingsgate. Plain Dealer, Act III

WYNTOUN'S CHRONICLE

- 26 Quhen Alysander oure kyng wes dede,
That Scotland led in luve and le,
Away wes sons of ale and brede,
Of wyne and wax, of gamyn and gle:
Oure gold wes changyd into lede,

2 A line will take us hours may be;
Yet if it does not seem a moment's thought,
Our stitching and unstitching has been naught.

3 O heart, be at peace, because
Nor knave nor dolt can break
What's not for their applause,
Being for a woman's sake Against Uncorrupt Praise

4 When I was young,
I had not given a penny for a song
Did not the poet sing it with such airs
That one believed he had a sword upstairs
All Things Can Tempt Me

5 The phantom, Beauty, in a mist of tears
Anashuya and Vyaya

6 The old priest Peter Gilligan
Was weary night and day,
I or half his flock were in their beds,
Or under green sods lay. Ballad of Father Gilligan

7 He who is wrapped in purple robes,
With planets in his care,
Had pity on the least of things
Asleep upon a chair Ib

8 The years like great black oxen tread the world,
And God the herdsman goads them on behind,
And I am broken by their passing feet
The Countess Cathleen, Act IV

16 But weigh this song with the great and their pride;
I made it out of a mouthful of air,
Their children's children shall say they have lied
He Thinks of Those who have Spoken Evil of his Beloved

17 Had I the heavens' embroidered cloths,
Enwrought with golden and silver light,
The blue and the dim and the dark cloths
Of night and light and the half-light,
I would spread the cloths under your feet.
But I, being poor, have only my dreams;
I have spread my dreams under your feet;
Tread softly, because you tread on my dreams
He Wishes for the Cloths of Heaven

18 I mourn for that most lovely thing; and yet God's will be done
I knew a phoenix in my youth, so let them have their
day. Hus Phoenix

19 Out-worn heart, in a time out-worn,
Come clear of the nets of wrong and right,
Laugh, heart, again in the grey twilight,
Sigh, heart, again in the dew of the morn
Into the Twilight

20 And God stands winding His lonely horn,
And time and the world are ever in flight,
And love is less kind than the grey twilight,
And hope is less dear than the dew of the morn Ib

21 Nor law, nor duty bade me fight,
Nor public men, nor cheering crowds,
A lonely impulse of delight
Drove to this tumult in the clouds;
I balanced all, brought all to mind,
The years to come seemed waste of breath,
A waste of breath the years behind
In balance with this life, this death,

23 What were all the world's alarms
To mighty Paris when he found
Sleep upon a golden bed,
That first dawn in Helen's arms Lullaby, st 1

24 Never give all the heart, for love
Will hardly seem worth thinking of
To passionate women if it seem
Certain, and they never dream
That it fades out from kiss to kiss

All that delirium of the brave?
Romantic Ireland a dead and gone,
It's with O Leary in the grave September 1913

- 1 For the good are always the merry,
Save by an evil chance,
And the merry love the fiddle,
And the merry love to dance. The Fiddler of Dooney
- 2 When I play on my fiddle in Dooney
Folk dance like a wave of the sea. Ib.
- 3 One that is ever kind said yesterday
'Your well-beloved's hair has threads of grey,
And little shadows come about her eyes.'
The Folly of Being Comforted
- 4 Time can but make her beauty over again:
Because of that great nobleness of hers.
The fire that stirs about her, when she stirs,
Burns but more clearly. O she had not these ways
When all the wild summer was in her gaze. Ib.
- 5 O heart! O heart! if she'd but turn her head,
You'd know the folly of being comforted. Ib.
- 6 The little fox murmured,
'O what of the world's bane?'
The sun was laughing sweetly,
The moon plucked at my rein;
But the little red fox murmured,
'O do not pluck at his rein,
He is riding to the townland
That is the world's bane.' The Happy Townland
- 7 The host is riding from Knocknarea
And over the grave of Clooth-na-Bare;
Caoilte tossing his burning hair,
And Niamh calling Away, come away.
The Hosting of the Sidhe
- 8 Who holds the world between His bill and made us strong or weak
Is an undying moorfowl, and He lives beyond the sky.
The rains are from His dripping wings, the moonbeams from His eye. The Indian upon God
- 9 Who made the world and ruleth it, He hangeth on a stalk,
For I am in His image made, and all this tinkling tide
Is but a sliding drop of rain between His petals wide.
Ib.
- 10 The Stamper of the Skies,
He is a gentle roebuck; for how else, I pray, could He Conceive a thing so sad and soft, a gentle thing like me? Ib.
- 11 Who made the grass and made the worms and made my feathers gay,
He is a monstrous peacock, and He waveth all the night
His languid tail above us, lit with myriad spots of light. Ib.
- 12 I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made:
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.
And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a-glimmer, and noon a purple
glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.
- I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements gray
I hear it in the deep heart's core.
The Lake Isle of Innisfree
- 13 The wind blows out of the gates of the day,
The wind blows over the lonely of heart,
And the lonely of heart is withered away.
The Land of Heart's Desire
- 14 The land of faery,
Where nobody gets old and godly and grave,
Where nobody gets old and crafty and wise,
Where nobody gets old and bitter of tongue. Ib.
- 15 Of a land where even the old are fair,
And even the wise are merry of tongue. Ib.
- 16 Land of Heart's Desire,
Where beauty has no ebb, decay no flood,
But joy is wisdom, Time an endless song. Ib.
- 17 All things uncomely and broken, all things worn out and old,
The cry of a child by the roadway, the creak of a lumbering cart,
The heavy steps of the ploughman, splashing the wintry mould,
Are wronging your image that blossoms a rose in the deeps of my heart.
The wrong of unshapely things is a wrong too great to be told;
I hunger to build them anew and sit on a green knoll apart,
With the earth and the sky and the water, re-made,
like a casket of gold;
For my dreams of your image that blossoms a rose in
the deeps of my heart.
The Lover Tells of the Rose in his Heart
- 18 When I was a boy with never a crack in my heart.
The Meditation of the Old Fisherman
- 19 I heard the old, old men say,
'All that's beautiful drifts away
Like the waters.'
The Old Men Admiring Themselves in the Water
- 20 A pity beyond all telling
Is hid in the heart of love. The Pity of Love
- 21 Rose of all Roses, Rose of all the World!
The Rose of Battle
- 22 Who dreamed that beauty passes like a dream?
For these red lips, with all their mournful pride,
Mournful that no new wonder may betide,
Troy passed away in one high funeral gleam,
And Usna's children died.
We and the labouring world are passing by:
Amid men's souls, that waver and give place
Like the pale waters in their wintry race,
Under the passing stars, foam of the sky,
Lives on this lonely face.
Bow down, archangels, in your dim abode;
Before you were, or any hearts to beat,
Weary and kind one linger'd by His seat;
He made the world to be a grassy road
Before her wandering feet. The Rose of the World
- 23 Far off, most secret, and inviolate Rose,
Enfold me in my hour of hours. The Secret Rose

- 1 A woman of so shining loveliness
That men threshed corn at midnight by a tress
The Secret Rose
- 2 When shall the stars be blown about the sky,
Like the sparks blown out of a smithy, and die?
Surely thine hour has come, thy great wind blows,
Far-off, most secret, and inviolate Rose? Ib
- 3 It is love that I am seeking for,
But of a beautiful, unheard-of kind
That is not in the world The Shadowy Waters
- 4 Do you not know
How great a wrong it is to let one's thought
Wander a moment when one is in love? Ib
- 5 Bend lower, O king, that I may crown you with it.
O flower of the branch, O bird among the leaves,
O silver fish that my two hands have taken
Out of the running stream, O morning star,
Trembling in the blue heavens like a white fawn
Upon the misty border of the wood,
Bend lower, that I may cover you with my hair,
I or we will gaze upon this world no longer. Ib
- 6 And pluck till time and times are done
The silver apples of the moon
The golden apples of the sun
The Song of Wandering Aengus
- 7 The brawling of a sparrow in the eaves,
The brilliant moon and all the milky sky,
And all that famous harmony of leaves,
Had blotted out man's image and his cry
A girl arose that had red mournful lips
And seemed the greatness of the world in tears,
Doomed like Odysseus and the labouring ships
And proud as Priam murdered with his peers,
Arose, and on the instant clamorous eaves,
A climbing moon upon an empty sky,
And all that lamentation of the leaves,
Could but compose man's image and his cry
The Sorrows of Love
- 8 And the loud chaunting of the unquiet leaves
Are shaken with earth's old and weary cry
The Sorrows of Love (1893 version)
- 9 Come away, O human child!
To the waters and the wild
With a faery, hand in hand,
For the world's more full of weeping than you can understand The Stolen Child
- 10 Nor know that what disturbs our blood
Is but its longing for the tomb The Wheel
- 11 I would that we were, my beloved, white birds on the foam of the sea! The White Birds
- 12 But was there ever god that praised his fleas?
To a Poet, & to would I love me praise certain bad Poets, Imitators of his and mine
- 13 I know what wages beauty gives,
How I and a life her servant lives,
Yet praise the winters gone
There is not a fool can call me friend,
And I may dine at journey's end
With Lauder and with Donne To a Young Beauty
- 14 Know, that I would account thee
True brother of a company
That sang to sweeten Ireland's wrong,
Balad and story, rain and song,

- Nor be I any less of them,
Because the red-rose-bordered hem
Of her, whose history began
Before God made the angelic clan,
Trails all about the written page

A terrible beauty is born Under Saturn
- 20 Dwell in the house of the Fenians, be they in flames or at least The Wanderings of Ossin, bk. iii
- 21 When you are old and gray and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;
How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty with love false or true,
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you,
And loved the sorrows of your changing face
And bending down beside the glowing bars,
Murmur, a little sadly, how Love fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars
When you are Old

- 23 Be wise with speed,
A fool at forty is a fool indeed,
Love of Fame, Sat. 11, l. 281
- 24 I or who does nothing with a better grace?
Ib Sat. 11, l. 86
- 25 I or ever most divinely in the wrong
Ib Sat. 11, l. 106
- 26 For her own breakfast she'll project a scheme,
Nor take her tea without a stratagem Ib l. 187
- 27 Not to destroy, is murder by the law,
And gibbets keep the lifted hand in awe,
'To murder thousands, takes a specious name,
War's glorious art, and gives immortal fame
Ib Sat. 11, l. 55
- 28 How commentators each dark passage shun,
And hold their farthing candle to the sun Ib l. 97
- 29 Tird Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep!
He, like the world, his ready visit pays
Where fortune smiles, the wretched he forsakes.

CORRIGENDA

- 6:13, 125:15, 250:14 A detailed history of this song, which has appeared in many versions, is given in Percy A. Scholes, God Save the Queen! (1954).
- 7:18 A more precise source is given at 254:2.
- 73:14 For an earlier history of this rhyme see The Oxford Dictionary of Nursery Rhymes (1951).
- 210:5 An earlier source for these words is given at 10:20.
- 277:19 This occurs in Boswell's Life, vol. ii, p. 13. 15 February 1766:
So far is it from being true that men are naturally equal, that no two people can be half an hour together, but one shall acquire an evident superiority over the other.
- 420:24 These lines are quoted by Scott. They form the burden of an old song to which Burns wrote additional verses.

INDEX

NOTE

THE index references show the page number followed by the numerical position of the quotation on the page (e.g. 163:15 = the fifteenth quotation on page 163).

The order of the index both in the keywords and in the entries under the keywords is strictly alphabetical.

To save space the keyword is replaced by its initial letter in the individual entries.

Foreign quotations have been included in the general alphabetical scheme and for greater clarity are printed in italic in this index. A separate Greek index follows the general one.

Irregular spellings (such as occur in Dickens, Artemus Ward, &c.), early English words, and dialect words are indexed under their normal modern equivalents except where there is no exact equivalent. Some words are given in both their original and their normal forms.

The definite and indefinite article have been dropped from the beginnings of most entries, and the alphabetical order is therefore decided by more significant words: thus—under 'Face'—'a garden in her face' and 'the garden of your face' follow each other instead of being separated by over a hundred other 'face' entries.

a. many a summer 540:20
evil...lives a. them 450:17
man a. his own heart 47:13
to the gallows-foot—and a. 302:18
After-dinner: as it were an a.'s sleep 462:5
government...framed...ina. conversations 546:41 in a. talk across the walnuts 537:3
Afternoon: in the a. of time 516:19 in which it seemed always a. 535:13
some green a. turns toward sunset 525:1

Afternoon (cont.)
that July a. 375:14
the...multitude call the a. 455:27
After-silence on the shore 118:24
Afton: flow gently, sweet A. 105:29
Agag came unto him delicately 47:17
Again: A.! a.! and the havoc 122:5
a.—thou hearest 17:12
a. to the battle, Achaians 123:6
I do it a. and a. 128:28
I shall not pass this way a. 232:10 is it really you a.? 91:25 would you do it, please, a.? 228:6
Against: a. the wind 114:14
all argument is a. it 273:28

a. is grown so picked 437:13
a. of chivalry is gone 102:11
a. of chivalry is never past 294:16
a. of chivalry is past 182:46
A. of Machinery 125:28
a. shall not weary them 72:23
A...take the things Youth needed not 573:15
a. that melts 279:8
a., that will her pride deflower 509:33
a. too late, or cold 349:6
a. will not be defied 27:3
A., with stealing steps 552:15 an a. in her embraces past 407:18 an a. of ease 224:15
an a. of poverty 465:9
an a. of splendid discontent 355:12

disgust this refined a. 202:15
do you think, at your a. 128:28 do your joys with a. diminish? 93:25 each a. is a dream 371:2
evening of my a. 412:7
fetch the a. of gold 343:18
fixed point in a changing a. 188:13 forehead of the a. to come 288:25
'gainst time and a. 377:4
grace this latter a. 440:28
green and smiling a. 514:38 hated, as their a. increases 515:24 hath not forgotten my a. 507:35
he is of a.: ask him 63:34
he is of no a. 153:14
his wealth a well-spent a. 123:25 in a. I bud again 244:18 in a good old a. 44:48, 48:34
in ev'ry a., in ev'ry clime 386:29 in mine a. have left me naked 447:1

Old A., and Experience 116:22
Old A. a regret 407:22
old a. has brought to me 181:37
old a. hath yet his honour 512:9 old a. of cards 541:3
old a., serene and bright 384:37
outworn buried a. 583:2
pays us but with a. and dust 487:11 prayers, which are a. his alms 405:12 prompt the a. to quit their clogs 377:4 see old a. 351:18
shame of a. 444:28
should accompany old a. 141:23
slow-consuming A. 400:36
some smack of a. 230:29

Day (cont.)

life is but a d. 258:10
 life's little d. 322:1
 long d. done 241:23
 long d.'s task is done 425:21 long d. wanes 541:3
 look, the gentle d. 409:19
 lord of lyght and lamp of d. 187:5
 maddest merriest d. 536:26
 make perpetual d. 330:7
 Man! the pilgrim of a d. 122:37
 many a canty d., John 106:20 memories of the d. 338:3
 misty morwe folwen..mery someres d. 138:32 morning star, d.'s harbinger 343:8
 neither..perfect d. nor night 445:44
 news, the manna of a d. 231:28
 next d., there she lay 139:2
 night is as clear as the d. 400:9
 night of time far surpasseth the d. 87:18
 no d. for me to look upon 484:36
 no knowledge when the d. was done 286:23
 no proper time of d. 253:11 not look the same by d. 88:9 not to me returns d. 346:20
 now's the d. 107:32
 now the d. is over 34:35
 O d. and night 432:28
 o'er night's brim d. boils 94:39
 O frabjous d., in a Sieve 129:39(-130)
 on a stormy d., in a Sieve 311:22 once a d. with his embossed froth 480:32
 one d. in thy courts 397:7
 one d., one cold winter's d. 249:18 one d. telleth another 392:32
 one d.'s truce 102:5
 our triumphant holy d. 8:2, 13:13
 pass our long love's d. 333:8 place to stand and love in for a d. 88:20
 poor man's d. 228:14
 posteriors of this d. 455:27
 promise such a beauteous d. 486:30 rare as a d. in June 320:17 runs through the roughest d. 456:26 sailor, d. is at hand 415:6
 sang it all d. long 81:10 seats of everlasting d. 562:10 see in a summer's d. 466:31 simple worship of a d. 287:18
 since thy d. began 308:31
 sing the glorious d.'s renown 122:3 sister, the whole d. long 128:2
 some d. before I'm old 297:24
 some future d. 147:11
 sorrow enough..to fill our d. 300:22 sorrow of each d.'s growing 335:10 spent but one d..well 291:26 splendid for the d. 336:11 springs like d. 496:23
 stocking all the d. 224:11
 succeeds thy little d. 376:20 such a d. tomorrow as today 485:3
 sufficeth that the d. will end 451:38 sufficient unto the d. 58:15 sunbeam in a winter's d. 195:14 sure you shall outlive this d.? 202:1
 sweet d., so cool 245:13
 tender eye of pitiful d. 459:8
 that d. should be so soon 525:1
 there's night and d., brother 78:24
 this and every d. 291:8
 this d. shall gentle his condition 444:28(-445)
 this d. we must part 166:24
 this good d. new-born 248:7
 this long weary d. have end 509:14
 this new D. is born 125:27
 this petty pace from d. to d. 461:4
 this same d. must end the work 451:37
 those who dwell in realms of D. 74:1
 though the d. be never so long 239:6
 thou usherest in the d. 107:4
 Thou wast up by break of d. 244:14 till perfect D. shall shine 402:10 tomorrow's falsen than the for-mer d. 191:34 to rest when d. is done 84:10

Day (cont.)

underneath D.'s azure eyes 495:1
 until the d. break 52:3
 until the hasting d. has run 246:2 unto my dying d., Sir 7:9
 unto the perfect d. 49:43
 upon a d. he gat him more moneye 137:22
 vulgarize the d. of judgment 260:13
 waking with d. 417:33
 warm precincts of the cheerful d. 230:9
 welcome d. 248:5
 we said nothing, all the d. 184:31
 what a d. may bring forth 50:43
 what glance of d. 551:16
 w'en de great d. comes 238:24 while d. stood..in the sky 237:8 while the d. ran by 244:20 whole long d. 410:2
 wished for the d. 65:29 without all hope of d. 350:22 withstand in the evil d. 68:11 with which thoughts the d. rose 292:21
 woe worth the d. 416:14
 young dawn of our eternal d. 166:5
 year's midnight and..the d.'s 186:2
 Daybreak: some white tremendous d. 84:20
 Day-dreams: like the d. of melan-choly men 193:27
 Day-labour: doth God exact d.? 351:21
 Daylight: all the long and lone d. 495:21 between the dark and the d. 316:3 but the d. sick 465:23
 d.'s past 357:16
 kingdom of d.'s dauphin 255:11 must in death your d. finish? 93:25 see a church by d. 468:10
 we burn d. 465:34, 477:6
 when d. comes 147:8
 Dayrolles: give D. a chair 139:37
 Days: all my d. are trances 380:21
 all our d. are gone 397:16
 all the d. of our life 339:29
 Ancient of D. 55:43, 228:20
 as it was in the d. of old 296:29
 as thy d., so..thy strength 46:33 because the d. are evil 68:4
 born to inglorious d. 146:15 broader lands and better d. 144:2
 but five d. elder than ourselves 86:9
 Chequer-board of Nights and D. 206:28, 29 considered the d. of old 396:32
 d. and moments quickly flying 132:3
 d. dividing lover and lover 521:30(-532)
 d. in goodness spent 119:2
 d. may come, the d. may go 157:1
 d. nor things diurnal 523:24
 d. of danger 416:19
 d. of man..as grass 398:7
 d. of our age 397:16
 d. of our youth..d of our glory 118:32
 d. of the years of my life 45:25
 d. that are no more 538:17
 d. that are over 525:23
 d. that have been 322:7
 d. that have gone by 208:4
 d. when earth was young 326:24
 d. when work was scrappy 142:2
 don't the d. seem lank and long 222:1
 dreams of d. forsaken 523:21 even as our d..do grow 470:31(-471)
 even from my boyish d. 470:2
 fain see good d. 394:1
 friend of my better d. 234:15 friends, kindred, d. 199:12 full of d., riches, and honour 48:34 full of sweet d. and roses 245:13 good King Charles's golden d. 7:9
 good King George's glorious d. 219:7
 his d. and nights to..Addison 278:9
 how many d..the year 446:1
 how many ways and d. 411:10
 I am but two d. old 76:12
 in ancient d. by emperor 288:1
 in d. far-off 540:22
 in the brave d. of old 323:21, 324:1
 in the d. ere I was born 77:34

Dearest (cont.)

d. yet the brotherhood	362:33
name d. and purer	117:32
was there a d. one?	252:17
Dearest: because, d., you're a dunce	274:32
d. her constancy	233:1
my near'st and d. enemy	440:10
the d. girl	174:36
then, d., since 'tis so	92:31
throw away the d. thing he owed thy youngest, d. one, has perished	456:27
Dearest: my arms about my d. O my bonnie d.	491:16
my own kind d. O	105:38
o'er me and my d.	104:29
thinking on my d.	106:30
Dearest: she loves me d.	106:39
Dearest: distant d. in the hill	104:19
Dearest: the lovely d.	285:4
Dearest: d. of noble natures in a year of d.	533:12
pine within and suffer d.	106:12
war, d., age, agues, tyrannies	284:20
Death: absence. . . worse than d.	77:13
absolute sole Lord of life and d.	488:20
after d. . . the faces I shall see against the hour of d.	185:14
allotted d. and hell	160:10
ancients dreaded d.	166:11
angel of d. has been abroad	411:14
Angel of D. spread his wings	391:39
any man's d. diminishes me	330:9
apprehends d. no more dreadfully	237:21
armed against all d.'s endeavour	82:17
arms of cool-enfolding d.	118:38
as sure as d.	186:28
at d. I cry	462:21
at my d., thy Sun shall shine	84:19
at the point of d.	568:9
back to a world of d.	280:13
bargain to engrossing d.	566:25
be absolute for d.	185:24
because of the d. of that lady	478:42
before you taste of d.	150:24
better. . . the day of d.	478:44
bitterness of d. is past	462:3
body of this d.	328:5
brave d., when princes die with us	100:22
bridegroom in my d.	51:9
brother of d. exacteth a third part	47:17
brother to D.	65:51
brought d. into the world	440:32
but D. who comes at last	425:24
but one life and one d.	85:23
by man came d.	38:9, 168:12
can this be d.?	550:24
certain d. by. . . shame attended	418:10
come away, d.	89:26
come lovely and soothing d.	67:8
come to the bridal-chamber D.	381:29
condemn you to d.	300:23
consenting unto his d.	483:6
coquetry of D.	568:9
covenant with d.	234:16
daughter of D. and Priapus	128:25
dear beauteous d.	64:35
d. after life does greatly please	543:20
D. and his brother Sleep	213:19
d. and life, in ceaseless strife	523:7
d., a necessary end	552:10
D. . . a scientific fact	509:28
d., as the Psalmist saith	497:18
d. be not proud	365:23
d. broke. . . the vital chain	449:22
d. came with friendly care	569:7
d. closes all	442:7
d. comes to young men	185:15
d. cometh soon or late	275:4
d. . . commits some loving act	151:18
d. complete the same	541:3
d. . . distinguished from dying	23:4
D. ere thou hast slain another	323:17
d. for neighbour	423:25

d. has done all d. can	505:13
d. has left on her	87:24

Death (cont.)

D. has made his darkness beautiful	533:4
d. hath no more dominion	65:45
d. hath so many doors	37:20
d. hath ten thousand. . . doors	563:16
d. have we hated	359:3
d. . . his next-door neighbour	420:6
d., in itself, is nothing	191:33
D. in the cup	105:35
d. i' the other	448:16
d. in the pot	48:20
d. is a fearful thing	462:9
d. is as a lover's pinch	426:11
d. is but a groom	186:12
D. is dead	492:8
d. is d.	241:26
d. is parting	412:15
d. is slumber	495:18
d. is the cure of all diseases	86:35
d. is the end of woes	509:29
d. is the privilege of human nature	412:11
d. is the veil	497:11
d. itself awakes	442:1
d. itself must be. . . a mockery	497:28
d. I was to die	31:19
d. joins us to the great majority	587:14
d. kind Nature's signal	279:14
d. lays his icy hand on kings	501:5
D. lies dead	523:16
d., like a narrow sea	562:14
d. like sleep might steal on me	498:25
d. met I too	336:3
d. my days should expiate	486:19
d. . . My Lord? A grave	447:32

D., the poor man's. . . friend	107:13
D. the Skeleton	582:22
d. took him mellow	376:21
d. unloads thee	462:4
D. untimely stopped his tuneful tongue	385:5
D., where'er he call	222:25
d., where is thy sting?	67:18
D., where is thy sting-a-ling-a-ling?	8:19
D. will come when thou art dead	495:24
D. will find me	84:7
D. will listen to your stave	494:9
d., without phrases	502:13
d. . . working like a mole	244:19
defer not charities till d.	27:7
delicate d.	568:9
delivered my soul from d.	395:16
dens and shades of d.	346:2
desultory feet of D.	411:3
die not, poor d.	185:15
die the d. of the righteous	46:18
direful d.	208:21
done to d. by slanderous tongues	469:18
doom'd to d., though fated not to die	192:21
drank d. like wine	141:14

Faith is kneeling by his bed of d.	189:20
faith that looks through d.	576:20
fear and danger of violent d.	248:21
fear d.?	95:8
fears. . . only the stroke of d.	27:43
fed on the fullness of d.	525:8
feed on D., that feeds on men	488:21
field of d. survey'd	1:10
first day of our Jubilee is d.	86:20
for any pains of d.	391:47
foreknowledge of d.	522:4
for restless d. I cry	487:13
from chance, and d.	497:12
from d. to life. . . recover	189:20
from d. unto life	63:17
from the d. of Domitian	217:8
give me liberty or. . . d.	242:18
glad to d.'s mystery	252:20
go hand in hand to d.	411:19
gone to her d.	252:12
guiltless d. I die	473:18
half in love with easeful D.	287:32
hard at d.'s door	398:16
Hell. . . back resounded, D.	346:8
here find life in d.	151:17
hid in d.'s dateless night	486:25
his d. . . in his berth	252:32
his means of d.	430:37
hour of my d.	290:22
how little room. . . take up in d.	501:8
how wonderful is D.	493:2, 497:18
I could not look on D.	296:6
I fled, and cry'd out, D.	346:8
if ought but d. part thee and me	47:1
if thou canst D. defy	81:25
importune d. awhile	425:27
in a d. so noble	351:6
in d. alone must die	548:16
in d.'s dark vale	421:1
in d.'s worst hour	525:17
in every parting. . . an image of d.	196:30
in life, in d.	322:2
in nativity, chance, or d.	466:14
in our very d., and burial sure	295:10
in that sleep of d.	434:4
in the hour of d.	388:51
in their d. they were not divided	47:30
in the midst of life. . . in d.	391:42
in the ranks of d.	356:27
in the shadow of d.	61:15, 398:15
into the gulf of d.	491:15
into the jaws of D.	528:18
into the valley of D.	528:16
I will dare e'en D.	247:3
keep a league till d.	475:27
keeps D. his court	475:7
keys of hell and of d.	70:28
King D. hath asses' ears	38:27
kingly D. keeps his pale court	491:17
king my father's d.	197:30
kiss the image of my d.	190:5
knows what life and d. is	135:19
land of the shadow of d.	53:14
land of the. . . shadow of d.	48:54
lapwings feel the leaden d.	386:32
last enemy. . . d.	67:9
laughed in d.	508:5
laws of d.	413:27
lead him to D.	407:22
let it sleep with d.	280:11
let us hob-and-nob with D.	541:12
lieh at the point of d.	60:59
Life, and D., and that For Ever	293:7
life. . . but the shadow of d.	85:16
life d. does end	255:1
Life, D., Miracles	95:24
life forget and d. remember	524:18

hear them sigh and wish to d.	217:23
he did not d. in the night...in the day	359:13
hope...can d. not	493:23
how can man d. better	323:17
how often are we to d.?	386:37
I am sick, I must d.	361:5
I change, but I cannot d.	493:1
I d. a Christian	136:1
I d. as often as from thee I go	185:31
I d. happy	211:2, 309:18
I d. I faint! I fail!	494:7
if d...when princes d. with us	440:32
if I d., no soul shall pity	476:37
if I must d.	462:8
if I should d. before I wake	8:18
if I should d...no immortal work	290:29
if I should d., think only	84:21
if it were now to d.	470:31
if these poor limbs d.	84:19
if thou d. a martyr	138:37
if we are mark'd to d.	444:26
if you poison us, do we not d.?	464:8
I'll d. for him tomorrow	30:3
in Adam all d.	67:8
in that Jerusalem...d.	442:29
in what peace a Christian can d.	3:1
I shall d. at the top	520:51
I shall d. today, and you tomorrow	358:3
I Sir Richard Grenville d.	540:3
it is most grand to d.	334:4
I to d., and you to live	506:9
it was sure to d.	357:5
I will d. in peace	572:16
I will not have thee d.	539:1
lads that will d. in their glory	263:3
lay me doon and d.	187:6
learn of me to d.	382:8
leave me there to d.	7:3
let it d. with thee	56:48
let...laws and learning d.	329:10
let me d. drinking	329:14
let not God speak...lest we d.	45:53
let us determine to d. here	39:2
let us do or d.	107:33
little honey...and lo, I must d.	47:14
live and d. for thee	247:4
live or d. wi' Charlie	250:15
love her till I d.	10:20, 210:5

Die (cont.)

make a malefactor d. sweetly	194:19
man can d. but once	442:12
men that love lightly may d.	523:15
might it d. or rest at last	493:27(-494)
must men kill and d.?	493:27(-494)
my resolution is to d.	349:18
nor...shall, until that I d.	369:13
not d. but in Jerusalem	442:29
not d. but live	399:10
not d. here in a rage	519:31
not made to d.	531:40
not so difficult to d.	118:11
not to live, but to d. in	86:36
not willingly let it d.	352:21
now not basely d.	425:28
now...seems it rich to d.	287:32
now that I come to d.	90:36
old bachelor don't d.	560:14
old soldiers never d.	9:2
one man...d. for the people	63:42
only art...to d.	226:18
or bid me d.	247:3
or ever ye came to d.	302:21
or hearing d.	446:18
or I d.	548:12
or let me d.	577:25
or like Douglas d.	251:28
our pattern to live and to d.	93:3
parting was to d.	533:15
perceives it d. away	576:9
play the Roman fool and d.	461:9
possess our soul before we d.	18:18
prepar'd to d.	462:3
prescription to d.	470:14
regret can d.	533:6
ride on to d.	339:12
Romeo...when he shall d.	478:20
say to thee that I shall d.	445:12
seen her d. twenty times	423:25
shall Trelawny d.?	239:7
she must weep or she will d.	538:25
sicken and so d.	481:30
sicken soon and d.	343:19
since I needs must d.	405:7
since that I must d. at last	186:15
sit him down and d.	442:5
so apt to d.	450:4
some did d. to look on	423:40
souls of those that d.	316:27
speak or d.	442:35
still harder lesson, how to d.	387:11
suffer and d.	553:2
swan-like, let me sing and d.	116:3
sweet day...thou must d.	245:13
Tamburlaine...must d.	331:8
taught us how to d.	547:22
teach the rustic moralist to d.	230:8
telling what it is to d.	532:22
that sort of king should ever d.	94:44
that we shall d., we know	449:33
then d., dear, d.	38:23
therefore I d. in exile	232:9
they d. in yon rich sky	538:16
they d. not...but cease	411:6
they d. to vex me	335:18
they seemed to d.	56:23
they that d. by famine d. by inches	242:9
those who are about to d.	13:4
those that do d. of it	426:6
though fated not to d.	192:21
though I should d. with thee	60:40
thousands d., without or this or that	384:42
thou shalt surely d.	44:13
thus adventuring to d.	292:20
thy Venus that must d.	231:36
til that myn herte d.	138:18
time to d.	51:3
to d. I leave my love alone	487:14
to d. in dust	509:7
to d. is gain	68:15
to d.: to sleep	434:4
to d. will be an awfully big adventure	36:9
to fight is but to d.	539:20
to itself, it only live and d.	487:25
to live in hearts...is not to d.	122:15
to look about us and to d.	383:7
tomorrow let us do or d.	122:14

Die (cont.)

tomorrow thou shalt d.	411:5, 7

f. by little and little 56:47
f. down flumpetty 311:23
f. into the hands of God 540:1
f. into the hands of...God 69:12
f. into the hands of the Lord 56:31
f. into the ocean 330:11
f. not out by the way 45:24
f. on us, and hide us 71:2
f. out, and chide, and fight 561:27
f. out with those we love 538:9
f. without shaking 354:14
fear I to f. 405:11
frighted thou let'st f. 485:26
given the devil a foul f. 358:2 great was the f. of it 58:28 had a great f. 367:5
half to f. 383:22
haughty spirit before a f. 50:15
here didst thou f. 450:9
his f. was destined 279:6
hope to rise, or fear to f. 583:11
if he f. in, good-night 438:37
if I slip, Thou dost not f. 147:14
impute my F. to Sin 207:10, 11
in the f. of a sparrow 437:34 in this we stand or f. 348:12
it had a dying f. 481:30
it is good to f. 567:15

 G. who best taught song 95:37
 G. who made him sees 296:33(-297)
 G. who made shall gather them 24:5
 G. who made thee mighty 42:20
 G., whose puppets...are we 94:46
 G. will provide...a lamb 44:55
 G. within my breast 83:8
 G. wot! 85:12
 good G. pardon all good men 87:32 go to your G. like a soldier 304:4
 grace is given of G. 146:24
 Grace of G. is in Courtesy 41:16
 grace of G...with me 67:6
 granted scarce to G. 510:22 great G. of War 381:9
 great g. of Loves name 138:15 great, just, good G. 96:6
 grown beneath G.'s eye 96:31 had I but served G. as dili-gently 572:18

God (cont.)
had I not serv'd my G	1447	1
hand folks over to G's mercy	160	14
happen to be—G	91	23
have G for his Father	22	1
have G to be his guide	90	31
he for G only	347	21
heirs of G	65	54
he is the Lord our G	397	28
he liveth unto G	65	45
here in the sight of G	397	22
here is G, and there is G	147	4
here is G's plenty	194	13
here G's down on us	87	27
her fathers G	420	5
her last republic cried to G	143	3
her seat is the bosom of G	213	30
he sung of G	503	4
he trusted in G	393	3
hey for G, Almight!	202	10
hugher than G's	96	15
himself from G, not free	109	23
his Father and I is G	230	13
Holy! Holy, Holy! Lord G
Almight!	240	10
I only Lamb of G	75	16
honest G	112	9
hope for the best and trust in G	53	23
hope of the City of G	334	13
how can he love G, not seen?	70	15
how odd of G	204	19
I am a G, and cannot find it	496	20
idea G, has of you	551	2
I embrace the purpose of G	530	25
if G, be for us	65	57
if G, choose, I've three better	88	24
if G, do not G, I will	557	7
if G, were standing there	557	24
I find letters from G	507	24
if it be of G	64	32
if you want to take in G	316	13
I'll leap up to my G	330	7
in apprehension how I like a g!	433	15
inclines to think if I see a G	140	32
in my flesh still I see G	49	6
in the face I see G	567	24
in the fact I hear G	20	28
invisible, except to G	246	25
I remembered my G	507	35
is and is not the voice of G	350	14
it is the voice of a g	64	49
I who saw the face of G	330	2
just are the ways of G	350	27
just G, I give	573	10
just G, a ways to man	263	25
justify the ways of G	244	9
is the image of G	352	6
kingdom of G is within	25	26
kin to G, by his ap'nt	551	18
know his G, by night	256	10
knowledge makes a G of me	304	20 know that I am G	520	24
know what G, and man is laws of G, and man and metre	315	16
laws of G, suspended	416	10
leads—G, knows where	450	31
leaves the word of G	110	21
led him to confess a G	64	31
let G, arise	24	18
let G, be true	306	4
let G, break with us	65	31
light but the ad'vice of G	35	16
let G, in pain	216	26
Let G, a down head	140	2
Lord G, of his love	20	8
Lord G, of hosts	300	24
Lord G, of G's world	355	19
lost my G, in that world	109	34
lost my G, by G, I'll G, and, and Love you!	454	8
Love's thing G, want	51	12
make the word of G, prevail	10	29 man in the house of G, meet	102	16
man in G's image	244	4
man born from G	63	61
man's heart to G, to man	529	40
man's G, in that world	355	19
man's own self	351	1
man's love to G, to see thee	443	9
man's love to G, to see thee	443	9

unless G. send his hail 94:13
 very G. of very G. 390:19
 vindicate the ways of G. 383:8
 voice of the people is the voice of G. 3:10, 406:16 walked in the house of G. 395:12
 we are the children of G. 65:54
 well, G.'s above all 471:13 were I Lord G. 326:19
 what G. abandoned 264:4
 what G. declares pure 347:25
 what G. hath cleansed 64:47
 what G. hath joined... G. will take care of that 489:26 what... G. hath joined 50:56
 what I call G. 96:12
 when G. by man... trod 524:7
 when g. first maked man 137:40 when... G. lets loose a thinker 300:7
 when G.'s the theme 503:6
 when he wrote of Angels and G. 77:7
 when I reflect that G. is just 268:27
 when you've sung 'G. save the Queen' 294:17
 wheresoe'er in G.'s great universe 187:1
 wherever G. erects a house 170:11 whom G. hath joined... put asunder 391:34 whom G. to ruin has designed 192:33 whose G. is their belly 68:24 with G. all things are possible 60:4 with G. be the rest 95:12 wonderful works of G. 64:26
 word was with G... was G. 62:58
 worketh not the righteousness of G. 69:30 world, as G. has made it 92:2
 wrestling with (my G.! ) my G. 254:20 write G. first 469:7
 ye believe in G. 63:50
 yet G.'s will be done 584:18

 learning a mere hoard of g. 442:21
 lilac, g. and green 80:14
 Love...differs from g. and clay 493:11 love is more than g. 321:12
 made of silver, or of g. 218:29 male ringlets or feminine g. 523:4 man's the g. 105:30
 mast was o' the beaten g. 31:8
 more than g. was in a ring 140:26 more to be desired...than g. 392:33
 my bow of burning g. 75:16
 my heart in a case o' g. 32:19
 my heart of g. 6:18
 narrowing lust of g. 533:20
 never lack'd g. 470:29
 no g., no Holy Ghost 111:39
 nor all that glisters, g. 230:22
 not covetous for g. 444:27
 not g., not blood 493:27
 now winks the g. fin 539:2
 O delv'd g. 88:26
 of two g. ingots 330:13
 ornaments of g. 47:30
 our g. was chang'd into lede 583:26
 patines of bright g. 465:18

Hate (cont.)

h. for arts 385:29
 h. hum as I do hell-pains 469:34
 h. of those ye guard 303:26
 h. that which we often fear 423:31
 h. the traitor 168:4
 h. your neighbour 325:18
 haughty Juno's unrelenting h. 194:29
 I h. a fool 175:33
 I h. all Boets and Bainters 216:10
 I h. him for he is a Christian 463:17
 I h. the crowd 309:7
 I h. the French 226:29
 I have seen much to h. here 339:7 immortal h. 344:14
 in love, or in h. 514:24
 let them also that h. him flee 396:4
 love and desire and h. 187:11
 love what I h. 95:20
 make brothers and sisters h. each other 269:33 men h. one another so damnably 335:19 murder, h., virtue, and sin 328:12 must h. and death return? 493:27 need not be to h. 113:46
 no h. lost between us 338:17
 nor love thy life, nor h. 349:25 not in our power to love or h. 330:13
 nought did I in h. 473:34
 owe no man h. 427:27
 principally I h...that animal called Man 519:32 reason to h. and to despise myself 239:22 roughness breedeth h. 26:26
 scarcely h. anyone...we know 240:11 smile to those who h. 118:15
 sourest and most deadly h. sprung from my only h. 477:11
 they who h. me may see it those fellows h. us 307:18 to the blind Horn's h. traitor h. 170:20 vain pomp...I h. ye ye profane; I h. ye all 446:24 Hated: brute I h. so death have we h. 359:3
 h., as their age increases h. by fools 515:24
 h. not learning worse 521:25
 he h. a fool and he h. a rogue 351:17
 Horace, whom I h. so 276:18
 I have ever h. all nations loved well because he h. 93:48 not having h...the world enough or being h. 239:22
 she might have h. to be h. needs but to be seen 297:10
 Hateful: h. to the nose she might have h. 92:35
 Hateful: h. to the nose 383:27
 Hater: very good h. 267:30
 Hates: extinction of unhappy h. 462:9 feeble h., shadows of h. 276:18
 yet others h. 16:25
 Hateth: I love God, and h. his brother 15:3
 spareth his rod h. his son 70:13
 Hath: even that which he h. from him that h. not 50:6
 h. not, or is not in love 60:32
 thing that h. been 481:7
 unto every one that h. 50:61
 Hatim: H. call to Supper 60:32
 H. Tai cry Supper 205:20
 Hating: don't give way to h. 205:19
 h. no one, love but only her loving not, h. not 297:10
 Hated: envy, h., and malice 114:25
 h...the longest pleasure 90:14 healthy h. of scoundrels 388:46
 I must have no h. or bitterness 116:44 love to h. turn'd 126:36
 stalled ox and h. 134:2
 without love, h., joy, or fear 155:20
 Hats: so many shocking bad h. 50:12 their h. were o' the birk 401:29
 they wat their h. aboon 564:5
 Hatta: the other Messenger's called H. 33:2
 Hatter: 'can't take less', said the H. 32:1 mad-as-a-h-day 131:15
 129:9

Haughtiness: rank pride, and h. of soul

Haughty: Byron bore with h. scorn 1:16
 frank, h., rash 16:8
 h. Juno's unrelenting hate 322:9
 h. spirit before a fall 194:29
 h., vigilant, resolute,...blue-stocking 50:15 insolent Greece or h. Rome 324:35 that h., gallant, gay Lothario 281:15
 Haul: gentleman to h...with the mariner 412:9
 Haunch: in the h. of winter 189:1
 Haunt: all the h. be ours 442:24 exempt from public h. 425:22
 h. of ancient Peace 426:30
 Mind of Man—my h. 537:36
 murmurous h. of flies 574:7
 Oh the weary h. for me 287:31
 so h. thy days 293:4
 to h. thy sleep 287:31
 to h., to startle 171:20
 Haunted: beneath a waning moon was h. 580:19
 h. by the ghosts they have deposited 151:32
 h. for ever by the eternal mind 475:7
 h., holy ground 576:13
 h. town to me 113:19
 shape of a woman has h. me 309:23
 sounding cataract h. me 290:5
 Haunts: desire, that h. our dreams 581:26
 h. meet for thee 81:19
 h. of coot and hern 15:15
 h. of horror and fear 528:5
 in the busy h. of men 536:22
 Hause-bane: ye'll sit on his white h. 241:15
 Hautboys: Gibbon moved to 32:15
 flutes and h. 154:13
 now gives the h. breath 191:3
 Hauteur: Satan...with more h. 119:24
 Have: for all we h. and are 296:19
 h. it when they know it not 521:24
 h. more than thou showest 452:25
 House of H. 216:9
 I am content with what I h. 99:31
 if I dream I h. you, I h. you 184:17
 if you h. it [charm] 36:15
 I h. thee not 457:20
 I h. 't: it is engender'd 470:23

L. is perfected by Death 89:4
 L. is real! L. is earnest! 317:5
 L. is the desert, L. the solitude 587:14
 L. is thorny 150:26
 L. is very sweet, brother 78:24
 L. just a stuff 89:27
 L. lay waiting, so sweet 334:5
 L., liberty, and the pursuit of happiness 11:11
 L., liberty, and the pursuit of happiness 268:19
 L., like a dome of . . . glass 492:15
 L. may change 493:23
 L. of doubt diversified 89:32
 L. offers—to deny! 236:37
 L. of Johnson . . . very great work 325:26
 L. of L.! 497:9
 L. of man . . . a heroic poem 125:35
 L. of man less than a span 28:16
 L. of man, solitary, poor 248:121
 L. of poor Jack 173:7
 L. of the historian must be short 217:3
 L. on the ocean wave 415:11
 L. on the whole is far from gay 312:11
 L. piled on L. 540:32(-541)
 L. protracted is protracted woe 279:7
 L. radically wretched 277:42
 L.'s a single pilgrim 38:24
 L.'s business . . . the . . . choice 96:14
 L.'s but a span 471:9
 L.'s but a walking shadow 461:4
 L.'s common way 577:15
 L.'s enchanted cup 113:23
 L.'s journey just begun 160:27
 L.'s Little Ironies 237:4
 L. so fast doth fly 169:16
 L. so short, the craft so long 138:22, 248:13

 L. time's fool 440:37
 L. to him would be death to me 290:26
 L. treads on L. 89:3
 L. unto the bitter in soul 48:27
 L. was but a flower 428:32
 L. we have loved 359:3
 L. went-a-maying 152:20
 L.! we've been long together 33:14
 L., with all it yields 90:42
 L. with its way 354:11
 L. without it . . . not worth our taking 412:11
 L. without theory 181:44
 L. would be very dull without them 570:2
 Light of a whole L. dies 79:5 live a L. half dead 350:24 live thou thy L. 81:5
 long L. better than figs 423:19

 my L. did . . . smack sweet 93:25
 my L. is one smack . . . grind 177:25
 my L. is preserved 45:11
 my L. is run his compass 451:39
 my L., my fate 536:15

Life (cont.)

my l. upon her faith! 470:12
 my l. with the blood-thirsty 393:19
 my lines and l. are free 244:9
 my soul, my l., my all 562:19
 my way of l. is fall'n into the sear 460:36 neither death, nor l., nor angels 65:58 nobody can write the l. of a man, but those who 272:7
 no l. but the sea-wind's 523:14
 no l. that breathes 540:27
 no, no, no l.! 454:26
 no sound . . . which tells of L. 152:2
 nothing in his l. became him 456:27 not in thy body is thy l. 410:32 not one l. shall be destroy'd 532:32 not perish, but have everlasting l. 63:9 not so much l. 286:3
 no wealth but l. 413:29
 O Death in L. 538:19
 of man's l. a thing apart 115:25
 of mortal l. the leaf, the bud 509:33
 O l., no l. 305:14
 O lover of my l. 96:9
 one crowded hour of glorious l. 357:22
 one l. for each to give 296:20 on the tree of l. . . sat 347:3
 on this l.'s rough sea 135:19
 our l., exempt from public haunt 426:30
 our l. is closed, our l. begins 566:25
 our little l. is rounded with a sleep 480:8
 our love is frail as is our l. 202:1
 out of the book of l. 70:32, 72:12
 O world! O life! O time! 494:18 painful escapes of fitful l. 80:17 passing on the prisoner's l. 461:23 passion and the l. 151:3
 pay glad l.'s arrears 95:11 people say that l. is the thing 504:16 plants fruits of l. and beauty 74:25 poorest he . . . hath a l. to live 405:6 present l. of men 38:31 progress is the law of l. 94:23
 railing at l. 143:8
 ravin up thine own l.'s means 458:29 reason is the l. of the law 148:4 reason thus with l. 462:3
 receive the crown of l. 69:28
 reck'd not of the l. he lost 114:19
 red l. might stream again 287:3
 regardeth the l. of his beast 50:2 require the l. of man 44:42 rest of his dull l. 37:12 resurrection, and the l. 63:40 righteous, and sober l. 388:12
 Roman's l. 323:27
 saw l. steadily 16:2
 sea of L. and Agony 495:5
 seas of l., like wine 548:18
 see into the l. of things 581:25
 sequester'd vale of l. 230:7
 sequester'd vale of rural l. 387:8
 set before you l. and death 46:30 set my l. at a pin's fee 432:2 set my l. on any chance 458:36(-459) set my l. upon a cast 476:43
 Shakespeare led a l. of allegory 290:18 shamed l. a hateful 462:9
 shew me the path of l. 392:27 simple l. that Nature yields 165:18 since l. first was 235:21
 slits the thin-spun l. 342:20
 so careless of the single l. 532:35
 sole Lord of l. and death 166:11
 so was it when my l. began 577:25
 spare all I have, and take my l. 203:18 spend my l. in driving briskly 273:21 spirit giveth l. 67:22 spirit lack all l. behind 96:26
 stir as l. were in't 461:3
 stole thence the l. o' the building 458:22
 struggling for l. in the water 270:18 stuff l. is made of 211:15
 sublime of human l. 104:23
 suburb of the l. elysian 317:12 such is L. 175:23, 176:22
 Sundays of man's l. 245:8
 sunset of l. 122:22
 sweat under a weary l. 434:4

Life (cont.)

take away my l. to make you King 136:10 take honour . . . my l. is done 474:10 that l. may be a pleasant road 402:9 that new l. 202:23
 their l. was death 411:6
 therefore choose l. 46:30
 there's the l. for a man like me . . . for ever 515:27
 this gives l. to thee 486:18
 this is alone L., Joy 497:17
 this is l. 549:7
 this knot intricate of l. 426:13
 this l. at best is but an inn 264:21
 this L. flies 206:26
 this l. is all chequer'd 356:34
 this l. is most jolly 427:22
 this l.'s first native source 510:21
 this l.'s five windows 74:12
 this long disease, my l. 385:26
 those who live call L. 497:11, 498:19
 thou art my l., my love, my heart 247:4 though l. be long and dreary 202:25
 thought's the slave of l. 440:37 throughout the l. the shame 233:3
 thy God, thy l., thy cure 552:2
 thy l. hath had some . . . honour 452:6 tie my l. within this band 244:20 till l. can charm no more 153:22
 till l. forget 524:14
 till your l. has illustrated it 290:19 time of l. is short 440:32 tired of London . . . of l. 273:23 to a l. beyond l. 352:7
 to measure l. learn thou 351:23 took a man's l. along with him 126:3
 to out-do the l. 281:9
 to write the Graces' l. 232:11
 travell'd l.'s dull round 499:13 tree of l. 44:12
 true l. is only love 96:8
 turn over a new l. 208:24
 unbought grace of l. 102:12
 undying L. 83:8
 unto all l. of mine . . . die 165:31
 variety's the very spice of l. 163:4 villain to bereave my l. 74:16 walks the waters like a thing of l. 114:43 walls about our l. 475:7
 water of l. 71:46, 72:16
 way, the truth, and the l. 63:52 way, which leadeth unto l. 58:24 weep away the l. of care 498:25
 Well of L. to taste 206:20
 well-written L. . . rare 125:22
 we will not live if l. be all 140:26 what argument thy l. . . has lent 199:9
 what is this l., if 169:24
 what is your l.? 69:41
 what signifies the l. o' man 105:37
 what wond'rous l. is this 332:17
 when I consider l. 191:34
 when Love and L. are fair 569:5
 when l.'s sweet fable ends 166:15 where evermore no green l. shoots 79:3
 wherefore not L.? 566:14
 where there is l., there's hope 215:25 who leads a country l. 192:13 whom truly to know is . . . l. 389:52 whose l. is in the right 384:1
 why should a dog . . . have l.? 454:26
 why should l. all labour be? 535:16
 Wine of L. keeps oozing 205:16
 winged l. destroy 74:27
 with an easy key dost open l. 191:22 with l. all other passions fly 507:17 worth a l.'s experience 251:24
 yea, thro' l., death 360:11
 you take my l. 465:14
 Life-blood: l. of a master spirit 352:7
 to fan our l. 410:26
 Lifeboat: safe within the l. 415:6
 Life-breath: all our l. met 410:26
 Life-drop: drank the last l. 117:25

ties . . . though I. as air 101:10 till the hours of I. return 17:1
 to bring the false to I. 81:13 to implore your I. 169:13 trifles I. as air 471:42
 true I. 62:62
 truth will come to I. 463:32
 turn'd thy darkness into I. 161:10
 unbarred the gates of I. 348:19
 unclouded blaze of living I. 115:8
 unveil'd her peerless I. 347:19
 upon them hath the I. shined 53:14 very pretty small-sword I. 500:27 walk while ye have the I. 63:46
 we all know what I. is 273:13
 welcom the lord of I. 187:5
 we see such glimmerings of I. 102:38
 what is that thing called I. 144:21
 what I. through yonder window 477:13
 when I see you in the I. 304:7
 where I. and shade repose 577:10 where the I. is as darkness 48:55 whose I. doth trample 552:0
 windows that exclude the I. 230:18 with a I. behind her 222:20 with golden and silver I. 584:17
 ye are the I. of the world 57:41
 Light Brigade: forward, the L.! 528:14
 Lighted: that I. me to bed 252:25
 torch that I. mine 199:10
 Lighten: glory of God did I. it 72:5
 I. our darkness 388:36
 I. with celestial fire 400:31
 Lightened are our eyes 506:20
 Lightens: ere one can say I. 477:24
 Lighter: English man of war . . I. in sailing 212:18
 I. of a fair son 197:36
 I. than vanity itself 395:24
 town . . I. than vanity 99:14
 Lighteth: light, which I. every man 62:62
 Lightfoot: come uppe L. 267:13
 many a I. lad 263:21
 Light-headed: marriage . . attracts I. . . men 514:28

 I. Masters of the waves 18:16
 Lighthouse: below the I. top 148:21 is this indeed the I. top 150:4
 I. without any light 253:8
 took the stivitation at the I. 179:28
 Lighting: I. a little Hour or two 205:27
 I. our little torches at his fire 147:26
 Lightly: English lord . . I. me 31:6 green turf lie I. 381:35
 lean upon it I. 206:4
 lie I. gentle earth 37:35
 I. as it cometh . . spende 137:43 men that love I. may die 523:15
 my bosom's lord sits I. 478:34
 Lightness: borrow heart's I. 285:3
 Lightning: angels of rain and I. 496:5
 beneath the I. and the Moon 149:30 brief as the I. 466:20
 bring in the bottled I. 177:23
 coruscations of summer I. 228:2
 distant I. on the horizon 119:25
 done like I. 280:17 fear no more the I. flash 430:1
 fed with the I. 497:8
 in thunder, I. or in rain 456:3
 I. before death 478:42
 I. made itself 325:13
 I. my pilot sits 492:27
 I. of the nations 495:25
 Satan as I. fall 61:36
